YEARBOOK

Camp Robin Hood
19 27

The summer of 2019 was groundbreaking in many ways, while very similar to the previous 91 years in other ways. As always, The Realm provided a safe haven for children from around the world to escape the rigors of school, the constant barrage of technology, and the pressures from the outside world. In this environment – at camp – you then became immersed in building lifelong friendships and living in a community that prioritizes kindness and respect and celebrates the uniqueness of each and every person. Just as we say before every meal, we became mindful for the needs of others. I hope that you have taken those values and the successes built at The Realm home with you to use in your everyday lives.

Andy's legacy grows every day at camp. The addition of our youngest and 9th girls' group, the Scouts, proves that what John and Joan set out to do 32 years ago when they opened Girls' camp continues to thrive. We celebrated Andy's birthday at Founder's Night by giving out 13 10-year vests to campers and staff members who have grown up in The Realm. Seven male group leaders were Saxons of 2016 and eight female group leaders were Scribes of 2015, a true testament to "staying for a lifetime." Our administration has more than 200 years of Robin Hood experience. This circle of love for all things CRH, from the young Scouts to Chuck Illig, makes The Realm, dare I say it, magical. 92 summers of July 4th parades, breathtaking sunsets, parents' visiting days, Big Shows, Founder's Days can have that effect on you. The exclamation mark: during this year's Green & White, more than 80 former captains and alumni returned to The Realm to relive the happiness, check out the view from the dock, and smell the pine needles. The more things change, the more they stay the same.

As I remind you all summer, study hard, be kind to each other, and thank your parents for sending you to such a special place.

Meet you at the gas pump on June 20 for our 93rd summer, which I promise will be the best one yet!

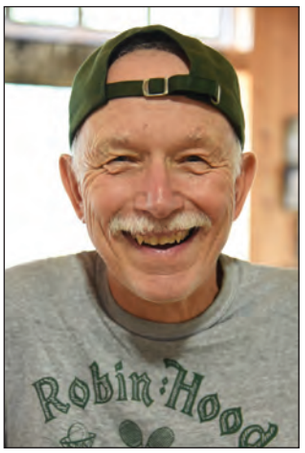

Love always,

Woody

"Cleveland, this is for you!"

Alright boys, put on socks and shoes (emphasis on socks), drop those magic cards, take one last carpetball shot, sing the national anthem, and get on the benches to relive the epic summer of 2019.

Remember our first day at The Realm? The TPJs on the New York bus got off to see the most hilariously simple TPJ sign ever made while the rest of us danced to Taylor Swift. Our first evening activity was gaga where it was already evident that the TPJs were on target to run The Realm.

Remember getting our awesome Saxon buddies? Swimming our 16 (oops I mean 4) laps in absolutely freezing water because the heaters were broken at the…Water, WATER, WATERFRONT! Then climbing up Rattlesnake with our buddies for the best hike-to-view ratio of all time. Finally finishing the day off with Saxon-TPJ pizza and having our big brothers introduce us to all of camp followed by Chuck teaching us the history of Robin Hood.

Remember watching your staff kill it at the staff talent show? Suna and Chang belted out some classic love songs, Dylan forgot how to blow bubbles, and J-Ro devoured an apple (yes that's a talent). The next day Suna absolutely ate it during Spud, and J-Ro found out that the number of 8-year olds a fully grown adult male can take on at the same time is about 12.

Remember when you guys weren't being absurd at activities? Jelin randomly doing the splits in the middle of a tennis match, having a photoshoot at fitness to show off our gains, Eli's face being a gaga ball magnet. Remember Carter reminiscing about Michael Jackson's 1990s dream runs with the Bulls, Chibnik always singing Pocketful of Sunshine, Leo telling the yoga instructor that his name was Bobby Fischer, always being on the lookout for Wheelchair Mary, singing the national anthem to get ice cream, listening to a podcast every time we went to a gaga period, Liam having no opinion about the LSAT's ability, or lack thereof, to effectively measure latent qualities or abilities that may be developed and lead to future success or usefulness by potential law students during their legal careers (was he even listening to the podcast???). Spare Bert dying for our sins.

Remember our awesome challenges this year? We tied with the Squires at kickball after the replay center in New York made a questionable call, but then finished the night with candy canteen. Remember playing the Scouts and the Tumblers in gaga, Leo accepting the challenge in Spanish, and Chibnik having the game of his life.

Remember the 4th of July celebration? We ate tons of fair food and loved watching Warsh go down the slide with Chuck… Remember Alexander in the ketchup line instead of the food line first? Later in the week we went to Ogunquit for a chilly beach day, worried about zombies in the fog, Cayson discovered he was part fish, and you guys tried (and failed!!) to sneak candy past your counselors on the way back to camp.

Remember So You Think You Can Dance? Dancing our hearts out to a Lil Nas X compilation with Chibnik and Ben doing an awesome Old Town Road lip sync? Remember Jelin's impossibly fast bear crawl, ending it with a thunderous "Cleveland this is for you," and celebrating like we just came back from a 3-1 deficit?

At Robin Hood Gives Back we learned about the charity Give Kids the World and made bracelets for kids with terminal illnesses. We also had an awesome night camping at the outpost with Eli absolutely loving all the bugs.

Remember excursion? A solid day at Whale's Tale followed by a great dinner at the campsite. Then we went to see Toy Story 4 and everyone was scared by the bodyguards in the movie. We returned to the campsite for French s'mores with all of JC. The next day we took a scenic two-minute road trip to Storyland where Theo rode the Roar-O-Sauros ten million times. Remember the employee at the plinko board vigilantly checking all of our one dollar bills to make sure they weren't counterfeit, gorging on chicken tenders and French fries.

Remember sneaking into candy canteen (now that the summers over we can talk about it), Cayson promising he would throw Suna under the bus if we got caught, performing our dance for your parents at PVD and showing them how much we love The Realm…eating delicious PVD cookies and watching our parents kill it at newcomb and riflery…Zach, Alexander, Jack, Rufus, Cayson, Eli, Theo, Leo, Liam, Cole, Charlie, and Carter concluding their first summer in The Realm. The group missed you guys and we can't wait to see you all back next summer!

TPJs

After the four-week mark means one thing… Green & White! But first Matt, Buster, Enrique, David, Elijah, and Case joined us to crush it the second half of the summer. Remember doing Mad Libs and putting Warsh for everything, listening to every possible iteration of Old Town Road, Gavin HATING Young Thug's verse, Jonas reading us Holes, Elijah racing (and beating!) all of us on his first night, Suna and Chang losing to Doodle in the inaugural season of the Junior Camp Staff Volleyball League, and Enrique, Buster, and Jelin coming up absolutely clutch in soccer PKs with the Squires.

Remember our fake break with the Scouts? Waking up early to decorate the vans while Chang gets in a Green & White morph suit. We totally fooled the whole camp! The next day was Founder's Night where we switched the hinges on the rink door and thus…Rink 2.0 was born. Now maybe you guys will finally be able to open it! Remember listening to Andy's granddaughter tell us about Andy? Then there was a fake break (but not as good as ours)!

Later that night it was time for the real Green & White! Remember the break? We got woken up at 9:45pm to music and performers twirling lights outside our bunk, and finally saw an incredible fire performance by the Boston Circus Guild! For five days we battled on land, in water, and on stage. White Legion bested Green Rage in one of the most exciting color wars ever. As your group leaders, we were so proud of the way you guys conducted yourselves during the war – Green & White is easily the most chaotic, passionate, and emotional five days of the year and all you guys showed us nothing but class and dignity.

After Green & White, we reconvened as a group and woke up late on Lazy Sunday to eat donuts! The next day we went to Conway for lunch and got to eat pizza and ice cream on the big lawn. Jack walked into a tree and then Case got his hat stuck in the same said tree. That night we went absolutely nuts with silly string, courtesy of Enrique, and had even more fun cleaning it all up.

Remember GL swap? Swoody took you guys to Cozy and Chang and Suna weren't invited! The last night we stayed up SUPER late and reflected on what a great summer it's been.

Jack (Jack Jack!!) Chibnick – We can't believe this is your third year in The Realm and you are only eight! Watching you mature these past three years has been awesome. You led your G&W team with class and provided guidance to everyone in the group. Your love for camp is unrivaled and we can't wait to see you back next year!

Liam Cowan – Your humble attitude and level headedness will take you far in life. You are one of the nicest and most mature nine-year olds we have ever met. This explains how you made friends so easily even though you arrived later in the summer. Remember our hilarious 9-square game where you got stuffed by the pole?! You are a great role model and we hope to see you back for the full summer next year.

Case Crawford – What a summer it has been! We loved having your funny, energetic, and caring self in the TPJs. Your personality truly fits this group and we hope to see you return next summer. We will miss our late night shenanigans and especially your silly laugh.

Cole Cuddeback – It was a pleasure to have you this year as a TPJ. Remember that one time in Ultimate Frisbee where you made that one handed catch to seal the win?! We appreciate how you always go all out at activities and hope you stay full session next year – Green & White is totally for you!

Alexander Glimcher – Alexander, we loved your enthusiasm and your willingness to always try new things. You always walk around with an infectious smile on your face. We loved throwing around a football with you this summer. Keep working on your game and we can't wait to see you next summer!

Buster Heller – It was awesome coaching you in Green & White this summer. You are an amazing athlete and dominate at anything you set your mind to. You settled in quickly to the group and brought such positive energy! It's too bad we only had two weeks to be with you, but I know we will be seeing you back very soon.

Drew the "Drewseph" Hoglund – Remember when we had a great day? Your ability to make someone smile and laugh is what makes you a key part of your group. We will never forget your love of your stuffed animals – Bert in particular. We already know that you love this place. You have many more years left as a camper and we are so excited to see you grow up and continue to be a leader in The Realm.

Gavin Horowitz – You tackled every opportunity you got at camp with high energy and a smile on your face. We can't thank you enough for always being respectful and for being an awesome friend. Congratulations on being a co-captain in Green & White this summer – you had a great start to your camper career and we hope you have an amazing year.

Max Jelin – Jelino the Penguino! The energy you bring to the group is unlike anything we've seen before. This and your unflinching desire to always learn new things (like volleyball as a TPJ!) show us you have a great camper career ahead of you! Congratulations on being elected co-captain this year – we can't wait to see you continue to give your all in future color wars!

Zach Levine – We are so proud of you. We know being away from home can be a little scary, but no matter what, you gave it your all during activities and always chose happiness. You have a great career at camp ahead of you and we really hope to see you again next summer!

Matthew Maruyama – Matthew, upon your arrival, you quickly integrated into the group. Remember in Green & White when you had an incredible one-on-one victory in Gaga? That was truly a special moment we'll never forget. Hopefully we can have you here for the full summer next year!

Elijah Mesidor – Elijah!!! Getting to know you was one of the biggest highlights of our summer. You are truly someone that knows how to make anyone smile. This group does not feel complete without you – camp needs more people with your awesome sense of humor and kindness towards other campers! We hope to see you back here next summer!

Theo Peck – Theo, It was incredible getting to know you this summer. Remember when you ran a 5k in North Conway? That was an amazing accomplishment and I hope you keep practicing your running. Keep up the good work – we can't wait to see you back here next year.

David Porres – THE BIG D!!! David, we really enjoyed watching you have a blast this summer. Once you arrived, you instantly clicked and fit right in with the group. Whether you were going all out during Green & White or worrying about the "fefibilator," you always approached everything with a smile and a good amount of humor. We loved being your counselors and we hope to see you for a full seven weeks next year!

Eli "Tito" Rosenstock – We are so grateful to have had you as a TPJ this summer. You were always the first one on the benches, full of excitement and ready to crack a joke. We loved how you gave it your all in activities and always followed the rules. We are very excited to see you come back next year and hope you stay the full session because your unique personality is exactly what camp is made for.

Leo Schader – How's it going, Bobby Fischer? Our time this summer flew by, and we hope you had as much fun with us as we did with you! You're an awesome, hilarious kid, and watching you accept a challenge in Spanish in front of the entire camp was one of the highlights of the summer. We missed you during second session – we're looking forward to having you back next year!!

Cayson Seley – ¡Te amo Cayson! We loved watching you thrive in your first summer in The Realm. Playing Egyptian Ratslap and tennis with you was awesome. You really settled into the group as time went on, and your calm presence was a great example for other campers. Catch you next year, dude.

TPJs

Ben Snyder – WHAT UP, CREAM CHEESE? It was awesome being your counselor this summer, and we really hope you had as much fun with us as we did with you. You are easily the most mature 10-year-old we have ever met, and we absolutely loved watching you kill it as a captain during Green & White. We can't wait to see you again next summer!

Carter Susman – Carter!!! You exemplify the true spirit of Robin Hood. The leadership and friendly characteristics you possess will take you far in life. Your determination to extend your stay at camp shows how much this place means to you. You are a leader in this group and your fellow campers always come to you for advice. It was difficult for the group to watch you leave, but we know you will be back for many more summers to come.

Rufus Walker – Rufus, It was an awesome experience being your counselor this summer. We can't believe you got up on your first attempt at waterskiing. We will never forget your awesome tubing period where you did not fall off the tube once. You're an intelligent young kid with the great ability to bring the group together. See you next summer.

Jack Wiggins – Jack, it was an honor having you as a camper this summer. Your calm spirit always proved to be a positive influence on the group. It was awesome that you were one of the few swimmers that was able to obtain a green wristband. I know it can be scary to be far from home but you did a great job handling it. Hopefully we will see you for Green & White next summer.

Charlie Willard – Whistle Noise, "I AM THE BEANHEAD. DO NOT MESS WITH THE BEANHEAD." Charlie, getting to know you over the past four weeks has been a blast. In your first summer at Robin Hood, you quickly found your way into the group. You always knew how to pick up others when they were feeling down. Have a great year and we can't wait to see you back next summer!

Enrique (Quique!!!) Zubillaga – It was a pleasure being your counselors this summer. It is really amazing to see how well you get along with everyone, especially staff. Your silly, funny, and exciting personality fits this group so well. You always have a smile on your face, and it's truly contagious.

Staff – No one works harder than JC staff and we can't thank you guys enough for our summer. We had our fair share of challenges this year and we collectively killed it. As of this writing, I am still predicting that the Mets will crash and burn in September. See you guys next year!

TPJs:

Boys, it's been an awesome ride and we can't wait to see you next year. This was the best summer of our lives and it's all thanks to you guys. Continue to be respectful, goofy, fun-loving kids and we know all of you will run camp one day.

WHAT'S UP SQUIRES???

GET ON THE BENCHES OR NO FLASHLIGHT TIME!

Please take a second to calm down, put away the water guns and ping pong paddles, and unwind as we dive deep into the amazing summer of 2019 – one none of us will ever forget.

Our group started with Josh arriving a day early, helping us get settled and prepared for the wave of 23 campers that would soon become our own little family. I knew it would be a crazy ride right from the start, and I couldn't have been more excited. Remember our first meal being extremely eventful? Brody's mysterious hole in his cup…Luke always volunteering for jobs, "I call sponge and garbage!" Srupp asking Ian to sweep the roof of the riflery range. Adelman = Edelman = Elderwoman and Smith's epic pursuit of Chuck on his golf cart?

Remember battling counselors at senior waterfront…Zweibel's wonderful flick of the wrist…going full send on the Saturn… capture the flag in the rain…Squires leading Girls' Camp in cheers in the dining hall… all the intricate poses on the tubes…Sam's incredible rainy day gaga win…shampooing before showers becoming a trend…Brody = BRO-DEEEE…and creating Mr. Jack Gelato Einstein?

Remember our amazing hike up Mount Rattlesnake and the super sweet nature center…the incredible view from the top… the mountain lion…and of course getting Cozy Corner afterwards? Remember helping the Tumblers with their scavenger hunt…the wonderful additions of 23, 24, and 25 TA… Sobel kicking a baseball super hard thinking it's fake…Isaac's amazing questions.

Remember the Mainers' game?? I know we're all huge fans and loved watching our sports heroes in action. Remember the Bay Sox player stealing Brody's Skittles and immediately hitting a double…kids love riflery…classic football intensives… Jack Ilardo tripping on stage during the JC talent show but taking it like a champ and entertaining us all along with his wonderful hand movements…Chris not knowing what an adjective is…hitting countless woahs on the tubes…Matty pulling out a brand new move on the wakeboard…OG and Isaac busting serious moves on the tube and then falling…Hudson's skis snapping followed that evening by an epic wipeout during dizzy kickball…all of our continuous dizzy kickball fails…and the Sobel Strikers vs. the Chang Cheerleaders??

Remember counselors dominating at senior waterfront…Tanner's eloquence at the carnival…counselors having Italian accents during the 4th of July carnival…birthing Don Sobeleone…Chris telling the campers to "turn down the windows"… Jack I. vogues in the mirror and becomes Drama Jack… playing loneliest item at the salad bar… the bunk war with the TPJs and Gus the traitor…Tyler elbowing Sobel by him and Matty sampling some true delicacies… Jack and Josh are NICE with it during March madness…Britain vs. America…Remy and Julian's incredible outfits at basketball… Brody's ridiculous shot…Isaac's wipeout at senior waterfront…ESCALERA OOOOH… and our best of 100 rock, paper, scissors??

Remember Tanner stuffing his face at candy canteen…our love for grammar correction… Tyler's towel getting drowned by Miles… Jack I. and Hudson disagreeing on a tubing speed…the towel ladder outside Gus' window…handyman Sobel to the rescue… T-posing to assert dominance…the huge dead fish during paddle boarding…our electric kickball game with the TPJs ending in a 6-6 tie…Josh dancing in the bathroom… and Brody and Adelman's Game of Thrones at senior waterfront?

Remember Beach Day? It was amazing to get in that cold Ogunquit water, and I could tell you all loved your experience at the beach. Remember Julian taking everyone's laundry up…doing our dance to PERFECTION…Josh losing his flashlight inside Joshua's bed… and Sam scaring Sobel??

Remember excursion? Starting things off with an amazing trip to Whale's Tale for some excellent water park adventures, followed by an amazing campout and a trip to see Toy Story 4 and then Storyland?? It was an extremely fun two days for me and it was clear that you all had an amazing time everywhere we went. And we certainly packed those two days with memories. Remember Ricky's nap in the van…the scary dummies in Toy Story…a beautiful ravioli dinner…Chris' beetle experience…Dunkin' Donuts at Storyland…Nausea from the crazy spinning rides?

Remember Parents Visiting Day?? It was fantastic to meet all of your parents and have them see you all in your element here at camp. Hopefully you all thanked your parents for sending you to this amazing place.

Remember the second session campers arriving and completing our family?! Remember Tyler destroying Chris in Monopoly Deal…the giant relay EA… heading out for a day of fun for Ilardo's birthday…Sobel arresting Will and being horrible at Pirate's Cove…Arsene and Tyler destroying mini golf…Henry literally inhaling his ice cream…Matty dropping a solid 9 piece…all the water hazards…Tanner's hole in one?

Remember the squirrel scaring Stern, Brody, Tyler and Jack I…Will going completely horizontal in tubing…Joshua's epic Infection round…the cookout beach party…Joshua at the "tennis fields"…Stern's crazy New Year's Eve…Jefferson thinking a shirt company name is a camper's…Matty and Landon's sharp turns at sailing…Joshua putting kids on skates in gold rush…Tyler's brilliant hiding spot…Will hitting a 360 in the BIC sailboat…the TPJ challenge in soccer…Will's immediate red card…Landon winning Read the Bee as a solo player…and diving fails at waterfront??

Remember Green & White?? Great Green Rage vs. Mighty White Legion! Boys, it was amazing to see each and every one of you competing and giving it your all no matter what you were doing. Whether it was song night or tug of war, your sportsmanship shined and I'm incredibly proud of you.

Remember after color war, the guy in the Boots mascot costume at cookout… paddleboard wheelies…Tyler's incredible shot in basketball…Tanner slipping out of the shower…finding the umbrella at waterfront…Jefferson's struggle with UNO… and our amazing GL swap with Sophie??

SQUIRES

Tanner Abikoff – Tanner, how does such a big and wonderful personality fit into such a small package? You are one of the goofiest and most care-free kids I have ever had the pleasure of being a counselor for and I can't thank you enough for brightening my day. Your energy and spunk were a wonderful addition each and every day and I know I'll see you bloom in this group very soon.

Paulino Barrios Gomez – I am so glad I had the opportunity to get to know you after also having your brother last summer. You are funny, athletic, and a true pleasure to have in the group. Camp needs kids like you and I know you'll be back for more, bud.

Isaac Bazbaz – You need to remember your countoff number! But seriously, you are a sweet, sensitive, and kind soul who understands camp so well. Your ability to make close friends astounded me every day and I could clearly see you get more and more confident in yourself and how you interact with people. I can't wait to see you here for many years to come.

Hudson Berger – To describe you as energetic would be an understatement. You woke up every single day with love and excitement for yourself and your group, and I can't thank you enough for keeping me on my toes. You have already seen how new friends at camp can become brothers in just a few weeks, and I can't wait to see you develop over future years to come.

Smith Blankenship – You were nothing short of a pleasure to have as a camper this year. Your pure curiosity for everything camp-related was very refreshing to have in the group day in and day out. You have a very clever side to you and I cannot wait to see how that develops through the rest of your camper career. Keep coming back, buddy.

Ian Carreiro – Ian, I have yet to meet a new camper as kind and compassionate about others as you. You are an amazing friend to those who need one and that was incredibly appreciated by the group as well as the staff. You consistently made efforts to make the group whole and build an intimate and solid group of brothers at the same time. You are going to be a true leader of this group very soon. Till next time, buddy.

James Cleveland – I completely understand how hard it is to throw yourself into a group of already close knit kids, but you took that challenge head-on and I couldn't be more proud of you for progressing how you did. All of us counselors appreciate how much you were willing to go with the flow – I know you'll do big things here and I can't wait to see it!

Landon Devine – Landon, to say you had an immediate impact in this group is an understatement. From the very beginning you hit the ground running and never stopped. Your enthusiasm and energy is off the charts, but at the same time you are a kind and respectful young man who knows when and how to lead a group in the right direction. I know you will do huge things here in the future and the group will benefit from your presence.

Miles Frank – You came into this group and this summer with more energy and enthusiasm than I think I've ever seen from a 10-year old. You are hilarious and goofy and that sense of humor will take you far in life. However, you also know when to buckle down and get serious. I can't wait to come back and see how you progress over the rest of your camper years!

Oskar (OG) Goshin – See you in Norwich! But for real, you are a kid that is truly a natural leader in the group. Kids look up to you and you have a lot of great ideas and knowledge to offer your friends. I hope you can come back for longer next year because there is such a positive vibe when you're around and we all need that in our lives here at camp.

Tyler Grossman – You are a true camp legend. Everything about your personality embodies camp and it's wonderful to see that in a group of mostly new campers. During Green & White, you led your team with pride and grace and I think that speaks a lot to you as a person. You are kind and respectful but can switch that quickly to goofiness and silliness. You'll do amazing things here in the future and I can't wait to see it.

Julian Heller – The other half of our Chicago boys! Similar to many others, you came into this summer flying with energy and it was a much needed spark to the group at points. Insisting on wearing the same hat to every period was hilarious, by the way. Keep coming back because camp needs more people with your energy and humor.

Gus Hope – You were an absolutely amazing new addition to our group this year. Whether it was a high intensity activity or a relaxing waterfront period, you did everything with no complaints and a smile on your face. You emanate positivity and it's apparent in the way you carry yourself every day. You're truly a leader here and I know that will carry you and the rest of the group far.

Jack Ilardo – GELATO!! On the stage and off, you are a star. You have such a contagious positive attitude and it's clearly felt everywhere you go. You leave a positive mark on everyone you interact with and that speaks a lot to your character. You are constantly in a good mood and that will honestly take you very far in life. This group loves and appreciates you immensely and you'll do huge things in future years.

Matthew Johnston – Matty, here's to an incredible summer. You were nothing short of a true pleasure this summer and I couldn't have been happier to be your group leader. I loved sharing an area with you. Your energy and love for camp is off the charts and I really saw that bloom from you this summer. I'm glad you found your place in the group and I can't wait to see how that will shape you in the future.

Sam Lappin – Never have I seen a camper make quite the turnaround you have made. From being upset when you got here to being devastated when you left, you have stuck by our sides through it all and you became an instant pleasure to see and spend time with everyday. I am so happy you have found a love for camp and I'm ecstatic to be able to see you thrive here. Love you, my man.

Arsene Lengele – Arsene, you absolutely thrived here. You were for sure one of the more dominant athletes in the group but at the same time everyone loved you because of your kind and caring demeanor. You made many close friends here and I loved seeing that. You clearly have a deep appreciation for camp and the people here and I can only hope that you come back for many years to open up and let yourself blossom.

Jerry Lewart – You are such an awesome, easygoing kid. You participated in every activity with energy and passion and we couldn't have been happier when we interacted with you. Camp needs quiet leaders like you and I think you'll make some serious strides here. Keep coming back, buddy.

Remy Leyrer – Remy, how's Brentwood?? But in all seriousness you very well may be one of the funniest and most clever kids I've encountered as a counselor. You are wise beyond your years and are not only goofy, but also extremely responsive and level-headed when you need to be. You have such a big personality that I'm surprised it fits in your body! Keep coming back because this group needs your spunk and I know you'll continue to do big and impressive things here!

Will Morrison – You are absolutely hilarious. Your knowledge of all things internet astounds me and cracks me up every time you make a reference. You brighten up the room just by being present and I know everyone notices that. Your positive and goofy attitude is felt by everyone and I know that with more time here, you will continue to find your place and build amazing connections with everyone here.

Luke Orlowski – Hearing your witty remarks and your baby voice were highlights of my day that always kept me happy and smiling. Your hilarious antics along with your ability to make conscious decisions made the counselors' jobs much easier, and for that I have to thank you. You're an amazing kid with so much going for you and I think that camp brings out the best in you, so keep coming back so we can keep seeing that amazing part of you.

SQUIRES

Brody Russo – Brody! Having you as a camper always kept me on my toes, but in a very good way. You have so much love in your heart for your group and for camp and I know that comes out in your goofy antics. Camp needs people like you who are silly, caring, and loving for everyone they come across and for this amazing place. You really get it here and I know you'll be an amazing leader in the very near future.

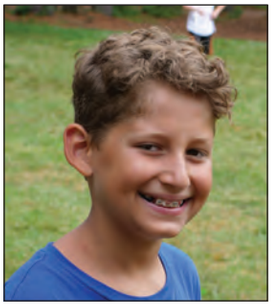

Jack Stern – Stern, I hope your New Year's Eve is amazing this year! But seriously, you were outstanding this summer. Your ability to rapidly make friends is uncanny and it's because of your caring and compassionate personality. I knew I could trust you with anything and in no time I'm positive you'll morph into a true leader in this group. Your brothers here love you and that love will grow as your camper career continues.

Bennett Talford – Bennett, you were a pleasure to be a counselor for this summer. You are quiet, and you are also one of the kindest and most easy-going kids I have ever met. Your love for the activities and your group mates was unparalleled. I can absolutely see you growing to become one of the most prominent leaders in this group over the next couple years and I can't wait to see it.

Zach Tirrell – Tirrell, I couldn't have been happier to be your group leader this summer. Your love for doing Houdini tricks in your trunk or your amazing questions always kept me on my toes and kept me laughing. Your love for all the activities (especially riflery) was evident in the positive and pleasant way you carried yourself every day. I can't wait to see how you develop throughout the rest of your camper career.

Josh Weiner – You are clever and wise, far beyond your years. You know how tough things were sometimes from a counselor perspective and it was refreshing to have a camper presence in the bunk who understood. Your high energy and passion for camp was essential to our group's success, and you have certainly left your mark here.

Keep coming back because your incredible personality is what makes you so special.

Zach Zweibel – You kept us on our toes. Your energy and enthusiasm for every group activity was apparent to all your groupmates and the counselors. Whatever was on the schedule, you embraced it, and that was awesome. You hit the ground running each day and didn't stop.

Staff – You guys were absolutely my rocks this summer. Everything that needed to get done got done and you all did it with ease. I had the most amazing time with you all and I can't thank you enough for helping me have the best summer ever. Love you boys. Keep in touch.

SQUIRES - MY BOYS!

This summer has been my favorite of the 13 I have under my belt, and I have you all to thank for that. I have never seen a group of 10-year olds so tight-knit and ready to take on running The Realm head-on. I love you guys more than you know, and I can't wait to see you all in 2025 as Saxons! Squire squad…over and out.

ARCHERS – It's time to put down your phones, take a much-needed break from Fortnite, and get ready to relive the best summer of our lives!

It all started a day early on June 21st when Liam Deane arrived, followed by the massive surge of 17 of you crazy kids on Day 1 to form a solid group of 18 strong. As the days went by, we slowly lost and gained a few more and ended up with our peak of 21 campers!

Remember our first EA when we did kick the can and everyone ambushed the can in the first few moments of the round? Remember ending that night with you guys chasing all the counselors and tackling us to the ground? How about when you all stampeded through Adam during inspection so you could go outside and play ping pong and carpet ball? Or having such a successful swim test and everyone being at least a yellow swimmer! (Shout out to Freddie for getting the gold)!

Remember Caleb and Lucas Breed's epic tennis showdown? We definitely need to see another match next summer! Remember the awesome view at the top of Rattlesnake Mountain and getting McDonald's on our way back? Remember the Mainers' game? The food and candy stands were a popular location! Remember Dylan delivering messages for us across the bunk or reenacting Pirates of the Caribbean during our paddle boarding periods? How about recreating Thor's hammer in woodshop and destroying everything in sight! Let's not forget the JC talent show – Jasper's awesome guitar playing, Hudson's sick dance moves, and Freddie's incredible piano playing!

Remember watching The Greatest Showman accompanied by Adam's pitch-perfect singing? Or how about having Crocker stolen from us? Hopefully one day we'll get him back again! Who could forget skit night, make your counselor laugh, and, of course, story time with Dylan. It's crazy to think how fast this summer flew by and how quickly July 4th came with its parade, beach party, water slides, bounce house, carnival games, popcorn, and an ice cream truck! What more could we want?!

Sadly though, after the 4th, we had to say goodbye to Lucas Breed and Liam Deane, but we then gained Robert, Colton, JC, and Zane to add some extra craziness to our group!

Now for one of the most memorable days of the summer: Who could forget the day we camped out in the barn? We were able to make the most out of a crazy situation by building forts in the barn and listening to Tyrant on repeat all day! We're so proud that you all know the words to that song now, and we're also so proud of how you learned how to be resilient.

Yet another awesome event that some of you guys participated in was the first annual Scott Rimer Race! Colton, Everett, Dylan, and Freddie- you guys all were amazing! Special shout out to Colton for being first in all of camp to finish the race! We bet everyone remembers Joseph killing it on the mega phone during steal the bacon…That whole night was so incredible!

Remember Beach Day? We were pretty much the only ones on the beach that day, and the weather didn't stop any of you from spending time with your friends and enjoying ice cream and candy!

Soon after beach day we had EXCURSION!!! We started our epic three-day outing at Monkey Trunks. It was so awesome watching all of you climb around the course – you were all certainly more agile than the staff, especially since Adam was scared to go on the swing and Ace didn't even do it. Our next stop was Pirate's Cove for some mini golf (shout out to Gavyn for having the best score in the group!). Then we went to Kellerhaus for a build-your-own sundae extravaganza! After ice cream we went to the movie theater where we got to see Toy Story 4. After the movie we went back to the campsite for some burgers and s'mores and had a good night's sleep…but only until sunrise!

When got rained out on the second day, we called in an audible and went to the largest arcade in the world! Anyone remember Lucca only throwing the balls into the gutter during bowling? Or how about all the tickets you guys won at the Wheel of Fortune game? But the best part had to be everyone spending all their tickets on junk food (of course!). After the arcade we got some pizza and headed back to camp where we had a seemingly normal day… that is until our nightly meeting where the staff surprised you all with an extra day of excursion! We got up and headed off for an amazing day at Whale's Tale Water Park. Remembers the Toilet Bowl slide? And who could forget the Capsule slide where the floor drops out from under you?

Then came PVD! Even though it was nearly 100 degrees, everyone had a great time – it was so fun seeing everyone in the lake, sharing our space with the snake that was slithering around. To all the parents: It was so incredible meeting all of you! Thank you for sending your kids to camp and allowing us to get to know all of them so well!

Even though we had a blast on PVD, on that Sunday we sadly had to say goodbye to JC, Jasper, Lucas, Ben, Gavyn, Lucca, Sam, Hudson, and Dylan. However, when one door closes, another always opens, and we were lucky enough to gain seven more kids as we welcomed Nick, Liam, Kaison, Aidan, Jorden, Marius, and Lucas Krauss into the group for the second part of the summer!

ARCHERS

Anyone remember losing to the Tumblers in gaga? Or how about Fuente rigging your game of Mafia and not realizing until the very end? What about Jorden's epic dance battle with Ratner at dinner one night?

And before we knew it, it was time for Green & White, and what an incredible break it was (even though Joseph nearly slept through it)! A chorus of flame throwers walked through camp with bright lights waking everyone up. They led us to the Far Far Field where there was an incredible fire show put on by performers from Boston Circus Guild complete with juggling, flips, fire breathing, and all sorts of other fire tricks! Finally the judges appeared from the woods behind us wearing masks to lead us to the barn where the six captains were announced!

After an eventful night, we finally went to sleep and woke up bright and early in the morning to pick our own captains and cos. Congratulations to Robert, Reid, Buman, and Owen! You all led your teams so well, and we're so proud of you!

You guys had so many incredible games that came down to the final moments. First, there was gaga, where the white team went up 2-0 and then the green came back and won the match 3-2! Who could forget the epic archery showdown? After an intense period, we were tied. Then Everett and Aidan stepped up for a shootout. Yet another eventful event was our soccer match. With a 1-0 score (shout out to Eli), that was probably one of the most competitive and intense games of the summer. Another hype moment of the war came on the last day during basketball where Owen had a 3 to bring the game back to a one point difference! And how awesome was it watching Colton, Everett, Buman, Freddy, and Reid absolutely kill it in the Green & White Talent Show!

In every activity, you guys gave it your all and it was amazing to watch you compete so intensely! At the same time, we're so proud of the sportsmanship you displayed. After each activity, you guys all came back together as one and left all the tension on the field. After Green & White, we had the annual Lazy Day breakfast of Dunkin' Donuts, ran a normal day of activities, and faced the fact that the summer was slowly winding down.

JC Barrios Gomez – JC, despite the fact that you came at the two week mark, you were easily able to reconnect with all of your old friends from past years. You were a super soccer player who contributed significantly in many of the soccer tournaments. We hope you can stay for longer next year!

Jorden Bereck – Your unique personality was a great addition to the group this year. You possess a very special ability to put a smile on any given person's face. Your lively and perpetually positive attitude made every day with you jovial. Your three weeks here really had an impact on camp, especially when Chuck acknowledged you for giving hugs. We deeply hope to see you next summer at The Realm.

Lucas Breed – Although it was your first year in The Realm, you meshed with the group instantly. Your energetic personality was a great addition to our squad. Your enthusiasm in the dining hall when you were dancing and singing was awesome to observe. We know that you will be back for longer next year!

Hudson Brown – You were definitely one of the most easy going kids in the bunk. Whether it was playing magic or killing it in dance, you always listened and had a smile on your face. This approach to life is something we cherished, and we are sure that you will be here for the full summer next year.

Zachary Buman – When you got off the New York bus, you entered The Realm with a wide smile and an ambition to have a great summer. We appreciated your enthusiasm to share great memories with your groupmates, and you backed it up with so many kind gestures. Most notably, it was awesome to see you voted as a co-captain for Green & White this year. This reflects the respect you earned from your peers, and you deserved it.

Nicholas Choi – When you arrived at the four week mark, your bunkmates met you with open arms and positive recollections of your previous summer. You definitely built on the friendships you made while also forming new bonds with more groupmates. Your competitive spirit was very influential in Green & White and helped motivate your teammates. We hope to see you bring the same attitude to camp next year!

ARCHERS

Liam Deane – While you were only here for two weeks, it was incredible to witness all of the great things you accomplished. Whether it was reconnecting with old friends, killing it on the soccer field, or just being a genuinely good kid, everyone in the group appreciated your presence. Have a great year, we all hope to see you next summer!

Marius Dornin – We all respected how mature you were, and how awesome that was. You were an important factor in all of the Green & White activities and it was cool to watch your tennis expertise both during Color War and regular activity periods. See you next year!

Zane Fishman – Your capacity to assimilate into the traditions and customs of camp during your first summer was truly admirable. You made friends with every individual in the cabin and for that we applaud you. Your constant enthusiasm for activities motivated us all. Have an incredible year. We hope to have you back for the full summer next year at The Realm.

Dylan Frank – It is difficult to encapsulate all that you did this summer into one paragraph. Yet, it was incredible to see you emerge from your shell and display your true self. You could make anyone laugh and cheer people up with your creative and quirky sense of humor. We hope to see you back for the full summer next year!

Sam Godbout – Your persistent smiling indicated that you had a great summer. While you may have lost your Superman necklace early in the summer, it was heartwarming to witness your mom use her super powers to dig it out from under the porch with a hanger on PVD. Turns out, you did pretty well without the necklace, as your athleticism is truly impressive. We hope to see you killing it at camp again next year!

Liam Gould – Your passion for sports was so fun to see during the three weeks you were at camp. This passion was reflected mostly during Green & White where you dedicated your full effort to trying to win activities. We hope that you return to camp next summer with this same intensity.

Ben Gross – While you were one of many athletes in the group, it was clear that you were the most-skilled basketball player. More importantly, you were a great sport when you played, and it is easy to envision a future where you lead RH to victory at West End. Have a fun year. We can't wait to see you back next summer.

Jasper Jackson – Although it was your first year in The Realm, you jumped into the mix early with your stunning performance of "Seven Nation Army" in the Junior Camp talent show. Your ability to play an instrument and sing along was very impressive, and the whole group admired your unique talent. Have a great year at school. We will see you back at camp very soon.

Lucas Kaganovsky – Your ability to make any activity enjoyable was contagious, and we thank you for it. We all appreciated how you showcased your comedic talents with strange gestures and abstract comments. Additionally, you are an extremely talented rider. While you did not stay the whole summer, we know you loved every minute here that you did have, and we loved having you at camp.

Lucas Krauss – While you came to camp with your close group of L.A. friends, you certainly left with many more close friends in our group. Your perpetual positive attitude had a great impact on the mindsets of others. We will miss your kind-spirited worldview and hope to see you next year.

Kaison Maruyama – Your first year at The Realm was definitely something to remember as you assimilated completely into the daily camp routine. Your constant efforts to put others before yourself were recognized by the whole group. Have an awesome year. We can't wait to see you back next summer.

Robert Milacci – In your fifth year at The Realm, you solidified your role as one of the leaders of your group by being elected one of the color war captains. Throughout the entirety of the summer, both the staff and your groupmates noted your leadership qualities that were optimal on a daily basis and for leading your color war team. We hope to see you continue to lead the group in such a positive way.

Owen Oliver – Owen, the fact that all of your groupmates were so happy to hear that you were staying for the full session says it all. Your skill at the homerun diamond was noted by all as you nearly hit the road as an Archer! We hope you continue to strengthen your friendships and hit trees next year.

Reid Olynick – It has been incredible watching you exhibit your friendly spirit this summer. You always put others before yourself which is a very mature quality for an 11 year old to have. You certainly deserved the position of captain in Green & White and we hope to enjoy your leadership in years to come.

ARCHERS

Eli Perrino – You were the energizer bunny of the group. You could always be found running around and having a good time. Your ability to have fun even in activities you do not prefer is a great character trait to possess, and one that rubbed off on others so that everyone had a better time. We know you will continue to bring your energy for all of your future years at camp.

Joseph Peters – While you joined our group in the middle of the summer, you meshed perfectly with everyone. The mellow and grateful attitude that you brought to everything you did made our group better. We hope to see you back next year for another incredible summer.

Everett Pulver – You are one of the core members of the group. The way in which you lead by example is acknowledged thoroughly by both your staff and your fellow groupmates. While you can be quiet at times, when you do contribute, everyone listens. Don't change Everett. The Realm needs kids like you.

Aidan Reeder – You are a quiet but strong force in this group and everyone appreciated your presence. You bring a positive attitude to everything, and we wish you the best of luck this year. We can't wait to see you next summer.

Caleb Rivchun – You are such a kindhearted and well-intentioned kid. And we have to mention that you also had the best hair in the group. Wise beyond your years, you always went with the flow. It was an absolute pleasure being your counselor this year and we expect that you will continue to cement your spot in the group in future years.

Frederick Rosenthal – What is there to say that you don't already know? It is truly amazing that you have already enjoyed five summers to The Realm (halfway to the 10 year vest as an Archer), and just this year, you made it to a different bunk! You have always been a leader within this group and a crucial personality at camp. See you next summer.

Lucca Serafino – Even in your first year, you fit in easily with the entire group. You were an active participant in all group activities and excelled in soccer. It was great to see you absorb so much information about camp in such a short time. You have a great camp future ahead of you!

Gavyn Shepard – It was great to see you back this summer. You were the king of knockout and always managed to be one of the sole survivors in Gaga. Your etiquette and listening skills were appreciated greatly by both the staff and your fellow campers. Have a great year at home. We hope to see you back next year.

Colton Stratman – This year at camp you displayed your proficiency for athletics through all of the activities you participated in. It was great to see your competitive nature overlap with your genuine sense of sportsmanship. We hope that you continue to display this balance next summer at camp!

John Zaccaro – From the moment you arrived at camp this summer, it was clear that you made an effort to be friends with all of your groupmates. We loved watching you make being inclusive your mission. You were a very important member of the Green team during Green & White, and we hope to see you do the same things next year.

To Our Staff – Thank you so much for making this summer so special for us! You guys are all amazing, and we can't imagine this summer without you. We loved getting to know you and you made every day even better. We worked so well together and each of you made every day so much better for every camper and so much easier for us. We love you.

To Our Archers of 2019

It was truly sad to say goodbye to each and every one of you, and we would like to thank you all an incredible summer that we'll never forget. You're such sweet, unique, and hilarious kids who each bring something different to the group. We hope you all keep in contact with each other and with us during the year, and we can't wait to watch you guys grow up in The Realm!

BOYS... STOP PLAYING BASKETBALL, GET OUT OF THE PING PONG ROOM, HURRY UP! THE SHARKS ARE COMING!

BENCHES... BENCHES, BENCHES, IT'S THE BENCHES SONG. BRODY, PUT AWAY THE MAGIC CARDS, NOAH SMITH PUT YOUR SHOES ON, JACKSON, WHY ARE YOU ALWAYS LAST?

FIVE! FOUR! THREE! TWO! ONE!

NOW LET'S GO BACK AND RELIVE THE BEST SUMMER OF OUR LIVES.

Remember opening day? The buses rolled in and we instantly became a squad 28 deep. We started evening activities off strong with a game of camper hunt. Kostia very quickly adapted to camp life with his marshmallow roast and very soon insisted on inviting the entire group to a BBQ at the Van Rossum household. The event, I hear, is to be hosted by his mother, catered by Cooper's big red food bag, paid for by Charles as a gift, and cleaned by the Brookline Power Plungers.

Once we settled into the first week, we were in full force, tearing through anything in our way. Remember Archie's tears of joy? Or when Charlie's truck introduced itself to the tank that is Nathan? Remember the boat ride to the main lake, a long chill ride that ended with a refreshing dip in the water, quickly securing the title of best period of the summer? Remember Cal's Bar Mitzvah, which gave birth to the summer-long showdown that was Melo and Brody's relationship?

Remember The Fourth of July? The festivities began with a homerun derby. Although we didn't show out like we could have, it was a great start to the day. The afternoon kicked off with a beach party, but that wasn't where the candy and ice cream were. After checking out at the buddy board, it was an all out sprint to the carnival at the quad. Food, games, and inflatable activities awaited our arrival and you guys took advantage of all the options. The highlight was, without a doubt, watching Chuck show everyone how to really ride a waterslide.

Remember the Mainers' game? Sanford Mainers take home yet another victory. The lines for food were crowded, the stands were vivacious, and Miles got to meet Pete Lieberman.

Remember Mt. Major? We were convinced it was just like Rattlesnake, but we quickly found out we were wrong. As the tree line faded and the path became less clear, you guys only got stronger. We reached the top and had a feast on the mountain we conquered as we overlooked Lake Winnipesaukee.

Remember Robin Hood Gives Back Day? Realizing the powerful impact a place similar to the one we all call home, camp, can have on those less fortunate paved the way to an amazing afternoon. After we made bracelets with all of Boys' Camp, it was back to the bunk for Gregor to once again flex his talents as an artist in making the poster that was the Yeomen banner as the troops went on the COLOR RUN. A dip in the lake that rounded out the inspirational and amazing day we had.

Remember beating the Lancers in Capture the Flag? Remember Melo's hard accent, Remy Remy, Keiran's new soccer move, soccer in the rain or when Teru got him and Sam out of a pickle? Absolutely electric. However, this was only the beginning. We then suited up for the Challenge Cup and no group could handle the heat you guys brought. We found ourselves in the semi-finals with our biggest challenge yet; World Cup soccer against the Scribes. With Messi, I mean Santi, already having returned to Spain for training, the rest of you guys needed to pick up the slack, and that you did. We moved swiftly by the Scribes into the finals of the Cup, which featured a kickball match against the Bards. Unfortunately for the Bards, that was our easiest win of the tournament. CHAMPIONS!! How do Yeomen celebrate? 18 holes on the minigolf course topped off with pizza.

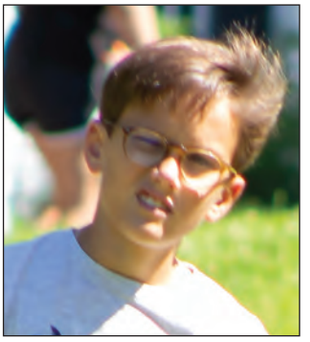

Remember Beach Day? Corentin! Remember running head first into the ice bucket that was the ocean? It was so foggy. Or the endless clam strips and fries? Remember Bryce's finessing of the hat and Rybo's sunglass hut? It wasn't the most picturesque of days that Ogunquit had ever seen, but that didn't stop you from making the most of it or eating the most of it.

Remember when the group forgot about English and Gibberish took over? A very stressful few days for those of us who weren't bilingual. Or when Mund and Powell decided to extend which very quickly meant the entire Brookline crew was here for four? Remember our intense game of Gold Rush, commentated by our very own Pablo on the mega horn? Remember Dolphin Wars? Or when we absolutely destroyed the Quills in volleyball? Remember how we chose lake swims over canoes, kayaks, and paddleboards? Remember Miles' speedy recovery? Or our Big Beautiful Circle at Drama? Remember Suna's mustache and its very short life? Remember when the tower stood? WE DON'T. Remember monsoon season, and the first day of sunshine giving way to an amazing game of Danish Longball. It was all fun and games until Photo Katie got dome pieced by Ratner as she was about to secure a celeb inside the park home run. Remember Knockerball? And Mohammad's destruction? Remember the Orca? Its guest appearance in our dance was easily the highlight of 2019 Robin Hood So You Think You Can Dance.

YEOMEN

Remember when Santi was not fast enough to dodge paint bullets? Our trip to OSG Paintball was an epic one, filled with camo, and enough McDonald's to feed a family.

Remember PVD? The scorching heat didn't stop you guys from showing out at the lax field. Brody's cannon of an arm wasn't shy of the parents. Then it was off to the homerun diamond where we played a good old-fashioned game of parents vs. kids. It would have been a close game if it weren't for the parents' lineup of Robin Hood alum. The day ended with an all inclusive splash in the lake, exactly what everyone needed.

Remember excursion? Day 1 was farewell to Gregor and hello to Water Country. Remember the portal on the Saco? Remember Cato? Remember Sam's tree swing that resulted in a flood? Remember Matt's scav hunt? Remember steak tartar and the grandmother of all freefalls at Attitash onto the massive pillow? Or when Blake was attacked by the Pink Panther and then ate enough to feed the entire group at Subway? Remember late night apple pies? Or our final expedition that was 18 holes at Pirate's Cove?

The next thing we knew we were back at the bunk, patiently awaiting the arrival of several cousins and former counselors for color war. Saxons Jesse and Big Lo led the charge as strange lights seemed to be guiding us to the Far Far field. FIRE!!!! We watched as our good friend Hank followed the action with his Canon 4xd207 pro-shot. Tim the juggler really had the performance of his life, cleanly maneuvering objects on fire between him and his pals. Game time. Do you even ref bruh? Ultimate, soccer and volleyball were epic. Levine almost scored a game winner in football off the O-line but we quickly remembered that is not allowed. Remember Choo's coaching record vs. ZB? This was just one of many intense wars that our group is destined to share. Remember running to find each other once it was all over to be Yeomen again for our last few days in The Realm? We tested our skills once again on the 18 at White Lake Mountain Speedway followed by a show stopping performance of Shallow at Pizza Barn.

Gregor Brockmann – You are the nicest kid we've ever met. Your positive attitude is contagious, and we all can learn something from it. It is clear how much you love camp and how much camp loves you. Keep coming back for longer to fully realize your potential. You won't regret it.

Mackie Burke – You absolutely killed it this summer. We are so happy you extended your time at camp because the group is better with you there. You did a great job giving every activity your all no matter what. We cannot wait to see you keep coming back and embracing the magic in the trees.

Kai Daglio – You are the goofiest kid we know. At every activity, you put a smile on everyone's face with your reckless sense of humor. You were a tank in every sport and your competitive spirit is amazing. Watching you fall in love with camp was a pleasure.

Andrew Dery – Watching you smile at any activity proves that camp is the place for you. Everyone loves you and The Realm is yours to embrace. We look forward to watching you grow as a camper and become a leader.

Miles Evans – You are a beast! You did every activity with skill and finesse, but most importantly with a smile. You have become a vital part of the group and watching you find yourself this summer was beautiful. Please keep coming back for longer so you can appreciate what camp has to offer and make camp better for being there. You deserve it.

Cooper Ferdman – You are a leader of not only our group but also of camp. You killed it as a captain during Green & White and it was amazing to watch. Your love for camp is unmatched and it's going to grow more every year. Keep rocking out and being you.

Quentin Glaenzer – It was an absolute pleasure to meet you and every moment was a blast. The counselors loved having another Brit in the bunk. We hope you had an excellent summer, and we also hope to see you again.

Archer Gould – You were such a valuable addition to our group for the last three weeks of camp. We all only wish that you came earlier to showcase your general positivity, amazing sense of humor, and immense respect for others. It was amazing getting to know you and it's clear that Robin Hood is a great fit for you. Please keep coming back.

Charles Hayot – We're so proud of the way you went about the summer. We know it can be difficult being immersed in a language that you don't know very well, but that never stopped you from giving everything your absolute all! We hope you keep coming back so you can fully embrace all that camp has to offer.

Devon Kislin – You thrived not only on the fields during Green & White, but in The Realm throughout the summer as a great leader. You fill a very important role in the group and once you accept that the whole camp is yours, kid. Keep coming back and don't waste a minute.

Kieran Klasfeld – It's been an absolute pleasure getting to know you the past seven weeks. It's clear that you are an integral part of the group and that your sense of humor and general positive attitude towards camp go a long way to influence your fellow bunk mates in all the right ways. We hope to see you come back for years to come and continue to test your comfort zone as you've been doing.

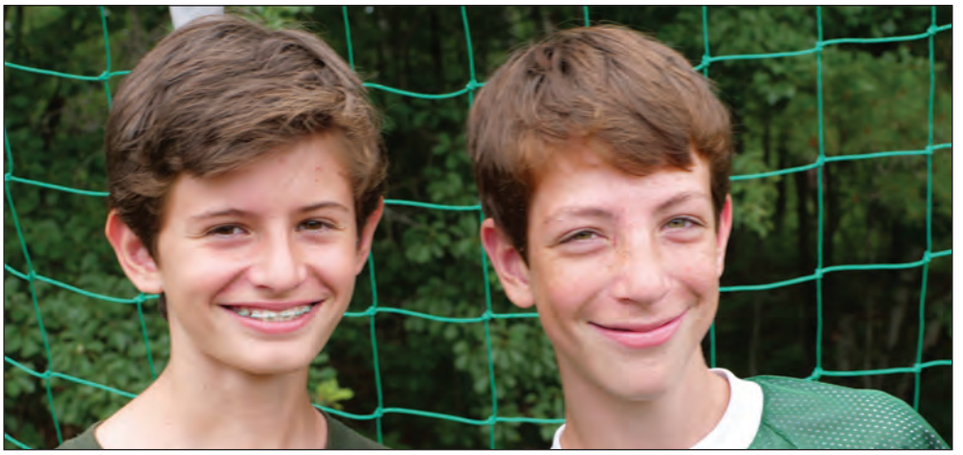

Andrew Levine – Like a bullet, your energy is dense, precise, and explosive. Your hugs and your smile make anyone's day. Keep being yourself and you will see how capable you are to do great things both in The Realm and beyond. You are a rock.

Blake Lipman – You're without a doubt one of the sweetest kids in camp. You amaze us and everyone around you with your smile and enthusiasm towards everything. You couldn't be a better camper. And we can't believe someone would kill your poor orca.

Bryce Lippard – You're one of the most energetic campers, and not just at activities. We can't remember how many wrestling matches you tried to talk us into, and we'll never forget when you convinced Matt you couldn't waterski. Keep your competitive spirit and positive energy flowing.

YEOMEN

Louis Miller – You look so familiar. Where have you been recently? We knew right when we met that you were a cool kid. Your calm smile and incredible attitude earned you a place in Robin Hood forever. If your feelings during your final hours in The Realm are indicative of anything, it is that you saw how beautiful camp can be for those who take the time to explore it. You love camp, and we know this is just the beginning of an epic camper career.

Jake Mund – Wow. What a summer. Watching you and Mackie leave on that golf cart in tears confirmed that you felt the magic in the trees. You left it all on the field at every activity and poured a little bit of your heart into every waterfront, every EA, and even every cleaning period. It was a pleasure to watch. Keep coming back and finding new ways to expand your vast knowledge of camp and of life.

Teruaki Nakajima – Watching you blossom on excursion and find ingenious ways to communicate your emotions to the group was amazing. The moments in which you embraced camp and let loose were indicative of the endless potential you have here at camp. Hope to see you back next summer.

Archie Neibart – Archibald. We were bitter rivals from the start. Collegiate vs. Poly Prep. Nevertheless, we ended up being immediately blown away by your goofy smile, positive attitude, and undying curiosity. Alongside Sam, you worked to uncover camp's many hidden gems and never stopped being yourself. Your future is bright here.

Cato Pennings – Never have we met a more confident twelve-year old. You stood firm in defense of your convictions and showed great humility during your time here. You were amazing to watch and we really enjoyed getting to know you on excursion. We hope you have since enjoyed steak tartar and pepperoni pies. See you next year!

Corentin Petrelluzzi – You are such a cool kid. Ça veut dire que tu es le pire. From the rifle range to the lake, you sailed through your time here with ease, finding your place in the fierce Yeomen. You managed to bond with every person in our group on an individual level, making the language barrier look like plastic wrap. With your humor, your skills and your intelligence, you instantly found the ways to love the passing moments at camp. We hope to see you back next year.

Henry Powell – In your four weeks in The Realm, you really opened up as a person and bonded with the whole group. It was amazing to see you test your comfort zone by playing in your first soccer tournament this year and bossing it as a defender. You truly are a funny and resourceful kid and we hope to see you come back for years to come.

Noah Ratner – You were born a camp legend. Your dedication to the group and passion for all things Robin Hood continue to grow as you have from a 9-year old Squire to an eleven year old leader. Watching you dominate on the field and never lose that smile could not have made us more proud to call you our camper. We know you will continue to come back and lead this group to your Saxon year and beyond.

Cal Rodin – You're a super smart kid. On a daily basis, you blew us away with your intelligence, be it your knowledge of history or your ability to communicate with others. You always brighten up everyone's day and we love our conversations. We can't wait to see you continue to thrive here for years to come.

Santi Rodriguez – Your smile was infectious to the group. Whenever we were having a rough day, you were able to turn it around right away with that smile of yours. You're such a nice kid and also very mature for your age. It was a pleasure having you and we hope you keep coming back for years to come.

Brody Rothenberg – You are one of the most mature twelve-year olds we've ever met. The entire summer you never stopped shocking us with your unique combination of competitive spirit and go-with-the-flow attitude. There is no doubt that one day you will lead this group and one day all of camp.

Ryan Rowe – There wasn't one activity you did without a smile, and that enthusiasm helped you integrate into the group seamlessly. Your wittiness and unrelenting jokes had everyone laughing. You became a huge part of the group and it's clear how much camp means to you. We can't wait to see you blossom in the future.

Johan Samuel – You are one of the goofiest and funniest kids we've ever met – that's what makes you so great. You have such an awesome presence in the group and at camp, and we hope you keep coming back for years to come.

YEOMEN

Nathan Schlieman – SCHLIEMAN! You are the man. Keep asking questions and telling stories, but most importantly keep coming back. You have a lot to offer camp, and we know camp has so much to give you in return. The future is bright for the Schliemans.

Adam Segal – You showcased your athleticism and determination the entire summer. Whether it was during Green & White or just a game of Gaga, you always went out there and dominated. You are a great kid and we hope you keep coming back year after year!

Noah Smith – You are a great kid filled with tons of positive energy. All the counselors loved watching you compete in everything, and you always finished with such class. If a kid was down you could always lift him up, and we hope you keep coming back for years to come.

Jackson Steinlauf – Tarzan, the fearless king of the jungle. Whether you like it or not, you have earned the responsibility of a captain and have been gifted the opportunity to lead the fearless Lancers of 2020. When you rise to the occasion, we know that the next few summers will be the best of your life. It would not have felt right sleeping next to anyone else for our second summer running camp with the boys. Seriously, though, get on the benches my guy.

Henry Stirling – You came into the summer quiet and shy but very quickly found yourself. Watching you integrate into the group so seamlessly was super impressive. We loved seeing you try new things with such an open mind, and we truly cannot wait to see you prosper here in the coming summers.

Sam Swartz – You're a great kid who always exceeds expectations. You absolutely destroyed in Green & White, so much that you had the entire camp watching. You were a goofball and such a pleasure to be around. Keep coming back – you add so much to the group.

Kostia Van Rossum – You're an absolute legend. Every moment we spent with you was joyous and it was great having you with the Yeomen. You instantly made a name for yourself, not just in the bunk but across the whole camp. You fit in immediately and the bunk wasn't the same without you. We sincerely hope we get to see you again!

Marcello Zarif – You always seemed to be the center of attention in the bunk. Whether it was making ridiculous jokes or running the market you always knew how to keep things interesting. We never had a dull moment with your around; your shenanigans kept us all on our toes.

YEOMEN 2019 STAFF -

This summer was made possible by you guys. Each of you had an important role to fill and all of you absolutely killed it; we can't thank you enough. We're so glad that we could become so close over the summer and we hope that each of you had the best summer of your life. Thank you again. We love you.

BOYS -

This was the most amazing summer and we've got each of you to thank for it. You killed all activities and were absolute goons, keeping your staff smiling. Thank you. We love you.

Hey, it's Butch Mathias back at it again. Lancers, put down the magic cards, GET ON THE BENCHES, and let's relive the amazing summer of 2019!

Remember opening day? The New York bus pulled into a hyped crowd and an already strong Lancer crew. The energy in camp was at an all-time high, and the Lancers of 2019 prepared to dominate the summer. Our first EA started us off with a bang. You'll never guess: INFECTION!! We quickly realized nothing would be able to stop us this summer.

Remember our double period of rainy day football? It was so amazing to watch you guys compete so hard for so long as a group, even if I had to bribe you all with candy canteen. Remember when Wallace got locked in the backroom closet? When Moucha was Timmy? When Woody scared Beckett by screaming "TACO TUESDAY" ? Even though counting off was always a little tough for us, I'm sure you'll all remember Antoine yelling "three!" And who can forget when Jesse couldn't stop drinking Crystal Light?

Remember the Mainers' game? Who thought $10 could buy so much food? You all experienced a major sugar rush, and the excitement only heightened when Alex fell trying to make it around the bases. The day only got better after Wallace used the Art of the Deal to get a refund on his slushie.

Remember the House game? Wevans couldn't quite carry the team to victory, but at least everyone thinks he's 5'9 now. Remember when Jinsei wasn't a vegetarian? When Mohammad put the team on his back in Arrow vs Lancer Volleyball? When Beckett couldn't speak for the entire night? Lorca's smelly sock during our scavenger hunt with the Friars?

An already amazing summer only got better when 4th of July rolled up. We absolutely dominated the carnival, putting ourselves in a prime position to win all the prizes. Unfortunately, the odds weren't in our favor and we only got out with one prize: Next year! I didn't quite pull out the win during the Home Run Derby, but it was awesome to have the Lancer squad backing me up.

The Lancers of 2019 always kept every moment exciting, leading to so many hilarious moments. Who could ever forget Antoine at Dizzy kickball? Or how we all loved Moto Moto from Madagascar? Or when Alex convinced us all that his dad was Phil Swift: FLEX SEAL! How about decorating our cakes with Butch Mathias? Remember archery tag and knockerball with the Yeomen? We didn't really keep score, but it's safe to say we dominated.

Next thing we knew, buses and vans were pulling out of camp for Beach Day – and what a Beach Day it was! The weather wasn't perfect, but we didn't let that stop us. You guys immediately ate more food than I thought was possible, made some interesting fashion choices (Jesse), and even found time to visit your counselors in the warmest Beach Day water I can remember. Also, how could we forget burying Antoine on the beach?

With PVD fast approaching, the Lancers didn't stop making memories. Remember when Moucha lost every game of 21? Or when he loved talking about Sunday Sundaes? Remember when Antoine slept on the basketball court and went full exorcist mode later that night? And who could forget our dance? You guys absolutely killed it on the stage. The Fergie medley was a huge hit around camp – I can honestly say the Lancers won best dance that night.

PVD finally arrived, and even though it was an absolute scorcher, it was definitely one of the best days of the summer. It was so awesome meeting your parents and seeing where you all come from – I'm so grateful they let us have you for the summer! We closed out PVD weekend with a sweet stargazing session at the rink that I will never forget. RAID THE RINK.

After PVD, we anxiously awaited excursion and Green & White, but the good times kept rolling. Remember sock wrestling? That's definitely the most violent kicking you all have ever done. Remember when we started to get decent at volleyball? Your determination to improve definitely paid off during your amazing Green & White volleyball game. Remember the epic 2V2 basketball tournament in the bunk? Who knew Gimbel was such a master at running tournaments? Remember when Cian ruined Chuck's meal by putting on wayyyy too much parmesan? Campers vs. Staff greasy watermelon at the Senior Waterfront? No matter how many times the staff screamed "WHERE'S THE MELON?," the campers successfully hid it from us for almost the entire activity. Remember when Beckett was Benny the Jet? His re-enactment was perfect until he slipped on the basketball court trying to jump over the fence.

After waiting for what felt like forever, the Lancers headed out for excursion. First stop: deep-sea fishing. We absolutely dominated fishing. We caught more than we could count, and I think it's pretty safe to say we broke the record for most fish heads bitten off by a Lancer group. We saved the best part for last, though, as we brought some of the fish home for Dean to prepare us a feast back at the campsite. An already packed day only got better when we found our way to ice cream! I can honestly say I've never seen bigger scoops. You all then experienced uncontrollable sugar rushes – I think Moucha is still shaking. Remember thrift shopping and immediately becoming the best-dressed group on camp? You all made super intelligent purchases. Finally at the end of the day the Lancers were on their way to watch Spiderman, and it didn't disappoint. The music and podcasts kept us going, especially Jesse. Can't wait to see $100 tip win a Grammy soon. Our excursion came to an end, but we'll never forget the multi-colored seagull and Santa Claus at our campsite.

LANCERS

Once we got back to camp, we could feel the anticipation of Green & White in the air. Founder's Night came around and we all expected the break to happen then…but turns out we got duped. We disappointedly returned to the bunks, but then, it happened. Led through the darkness from our bunk to the Far Far Field by performers with LED sticks, we watched an absolutely sick fire show, followed by the judges appearing in the darkness and leading us into the barn. Finally, the captains were announced (who saw 6 coming?!?) and the war was underway.

Green & White 2019 pitted the Mighty White Legion against the Great Green Rage, and it's safe to say the Lancers of 2019 had an amazing war. Highlights included: Volleyball, Danish, and Football. Also, I cannot think of a better way to end your Lancer war than with a tie in the tug of war before coming back together as one Lancer group. The war was close the whole way through, but White pulled out the victory in the end. After a hard-fought five days, the Lancers were finally back together and running camp as a united front. The hilarity immediately resumed as you guys decided to decorate the basketball court in toilet paper and silly string.

Remember Killer Bean? I have to say I doubted it at first, but it might just be the greatest movie of all time. Remember when Daelen didn't know what color Red Vines were? When Beckett became a rich SoundCloud rapper? How about when you guys became jewelry making masters at arts and crafts. Remember GL swap day? You guys get candy canteen not one… not two…but THREE TIMES!!!

We started to feel camp coming to an end, but the Lancers truly squeezed everything out of the last few days. "Hey, Coxie! Why'd you wanna play college hockey?" We played dizzy kickball as our last EA, and it was as hilarious as ever – even the staff couldn't stay on their feet. The last night came and went, complemented by movies, McDonald's, pizza, and an amazing campfire. We couldn't make time slow down, and eventually we had to watch the buses pull out, but there's not a doubt in my mind that the Lancers of 2019 will come back even stronger as Friars of 2020.

Ethan Agmoni – Agmoni, you are definitely one of the most mature thirteen-year-olds I have ever met. You go through your days at camp with a quiet intensity that is a pleasure to watch. I know it's difficult because of your school schedule, but I promise if you start staying seven weeks you won't regret it – everything camp has to offer will be made available to you. I can't wait to see you next summer!

Antoine Baudry – There was truly never a dull moment around you, and you made everything you did memorable. The way you came into camp and immediately made your presence felt everywhere was so impressive and amazing to watch. I really hope you come back and experience everything camp has to offer.

Mohammad Alothaim – No matter what we were doing, you always had a smile on your face. You are an incredibly genuine person, and everyone on camp only has the absolute best things to say about you. I really hope you stay the full session next summer, and I can't wait to see what your future at camp holds.

Lorca Danziger – You are an evident leader in this group and at camp. You were an amazing captain during Green & White, and everyone in the group looks to you for guidance. Always remember how much you love your group and this place – I know you'll be leading camp very soon.

Will Evans – The combination of your intense competitive spirit and your deep love for your friends is very clear and is an important aspect of this group. I hope you understand this as well as how special this place is and the positive impact you can have on both camp and the group. Keep coming back because this place needs more kids like you.

Beckett Fox – You are possibly the goofiest kid I've ever met. Whether you're reenacting the Sandlot or asking me to watch Killer Bean, it's impossible to not laugh around you. You're not just the class clown – I think that over the summer you realized the role you have in this group as one of its leader. You have all the power in the world to steer your group in the right direction and I know you will continue to do that for your many years left at camp.

Gabe Freedman – I can't tell you how much the staff and I appreciated your even-keeled nature. You never get too high or too low, and that's an amazing quality for someone your age to have. I really hope you consider staying longer in the future because I know it will only help you fall in love with this place more.

David Garcia – You make integrating into a different country and culture look so effortless. You are a constant source of hilarity and make everywhere you are the place to be. You never take yourself too seriously, and you always know how to see the bright side of any situation. Your presence looms large in the group, and I know it will project even larger on camp very soon.

Alex Geldzahler – I can safely say that you are among the most mature thirteen-year olds I've ever met. You really came into your own this summer – your dad jokes, newfound athleticism, and bedtime stories were a constant source of entertainment. Keep being yourself, and you'll go very far in life.

Jesse Geoghan – It was a pleasure spending the summer with you. Whether you were rocking your fedora or freaking out about the newest podcast I played, there was never a dull moment with you in the group. You constantly entertain everyone with your jokes and quirky personality, and it's so appreciated. Remember how much you love this place – keep coming back and killing it in The Realm.

John Golden – It was amazing to watch you fall in love with this place during your stay. The way you quickly integrated into the group was so impressive and put a smile on everyone's face. You always brought positive energy and a great attitude to everything you did, and I can't thank you enough for that. I know you have a bright future at this place. Keep coming back.

Max Grad – Seeing you become a leader in the group over the course of the summer was amazing to watch. You always do the right thing, and whenever the group needs some guidance, you always provide it. These qualities were extremely important to your team during Green & White, and it showed. I really hope you can stay for the full seven weeks going forward – it's the best decision you can make, and you'll be able to experience all that camp has to offer.

LANCERS

Cian Hare – Your kindness and passion for camp were unmatched this summer. You were always willing to lend a hand with anything we needed and stayed positive in every activity. You bring a worldview that is extremely vital to the group, and I know the group is better off for it. I can't wait to watch you grow and emerge as a leader in this group. Keep killing it.

Philip Harris – Although you were only here for three weeks, you integrated into the group immediately, which is proof that you were made for this place. The way you can play hard at every activity while also being able to hug it out when it's over is an unmatched quality. I hope you can continue to come back for longer because I know your best days are coming.

Jasper Karlson – First things first, you absolutely killed it in our dance. You continue to be a leader and an extremely important person not only in this group but also in camp. From the second you set foot in The Realm, your love for this place was clear, which makes you even more enjoyable to be around. Keep coming back because I know this place has much more to offer you in years to come.

Robbie Levine – Your maturity and positive attitude greatly benefited the group. You might be the most easy going kid I've ever met; nothing is an issue for you, and you always know how to make the best out of any situation. You knew when to be respectful and when to have fun, setting a positive influence for everyone. I'm excited to see you grow and help lead your group by example.

Max Marquet – I can't wait to watch your Netflix stand-up special in 10 years. Your humor is extremely developed for someone your age, and it's very impressive how you never go for the easy laugh. You brighten up every room you're in and it's such a pleasure to be around you. Keep doing you, and always be yourself. I can't wait to see what the future holds for you here at camp.

Andrew Morrison – Even though you arrived late to camp, you definitely had a full summer's worth of fun and experiences. Simply put: you get camp. You're able to have fun under any given circumstance and you always make the most out of any situation. It was awesome watching you give it your all during Green & White. Keep your head up no matter what – you love camp and camp loves you.

Jack Moucha – Mouchaaaaaaaa, you're the man, and the group definitely was lacking after you left. You somehow always find a way to seamlessly combine goofiness, maturity, leadership, and charisma into one package. You're a friend to everyone in the group; when someone's looking for serious advice or just a laugh, we can always turn to you. I know the best is yet to come for you – keep coming back.

Caleb Newman – Despite your late arrival to camp, you integrated seamlessly back into this group. You gave 100% effort in every activity, which helped the group have better and more memorable periods. You killed it in Green & White, and I can't wait to see you back next year, hopefully for the whole summer, so you can keep making a positive impact on the group.

Daelan Pinsky – I'm not sure I've ever seen someone come into camp the way you did. Within hours you were a camp character, and I think it only took a few hours for you to fall in love with this place. You strike an amazing balance between being extremely goofy while remaining grounded – something that makes my job as a counselor a pleasure. I'm so excited to see how your future at The Realm develops.

Jean Poylo – Jean, benches are at 2:10 after lunch!! In all seriousness, though, I loved seeing you find your place at camp. It can be difficult to come to a new place not feeling entirely comfortable in the language, but you made it look easy. You're a great competitor, but an even better friend, and I know you've found your summer home for years to come.

Henry Samuel – Whether you're goofing around or having a more serious conversation, it's always a joy to be around you. Everyone in the group and around camp knows that you love to have fun, and you do it better than just about anyone; however, your ability to turn that side off and get serious is just as impressive. You're a friend to everyone in the group, and I cannot wait to see what your future at camp holds.

Juan Sanchez de Movellan – After being in your brother's group, I was so thrilled when I heard you were going to be a Lancer. No matter what you're doing, you find a way to make every moment exciting and make everyone around you feel comfortable. You're able to strike an incredible balance of making every moment memorable without ever crossing the line. Please keep coming back – The Realm needs you!

Brock Suidgeest – I think the entire group can agree that one of the scariest sights of the summer was watching you come in for a tackle. You compete with a quiet intensity that is a pleasure to watch. It was awesome witnessing you come into your own at camp, and I know you have a bright future here. Keep coming back, and the secrets of camp will open up to you.

Jinsei Takahashi – It's not easy to come to a completely new country and immediately become a part of a tight-knit group, but you somehow did it. You brought constant joy to the staff, the entire group, and everyone around you. Camp needs more people like you, and I hope you keep coming back.

Nikolai Van Rossum – Your positive attitude and easy-going nature was contagious to everyone around you. Everything you did, you did with a smile – something the entire staff really appreciated. Not only did you integrate yourself quickly into the group, but you were also incredibly helpful integrating other new campers. I can't wait to see what your future at camp holds.

Will Wallace – It was definitely a bummer that you had to leave early this summer, but it's safe to say you made the most of your time at camp. You know better than anyone how to not waste a minute, and you always give it your all at activities – I can't thank you enough for that. I know your best days at camp are ahead of you; remember how special this place is to you, and keep coming back.

Staff – There's no way I could've done it without you guys. You each played a vital role in making this an amazing summer for the Lancers, but also in making it an amazing summer for me. I knew I could trust you all with absolutely anything, and I can't thank you enough for that. I hope all of you find a way to come back to camp as long as you can. Keep in touch.

Lancers of 2019 – Thank you for making me feel thirteen again and for making this an amazing summer. You guys are a truly special group of kids, and your future at camp is so bright. Remember to continue to love each other and to love camp. Once you guys are doing that to the fullest extent, camp will become that much more special. Always here if any of you need anything.

Much love.

FRIARS

FRIARS, FRIARS! Put down those poker chips, get out of the hammock, remember your count-off numbers, and get on the benches! Now, let's all look back on the greatest summer of our lives.

Griffin led the pack by being the first to arrive at the hotel. By the end of day one we ended up 18 strong. After everyone settled in, it felt like the group just picked up from last year…except we had one new change this year: the temptation of the balcony. We had our fair share of talks but aimed to stay away. Remember your count-off number? Or should I say numbers? Remember 12 1/2 TA? It was a little confusing for us, but we managed to get the hang of it. Remember our first EA? Balling out at the upper basketball courts while Schmidt and Alex began to dominate?

The first week was a big one for the Friars. Remember Griffin's rough softball period? But, of course, Griffin took it like a champ! Remember Oscar's flashlight addiction? How many flashlights did you bring? Remember the shelf? It will never be the same. Buman conquered his fear of the tower and never looked back. In his defense…it is very high up. Remember Chase being the first person to hit trees? One day, Chase; make sure to listen to Brendon's tips.

Remember everyone's newfound passion for arts and crafts? J-Rock found his true talent as a modern-day Van Gogh. It was during crafts when the Friars started to find our own image – it's a tree…it's a shrub… no, it's SEANTEY. Remember the Challenge Cup? Seantey was the only one that would bring us to victory. Lips and Eli guarded our most prized possession and led us in cheers. We took home two easy victories and made Seantey proud – the Bards never stood a chance.

Remember beating West End? We don't! Eli swished the greatest free-throw of all time though. Alex caught fire from three while Goodman was R-A-T-T-L-E-D. You guys put up a good fight – maybe next year we'll secure the dub when the dog is back. Remember our trip to Conway? Remember how good J-Rock was at Odds Are? I promise it's only a twenty minute ride. Remember Eli and Pierce's Q-Tip epidemic? Remember how much we loved hot sauce? I'm sure Lips and Chase won't forget. Remember Griffin's history lessons and how much we learned from them? Remember the meme battle on the third floor?

Fourth of July rolled around and everyone was hyped up on sugar, especially Phil. Chase, J-Rock, and Lips created the most beautiful banner to display for the rest of camp. We definitely deserved first place. Remember our canoe trip to the marina? How could we forget learning about Toby's troll collection? I can confidently say after the trip that the entire group was a contender for BIC canoe. Pack your bags and don't forget your sunscreen because we're going to the beach! Remember our quiet ride with the Lancers? I'm glad everyone got to get in the warm water. Remember the random searches on the way back? Nothing will get past Chang.

As the summer continued, the bunk became more and more populated. There was only one solution: bunk beds. Remember our treacherous hike up Rattlesnake Mountain? Ignacio led the pack while the rest of us "took our time." It turned out to be a great view at the top, although that didn't stop everyone from rushing back down. I bet you all were so excited for lunch! Bagged lunches are more gourmet than you guys think – McDonald's is overrated. How could we forget the Mainers' game? What is a Mainer? Nobody knows. Easily Brendon's favorite day of the summer. Eli represented the Friars on the field, but sadly lost the race to a local seven year old. Goooooooo Mainers!! Remember the ride back and stopping at Dunkin'? Remember our trip to go-carting and mini golf? The go-carts were rigged and everybody lost their ball. Periods back at camp began to get intense as the "Remolution" dominated at the senior waterfront and no one could stop Pierce on the new quad.

All of a sudden PVD came and the bunk was at peak perfection for the parents. Everyone was on their best behavior, of course. The parents set the tone early by dominating at basketball. As the day went on, Softball began to get a little heated with parents taking foul balls and Chase still not hitting trees. I'm glad everyone got to have the PVD cookies; the scandal is real. It was so awesome getting to meet your families – make sure you say thank you to them for sending you to camp!

After PVD we left for excursion, embarking on our long journey to Springfield, Massachusetts, home to the Basketball Hall of Fame. We seemed to be more interested in dunking the ball than in the actual museum. We then made our way to our cozy camp site and rushed out for a movie night. The next day, we get an early start and traveled to Six Flags. But, don't forget – STAY OFF THE DIPPIN' DOTS. Remember complaining about going thrift shopping? I'm glad my sense of fashion began to rub off on everyone. Remember scary Mike's music or being hungry all the time? Remember dominating basketball at the campsite? That other camp never stood a chance with Nate and Schmidt in control. The next day, we got an early start for white water rafting and met our trusted travel guide, Glenn. We'd never seen rapids like this before. Kreindler got his birthday dinner of champions, Applebee's! We got a couple of paintball games in and quickly learned that Casper is a sharp shooter. We then began our journey home all covered in paint.

Back at camp, tensions were high as Green & White was imminent. After a few good fake breaks, performers flashed LED lights at 9:45pm while everyone was in the bunks. Complete pandemonium overtook The Realm as we made our way to the Far Far Field for an incredible fire show – IT'S GREEN & WHITE! Both teams competed hard for every activity, and I couldn't be more proud of you guys. The Mighty White Legion ended up with the big win, and the Friars of 2019 came back together again as a group to enjoy last days of camp. There was only one thing left to do: TOGA PARTY.

Alex – It's hard to believe that this was only your second summer at camp. Thank you for having the willingness to try any activity no matter what. You are an incredible young man who is a quiet leader. Never stop coming back to this magical place. Use camp and keep stepping out of your comfort zone. I hope you enjoyed the late-night McDonald's.

Alexandre – My P.F. Flyers are already dirty again. You quickly changed from a quiet kid to a Friar with a loud presence among the rest of the group. Thank you for always putting a smile on my face. I hope you enjoyed your time at camp – keep coming back to make more and more memories.

Buman – BUMAN! Your goofy personality always put a smile on everybody's faces. You always tried your best at every activity and it was awesome to watch. This summer you created a close bond with everyone in the bunk, and you became a key member in the group. It is clear that you've come out of your shell and it has been a pleasure to watch.

Casper – From the moment you first arrived this summer, I could tell you'd be a great kid to have in the bunk. Your hilarious sense of humor always had us laughing. I had a blast with you on excursion – I was shocked by your fearless attitude when confronted by enormous bugs and other creatures. Thank you so much for making this an unforgettable summer, and I hope to see you back here for many years to come.

Chase – You were a pleasure to have around with your quick wits and funny, intelligent personality. Everyone in the bunk enjoyed your presence as the smartest person in the room. I see your love for The Realm, and I'm excited to see you continue to grow as a person as your years at camp continue.

Chaz – I know it can be hard to connect with a group coming into camp for the first time as a Friar, but you made it look easy. People gravitate towards you because you're so fun to be around. You fit in so well and are a great addition to this group. I'm so glad you enjoyed this summer, and I really cannot wait to watch you kill it for the rest of your camper career.

Goodman – I've had so much fun getting to know you this summer. You are an integral part of the group, and everyone feeds off of your energy. You absolutely killed it in Green & White, and I can't express how excited I am to watch you dominate for the next couple of years. The group loves you, and I hope you keep coming back for many more summers..

Griffin – Big Grif, you are one tough kid. You brought a very loud presence to the group and stole the show in our dance. I know how much the group appreciates your energy – keep it coming. The more time you spend among the trees here, the more you'll be able to embrace how special this place truly is. I can't wait to see you at Robin Hood for many more years.

Guillaume – Get out of my hammock! Just kidding, I'm so glad you made an easy transition back into camp this summer. You may be a little clumsy, but your outgoing personality truly put a smile on my face. Keep coming back and stay longer; camp is a very special place and I can see how you appreciate it. I hope one day we can solve the door mystery.

Ignacio – I've had so much fun getting to know you this summer. You not only made the group laugh with your humorous, light-hearted attitude, but you also surprised us all when you quickly bounced back from a knee injury with a backflip off the tower. You were definitely missed during the second half of the summer, and I hope to see you back in The Realm for future summers – I know you would do a great job leading Boys' Camp.

J-Rock – What is there to say about J-Rock, other than that he has one of the dopest nicknames of all time? I saw a lot of kids smile this summer but I mean it when I say that you are the only one who can smile ear-to-ear. Whatever we did, whether it was softball or 9 square, you had the biggest grin on your face and it really lifted the spirits of the whole group. Rock on J-Rock!

JT – Even though you arrived late to camp this summer, you made a smooth transition. Thank you for always cheering me up, even if it was by asking me a goofy question. I sincerely appreciate your effort in everything we did. It was sad to watch you leave early and not be here for the last few days, but I know that you made the most out of your time here – see you next summer!

Kreindler – It was hard for me to hear that you were coming late to camp this summer. Once you arrived, though, you constantly went all out for every activity, regardless of what it was. It was a pleasure to watch you compete during G&W. I admire your competitive nature, and I can't wait to watch you run The Realm one day – never stop coming back.

Lips – Lips, I'm pretty sure you could be the worst whisperer of all time. Thank you for putting a constant smile on my face. You're a very warm and caring friend that everyone in the group wants to be around. It is so clear how special this place is to you and I know you will come back for as long as you can. I'll miss our late night talks, especially on excursion. Can't wait to see you next summer.

Nate – Watching you dominate in every sport makes my day. Your high level of intensity is unmatched. I knew I could always count on you to change the pace of a period. It was sad when I heard you were coming late to camp this summer – keep making the most of your time at camp. I can't wait to watch you lead Boys' Camp someday.

Nathaniel – Even though you were only here for a couple of weeks, you made your mark on the group. You killed it during activities and your kindness in the group led you to be friends with everyone in the bunk. Keep coming back to camp – and stay longer next summer!

Oscar – Lampe de Poche! How many flashlights did you bring to camp? You made such a smooth transition to a foreign place and I can tell you got the most out of it. I looked forward to our "word of the day" in French, even though the word became redundant. You're such a goofy kid and I knew I could always turn to you for a good laugh. I hope you enjoyed your time in The Realm – see you next summer!

Pierce – Pierce Pierce Pierce, get on the benches, and yes you have to wear sneakers to gaga. You're one of the goofiest kids I know and watching you this summer was a true pleasure. Keep coming back for as long as you can. Your love for camp is so clear and I'm so glad we got closer this summer.

Remo – Your love for camp can only be matched by your height. You are a huge presence in the group and it wouldn't be the same without you. Your personality is hilarious, your skills in sports are a game-changer, and you have the ability to lift up anyone around you. Keep coming back.

Sobel – Thank you for constantly keeping me on my feet throughout the summer. I knew I could always turn to you for a quick smile. Your energy is contagious and only positively affects the group. Congrats on being voted a co-captain this year for color war. It was sad to watch you leave a few days early, but I'm sure you were busy breaking ankles on the fields. Good luck, kid. I can't wait to see you continue to grow here for many years to come.

Tamer – You are one of the kindest people I've ever met. I can see you care deeply for everyone in the group, as well as for camp itself. Watching you bond over countless card games at night was extremely fun…until nobody wanted to go to bed. Thank you for making this a very memorable summer – I can't wait to see you continue to grow here in the summers to come.

Theo – You lead the group in such an effective way. The positivity you have is infectious and it always boosts the group's morale when it is down. I'm so glad you still competed in every activity and still continued to dominate. The love you have for groupmates is unmatched and it showed the entire summer.

Thibault – I'm glad you made such a quick transition into camp. Even with a language barrier you confidently tried new activities and gave it your all. Watching you step out of your comfort zone and immerse yourself into the group was a pleasure to watch. Thank you for your continuous smile and positive energy.

I hope you continue to come back and make friends that last a lifetime.

Toby – You are one of the most experienced campers in the bunk. You are one of the leaders in the group and it showed during Green & White. Watching you during activities as you always gave your best effort the entire summer was amazing. I can't wait to see you continue to mature and lead Boys' Camp with the group in a couple of years.

Tyler – Big Man Tyler, what's up my dude?! I thought I had the best hair coming into the summer, and then you show up with the blonde flow. I could not have asked for a better summer from you. You seemed comfortable and relaxed, and you always looked forward to the next activity. Keep bringing your love for The Realm back each and every summer.

Valentin – Valentin! I've loved getting to know you this summer. Your hilarious sense of humor always lightens the mood and picks people up when they've had a rough day. You made this summer so much fun for me, and I'll surely never forget the memories we made together. I'm so glad I've gotten to watch you bond with the group this summer, and I truly hope to see you here for many more years.

William H – Coming in half way through the summer is never easy, but you owned it, my guy! It took me some time to realize how much of a beast you are on the tennis court. Keep on putting in that work and the results will come 100%.

William S – Coming late to camp can be a difficult transition for some, but you did it with ease. Watching you dominate in soccer in one of your first EA's at camp was astonishing. I admire your natural instinct to go hard and give everything you have, no matter the activity. I hope you can come back for longer next year and experience more time at camp – you belong here.

STAFF – Thank you guys for making this summer a blast. I could not imagine this summer without any of you. I feel very grateful to get closer with each of you as the summer progressed. I hope I can see you all back next summer.

FRIARS OF 2019

It was a true pleasure watching each and every one of you grow throughout the summer. You guys made me feel like a camper again and I enjoyed one of my favorite summers because of you. I hope you all keep coming back for as long as you can and continue to make memories that last a lifetime.

FORESTERS

FORESTERS, put away the Soda Stream, play Mona Lisa on repeat, and let's look back on the greatest summer of our lives.

The first week of camp was electric. You all arrived ready to dominate the summer with big smiles on your faces. Chris was terrified to find out he had you for the third year in a row, but you were all so happy. Our group got a much needed athletic boost with our new additions. Abdullah was absolutely dominant in the 15U tryouts, which gave us all far too much hope for the West End game…but we had fun! Andres arrived on the first night and won JG ball without breaking a sweat.

Remember Eli's header during World Cup… he probably doesn't. Remember Mercer's ten seconds of silence? Remember Jonas' Joggers and Andres finishing way before all of us? But Pickles made it! Remember we up to some gooooood! Remember our group's motto: "anti social and awkward"? Remember football with Scotty and Gavin being a great quarterback? Remember Nick dressing up as the bar mitzvah boy every morning for breakfast? Remember Amos holding the speaker high on the quad as we'd walk to the sounds of Star Wars?

Next came 4th of July!! The 4th was awesome – ice cream truck on repeat! After the fair at camp, we hit Cozy Corner and mini-golf where Barone/Amos were hitting their chip shots. Amos somehow un-ironically shot a 79. Grossman had four hole-in-ones in a row. We lifted Jake on the table for Sunday Sundaes and Auguste advanced from a yellow swimmer to a blue completely on his own. Remember Giesen and Dodge's elaborate improv with Ken? Remember Nick getting people off of the bench in Drama? Remember Pickles not recognizing writing as an art form and Abdullah's epic rap battle against Logan?

Remember when I came back from my day off and our group dance was a nine-minute long epic with commercials? Remember Nick demolishing the pineapple on stage and Gangnam style with loud yells? How about Pickles absolutely crushing the role of Sharpay Evans with Eli and Jake dancing that K-POP dance? Boys, our group dance was easily the best one camp saw this summer – I can't wait to see what you guys do for your Saxon dance. You all got really into it; it was the perfect blend of a great dance with your own personal quirks. Remember Auguste's "One, Two, Three SMACK!" or when the Shires challenged us to Volleyball and we won? Remember when Logan was T-Rexing around The Realm or when we found the Wizards' color war flag? Remember when Takeshi and Baumoel made "Hey Takeshi, what's the word"? Remember when we played lacrosse in the bunk or when we played staff vs camper tennis in the Barn? How about rocking our 2019 sunglasses on the beach and Takeshi getting a free lobster on the boardwalk?

Remember Robin Hood Gives Back and Abdullah going all out on the color run? Remember all the bracelets we made for Give Kids The World? Remember giving Pickles and Nick the world during activities? Remember our awesome Sunday Sundae pyramid with Baumoel on top? Remember Ice Cream Canoe…we tried! Remember Logan's special language, or Mercer returning and the group going absolutely crazy? How about Kingdom pals and Giesen beating Gavin quick? Remember our awesome campfire and Pickles, Logan, and Amos taking MVP?

Excursion came around and it was some type of lit. Billy The Bus Driver was taking care of Jonas' spill while Jake and Dodge were singing Shallow in what was easily their best performance. Remember Killian, Graham, Ollie and Pickles crushing the tree-top adventures? Remember Eli jumping for the big red yoga ball, Logan being caught in the net, and Jake screaming as he dropped to the end? Remember Amos' Pokemon instincts and meeting up with Hunter Gould at the aquarium? Remember jamming out at the Hard Rock Café and then hitting Faneuil Hall at night? We all splashed out at Urban Outfitters until everyone realized there were still three days left of excursion. Then we split up at the movie theatre. Jonas led the Lion King troop and I led the Spiderman team…I think it's fair to say we got the better end of that deal.

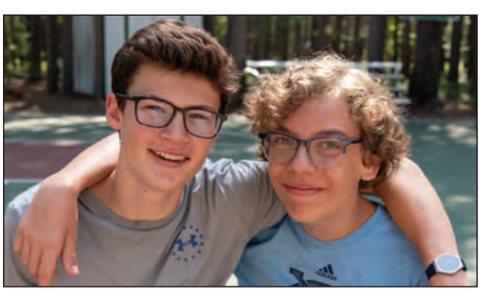

Green & White! Wake up Foresters, you all got fooled and the break was the best it's ever been. We all headed into the Barn to hear Chris Burgess get announced as Counselor Captain…we go CRAZY! Jake and Schmidt get voted Captains…Nick and Gavin Co's. You boys had your best color war ever and you did it with sportsmanship and hustle. Remember Dodge going all out in the soccer game and Killian scoring two goals? Remember how close the Green & White Volleyball game was? Remember Takeshi going all out? Remember Baumoel and Schmidt during the dance? Remember Pickles and Nick in the skit?

After Green & White, we kicked it up another notch to savor the last days of camp. Remember Mercer with the bucket of water on the lax field or Killian hitting two dingers with the tennis racket? Remember our entire group suiting up in lacrosse gear for our biggest battle ever? Remember Nathaniel dominating with the field hockey stick and Graham going beast mode, pulling out all of his tricks? Remember the Toga party and Takeshi's rock, paper, scissors battle? I knew that the last few days with you would be my last as a group leader, and I wouldn't have spent them any other way. From Nick's birthday Mount Washington to waterfront tag to Wasp Squad on the Lax Field, it was the perfect end to the summer.

FORESTERS

Abdullah – Abdullah! Robin Hoods' version of Steph Curry! The highest scorer in the house game! Abdullah, you had such a great summer. Your unique humor and charisma immediately made you a part of the group. I'm glad you've found yourself a home at camp and I look forward to seeing you next year.

Amos – I've never met a wittier 15-year old in my life. I enjoyed talking to you about all things because I genuinely always learned something (not that it was always valuable). You're a big personality in the group, and I look forward to seeing you as a Saxon before we write screenplays together in the future. Stay smart, stay safe, and can't wait to see you soon.

Andres – From the moment you stepped onto camp, you were a winner. You dominated in most, if not all, group activities and showed that Spain can conquer America. You are one of the kindest and funniest kids that I've met and I really hope to see you back on camp next summer!

Andres Tello – You're one of the kindest people I've ever met in my life. You're always looking out for the interests of others and your groupmates love you for it. Our group is so lucky to have such a gentleman in it. Keep coming back. One day you're going to make an amazing counselor.

Auguste – When you arrived at camp, you were quiet and shocked…that didn't last long as camp quickly brought out your energetic and outgoing self. You're the group's goofiest kid and you always put smiles on everyone's faces. When you left camp, the group continued talking about your hilarity and it was clear they were all excited for you to return the next summer. I'll see you in Une, Deux, Trois!

Baumoel – Can't tell you enough how proud I am of you and the summer you had. You've matured so much and have shown yourself as a real leader in this group. I wasn't surprised to see that your groupmates voted you captain – you clearly deserved it and you led them very well during the war. Keep coming back; this place is in your blood.

Dodge – Dodge, I'm so glad you decided to come to camp early and stay 'til the end. Your energy and willingness to win was unmatched in Green & White. You were hilarious the entire summer and I appreciate your consistent ability to make me and the other counselors laugh. Enjoy your school year and I can't wait to watch you dominate as a Saxon.

Eli – Thanks for being the best bunkmate in the group. Your relaxed but significant presence in the group is something everyone enjoys and appreciates. I could go on all day about all the funny jokes you've made this summer and about all the great times we've had. Keep coming back to camp and I'm sure one day you'll be a color war captain.

Gavin – Mr. Hockey Camp himself. Gavin, Dude, you are as crazy as you are awesome. You're never afraid to be a goof, and the group loves you for that. I'll never forget your incredible basketball skills or your domination the one time we played floor hockey. You've always got a smile on your face and the group's better because of it. See you in the Chi!

Graham – The vegan coffee shop worker. Graham, I unfortunately wasn't able to be your Lancer group leader. When you got to camp this summer I saw the influence you had on the group. You're a huge personality, incredibly creative, and blessed with charisma. I can't wait to see you as a Saxon leading Boys' Camp. See you next summer.

Hunter – Watching you grow up at camp has been a pleasure. Thank you so much for being the goofball that you are. You always know how to cheer up one of your groupmates when they're down and even help the staff when needed. You're funny and thoughtful and a great part of this group. I know one day you'll be a Fortnite and gaming legend, but until then, keep coming back to camp and living it up with the boys who love you so much.

Killian – Killian I'm not sure I ever saw you this summer without a smile. No matter what, you were always smiling and laughing with the boys. You had a great Green & White, whether you were dominating the games or being a great sport…your kindness had a great impact. I look forward to seeing you leading Boys' Camp next summer!

Logan – When you left on PVD the group hit a low…until you turned the car around and decided to finish out the summer. What a great decision, and we all thank you for it. You killed it during Green & White and always knew how to make your groupmates rise to the occasion. I'll see you next year hittah.

FORESTERS

Mercer – The man who made the return. I'm so happy you decided to come back to camp this summer. You're always looking out for our staff and making sure that everyone's having a good time. Your selective humor is hilarious and I'm going to miss it over the school year. Thank you for making every day at camp a memorable one and I really hope you can make it back for the full seven weeks of your Saxon summer.

Nathanial – You had an unbelievable summer. Your attitude was always positive, and you played your heart out in every activity. I'll never forget when you stepped up big in the basketball game and showed the whole group your potential. Have a great school year and I'm sure we'll see you next summer.

Nick – NICKY! Hi Nicky! Nick, thank you so much for being the giant goofball that you are. You're always down to make the group laugh and it helps keep group morale high. When you're being your goofy self, it helps the other kids break out of their comfort zones. You're hilarious, kind and an absolute beast. I'll miss you over the course of the year – can't wait to see you lead next summer.

Noah Giesen – Although you were only here for two weeks, the impact you had on our group and its summer was wonderful. You light up the group in a way that no one else can, your charisma is infectious, and you ensured everyone in the group gave their all in every activity. I hope you come back for longer next summer because this group needs you and your leadership.

Noah Grossman – To be straight up with you…you're just hilarious. You're so much fun to have in the group because you're always smiling and boosting others' energy. Even though your arm was hurt for the majority of camp, you gave it your all in every activity and didn't let it affect you. I hope you have a great school year and I look forward to seeing you as a Saxon.

Ollie – This group is perfect for you, and you are perfect for this group. You gave our group a great energy boost that was very much needed when you came in after Visiting Day. You competed very hard during Green & White and elevated the sportsmanship to an all-time high.

Reid – You're a camp person through and through. I am so happy that you got to come to camp this summer and decided to extend to be with us longer. Our group loved having you around and I hope you decide to come back next summer. Have a great year!

Schmidt – The Best Schmidt! Andrew, the way you treat people is second to none. All of your groupmates recognize the profound impact you have on their happiness every summer. You're truly an unbelievable friend and that will take you very far in life. This group needs you more than anything and I appreciate your help in making everyone's summer the best it could be. See you next year!

Sean – What an awesome three weeks. When you came to camp, the entire group dynamic changed for the better. Everyone was happy to have your athletic and kind self back in The Realm. Continue being the great and genuine person you are and I'm sure you'll go far in life. See you next summer!

Sebastian – Pickles! You've had such an evolution in the last couple years. I'm so proud of the way you carry yourself. You're always looking out for those around you and making people laugh. Although your times as Pickles on stage are in the past, you still find a way to light up our group. Keep coming back, buddy.

Takeshi – I know your first days this summer were challenging for you, but watching you turn things around for the last three weeks of camp was unbelievable. Every time I saw you, you had a big smile on your face and you were helping make everyone's day better. You're a brave, funny, and great kid and I really hope you come back again next year.

To My Staff – Thank you all so much for everything you did this summer. I wouldn't have been able to do my job without each and every one of you. The kids loved you and you helped give them the best summer of their lives. If you're ever in America, gimme a shout.

Foresters,

Thank you so much for one of the greatest summers of my life. You're all hilarious and kind, and I think it's without question that your group is stronger than it's ever been. Study hard over the year so that you can come back to camp and lead The Realm as the best Saxon group there's ever been.

Wait, what did you say? I DON'T CARE...

Picture this - it's June 23rd, 2019, and Woody just finished telling us we were getting a fridge this summer. Strap in and get ready to relive the best summer of your lives...

We took The Realm by storm from the moment we set foot on camp. Having camp to ourselves for one day, you guys set the tone by exceeding expectations. We went to Woody's cottage for pizza, and he told you his visions for the summer, including the coolest addition of all: the fridge in our bunk. We were given a lot of freedom that came with a lot of responsibility; I could tell how seriously you boys took everything Woody and I said.

On the first day of camp when everyone was arriving, you were asked to do a lot of small yet important tasks, but no one complained. You took over The Realm from that day on and, trust me, your work did not go unnoticed. Your energy, spirit, and love for each other was contagious from cheers in the dining hall to aiding for all of Boys' Camp.

Remember when we biked to Cozy Corner and everyone biked in a straight line? How about when Jesse and Santi spit bars at the waterfront while we were watching the sunset? Who could forget the quintessential TPJ/Saxon buddies and campfire? Or when Arturo and Sam ran into each other at the homerun diamond like a scene out of a movie? I won't forget when Santi repeatedly claimed that "I've never had this before…" just to get what he wanted. How about our first volleyball period where the horses were staring us down? Remember when Arturo wanted so badly to make a cheer: "What we are?!" Or when we hiked an impossible mountain with the TPJs? How about when we sang Feliz Navidad to the entire dining hall, or when we dominated the dining hall every meal, asking "Where is Girls' Camp?" Or when Arturo constantly claimed, "We don't have this in Spain!"

I hope everyone remembers when Jesse went mining. Who could forget the amazing parade and carnival we hosted for the 4th of July? Never forget our substitute GLs on my time off. Remember when there was no traffic in Wolfeboro…because I DON'T. How about when we got to see some amazing fireworks. Or when we dominated the 15U tournament with amazing scorekeeping and time keeping? I certainly won't forget when Greenie slept through rest hour, and we thought we had lost him in the mountain of laundry on his bed. Remember when the queen bee fell, and bees came storming in from nowhere surrounding us? Remember when we battled the Scribes but lost a hard-fought game of 6 v 6 volleyball? How about when we met Tyler at the sand bar, and he thought he was Aaron Rodgers? Who could forget our infamous visit to Indian Acres where we almost won the 2 v 2 sand volleyball game, dominated the 6 v 6 game, and then enjoyed a wonderful meal with some of the finest meatballs in New Hampshire? How about the 16U tournament where we played against the Giants?

Remember our night at the waterfront where we pajama-jumped and chilled watching the sunset? Who could forget Sam and Jesse's inspiring rendition of one of The Realm's most questionable traditions? Who remembers

Henry's breakdown of our dance: "4-3-2-1 or 3-2-1-4 or 1-3-2-4." How about the way we killed our dance in front of all of your parents? I can confidently say that it was worth the wait. Who remembers when pizza rolls became the constant talk of our bunk? We relied on those for life points in the bunk. Who could forget when we had to set up the color run, and we all became a part of the rainbow? DJ Woody brought the energy and made us reminisce about the camp classics in the dining hall. He brought out the best dance parties with his Robin Hood hits. I know no one can forget the second beach day we went to. I hope everyone will remember our skit night, where we started off laughing at each other and ended the night opening up to each other at a campfire. Those are some of the most special times at Robin Hood with your group, and I hope you all understand their importance.

No one will ever forget Cooper saving the Girls' Camp bathroom in another cleaning expedition. How about when we got to go mini-golfing with the Scribes and enjoyed a nice night at Flatbread? Braden edged out Caleb in our very own British Open at Pirate's Cove. Who could forget about Tickopolis and the group's exploration mission. Who could forget spilling almost everything we had for our new fridge? We really needed to contain ourselves when pouring juice, but you live and you learn. Who could forget when we returned to camp and finally utilized the new beach volleyball court. We had a killer 4 v. 4 tournament. The highlight of that night was in the semi-final when Greenie blocked Podl at the net. It was the Saxons' most athletic moment of the summer. Captain Hank Rodin could not rally the troops and lost tragically in his first two games of the tournament. The best four in the group coached by Woody were not enough for our staff team. It was a great night, and we enjoyed a sunset to cap it off. We came back to the bunk that night, and OG blessed us with his infinite sonnet on his last night at camp.

Remember when we were lucky enough to have an early trip to Ogunquit Beach along with the Foresters, Shires, and Scribes? We enjoyed a full day at the beach where we ate lunch at the boardwalk and walked through the town across the bridge.

Let us not forget how worried we all were, to say the least, about making it to the top of Mount Washington…I was so proud that everyone was able to make it up and DOWN (Except one person – haha). It is not an easy hike, and I really loved that everyone had each other's backs when hiking up. The view at the top wasn't what we'd thought it'd be, but getting to the top was so rewarding. I hope you all feel accomplished for conquering Mount Washington.

Who remembers getting to go to Peaches and enjoying a great breakfast? Who says I don't hook it up FAT? How about the dude dressed up as Boots on the boats when we went to the main lake? No one would forget when Andres locked Cooper in the van after we got Cozy with Dick.

SAXONS

We were lucky enough to go to Montreal for our excursion. We kicked off our trip by dining at one of the finest fast food restaurants: Orange Julep. We went from there to meet our wonderful tour guide, Frederic. He introduced us to the city by showing us the Notre Dame Basilica. We went from the Basilica to Jacques Cartier Square, where we walked around and explored the city. We treated ourselves to a great dinner our first night by going to Gaspar, a delicious restaurant where we were spoiled with an amazing assortment of foods. The night ended at the Ferris wheel, where we got to see an unbelievable view of the city of Montreal. We started our second day of the excursion by exploring the never-ending underground city. It was a cool experience to walk down into one part of the city and then pop out in a different part of the city. We went to a more excursion-style location next where we got to zipline over some water. Peggy really let Gavin hear it about his music taste. "Hands up. Don't move." Enough said. We enjoyed a relaxing boat tour that afternoon. After the boat tour, we went to my personal favorite part of the excursion; we visited a maple farm about an hour out of Montreal and got to learn about the traditions and legacy of maple farms. We had an amazing authentic dinner where we sang songs, tried maple syrup, and just enjoyed each other's company. We left the maple farm and ended our second night at the movie theatre where we got to see Spiderman: Far From Home. On our last day of the excursion, we got to start the day off in a perfect way driving up to the top of Montreal where we got to see a beautiful skyline. We went from the top of Montreal to where we started at the Ferris Wheel, and we rented bikes to see the rest of the city before we had to go back to camp. We all biked to a really cool clock tower and climbed 294 steps to get to the top. Then, we quickly grabbed lunch and headed back to camp having explored an amazing city and made some some great memories. How about putting Y before every word we used? Who could forget Yotes successfully making it to and from Montreal? Huge win for the group. How about our run in with Winaukee in Montreal, battling for territory?

Green & White…where to begin? I was so proud of all of you for how much you gave during the war. Seeing you all contribute so much to both of your teams was awesome. My favorite part of the war was watching you boys compete all out in every activity. It was no surprise to anyone that it was tied 4-to-4 in activities going into the last day. Watching you boys come together and cry after your last activity as a Saxon was a full circle moment for me. There I was, five years later, watching a group I can now can call my own doing the same exact thing I did with my group. I know it was sad, but you have a lot to look forward to at camp. I couldn't think of a better way to end your Green & White careers as campers.

We ended the summer by getting to visit Chuck's house, seeing an antique car store, and getting some great sandwiches from Full Belli Deli. It was a great day for all of us hanging out with Chuck. I was so happy how you boys connected with him, and I hope you understand why he is so respected. Who remembers when we swam to the ODT and back? We got to enjoy another sunset together, and I will never forget doing that with my Saxon group and passing the tradition on to you boys. You boys all gave incredible speeches, passing on a wealth of camp knowledge as well as your love for camp, and I know all of Boys' Camp took your words to heart.

Logan Alderman – You are an integral part of this group and had a great Saxon year. You seemed to really enjoy aiding, which is awesome. You are loved by so many kids around camp, and you always bring so much positivity. Just be yourself and the rest will come. Love you.

Santiago Balbontin – You are a born leader. You have a connection with everyone in the group and it shows. I appreciate how much you care about camp and I hope you understand how important people like you are to this place. Love you.

Angelo Casabianca – Where to start? You have been such an amazing kid to have shared these past summers with. You are a leader, and camp would be lucky to have you return on staff for years to come. I hope you enjoyed being able to spend almost the entire seven weeks this summer and that you have a new appreciation for what camp offers. Keep coming back and good things will come. Love you.

Arturo Fierro – It was hard to say goodbye to you early this summer. You made such an impact on everyone in the group and you were truly missed the last three weeks. You always brought a smile and a positive attitude to camp, and it was truly contagious. I hope you keep coming back and bring that energy to staff. Love you.

Jacob Greenfield – It's no wonder you've become such a big name on camp. You are hilarious and brighten up any moment with your comic relief. I was really happy to watch you grow this summer. You were an amazing aide, and I know you'll be an even better FYA. Love you.

Oliver Grynberg – It was a pleasure having you at The Realm this summer. I really enjoyed watching you grow and evolve into an incredible aide. You were missed the last three weeks of camp. I want you to know that I really appreciate your love and dedication to your group and camp. Love you.

SAXONS

Braden Kislin – It was a true honor to watch you grow this summer. You aided your groups with grace and genuine care. Your love for camp does not go unnoticed, and you are an important piece for the future of Robin Hood. You will be a great counselor and I really hope you continue your journey at The Realm. Love you.

Gavin Munnell – Even though you could only come for the last half of the summer, you still had a huge impact on this group. Your constant positivity is infectious and brings up everyone around you. You keep coming back to camp for the right reasons, and I know you'll kill it on staff. Love you.

Caleb Nadell – In the last three weeks of camp this year, you cemented yourself as a key member of the group and a part of camp as a whole. You gave your all in every activity and really didn't waste a minute. I know how much you value camp, and I hope you'll share that love with your campers next year. Love you.

Henry Rodin – You love camp as much as anyone, and it shows in the way you act. You put your full effort into everything we did this summer and took advantage of every opportunity. I know you'll be back next year, and I can't wait to see you create unforgettable memories with your kids in the years to come. Love you.

Sam Rosenthal – You are an amazing camper. Whether you are explaining Black Mirror or lending me some much-needed pizza rolls, you always bring me joy at camp. I love the way you view the world, and I hope you never change. Everyone in the group loves you and respects the role you play. Keep coming back and you will be a great addition to staff. Love you.

Jesse Schumann – You are one of the smartest and most genuine campers I have ever had. You allowed me to rely on you this summer and put a lot of responsibility on you. You always were willing to lend a helping hand. Watching the way you care about and talk with everyone in your group warmed my heart. This group wouldn't be where they are today without your love and care for everyone in it. Keep coming back to work your magic on your campers. Love you.

Tanner Slesh – I know how hard it was for you to only stay six weeks this year. Camp means so much to you, and I admire the deep bonds you share with every member of the group. The Realm needs you back on staff next year – keep coming back so you can share your love for camp with generations to come. I hope we keep in touch over the year. Love you.

Cooper Strauss – You are one of the funniest kids I have ever met. I'm so happy you were able to be here the full summer. You are vital to this group, and camp wouldn't be the same without you. I know you'll have a huge impact on your campers in your coming years on staff. I can't wait to see you kill it in this next chapter. Love you.

Andres Urmeneta – You came for the last three weeks, but it feels like you were here all summer. We made some more great memories this summer. You are a clear leader within the group, and I know you'll harness your leadership to become an incredible counselor next year. I hope you'll continue to come back for years to come. Camp needs you. Love you.

To my Saxon staff – Without you, it would not have been possible to give these incredible young men the best summer of their lives. You are all unique and were able to bring a special sense of energy that was well-suited for this group. I hope you all enjoyed camp and can see why people choose to return for so many years. I hope we stay in touch and wish you all the best in your future endeavors.

I love you boys.

To my boys...

The Saxons of 2019 -

I love you all from Montreal to the waterfront and back. You all are so special to me and no amount of words can express how much I loved this summer, and getting to spend over two years of my staff experience with you. I feel like I was a Saxon of 2019, and no amount of thanks can explain what you gave me this past summer. Keep coming back to camp – I know it sounds cliché, but camp needs you guys. You are the next generation of counselors who can pass on the wealth of knowledge you have of camp, and your love for each other will be contagious. I love you all so much.

GIRL SCOUT COOKIES

Come and read your yearbook! Sit down, turn up the Duck Song, and get ready to relive the best summer of our lives!

Remember when River wasn't singing Mamma Mia, when Logan wasn't impressing everybody with her Mandarin, when Arletta wasn't repping Robin Hood, when Rachel wasn't having fun getting messy, when Arianna wasn't doing gymnastics, when Tessa wasn't giving hugs, when Jorja wasn't thriving on stage, when Ellis wasn't smiling, when Kyra wasn't doing her impressions, when Sloane wasn't loving horses, when Maria wasn't giggling, when Nellie wasn't making people laugh, when Sidney wasn't playing tetherball, when Phoebe wasn't introducing us to all her cool family members, when Savy wasn't being silly, when Charlotte wasn't winning gaga, when Mini Sloane didn't have a nickname for somebody else, and when Chloe wasn't looking for her shoes – WE DON'T!!!

Remember opening day? Maria was the first Scout to arrive in The Realm, and she helped us greet the rest of you in the Bluff bunk – your summer home! 15 strong, from four countries and ten states, the first Scout group in the history of Camp Robin Hood was ready to make its mark on The Realm. On the first night, we played a game of get to know you Spud to learn more about each other. Even on night one, it was clear that the random strangers we all started out as were quickly becoming best friends and sisters.

Remember our hike up Rattlesnake Mountain with the Tumblers and Scribes? Even through the rain, we braved it up and made it to the top where we were treated to the coolest view ever! After hiking, we got to explore the nature center. There were so many cute rescued animals and that playground at the end was so much fun. Of course, on the way back to camp, we made a well-deserved pitstop at Cozy Corner that you all were looking forward to so much. To make it even better, this all was on Maria's 7th birthday, so we got cake after dinner back at camp!

Remember the Mainers' game? You guys must have eaten up all the candy in the state of Maine! The day after we got to celebrate Logan's 8th birthday at camp with some more delicious cake and some of her favorite activities. Remember the Junior Camp Talent show? Mini Sloane, Savvy, and Arianna were stars of the show! Everybody was so impressed by how talented you are.

Remember our first few evening activities? We had so much fun PJubing, doing the backwards scavenger hunt, creating lip syncs, laughing through paper bag skits, playing Hunger Games and Infection, and so many other fun things!

Remember the Fourth of July? All morning, we competed in the Challenge Cup before decorating our beautiful banner and proudly showing it off while marching in the camp-wide parade. After lunch, we attended the amazing carnival hosted by the awesome Saxons and Scribes. Remember decorating cookie cakes, going to the ice cream truck, sliding down the waterslide, playing all the games, and dunking your counselors?! The day got even better when we went to a rocking beach party at the lake before eating our hearts out with carnival food at the Fourth of July dinner.

Remember the Outpost? We had some delicious chicken fajitas and homemade nachos before getting to our favorite food – the s'mores and my world famous s'mores quesadillas! You also made the funniest skits that caused the counselors to laugh out loud! Camping out in tents was so much fun that you all woke up at 5 am to hang out some more!

Remember Beach Day? Although it was a little cloudy, we still slathered on the sunscreen and had the best day at the beach. You braved the cold water to play in it all day and refueled on a whole lot of ice cream and candy! We made it back to camp to refresh at the wonderful Scout Spa. Speaking of the Spa, do you remember all of the rest hour activities you thought of? We had the hair salon, the spa, the store, the babysitting clinic, the doctor's office, and so many more! You are so creative!

Remember Robin Hood Gives Back Day? We worked so hard on the bracelets that we made for the children in the Give Kids the World Village. Pam inspired us when she spoke to us all about the village and the children there. We finished up the day with a super fun color run followed by a much-needed dip in the lake. What a great day of giving back and remembering how lucky we all are to go to camp here!

Remember So You Think You Can Dance? We put so much time and effort into our Greatest Showman mash-up and practiced so many times before getting the chance to show it to the whole camp! We were so proud of how well you guys did and how much everybody in camp loved it!

Remember excursion? Straight from camp we headed to Storyland! The rides there were so much fun. Remember how excited I was for the Rap-Tour Safari and it wound up just being plastic dinosaurs!!! Rap rap rap rap rap rap rap tour! Remember the Roar-o-Saurus? That was wild. Of course the day wouldn't have been complete without various kinds of ice cream. From dippin dots to slushies, Storyland had it all. After Storyland, we headed to the campsite to set up tents and make dinner. Remember the garlic bread and yummy chip appetizers before ravioli for dinner? After dinner, we saw Toy Story 4, although it was a little creepier than we all wanted it to be. Those dolls in the store were crazy! After the movie, we finished the day with S'mores and Oreos-S'moreos! After a great sleep in the tents, we woke up and headed to Whale's Tale where we went on all the water slides, relaxed in the Lazy River, and rode the wave pool waves. We also couldn't forget the crazy amount of candy that you guys bought from there. After Whale's Tale, we returned to camp.

SCOUTS

Right before Parents' Visiting Day, we had a Scout/Tumbler/Jester mini Green & White to get a taste of the real thing! We competed in Gaga and Newcomb, came up with cheers, and even had a spelling bee. Congrats to the White Spies who took the win over the Green Geniuses!

Soon after, the Parents' Visiting Day talent show arrived and we did another performance of our Greatest Showman Mash-up for them followed by some yummy and cooling ices. The next day was the hottest day of the summer, but we had so much fun showing your parents around camp. Remember the last night before the 4-weekers left? We made the most of our time by having a pajama jump in the lake followed by Snapple caps and then finally M&M pizza! We were so sad to say goodbye to our 4 weekers but super excited to welcome Chloe and Arletta to the group for the last 3 weeks of the summer.

Remember the week after PVD? All of the senior camp groups were on excursion so we got The Realm and all of our favorite activities to ourselves! Remember climbing Green Mountain? I was so impressed when so many of you went on this optional hike with me and it was so fun to see the beautiful view at the top of the fire tower.

Remember the excitement before Green & White? It was so fun to make predictions about when it would break…Remember our Scout fake break with the TPJs and Chuck? A bunch of people really fell for it – great job, guys! Remember Founder's Night? Almost everybody got their one year water bottles! It was so cool that Meredith Friedman was able to come and share her wisdom and memories with us. After Founder's Night, we came back to the bunk and went to bed until…BOOM!!! Green & White broke! We followed the circus dancers with lights all the way to the Far Far Field where we watched a spectacular fire show. After, we followed masked judges to the barn for the official beginning of Green & White.

The bean pick put Captain Tessa Hoglund and Co-captain Sidney Perrino on the Great Green Rage with Captain Rachel Dix and Co-Captain River Boren on the Mighty White Legion. I was so impressed with how hard everybody competed during Green & White and loved everybody's sportsmanship. Although the White Legion came out on top, what was most important was that all the Scouts came together as a family afterwards to appreciate the final days of camp.

Remember our trip out of camp to have a pizza picnic on the North Conway Green followed by ice cream at Ben and Jerry's? What about when we took the pontoon to the marina and got so much candy? Remember our last few evening activities? We watched Camp Rock in the cottage, we did human sundaes with the Jesters, and we ended with more Cozy Corner and our time capsule.

Overall, this has been the best summer of my life because of you all, and I hope it was the same for you! Keep in touch with each other, and I can't wait to see you continue to have more and more amazing times at Robin Hood.

River Boren – Your smile is infectious! Everytime you step into a room, everybody's day gets brighter – no wonder all of camp loved you! You always make sure that everybody around you is happy, whether it's friends, counselors, or your sister. I can't wait to come back and watch you grow up here!

Logan Bradley – You always try your hardest with a smile on your face every day and that is so awesome! It was so cool to see you become a green swimmer right before you left. You are such an important part of the group and I know you'll do great things at camp!

Arletta Curran – As soon as you stepped on camp, you jumped right into the group and fit in immediately. In your two weeks here, you made so many good friends and had an awesome color war where you really shined. Keep coming back and keep appreciating every minute at this special place.

Rachel Dix – As a second year camper, you were a natural leader of the group. Your camp knowledge helped everybody get adjusted to camp quickly. You make everything so fun and I love watching you interact with your friends. Keep coming back and loving this place more and more!

Arianna Haber – You were always so smiley and truly took advantage of every second at camp. You had fun at every activity and made a lot of friends. I can't wait to watch you grow up here at camp and be here for years to come.

Tessa Hoglund – It's hard to believe that this was only your first summer as a camper! From the start, you were such an important part of this group. You know how to make everybody around you feel so loved and are always nice to everybody. Camp is such a special place for your family – and now you're going to continue the legacy.

Jorja Holdridge – Dancing queen! Not only are you a star on the stage, but you're also an amazing camper and friend all the time! You were always so kind and helpful to all your friends and counselors. You made so many great friends already in this group and I can't wait to see how special this place becomes to you.

Ellis Holzman – My Boca neighbor! You instantly made your mark on the group and camp and had so much fun here. You always gave it your all, whether it was at gymnastics or just having fun with friends. I can't wait to watch you grow up at camp and have it become your home!

Maria Ivanenko – Cat Cat! You have so much energy and it keeps everybody around you smiling! You are so loving and happy which makes everybody around you feel better. You're so lucky that you get to share this place with your sister for years and years.

Kyra Jelin – I love how you found such a special and unique place in the group. You always know how to make people laugh and make everything so fun. Thanks for always giving it your all. Take advantage of sharing camp with so many family members – that is so special!

Sloane Kern – Sloaney! I miss your adorable go-to beaver face. You are so funny and such a core part of this group. Everybody loves hanging out with you because you're so caring and fun! I know you're going to have camp as your special place for years to come.

Nellie Oliver – Since day one, you rocked The Realm! Your bubbly personality and amazing dance moves are a hit amongst all. Your previous camp experience was so helpful with all of the new campers and everybody loved your positivity. Keep doing you because you're so incredible and camp loves you!

SCOUTS

Sidney Perrino – Your passion and energy adds a fun spunk to the group. I was so proud to watch you improve your swimming skills until you even jumped off the tower and had a blast tubing! Your family tradition at camp is so special, and I hope that you continue to cherish it throughout your time here.

Phoebe Plouffe – It is awesome how special camp is to you. It's so cool that your sister and so many of your cousins are here with you. It's clear to see how much you love camp and how much camp loves you. I already know that you will have such a big impact on camp as you get older!

Savannah Schliemann – Savy! You are so energetic and know how to make everything fun and silly. You play such an important role in this group and I can't wait to come back and watch you grow up here at camp.

Charlotte Spear – We were so excited that you loved camp so much to stay all seven weeks! Since the start, you thrived at camp. You always try your hardest no matter what activity we're at, and you always have a smile on your face! I love how special this camp is to you and your sisters, so keep appreciating the time you have here together!

Sloane Susman – Mini Sloane! Your personality lights up the room whenever you walk in and everybody is drawn towards you. You're a perfect blend of silly and caring and I know you're going to keep making a big impression on camp, so keep coming back!

Chloe Yonkeu – Even though your time here was short, you made the most of every minute. I love how happy you always are and how much you look out for everybody in the group. Enjoy sharing this special place with your sisters for years to come!

First Ever Scout Staff – The best people I know!!! We worked so well together and I am so grateful for your hard work and dedication all summer. You all are incredible, and I can't wait to watch you thrive as counselors next year. I love you!

To the Scouts

(Scribes of 2027 and 2028): Thank you all for just being you!! My best advice to you is to appreciate all of the time you have left in camp – time goes fast and there's so much to appreciate. Your camp friends will become your best friends in the world and they will be there for you forever. Jump in the lake whenever you can, dance as hard as you can in the dining hall, and try your best in every activity. I can't wait to come back every year and watch you grow up and find your place here at Robin Hood.

I love you all so much!

TUMBLERS

HEEEEEY TUMBERINA!

Put down your rainbow looms and squishys, blast some Hamilton, dance to "You're The One That I Want," and let's look back on the greatest summer ever!

Remember when Lucy L wasn't finding four leaf clovers, Natalie wasn't dancing, Annie wasn't fixing our hair, Layla wasn't being theatrical and Mila wasn't running (shoutout to Jonas' Joggers)? Remember when Lou wasn't talking about porcupines, Livy didn't have a question, Lucy F wasn't trying to break her dad's record, Sloane wasn't singing and Lila R wasn't laughing? Remember when Dylan wasn't doing handstands, Maddy wasn't going all out in soccer, Lexi wasn't brushing her hair, Josie wasn't cracking jokes and Nathalie wasn't smiling? Remember when Sammy wasn't on stage, Lyla wasn't giving out hugs, Caroline wasn't friends with everyone and Allie wasn't wearing homemade Robin Hood merch? Remember when Izzy wasn't in Scurran's area, Maddie wasn't on top of things, Scurran wasn't braiding hair, Rosie wasn't going hard at every sport, Steph wasn't covered in paint and Sophie knew the lyrics to Hamilton? WE DON'T!!!

Remember opening day? We sang welcome to Tumbie Town as the buses pulled in and gave our first hugs of the summer to our 19 new friends. You entered our home for the summer and found your areas all decked out and filled with (maybe too many) trinkets, toys, and sequined pillows. We played Mafia in the Adirondack chairs, with Layla telling a quite dramatic, yet hilarious story. Soon after all our friends arrived you got to take a tour around camp with the infamous Izzy Weitzen. Our first evening activity was the perfect start to our summer. We got to know each other by putting fun facts about ourselves in balloons and popping them, trying to figure out whom each fun fact belonged to! And, of course, we had to finish it off with S'MORES. As you all walked up from the ODT, some hand in hand, I thought to myself how quickly the friendships were forming, and those bonds continued to grow over the summer as you became summer sisters and best friends.

Remember when we went to the Mainers' game? We ate so much sugar and got to cheer on our local team. We may not have followed what happened in the actual game, but we definitely had a good time with great food!!

Remember when we all hiked Rattlesnake together? When Lexi, Dylan and Allie decided to carry rocks to the top and then brought them back to camp? Sorry Izzy, the rocks are here to stay. We went to the nature reserve and saw animals we hadn't even heard of before and played on the playground. We had our first of many trips to Cozy – didn't I tell you it was the best ice cream in the world?!

How great was the junior camp talent show? Sammy, Sloane, Lexi, Dylan, Layla and Lyla all put their heart into their performances and the rest of the Tumbies couldn't have been more proud to see our friends up on the stage.

Remember the 4th of July? How we were the most dressed up group in camp? We marched in the parade with our homemade banner, and afterwards we went to the Scraxon fair. You all dunked your counselors with water, went down the huge slip and slide, and ate a lot of ice cream. How good was the 4th of July dinner? Fried dough, corn dogs and watermelon…YUM!!!

We had many theme days this summer and started out with "becoming" TPJs. That day some interesting personalities emerged, like Kyle and Xander. Rainbow Day proved that we truly are the most colorful group in camp, and later on in the summer we were for sure the most crazily dressed up group for Brittany Snow Day!

Remember Beach Day? How it was always 20 minutes away? We sang and cheered the whooole way there! Remember Bob and Felicia, the sea monsters? We all went in the ocean (so proud!) and went up to the boardwalk together. You guys must have eaten all the ice cream in the state of Maine that day!!!

Remember excursion? We packed our bathing suits and softball mitts and headed to Storyland the first day. Remember when everyone rode the Roarasaurus roller coaster except Maddie and Scurran? I was so proud of you for stepping out of your comfort zones. We ate ice cream and and went on all the fun rides. Afterwards, we set up our tents (thank you Rosie!) and ate a delicious meal before we headed out again to watch Toy Story 4. We left the movie theater quite emotional (Gabby Gabby we forgive you). Remember trying s`moreoreos for the first time back at the campsite? We smushed together in the tents and woke up next morning to the smell of apple pies and baked brie. I tricked you guys into thinking we were going to a softball play date with another camp, but instead we pulled into Whales Tale Waterpark! With our bathing suits on, we were ready to go on every single slide. I swear the Lazy River is the best one!! After eating an absurd amount of candy, it felt right to head back home to Bunk 10.

Remember that time when we told you to put on Robin Hoods because we had to retake our yearbook picture? You guys realized something was funky when the photographer wasn't at the waterfront. But you still looked pretty surprised when we took you to Cozy!

The 4-week point came out of nowhere and suddenly it was PVD. We did our dance again in front of your parents and got great reviews! Despite the brutally hot weather, we had a wonderful day and were so excited to meet all of your parents. Remember when we did snapple caps and then surprised you with M&M pizza – a great Girls' Camp tradition. We were sad to say goodbye to Livy, Sloane, Lucy and Lou, but happily welcomed Nathalie into the Tumbie family.

TUMBLERS

Remember Julie Chuck Pasta? Thank you for the (food) baby shower gifts! Remember when we all moved to one side and made the other side the lounge? It might not have been the neatest lounge, but it sure felt like home. How about our dog show? Your counselors have never laughed harder. Or our human Sundaes evening activity where we got to jump in the lake after! I think there's still chocolate sauce in my ear!!!

Remember being really confused when Green & White DIDN'T break during Founder's Night? All of our predictions were wrong, as it broke during the staff meeting, and no one was more surprised than your staff! You ran outside and found circus performers guiding you to the Far Far Field for a fire performance that had all of us dropping our jaws. Judges with masks came out and guided us to the Barn where they announced the 6 captains that were going to lead us through color war. The next morning we woke up bright and early to pick the Tumbler captains and COs – Maddy and Dylan for the Green Rage and Allie and Lexi for White Legion! It was a well-fought war on both sides, and I know those 5 days of intensity were challenging, but you all handled them with such maturity. I am beyond proud of all your good sportsmanship and how whenever someone fell down – no matter what team they were on – the rest of you were there to pick them up. You were always prepared: knowing the songs perfectly, keeping the bunk clean for inspection, and being the first to song practice. That's true Green & White spirit!

When Green & White was over, we got to enjoy the last few days of camp as one. Remember having a candy party in the rink and stargazing? We talked about the stars and the universe and how lucky we are to be able to come to camp. Remember going on a sunset pontoon to the sandbar and eating cookies? We then went to Cozy one last time for my and Izzy's birthday!

Remember our last moments in The Realm? We made the most of our activities and soaked up as much as we could of the beauty that is camp. We ate our last meal of the summer together before heading up to Awards Night and sang the goodnight song for the last time of summer 2019. It won't be long until we're all back together singing camp songs and having so much fun again!

Allie – You are such a special little girl. You bring so much to the group: a bit of craziness and lots of laughter; but most importantly kindness. Can't wait to see you grow up in The Realm and be an incredible Scribe.

Annie – I was so impressed with how easily you made friends this summer and just as impressed when I saw you swimming for the first time! Thanks for being so willing to throw yourself into the camp experience. Once you do that, I keeps getting better and better.

Caroline – I loved watching you come out of your shell this summer and letting your inner camp weirdness shine. You are friends with everyone and I admire how kind you are and how you're always up for anything fun. I can already tell how much impact you will have on the group in summers to come.

Dylan – As the designated snuggle bug of the group, you are always there to help all your friends. You are positive about absolutely everything, even if it's not your favorite thing. The Realm would not be the same without your bright smile and cozy hugs.

Josie – I don't think I can explain how much you've matured and grown this summer. It was clear from the beginning how funny you are and I think the whole Realm knows that too now! Thank you for always being positive and willing to try anything.

Layla – Your spirit is infectious. You came into camp so excited and that enthusiasm only continued to grow. Thanks for being a great storyteller and sharing your song with us – it's still stuck in our heads!

Lexi – Your constant energy and craziness always makes the group happier. You are so important to camp and your warm spirit helped all the girls in the group go from friends to sisters.

Lila R – You are so mature for such a young girl and this group needs your fun energy and sweet personality. It's easy to see how much you care about everyone in the group and how quickly you made everlasting bonds with your new friends.

Livy – You were always positive and constantly had a smile on your face, even if it was a confused one. You have such a happy-go-lucky personality and I can't wait for The Realm to see more of you! Keep coming back.

Lou – I could not be more proud of the change of heart you had this summer. You opened up to the group and I'm so glad we all got to experience your quirky and fun personality. Thanks for the German lessons!

Lucy F – You came into camp already knowing a lot from your father, but the way you embraced The Realm amazes me. Your personality screams camp and I can't wait for you to experience seven weeks next year!

Lucy L – We were so lucky to have you (literally!) Your sweet and considerate personality is made for camp, and the group wouldn't be the same without our little leprechaun.

Lyla – YYou were one of the first girls I met this summer and I remember thinking how incredibly sweet and friendly you were. So loving and kind, a hug from you would instantly put a smile on anyone's face. Remember to have faith in yourself and with that I promise you can do anything!

Maddy – I admire how you always go all out in activities and how you put so much passion in everything you do. Thank you for taking such good care of my teddy bear in the beginning of the summer, I know Bamse loves you. Keep coming back. Your love for camp shines through.

Mila – You are constantly positive, always willing to try anything with a big smile on your face. You were always checking in on your friends and would always be the first person to ask "Are you okay?" Keep coming back. The Realm needs people like you!

Natalie – From the moment you jumped into our dance circle, I knew you had embraced camp. Your constant smile is contagious and everyone in the group was instantly drawn to you.

Nathalie – Even though you came at four weeks, you fit perfectly into the group. You are so carefree and always the first one to be ready which your counselors appreciate! Keep coming back. I promise there is magic in these trees.

Sammy – It's evident how well you get camp. You could run this place with your eyes closed and you have such an important role in this group. Remember that it's OK to break a rule now and again. Don't stop doing you!

Sloane – You are the definition of a ray of sunshine. You want and will always do what's best for everyone, putting your own interests after others. I can't wait to see you back next summer and, when you're ready, staying a full session.

TUMBLERS

STAFF Scurran, Rosie, Izzy, Maddie and Steph –
I'M OBSESSED WITH ALL OF YOU. This is cliche, but I truly could not have managed this summer without you. As someone put it, we are a very eclectic and eccentric staff and I wouldn't have had it any other way. Thank you for always giving 110% and for giving the kids their best summer. Thank you for always laughing with me when I tried to dance or when I pretended to know the lyrics to any song. You all became my close friends, and I know we'll be friends for life.

TUMBLERS 2019 -

I had no idea coming into this summer how much I could genuinely love and care for a group other than my own. You are all so quirky and unique in the best ways possible, and I am so jealous you have so many camper summers ahead of you. Keep coming back and I promise you will be one of the most special and amazing Scribe groups to come through The Realm! Thank you from the bottom of my heart for making this summer so amazing. Every single hug and kiss on the cheek made my summer. Keep practicing your Norwegian and singing G&W songs, and before you know it, we will all be together again.

Jeg elsker deg.

JEST NEST... TWEET TWEET! OMIGOD YOU GUYS!

Stop getting so excited for the toothbrush song and texting in your group chat! Put on your fuzzy pajamas and get ready to relive the best summer of our lives!

Remember when Esme wasn't struggling to whisper, Eliana wasn't being the coolest, Collier wasn't in the sleeping bag, Ratner wasn't asking for her candy, Brooke wasn't wearing oversized clothes, Marissa wasn't asking for pitcher, Skye wasn't killing it, Chibnik wasn't crushing it on the tennis courts, Julia wasn't reading, Carly wasn't crying happy tears at Cozy, Adelaide wasn't loving The Beatles, Sadie wasn't being sassy, Sophie wasn't fixing the Wubble Bubble, Zoe wasn't smiling, Evvy wasn't being the sweetest, London wasn't hugging, Caroline D. wasn't crunching on ice, Jessie wasn't killing it at everything, Alexandra wasn't screaming about bugs, Liv wasn't loving the stables, Lila S. wasn't being a fashionista, Marni wasn't being a star, Emery wasn't using her Polaroid, Addison wasn't happy, Ashley wasn't caring about others…WE DON'T!

Remember the first day of camp? You all had been waiting all year to get back to the best place on earth – back to the magic in the trees, to dining hall dance parties, and to countless tower jumps! The Cleveland and New York buses pulled in and camp officially started. We played get to know you games and chased balloons on the tennis courts. All the balloons just kept popping! We had our first circle time, and the summer of fun began. The next day we woke up and camp was in full swing. You all successfully swam your laps and got your colors. And of course, we learned the new waterfront chant!

Just a couple days after camp began, we journeyed to Rattlesnake Mountain. We quickly climbed to the top and enjoyed lunch with a gorgeous view. Next we went to the Nature Center. I couldn't peel you away from the animals, but I think you all were more excited about the pink stickers. The trip ended with our first trip to COZY! It was a little emotional for Carly, but the ice cream was so good.

Remember our trip to the Outpost? The night started out fun with fajitas, Family Feud, and Make Your Counselors Laugh. You all got in your tents and began to fall asleep. Just before the storm hit, we were rescued by Brendon. We stayed up together until the storm passed and then you all fell asleep soundly in your beds. ALWAYS REMEMBER THAT WE SURVIVED THE OUTPOST!

Remember the 4th of July? We had a blast. Everyone woke up and immediately got decked out in red, white, and blue! We participated in the parade with our amazing sign and then watched the Homerun Derby. We spent our time on the quad decorating cookie cake (we definitely had the best design), getting our fortunes told, getting married, and eating lots of junk food. We can't forget the moment when Chuck went down the big waterslide!! The day concluded with the classic 4th of July dinner – corndogs, fried dough, and juicy watermelon!

Remember when we went to the Mainers' game? Not only did we get to watch some baseball, but you consumed more junk food than I thought was possible and were in sugar comas the whole drive back!

Remember the junior camp talent show? You have so much talent. Liv sang a spectacular original song, and Sadie and Eliana danced, leaving the whole audience speechless.

Omigod you guys! Remember when we had the best dance ever created for So You Think You Can Dance?! From our massive pink bows to our all-pink outfits, we lit up the stage like no other. We watched a movie to get us performance ready. We all put in so much effort and it showed in the final performance – your spunk and energy were reflected in the dance and I wouldn't have changed a single thing about it!

Remember Beach Day? We sang the whole bus ride to Ogunquit. We played in the freezing cold water and stuffed our faces with so much food. We couldn't pull you away from the ocean and the boardwalk because you were having so much fun.

Remember Robin Hood Gives Back Day? When you made the prettiest bead bracelets for children in need? You all made masterpieces from the multicolored beads you were given. Then we listened to the speaker, Pam, talk about Give Kids the World Village. The day concluded with the color run, which led us to the waterfront for a beach party!

Remember when we went on excursion? We started off at Storyland. We could barely peel you away from the singing vegetables or the Roar-o-saurus. Everyone filled up on Dippin' Dots, ice cream, and of course candy! We headed to the campsite and put up our tents before eating a yummy dinner. Toy Story 4 was next. Forky was so cute, but let's not talk about the evil dolls. The movie night was followed by s'mores back at the campsite. We actually made it through the whole night in tents and woke up to a breakfast of cereal, Oreos, apple pie, and baked brie. We put on bathing suits and headed to Whale's Tale and spent a ton of time in the wave pool and on the toilet bowl. The rain brought us back to camp a little early, but we had the BEST time!

Remember when all of your parents came to camp for PVD? They watched you smash it on stage in your pink outfits. The next day was extremely hot, but we still spent the day playing basketball, gaga, swimming in the lake, dancing, and of course eating PVD cookies. We finished the day with a Camper Hunt. I tried to pretend you all were in trouble before surprising you with M&M pizza, but none of you fell for it.

JESTERS

Remember the Challenge Cup? When Marni and Lila scored the winning goal in World Cup soccer to beat the Squires?! We did some lipsyncs with the Squires, Lancers, and Bards and played Danish and gaga with the Bows. Remember Franklin? He was an honorary Jester. Remember my response to every question? I don't know, man!

Remember the Wubble Bubble and how you were all obsessed with it? It kept getting holes in it, but thankfully we patched them with band aids. The Wubble was short-lived and ripped after two days, but it was a highlight of everyone's summer. Remember when you would all push the counselors off of the floats at senior waterfront? We had to cancel Carly Zolot. We had so many arguments about whether it was "remote" or "clicker." Everyone said clicker, but Paige voted remote.

Remember our trip to the Marina? We all got in our canoes and had no problem paddling there. We got some candy and hung out with Henry, but on the way back, the wind picked up and we could barely paddle back. I saw a spider as big as Esme's hand in my canoe. Marni, Carly, Esme, Sadie, Dana and I made it back, but everyone else was rescued. The speedboats came and saved the day! They picked everyone up and brought us back to camp safe and sound.

Remember when Green & White broke? I told you guys it wouldn't break while the Scribes were on duty, but I was so wrong! Sail by AWOLNATION started playing on the PA system, and there were circus performers with LED lights guiding us to the Far Far Field. We watched a jaw dropping fire show before the six captains were announced. We fought for 5 long days on the Mighty White Legion and the Great Green Rage. You kept the intensity and competition going for the entire war, but never forgot that we are all Jesters and love each other no matter what! Although White won the war, we all still had so much fun! We spent Lazy Day eating Dunkin' Donuts and being a happily united group again.

Remember one of the last days of camp, which we all agreed was probably the most stacked day of the summer? The day started with early morning gaga and Dunkin'. After lunch was GL swap – you had a great time with Zubi, and he even gave you candy canteen! We spent dinner with the Bows, eating Pizza Barn (with M&M's of course) at the waterfront. Your favorite EA, human sundaes, was next…You were all drenched head to toe in ice cream and whipped cream. There were sprinkles EVERYWHERE! We did some slip sliding and washed all the ice cream off of us. We finished this crazy day with ice cream and stargazing in the rink. It was the perfect camp day.

Addison – I'm so happy that the Jesters got another LA girl – we West Coast girls need to stick together! I loved hanging out with you and watching you be yourself all summer. Your energy was infectious and you were a great addition to the group.

Adelaide – My sweet girl! You've got the sassiest, best dance moves and an amazing personality. I loved watching you grow this summer and seeing that you have a quiet side, but also a wild, loud girl side. I will forever miss our awkward, nightly bunk bed hugs.

Alexandra – We are so happy that you came to camp this summer and joined the Jesters. Your energy added so much to the group. Keep coming back because camp needs more people like you! I hope that you continue to do everything with a smile on your face.

Ashley – You had a smile on your face for everything you did. You impressed me with your caring nature and your willingness to help others. It was great to see you jump right into the group and make friends. It takes a special person to have that skill. Keep coming back!

Brookie – Cookie, my dancing queen. Even though you are a year younger than everyone, you surprised me with your maturity all summer. I loved every second I got to spend with you. You are so sweet and caring. Your love for camp and everyone in this group is so evident and makes me so happy!

Carly – Carlish, I am so so lucky that I got to spend the summer watching you grow. You are caring, fun, and such a good friend. People gravitate towards you because of your kindness. You understand camp and your love for this place is already evident. I can't wait to watch your love for camp grow.

Caroline D – You have such a special place in this group. You have been inclusive with the group which is greatly appreciated. You came up with great nicknames. I love watching you get intense in all of our activities.

Chib – You always know how to put a smile on everyone's face. I love how you are always first to the bathroom for toothbrush song! You always have Green & White intensity during every activity. You silently lead the group and are looked up to by all of your peers.

Collier – I can always count on you to put a smile on my face. Your laugh and little smile could always cheer me up. You are consistently very inclusive and love everything about camp. You are one big bundle of energy and folding powers! Keep coming back because camp needs people like you!

JESTERS

Eliana – You are such a cool and mature individual. You know how to brighten anyone's mood and make anyone laugh with your witty personality. You can light up a room right when you walk in. I wish we got you for the whole summer, but I know that you will be back for many more. Thanks for making me laugh on the daily.

Emery – I never knew where your area stopped and Jordan's started. You were so fun to be around and kept a smile on your face. I loved watching you participate in activities. You have an adventurous personality and mindset.

Esme – Your positive spirit was a highlight of my summer. Your energy is infectious and you had me on my toes all summer. Whether you were loving pink and unicorns or screaming about bugs, I could tell that you are a passionate person. I hope that your love for camp only grows over the next few years.

Ev – I am so, so happy that you came to camp last year. Seeing you in LA and talking camp makes me so happy. Camp needs more people like you that care about the little things. You're so special and a joy to be around. Can't wait to hang out at home and get some sushi!

Jessie – You killed it during Green & White and the rest of the summer in general. Your kind and caring nature was a pleasure to watch and I loved seeing you easily fall right back into your place in the group, even though, you came in the middle. Keep loving camp!

Julia – The queen of books. I can't believe how much you read this summer. I am so happy that you came to camp this summer. Your positive and chill personality was a great addition to the group. I loved hanging out and laughing with you.

Lila – Your kindness and positivity brought so much life to the group. You never complained and always did everything with a smile. You amazed everyone with your Rubix Cube skills. There wasn't one you couldn't solve.

Liv – Your passion and love for horseback riding was so amazing and I loved seeing the smile on your face when you talked about riding. I enjoyed seeing you get into activities. You were a little ball of energy and smiles. You killed it all summer!

London – I'm so happy you joined this group! I loved watching you interact with people in the group and make new friends. I am proud of you for stepping out of your comfort zone this summer. You were a great camper and so fun to be around!

Marissa – I've never seen someone receive or write more letters. You are such a sweet girl. I loved doing your hair and laughing with you everyday. It is clear to everyone that you care about everything you do and what others do for you.

Marni – You are amazing! Your enthusiasm and positive nature had a big impact on the attitude of the rest of the group. You are such a natural leader and I appreciate your flexibility and trust more than you know. Watching you this summer has made me so proud. I can tell how much you care about camp – please always remember that camp is your place to escape to and just be carefree.

Ratner – You're a little ball of energy. Our nightly talks made me so happy and our morning hangs always brightened my day. You approach everything about camp with joy. I feel reassured knowing that camp will be in good hands when you are leading The Realm in a few years. Keep appreciating the little things about camp.

Sades – I love dancing with you in the dining hall and our endless laughs all over camp. With everything you do, your fun personality never fails to bring a smile to our faces. You understand camp, which is the most special thing to see. Never lose this love for camp and your friends.

Skye – My little gymnast. I loved getting to know you. You are so mature and impressed us all with your athleticism. I wish you got to stay longer, so I could see you kill it at everything you do for more time. I can't wait to watch that continue to happen in the future!

Sophie – You put so much effort into every activity that you did. You always had so much energy. Although I could rarely see the floor in your area, I loved every second I spent with you this summer. Keep being yourself!

Zoe – I loved spending time with you this summer. Your smile was contagious. You came into the group a little quiet, but I am so happy that you broke out of your shell and made so many friends. Keep coming back!

To the best staff out there!

I wouldn't have made it through the summer without you and everything you did. I couldn't have asked for a more supportive and helpful staff. I'm so happy that we all became so close and had so many laughs. You are truly amazing!

Love you so much.

To my Jesters!

I'm the luckiest person to have spent the last 7 weeks getting to know you amazing girlies. I love you all with all of my heart. You are all so wild and fun! I enjoyed every second I spent with you this summer. Always remember that each of you brings something special to this group that allows you to be the phenomenal group of girls that you are. Your energy is infectious and your love for camp is already evident. Make sure you take in every moment you spend in this special place. Appreciate both the little things about camp and the big things. Before you know it, you will be leading The Realm as Scribes!

BOWS BOWS COUNTOFF!!!

Get off your phones, put down the ramen, stop listening to the Jonas Brothers, and get ready to relive the most incredible summer of our lives!

Remember when Whitney wasn't being sus, Leighton's area was clean, Alex wasn't giving us a private concert, and Logan wasn't hype about riflery…Remember when Jael wasn't being the goat, Alexa wasn't being a beast at every activity at camp, Annie C. wasn't playing showtunes, and Katherine was being mean…Remember when Tali wasn't asking everyone what her name was, Maya's area wasn't messy, Clarisse wasn't dancing around the bunk in the middle of the night, and Ghala wasn't late to benches…Remember when Melony wasn't being positive, Stella wasn't getting packages, and Ally and Liv didn't refer to each other as "my sister"… Remember when Liza wasn't hugging someone, Sarah didn't have her school yearbook out, Gabby wasn't dancing, Bella wasn't being my twin, and Zander didn't give her all in everything at camp…Remember when Ellie wasn't a camp expert, Eulalie didn't have good style, Annie B. and Soraya didn't have smiles on their faces, and the Bows weren't killing it all summer long… WE DON'T!!!!

Let's go all the way back to the day it started, when 18 energetic, fun, loving, and newly inducted bows arrived at The Realm, eager and excited to begin the summer. We had girls – 8 who were new to camp – from all over the world come into this environment and become best friends for life. Remember that feeling of driving under the Robin Hood sign for the first time? Remember when the New York and Cleveland bus rolled up to the gas pump and the whole camp immediately transformed to a home filled with love and laughter? Remember our "getting to know each other" game of Where the Wind Blows, when we realized we all had more in common than any of us may have thought? Later that night we all sat down together to discuss our goals and expectations and created rules that we all agreed upon. Judging from the energy we saw on the very first day, we knew we were in for the most amazing summer – and we were right.

Let's jump ahead a few days to our big mountain hike. All of us were so excited to finally climb together – especially when we found out there would be McDonald's waiting for us after! We sped up the mountain, with me being the last one of course. We then proceeded to eat everything in sight at McDonald's. Such an amazing day!

Remember the Mainers' Game? We all were able to celebrate Ellie's birthday by not only eating cookie cake at camp, but also eating so much candy at the game! Remember when Liv had to sit in an unfortunate seat in the crown because it was the only one open? Of course she was just so happy about it.

Remember the Junior Camp Talent Show? Alex performed Riptide on her Ukelele while the crowd cheered. Clarisse and Leighton also performed an awesome dance that all of camp loved!

Remember when we were going to the Outpost? And then we were going to the Outpost again? And then we were going again but…THEN WE WENT PAJAMA JUMPING AND ATE PIZZA? It was definitely a night for the books. From now on, will you ever really know if you're going?

Remember Beach Day? The clouds didn't stop us from having the day of our lives as the waves and the sugar rush hit us hard. From lobster rolls to an endless supply of ice cream, we were able to share an amazing day filled with joy and laughter – and sunscreen, of course!

Now, how about excursion? We started the first day off strong meeting the Jesters, Tumblers, and Scouts at Whale's Tale. We went on ride after ride, ate a ton of food, and after a few drops of rain, had fun in the sun. Just so everyone knows, I will never do the toilet bowl ride. After the water park, we went to the campsite and made dinner. I think it's pretty safe to say that we are all amazing at pitching tents! To finish off the night, we saw Toy Story 4 (which was a little scarier than we all expected)! Everyone was just so nice in the end! The next day we woke up to rain, and we were a bit worried about our activities – but when we got to Monkey Trunks, it seemed that the rain had stopped just in time for what we had planned! Truly a day filled with highlights, I was so proud of everyone's bravery as you climbed up the ropes course and did the 10-foot swing. We had the time of our lives! We were all so proud of Alex as we watched her do the zipline! After mini golf and the sundae bar, we were excited to be back at camp – excursion was a 10/10 experience for all of us!

BOWS

Remember Parents Visiting Day weekend? On Friday night, we performed our amazing Bow Bros dance in front of all the camp. The next day was filled with energy and laughter in the 97-degree weather. We ended the day with an intense game of camper hunt and a candy party after saying our last goodnights to the four-weekers. Finally on Sunday, we said our goodbyes to 10 amazing Bows, only to welcome our five new awesome campers who arrived eager to start the second half of the summer.

Remember when the one thing we were all waiting for happened? It didn't happen at Founder's night, but Green & White finally broke! You guys were in the bunk and staff sat cluelessly in the staff meeting. We ran outside to welcome the circus performers. That break was ON FIRE…literally! The next morning, we chose Ellie and Clarisse to lead the Green & White Bows through a competitive yet extremely fun war. After five hot and intense days, the White Legion beat out the Green Rage. Once again, I was so proud of each and every one of you; from swim meet to talent show to song night, every single person gave it their all and put up a good fight. I can't wait to sing these color war songs together for the rest of our lives.

Once Green & White came to a close, we soaked up the remaining days we had in The Realm. Remember when we got Pizza Barn for dinner and then got pints of Cozy?! Then we got our paper plate awards and took over the Quills' slip and slide! It was an amazing night that we won't forget!

Alex – I mean, you are just the coolest, most mature, and positive person I know. I will always miss the long talks we had about our lives.You already know how special camp is and can sense its true beauty. Your friends and camp need you and I know you will always be there for them.

Alexa – I mean it's safe to say you are a better athlete than I am, but you are also an amazing person! You are such a kind human being and seeing how you've grown from when I had you as a Tumbler to now is truly incredible. Keep coming back…and maybe for a little longer?!

Ali – I miss seeing you jump around the bunk every day with all of your energy and positivity. You're such an integral part of your group and I can't wait to see you thrive. I will always be there to write you letters.

Annie B – You are one of the most caring people I've ever met – you always have a bright smile on your face! You experienced the whole summer for your first time and you're a natural; thank you for putting everything you have into your time here. You are an amazing person and a great friend!

Annie C – I am so proud of the way you carried yourself this summer. I can't remember a single time where you didn't have a smile on your face or you weren't laughing with your friends. You must keep coming back; camp needs more happy and positive people like you! I'm so glad you were around to sing Hamilton with me!

Bella – ou are my mini-me! For us to have the same birthday is unbelievable, but you also slept where I slept my Arrow summer! I really got to see you embrace camp and thrive in this environment. I will miss your contagious smile during the year! Camp really is the place for you!

Clarisse – Your energy and love for camp is like nothing I've ever seen before! No matter what mood I'm in, I turn around to see you doing something absolutely hilarious and it brings me so much joy. You always make everyone smile and are there for your friends in their times of need.

Ellie – You know more about camp than anyone in this group. Your happiness as you talk about camp and your friends is truly amazing and you are meant to be here for the rest of your life. I will miss you always hanging on me and telling me everything you know about camp. You really have the magic running through you.

Eulalie – You are so energetic and hilarious. I will never forget the game of fishbowl where for every answer, you just guessed "Scribes of 2015". You had us all on the floor laughing. You are so clever and I know our whole staff was jealous of your style. Keep being your hilarious self.

Gabby – Your happiness radiates to the entire group and I am so happy I got to experience that. You always bring a smile to my face and I love looking over and seeing you dancing your heart out to every song we play. Please keep coming back! I can't wait to see you thrive here.

Ghala – You always had us cracking up, and I can't wait to see you grow up into an even more awesome you! You're a very good friend. I'll miss you asking me why I won't tell you what evening activity is, and I already miss seeing your tie-dye M&M shirt everyday!

Jael – You're probably already laughing while reading this, or crying, because we all know you cry when you laugh. Your positive attitude and joy radiate to the rest of the group and I can't wait to see you continue to thrive here for years to come. You're a really good person and an amazing friend – keep coming back! You're meant to be here.

Katherine – Sometimes I feel like you're my age and that I can talk to you about anything. You are a genuine and kind person, and I think camp is the perfect place for you. I hope you'll come back for years and years. I'll want to see how much more you grow!

Leighton – I don't think I've seen energy like yours in all my years at camp. You're happiness and positive attitude are contagious and impact our group and every other group on camp. I loved seeing how passionate you were for horseback riding and other activities. I can't wait to see you grow up in this special place.

Liv – YYou have camp written all over you. Your positive attitude and smile always brightened up my day. I love joking around with you and I hope that you keep coming back. In a few years, I will have my impersonation of you perfected – still working on it now though. I am so happy we got close this summer!

Liza – You are an awesome person. You're positive and vibrant personality was contagious and I can't wait to see you thrive in years to come. You're such a good friend and I know you will always be there. I miss you hanging around my neck 24/7. Keep coming back! You won't regret it!

BOWS

Logan – YYou are so funny and positive. I saw you go to every activity and give it your all every single time. Clearly, your passion for riflery stands out, but the way you got excited for everything is incredible and made everyone around you excited for the day. You're a great friend! Thank you for giving it your all!

Maya – I already know you're wearing some sort of trendy Robin Hood apparel that no one else has. In addition to your great style, you are absolutely hilarious. You get so invested in everything you do and I can see that you truly love camp. It loves you too!

Melony – In the two weeks that you were at camp, I saw you grow so much. You developed such sincere and genuine friendships that I believe will last you a lifetime. You are an extremely hardworking person and I am so proud of how much you've embraced camp this summer! Keep coming back!

Sarah – You already know I'm coming to visit you in Paris. Your smile and positive attitude are contagious. You're an amazing friend and are meant to be here at camp. I miss walking by you everyday and seeing you stick your tongue out at me. Keep coming back so you can do that.

Soraya – Your were a pleasure to have around the bunk this summer because of your positive attitude and your overall happiness. Your smile is completely infectious and always kept your bunkmates and me going. I am so proud of your strength and desire to keep moving forward. I can't wait to see you thrive for years to come.

Stella – You were so pleasant to have in the bunk this summer. During Green & White, I saw a really special side of you; you were competitive while also being an amazing sport who supports her friends no matter what. Thank you for being a happy and positive person 24/7. The Realm needs more people like you!

Tali – I miss your messy area already! You always know how to brighten up someone's day. I know how thankful you are to be at camp, and that awareness is amazing to see in someone your age. The effort you put into your friendships is incredible and I can't wait to see you continue to thrive here in years to come. Thank you for being the most genuine and happy person I know.

Whitney – I am so happy you came to camp this year. You arrived and clicked so quickly with the group. I could always count on you for a laugh, and I truly can't wait to come back in years to come and see you how you've grown because you grew so much already in just this summer.

Zander – You are honestly just so cool. Whether we were in the fields, the lake, or the bunk, you always had a smile on your face. You make everyone around you so happy and you are such an integral part of the group. Keep coming back. Camp needs people like you.

To my staff – I don't know how I could have done anything this summer without you all. You are part of the best summer of my life, and I can't thank you enough for it. You all had such a huge impact on me, and I know we will be best friends for a long time. Thank you for being by my side through this summer! Love you guys with all my heart!

TO THE BOWS OF 2019, SCRIBES OF 2024

Thank you all for giving me and your staff the best summer of our lives. I will forever be grateful for you girls. You are all so unique and different, and when joined together, you are an unstoppable force. At camp, you are all in the most special place in the world – it's filled with so much magic, and you should always trust and believe in it. I love each and every one of you so much! Keep being your perfect little selves!

QUILLVILLE, QUILLVILLE!

Get off Instagram, quit checking your like count, lay off the Crystal Light packets, and get ready to relive the craziest summer of our lives!

Remember the feeling of driving under the Robin Hood sign on the first day of camp? On Opening Day, we welcomed back 26 returning campers and eight new Quills to the family. Remember finding out that you were the biggest group on camp? 40 TA! Remember seeing our Quillage (aka bunks 7 & 8) for the first time? Our first night all together we had our "get to know camp" scavenger hunt and Bee made herself right at home, even putting bug spray on herself before she went to bed! Remember seeing Sylvie's ultra plush sloth for the first time?

And of course, remember making our rules? THE SUMMER OF POSITIVITY! Complaining? CANCELLED!

Remember when Celine wasn't smiling? When Amanda wasn't wearing cute bathing suits? When Julia wasn't being crazy? When Eliza wasn't rocking her aviator nation, Meadow wasn't killing it on the soccer field, Yara wasn't reading, or Marina wasn't taking my clothes? Remember when Ava C. wasn't asking me to play "Panini," Seven wasn't being fashionable, Noa wasn't talking about her baby siblings, Grape wasn't being the cutest, Linsul wasn't Jinsul's twin, Lola wasn't being smushy, or Eugenie wasn't teaching us all French? Who remembers when Madeline wasn't being a genius, Asha wasn't the best swimmer, Jeanine wasn't being the best older sister, Jane wasn't being a model, or Camila wasn't being adorable? Remember when Chloe wasn't wearing fun glasses, when Natalia didn't have perfect eyebrows, Ivy didn't have too much stuff in her area, Sylvie wasn't being harassed by Phoebe, Sam wasn't being sporty, Bee wasn't wearing Lulu, Mandy wasn't on the basketball court with Scott, Gillian wasn't wearing fun outfits, or Hannah wasn't wearing my Alpha Xi Delta apparel? Remember when Ella wasn't loving every second of camp, Ava S. wasn't being a ball of fun, Ceci wasn't stealing a volleyball from Scott, Kara wasn't writing, Lyla wasn't playing tetherball, Aliyah wasn't making us laugh until we cry, Audrey W. wasn't wearing her PJ sets, Nora wasn't being a homie, Ruby wasn't being a star athlete, or Lisa wasn't being the most intelligent? WE DON'T!!!

Remember our "hike"? Remember the feeling of relief when I told you about our nature walk and you chanted "AVA'S THE GOAT"? When we got to the top of a mountain, took a photo, and ate lunch in the van due to an impending thunderstorm? And we still got Cozy Corner!

How could we forget the 4th of July? Remember when Gillian got way more than two ice creams? Remember sliding down the waterslide with Chuck? Remember when Julia planned an amazing cookie cake but then never actually made it? When we had the best time at the beach party? We can't forget to shout out Ivy for our A+ parade poster (we definitely won).

Remember the Mainers' game? Remember asking how much longer the bus ride would be? It's still 20 minutes! Remember when Ivy ate as much fried dough as humanly possible? Remember the group trying to purchase all the candy you could with $10? When you all kept high-fiving Bruce the Moose?

What about Beach Day? Remember devouring every clam strip on the boardwalk? I'll never forget Ruby jumping into that freezing cold Ogunquit water to say hi to me on waist duty – you're a real one. Remember the bus ride? Yelling at Julia to change the show tunes…CANCELLED! No medical emergencies this year ladies – it was truly an unmatched day.

And who could forget about Toy Story 4? Remember how jealous the whole camp was when we were the only group who got to attend? Remember the van ride with Brendon? I can hear you guys screaming the lyrics to "Pop Out" right now.

What about PVD? I loved meeting all your parents (could they be any cooler?). Remember when you guys stole all the cookies? Save enough for the rest of us next time!

Time for excursion! Remember Water Country with the Yeomen? Did you guys take enough candy from the candy room? And who could forget about our late night adventure to see the Lion King? Could we have been louder in that movie theatre? Who remembers ice skating? Remember Billi being a star figure skater (Molly, not so much!). Who remembers Noa's insane skills and Yara taking a tumble? I think the best part of excursion was Chipotle! After eating all those Sundaes at Coldstone there's no way our stomachs could forget about that one either. We need to talk about Beauty and the Beast! We could never forget about the two hour line for food! Remember minigolf when you all fell into the pond? Of course, who could forget our Attitash adventure? Remember all of us almost falling off the mountain coaster? I definitely do!

Remember the pre-Green & White anticipation? The staff fake break at Founder's Night with Meredith? Me trying to convince you guys that the break most definitely wasn't happening at night because I had a staff meeting – boy, was I wrong. Who could forget hearing the music and seeing the lights when the Scribes were on duty? Who remembers sprinting to the Far Far Field and seeing the fire show? Who doesn't remember the absolute mayhem that ensued in the Barn when they announced not four, but six captains!

I'll never forget how hard both the Green Rage and White Legion fought during those five days. Whether it was on the tennis courts, running around camp for an intense game of bocce, or all of us putting it on the line during the track meet, it all came down to song night with the green team killing it with the medley and the white bringing us to tears with their alma. Congratulations to the White Legion! We all fought hard and had the absolute best war The Realm has ever seen.

Maybe the best day of camp was Lazy Sunday. Remember the impeccable Dunkin' Donuts breakfast? Seeing all the judges lying on the Quad and realizing how much we all love camp? Who could forget the incredible sunset that night while we enjoyed our s'mores (which ended our failed treasure hunt). I will absolutely never forget when we blindfolded all of you and brought you to the quad for a slip and slide. And, to make it even better, who could forget about the M&M pizza – a favorite camp tradition.

Last but not least, who could forget our LEGENDARY Quillciñera? Everyone from TPJs to Scribes were in attendance and had the time of their lives. Remember the candy toss? Who knew Quills could pull off such a party? We truly ended the summer on a high note.

Addie – Your hilarity was essential to the group this summer. Thank you for always being there to make the group laugh and for wearing funny outfits. Your friends adore you and care so much about your happiness. It's so special that you and Brody get to share The Realm together!

Aliyah – You couldn't make me laugh any harder. You bring hilarity to every situation and always have a smile on your face. Thank you for being your authentic self and making our summer that much more exciting.

Amanda – I can't believe how fabulous you were this summer. You came to camp wanting to make firm friendships and I believe you did just that. I can't thank you enough for wanting to break out of your shell and making an effort to get to know everyone in the group. Thank you for being sweet, caring, and the most positive girl around!

Asha – You came such a long way this summer. I'm so proud of you for staying five weeks and I hope that next year you stay the full time. You are the most positive bundle of joy and truly care about every member of the group.

Audrey – Grape! You're a star, my dude! You are an absolutely A+ friend to every Quill and we all know you would be there for anyone at anytime. You may be a year younger than the rest of the group but you stand out in many ways. Thank you for being the GOAT.

Audrey W – I'm so happy we get to share this place! Your love for camp never goes unnoticed and we all love watching you shine at drama. This place allows you to grow and I hope you will learn why people like me keep coming back.

Ava C – Could The Realm have a crazier gal? I think not. I miss you asking me to play 'Panini' every second of everyday and you losing your shoes in both bunks. Regardless, you are also the sweetest girl around and I know I can count on you to be a real one.

Ava S – You're a firecracker! The energy you bring to the group is unmatched and I love the spirit you brought to the summer. I miss you asking me what EA is every day (I'll still never tell you!) and how you always looked out for your little brother. You love The Realm and The Realm loves you.

Bee – Was this your first summer? You entered Robin Hood with so much spirit and excitement that I knew you would fit in instantly. You are a kind, caring girl who truly gets what it means to be apart of a group. I can't wait to see you come back year after year and truly get what it means to be in The Realm.

Camila – I'm beyond excited that you came back this summer! You bring a quirky essence to the group and your constant smile lit up every day we spent in The Realm. For the sake of everyone in the group, promise to never skip a summer ever again!

Cece – How lucky I was to have another Skala as my camper! You haven't changed since Tumbler summer in that you truly love everything you do. I love how you are there for everyone in the group 100% of the time. Thank you for sticking to our "no complaining!" mantra this summer.

Celine – Are you never not excited? Your love for camp your first summer is unmatched and I can't thank you enough for being a kind, positive member of Quillville. You love everything you do and I can't wait to see you back in The Realm next summer.

Chloe – Which pair of glasses will you whip out today? I miss your hilarious random comments and how I always had to get you to put down that book. From the start, you knew you wanted to extend and I can't wait for you to experience The Realm for seven weeks next summer.

Eliza – You and this camp go way back. I love the way you share The Realm with your sisters; that always brings a smile to my face. This summer you truly branched out and saw how you can be a friend to everyone in the group. I can't wait to see the friendships you continue to form and the mark you leave on camp.

Ella – You are camp. Coming into the summer I know you were nervous, but from day one, you took the group by storm. You put your all into every activity and relationship you formed throughout the summer. I can't wait for you to come back for seven weeks next year and get even more out of this magical place.

Eugenie – You love camp. You never complained once this summer and managed to get the whole group to love you in the first two seconds you were here. Thank you for being a mature yet fun member of the group.

Gillian – You have made me absurdly proud this summer. I know you were apprehensive coming to camp this summer but I've never seen anyone have more fun day in and day out. You love all the quirky things that make this camp great and I know you will go so far.

Hannah – You are so interested in everything camp. I'll miss your daily questions asking if I have an extra towel or sweatshirt you can borrow and what period we have next. You are outgoing, creative, and an absolute gem. You're a friend to all and I can't wait to see you learn how important every girl in the group will be to you.

Ivy – It's impossible for anyone to be more campy than you. The Realm truly runs through your veins and it shows in every single thing you do. Your boundless energy and joy for all things camp made my day everyday and I can't wait to see what you'll find possible when you enter senior camp. Enter next summer knowing that your friendship with every member of the group is of the utmost importance.

Jane – Your strength and tenacity inspired me throughout the summer. You never gave up on camp and were a great older sister to Remy. I could not be more thrilled about the friendships you made in the four weeks you were here – they will only continue to strengthen throughout your camper years.

Jeanine – You are the spunkiest member of this group. From your sense of style to the way you do everything with ease there's a uniqueness to the way you do life. I love the way you supported your brother throughout the summer and I can't wait to see you next year!

Julia – You never change – your spirit and energy are absolutely unforgettable. You love camp and know The Realm like the back of your hand. You may be a year younger than the rest of the group but you're always a step ahead of everyone. The role you hold in this group is vital and I can't wait to see you continue to be a friend to all.

Kara – Get your nose out of that book! You are the sweetest thing to hit The Realm since Charleston Chews and I know the whole group was so happy to welcome you for the last three weeks. Never stop loving a good boat ride and making us crack up at your jokes. Please stay longer next year!

Linsul – You truly had the best end to the summer. I'm so proud of the friendships you built upon this summer and I hope you can see now how much you mean to the group. You are the sweetest, lowkey funniest girl in The Realm and I've loved watching you grow up at camp.

Lisa – Your maturity was an integral part of the group while you were here. You were a steady hand in a large group. Of course I have to mention your fantastic tennis skills and how you brought your natural athleticism to every activity. Keep coming back!

Lola – Are you a literal ray of sunshine? You never stopped smiling. No really, not once, this entire summer. You are truly a friend to every member of the group and your happy-go-lucky attitude is greatly appreciated. Never stop doing you.

Lyla – You were the absolute GOAT this summer. Everyday was an absolute joy because of the inclusive nature you brought to the group and the fact that you wanted to be friends with everyone. You've grown up so much since I had you as a Tumbler and I can't even imagine how you'll impact The Realm in your years to come.

Madeline – You were a star this summer! I can't believe this was only your first year at camp because your spirit and love for the traditions run deep. I miss you killing it at softball and all our intercamp tournaments (undefeated!), so come back next year to continue your winning streak.

Mandy – You're far more than just a star on the basketball court. This summer you managed to turn into one of the group's funniest characters. You really did come into your own this summer and took charge of how you wanted your summer to go. I can't wait to see you kill it as an Arrow, both on and off the court.

Marina – MERB! I love your enthusiasm and constant requests to wear my clothing. I'm so happy that you, Alex, and Jordy got to share your summer together and I can't wait to see you make the same impact on The Realm that they've had. Visit me in DC and don't forget to study for your Bat Mitzvah!

Meadow – Has girls' camp ever seen a better athlete? You put your heart and soul into every activity and have shown great sportsmanship throughout the summer. You managed to form some extremely close friendships this year and I can't wait to see how you foster them in the future – The Realm needs more Meadows!

Natalia – Could you be more athletic? You walk into every activity ready to make the best of every minute. You were nervous to come into such a large group but made friends with ease. I can't wait for you to make a return next summer and build upon the friendships you made that you'll have forever.

Noa – Never will I forget sleeping next to you this summer. Have you finished cleaning your area yet? You bring constant joy and laughter to the group and are always there to lend a helping hand to anyone in the group. Thank you for being an absolute rock this summer and cementing your place in The Realm. Keep coming back; the group and this camp need you more than ever.

Nora – Could there be a more dramatic, theatrical girl in The Realm? I think not. Your mind is always churning with the utmost of creative ideas and you made everyday for me that much more exciting. You may be the single most hilarious person I know and I can't believe how lucky I was to have not one but two Wildmans this summer! Never give up on camp because I know that you will grow so much over the coming years.

Rebecca – You are so camp! Whether it's Gaga or Make Your GL Laugh, you immerse yourself in every activity and do it the best way you know how. You show the rest of the group what it's like to have fun and you make friends with ease. Thank you for being a great friend this summer!

Ruby – Rubith Wildman. How I miss your athleticism and completely unintentional comedy. You are so witty and went all out in every activity we had this summer. I know you will be able to come up with even more ideas about how you'll convince your counselors to let you push your beds together next summer. I can't wait to see the Wildmans take over The Realm!

Sam – You crazy character! You go 100% in every single sport we play and if you fall, you pop back up with a smile on your face. You branched out so much this summer and I can't wait to see you running The Realm in a couple of years.

Seven – First, I apologize for your countoff number always being eight. Second, you could not have been a cuter part of this group. You truly emerged in the group this summer and I can't wait to see you take on senior camp. Say hi to Phoenix for me and please keep me updated on all your crazy adventures!

Sylvie – My oh my what a summer you had! Did you ever think you would be elected Captain during Green & White? I'm so proud of everything you accomplished and loved watching you lead with ease. I'm ecstatic about how you never gave up on camp and I can't wait for you to build off the summer you had.

Yara – You came to camp completely unsure of what to expect but you left having had an array of experiences that gave you a sense of what The Realm is like. I loved seeing you pop out of your shell to laugh at every joke and hilarious event this summer. Please come back. I know you'll only continue to love this place more.

To my absolutely astounding staff –

I could NOT have asked for a more perfect group of people to spend my summer with. There were multiple times during the summer when I cried because of how much I loved all of you. I can't wait for us to stay in touch (maybe too often) and be updated on every detail of each day that we aren't at camp. Every single one of you is so important to The Realm. I can't wait to watch everyone kill it next summer!

TO MY QUILLS

I hope you made it through this article and didn't get too distracted! Now go listen to Rainbow and Golden Hour by Kasey Musgraves (and maybe even some UCLA) to bring you back to this summer. I love each and every one of you with my whole heart and will always be here if anyone needs someone to speak to. I'll never forget saying goodbye to each of you on the last day of camp, realizing that I was leaving some of the best people camp has to offer. Keep coming back and remember that each and every one of you is an essential part of this group. I truly can't wait for you to kill it for years to come!

OH HEY ARROWS!

It's time to put the cards down, line up, put on your brave faces, and blast Tokyo Drift as we take a look back at the best summer of our lives!

Remember when we weren't smuggling 9-Square pieces and tree branches back to the bunk? Remember when Anna wasn't playing aggressive Uno, Olivia wasn't getting hit in the head, Rya wasn't looking for Timmy, and Alex wasn't laugh-crying? Remember when Sabrina wasn't speaking in a surfer boy accent, Linley wasn't deleting pictures of Olivia and her bae, and Sassy wasn't strategically placed in an isolation van but insisting to eat Chipotle and Walmart snacks regardless? Remember when Cristina wasn't "peeing herself," and Avery wasn't dancing around? Remember when Millie was fully dressed, Bella wasn't obsessed with tennis…if you know what I mean, and Aviva wasn't talking about boys? Remember when SamSol wasn't gasping about Kyle and Natalie wasn't being polite or refused to share seaweed? Remember when Alyssa wasn't cutting her food, Mary wasn't ranting about a boy-band and Smooney wasn't "the new kid" who danced to JoJo Siwa?

Remember when Leni wasn't rapping, Eve didn't know all the tea, and Bentley wasn't amazing at everything ever? Remember when Mia wasn't making herself laugh and Dani L. wasn't redecorating? Remember when Lily didn't have her act together and Lauren didn't try to convince us to visit her at her house after she left? Remember when Adriana wasn't a Green & White legend, Iris wasn't singing beautifully, Dani S. wasn't in her pajama set, and Betsy wasn't smiling? Remember when Jana wasn't making funny hand motions, Camille wasn't showing us up in gymnastics, and Maddie wasn't confusing everyone with her beyond professional soccer abilities? WE DON'T!!!!!

This summer we welcomed 8 new campers who instantly became part of the Arrow family. It all started when Jana hopped out of her car, cheerful and ready to explore. As we got to know her and quickly discover her unmatched piano skills, three more lovely ladies – Camille, Maddie and Eve – joined us here, leading to our invention of a short-lived inflatable soccer game. Remember how the ball popped within minutes? I do!

As more girls trickled in throughout the day, it was clear that each person brought something unique, fresh, and necessary to the group dynamic. When the sun dipped behind the waterfront and dinner came to an end, we were off for a few rounds of speed dating and nighttime gaga! Later that night, over the crinkling of wrappers and munching of candy, I nervously told you all how excited I was to be your group leader and that I knew that this group was clearly something special. At the time, I never could have known the truth of that statement. And now, I wish nothing more than to go back to that moment and relive the summer all over again. Let's do it together!

Remember the Mainers' game? It was worth the long van ride without air conditioning…once we got there. We ate way too much candy and definitely regretted it the next day!

What about the mountain hike? How we split into groups, geared up and got ready to try two separate trails and race to the top? PSYCH! Remember the climb, and "The Climb"? Miley Cyrus has nothing on our hiking skills. What a view we had at the top, but nothing compared to the close up of the bear in the Cozy Corner dumpsters.

Remember Beach Day, and how we were the first van after the Scribes to roll in? The fog, the extended bathroom break, and the abnormally warm water? Remember trips to the boardwalk, delivering me food, the shortened water duties, and the rain that held off until we returned safely to camp?

How about Robin Hood Gives Back Day? The morning began with the annual Tunnels to Towers 5k Run and was followed by Pam's moving speech about Give Kids the World. Remember the afternoon of bracelet-making for terminally ill children, followed by Robin Hood's own color run?

Before we knew it Parents Visiting Day arrived and despite the record-breaking PVD temperature of 97 degrees, parents prevailed and came from all across the country and the world to see what the talk of magic and the trees is really all about. I think they got it. I loved meeting your families, and I'm so grateful to them for sending you to Robin Hood!

Next up – EXCURSION! Remember the 6-person van? Party on the campsite and impromptu trips to the mall and Chipotle? Remember how Arrows love interpretive dance and Love loves Riley? I really hope she said yes…and speaking of love, remember surfing with Griffin and finding out we had a lot more in common than we thought? Remember the ropes course or the Trader Joes and our Walmart run?

Remember eagerly and eerily awaiting the Green & White break by wearing sneakers 24/7 to be prepared?! It was worth the wait as Sail by AWOLNATION woke up camp and then performers guided us with LED lights to the Far Far Field, where we watched a fire show! Best break ever. Before we knew it, the beans were picked, the teams were established, and the war was well underway. The way you and all of camp balanced being competitive with incredible sportsmanship was off the charts this year. I couldn't be more proud of you all.

ARROWS

As the days wound down after Green & White, we felt comfort in the familiarity of a normal schedule, being back as the full group of Arrows 2019. It's not camp without a surprise or two. Remember that time we decided to pretend it was Sabrina's birthday and packed the van full of lunches as we headed to North Conway to picnic and spend the morning mini golfing…I would trade the world to get another Ben & Jerry's with you girls.

Adriana – While you are the most athletic person ever, you are also so much more than that! You are humble about your (might I add, many) accomplishments and are always encouraging everyone around you. You are outgoing, to say the least, and you stay true to yourself. When you first went up to the Brass table to request football on the schedule, people may have doubted the outcome. BUT, you stayed firm and stuck to your gut, and in the end everyone had a blast! Thank you for being you.

Alex – So inhales Alex. You somehow manage to take everything seriously without escalating it to an unnecessary level of intensity. You are sweet and sensitive and loving and compassionate, and you are an essential member of the group. I'm so glad you found your softball mitt and got your appliance fixed – that could have been ugly! Can't wait to visit your "Boston" home.

Alyssa – You are sweet to everyone you meet. You are curious and talkative, and even though you entered this crazy group of girls at the four-week point, you seemed to be instantly at home amongst them. You are cute and put-together (that bag you carried on excursion…wow) but you also have a big, energetic personality. You came just in time. The group needed someone like you!

Anna – You never had a hair tie, but you always had a great sense of humor. You are a goofball in the best of ways and an asset to this group. From your drawings to Russian Chuck, you always kept the group laughing in creative ways. And, you are a rock – just look at how you took care of Maria. Keep doing you. You are absolutely fabulous.

Avery – Helloo! Your attitude, cheery inflection and mispronunciations made everything better. "Quinique," "Larva," or even your voice ringing throughout the bunk as you said goodnight filled my heart with joy. You are a mom: responsible, fun, quirky, outgoing, energetic, and wise. Your love for everyone is so clear; it overflows and forces everyone around you to be positive!

Aviva – You are such a New Yorker! You are never scared to voice your opinion and you are strong in every way imaginable. This is your happy place and you clearly thrive here so don't ever be afraid to be yourself – you need camp and camp needs you! You are beautiful inside and out; keep slaying life, you are a queen!!

Bella: Considering the fact that you took two weeks to unpack and move into your own area, you can imagine my confusion when you volunteered to fold every shirt on my shelf…for fun! You are a ball of energy when you want to be and the most chill and laid back person at other times (unless you see a bug – in which case we can hear your voice from miles away). Your smile makes everyone around you smile, and your laugh is contagious! You, my friend, are one of a kind! Promise to keep being you.

Bentley – Is there anything you can't do? While you're extremely athletic, you are equally down to earth and humble. You are wise beyond your years, friendly and inquisitive, and sure of your strong core values. You are kind to everyone you encounter, and though I am older than you, this is a quality that I truly look up to. You don't skip a beat to help a person out, and we are so lucky to have you. You were born to be in this group; you fit like glue. Never lose sight of that!

Betsy – You are one of the sweetest and most caring people I've had the privilege of knowing. Your warmth is contagious and your compassion infectious. You are soft-spoken and loving, and you have a good head on your shoulders. Don't be afraid to use your voice in times of need. You are an asset to the group – you're as mature and determined as you are goofy and sweet. Never ever change.

Camille – Camimi! Flashback to June 22nd, Girls' Camp field. If someone had told me that in just two short weeks you would leave with tears streaming down your face, I don't know if I would have believed it. Although you only stayed for two weeks, you managed to live every second to the fullest. You danced to every song in the D-Hall and made a number of friends and countless memories. You get camp. You are camp. Keep coming back.

Cristina – You are the sassiest and silliest person ever! You are positive and enthusiastic about everything you do. Your smile and GoPro were key factors in encapsulating the summer's many highlights. You are an important member of the group, and I don't think I'll ever forget "your birthday's in four days!" And, also, have I ever told you that "you are actually so funny!"

Dani L – The moment you found out that you were extending and nearly cried of joy was a dream come true. You appreciate all that camp has to offer – the friendships as well as the flipped beds. You are a gentle, caring, incredible person. Keep dancing in the mirror. No really, I have genuinely witnessed you dancing in the mirror before, and it was amazing. As are you.

Dani S – "You are like a baby!" Though you said it to me all the time, I don't know if you realize just how mushy you are. You are always there to help a friend out, and your sleep mask is perpetually ready for bed for when you're (as you would often say) tired! You are a light – people orbit around you!

Eve – You are the type of person who feels familiar. You epitomize the magic in the trees and the close bond people have at camp after just a short amount of time. You are insightful in a nonchalant way and one of the funniest girls in the group. We are so lucky to have gotten to know you. Please never stop coming back. Adding you to the group seemed like no coincidence – it truly feels like you have been here forever.

Iris – You are one of the most caring people in the world! When you sense a problem, you jump to find a solution; when you see a person in need, you're there to be their remedy. Your enthusiasm and passion do not go unnoticed. Keep doing you. You are incredible.

Jana – Are you ready, Kid? You are a fashionista, a comedian, and a true friend. You are equally as smart, driven, and mature as you are down to earth and approachable. You are confident and outgoing, which are traits that will take you far in life. I'm not entirely sure how you manage to juggle this all at thirteen. Maybe that is why the first time we met, you told me I seemed not a day older than twelve.

ARROWS

Lauren – It was an honor and a privilege to get to know you over the first two weeks. Not only did you test your limits, expand your horizons, and break out of your comfort zone, but you did so with a smile on your face. At the end of every day, to hear you speak enthusiastically about the next day brought me more joy than is imaginable. Camp to you is more than the activities – it's about the experiences and friendships. Keep coming back. Camp needs more Lauren Keighleys.

Leni – You are spunky and hilarious and I'm so glad that you could join us second session! I remember our first interaction as if it was yesterday, and I could tell that you were one of a kind from right off the bat. One of the last days of camp, after listening to Scribe speeches you swore that you would come back for the full summer next year and never waste a minute. Let's make that happen! Sailing camp might miss you but we miss you more.

Lilly – You are one of the smartest and most determined teenagers I have ever had the privilege of knowing. You test your limits and never give up. Your presence is always calming, and you give off a sense of security that instantly makes everyone around you feel at home. You are a ball of love – one who is deeply adored. I know that leaving early broke your heart, but a place that makes saying goodbye so hard is a place that holds deep meaning. I hope that your technology boycott is going as planned!

Linley – You are quirky, down-to-earth, loving, and kind. Your gentle "Kendie" or "KB" brightens my day – not to mention your high pony…just kidding! You are so talented; you killed it from tennis to band, and don't even get me started on Green & White! Your calm confidence drives the group – people look up to you more than you might even realize. You are unique and true to yourself, and you march to the beat of your own drum (literally). I remember meeting you as a shy Tumbler, and I can't even put into words how proud I am of the person that you have become.

Maddie – The sweetest girl to grace The Realm! You are fun and energetic and have an amazing personality and unmatched sportsmanship. From giving endless hugs to killing it on the soccer field, your love for camp and the group truly show. You are extremely caring and your passion shines in everything you do. Your smile is forever imprinted in my mind. I can genuinely imagine you being the head of Girls' Camp one day, so please come back forever and ever.

Mary – Have you successfully consumed 12 milligrams of caffeine today? You are lowkey the funniest, most quotable person ever. You are bubbly, enthusiastic, and fun to be around. Your choice in music truly optimizes your personality: loud and unapologetically you. Never change, unless it's into your spin outfit.

Mia – Your infectious laugh brightened my day, and thankfully you did so often. You woke up every day with a smile on your face and truly embraced the spirit of camp. You never fail to show off your crazy personality, and that attribute allowed you to fit into the group so well. You are so loved. Please keep coming back.

Millie – Boy do we have a lot in common. From our literal neighboring houses to our similar sports injuries, you are a mini-me! You are clumsy and funny, and though your random bursts of energy are confusing, they make the days so much brighter. Your love for camp and everyone here is so evident, and I can 100% foresee you being the next Chuck. You are resilient and constantly positive, and I hope that everyone can someday find the same spirit that you carry with such dignity.

Natalie – You are the most selfless person I've ever met. You put everyone's needs before your own and your sense of empathy is off the charts. You are one of the purest people in this world, encouraging and inclusive. These qualities will take you far in life. Everyone adores you. Though you are quiet, your presence and impact on the group is undeniable. I can't wait to face you in our next tennis duel!

Olivia – Your face when we saw the raccoons made me melt – an interesting change from your ironic eye rolling! I don't know how you do it, but you spin every situation into a funny one. Remember your insistent reminding that you were not upset to lose color war, but your refusal to eat the losing team cookout? Or the time you stuffed your face so much at Ben & Jerry's but rather than stressing out when you felt sick, you casually laughed it off and asked for a bag to-go? You are a force to be reckoned with and driven by your sense of humor. Never lose sight of these qualities – you wouldn't be you without them!

Rya – Rya Yael Avivi. I finally got it right. You are one of the loudest, most outgoing people to walk the earth and this is a truly admirable trait. You're the only person who enjoys showtunes as much as I do, but your singing is out of this world. You should probably try out for Broadway because honestly, you're a star. You are unstoppable; don't let anyone dim your light!!

Sabrina – You are the most driven, headstrong person imaginable. If you want something, you go after it, but you somehow never lose sight of your sensitive side. You love and are loved, and I hope you never forget that. People look up to you for this very reason. I hope you continue to speak your mind, chase your dreams, and go for the gold. You deserve all that you work for. You deserve the world.

Samantha – Hey Jude…I mean Sammy. You, my friend, are a wild card. You are funny and energetic and have the confidence we all aspire to have. Your sense of humor is remarkable and you don't have to try to be heard. People look up to you and your optimism and I hope your outlook never changes.

SamSol – You always know how to hit the perfect harmony and keep harmony within the group. You are calm, cool and collected, and are effortlessly one of the funniest people I know. Your reenactments? Spot on. Your vine dances? Unbelievable. You impress me every day in so many ways and I can't wait to watch you continue to take The Realm by storm. You are going to do amazing things and I can't wait to watch from the sidelines.

Sophie – I genuinely have never met a more positive, upbeat person (let alone 13-year old) in my life. Everyone should see the world with the meticulous consideration that you do and experience life through your lens. Everyday at camp you brought yoga, perspective (and let's not forget, cinnamon) into the group and we wouldn't have it any other way. Please become a life coach, or better yet, Anjali II.

Sbutler, O, Kham and Barbara – I could not ask for a better group of people to be by my side. To say that we were an unstoppable group and cohesive unit is an understatement. I honestly don't know how I will function once we return to our normal lives, across the country and the world from one another. I feel as though we are the parents of the best family in the world, and I can't imagine waking up anywhere other than in Crystal Palace. I love you more than you can possibly know and summer would not have been the same without you all.

ARROWS

TO MY ARROWS -

What a season it has been. Coming into the summer I never would have imagined how close I could grow to 31 13 year olds. You are all fun and energetic and unique and I am so lucky to have gotten to know you all this summer. As I shouted out in my Scribe Speech at the end of summer 2015, To the Tumblers of 2015 – Thank you for letting me live through your young eyes. Each day with you girls is unique and tiring but I wouldn't have it any other way! From constant piggy back rides, endless games of slide, and countless laughs, you girls truly transformed my summer for the better. You are an amazing group of spirited young ladies and I can't wait for the day you take The Realm by storm. If there is one piece of advice that I can leave you with it is to keep coming back. You all have so much energy and true love for one another that will take your group a long way. Love you girls and can't wait to watch you grow into the spectacular little teenagers I know you will be."

It was a blessing and an honor to be your Group Leader this summer, as my dream really did come true. I had the privilege of witnessing first hand, the "spectacular little teenagers" I predicted you would be. Thank you for the best laughs, the best memories and honestly, the best summer ever!

Bards Bards, count off!! Oh, and stop talking!!!!

Put down your candy, pause the texting, get off Instagram (after you like my pictures), and get ready to relive the best summer yet!!

Let's throw it back to opening day. Reggie arrived first to our home, the infamous Bunk 4. As each and every one of you started trickling in – your staff eagerly awaiting – we all knew the summer would be incredible. We started it off right with some cookie cake for Morgan's birthday and then jumped right into evening activity. It was awesome getting to know more about each of you while popping balloons in the process.

Remember swimming our 4 (not 16!!!!) laps on the first day, and how freezing the water was? Remember that first D-Hall dance party, and the pure joy we felt knowing we were back at the best place on earth? Remember our very first gaga game of the summer, and the water fight I may or may not have started after?

Remember that incredibly challenging hike up Rattlesnake? So proud of us for making it to the top. After a nice photo shoot at the peak, we enjoyed a delicious lunch at McDonald's with chicken nugs, french fries, and of course…McFlurry's.

Remember fixing the 9-square in Girls' Camp, just to wake up the next day and see it broken again? #Sabotaged. Remember playing 9-square in the pouring rain? Remember Duquesne University? Anyone would be lucky to attend…might have to transfer! Remember when Ginsberg accidentally sprayed bug spray in her eyes? I'm glad you can still see, Gins!

Remember the Mainers' game? Remember how much Cate loved the rendition of the national anthem? So much in fact that she needed a new pair of shorts afterwards! Remember all the food we devoured there?! Speaking of food…remember our steak dinner and Chopped evening activity with the Friars? You're all culinary queens! And, of course, we can't forget go-karting and our trip to North Conway.

Remember our intense sandcastle building against the Squires? You guys were the clear winners in my book. Speaking of sandcastle building, that brings me to the waterfront. Who remembers a storm approaching camp in 0.3 seconds and then showering outside in the rain? Ava's mysterious 3-in-1 foam was definitely the peak of the day.

Remember making ourselves sneeze? IT FEELS GOOD. Nobody understands. Remember watching Stranger Things and freaking out over every scene? Oh SHEET! The Russians…IS. THAT. A. LEECH? Remember Beach Day? It's a beach it's a beach it's a beach party! It was so foggy, but that clearly didn't stop us from sending it, especially Ella. Congrats on becoming green that day! The burping contest Ava had with some locals really was the icing on the cake.

Remember Coral taking a chair and making it her own? Pretty sure her name carved onto the arm of the chair really sealed the deal. We also can't forget challenging the Friars to volleyball. We may have technically lost, but we are obviously the real winners. #they! #are! #rattled!

Remember our favorite call and response… YEET! Some other groups may have been rattled by our yeets, but that didn't stop us. Remember talking in a British accent non-stop for no reason? ARE YOU MAD? Remember when we pretended Green & White, broke but in reality we just had midnight Mcdonald's? Sorry for the scare, ladies. Remember our quick late-night trip to the ODT? What about playing softball against Birchmont? Bards…are…athletic!

As the summer moved so quickly, it was already time for excursion! We started off am amazing four days at the Basketball Hall of Fame. Who knew basketball could be SO interesting? After eating some delicious Subway sandwiches and Cold Stone ice cream, we made our way back to the campsite. Being greeted by cabins instead of tents on that rainy first day was truly a relief. Thanks, Scott!

Once we settled into our cabins, we set off for dinner. Who knew Panera could taste so good? I think we can all agree that mac 'n cheese of theirs deserves an award. Except maybe Morgan, who freaked out at the sight of an Olive Garden. Sorry Morgan; the endless breadsticks will have to wait!

The next morning, once we were full of munchkins and coffee, we headed towards Six Flags! The rides were crazy, but not as crazy as all of you were after the intense amount of sugar you ingested. Once we left Six Flags we headed straight for the Goodwill. We spent so much time finding different outfits – it was so fun!

After our amazing shopping experience, we headed right back to the campsite for an interesting night, to say the least. The experience included weird basketball games against Camp Modin, along with a delicious steak and fajita dinner. Once it was time for bed, we found that our old cabins had been taken. We didn't let that stop us, however, and we quickly pitched our tents and got a good night's sleep.

The next morning was debatably the best part of excursion (after the van rides of course): white water rafting. The river and the scenery around us were so beautiful; it was the perfect place to fall out of the boat 800 times and have an extremely intense water fight. TBT to Jake and shoutout to Nina! Once we finished our great outdoors raft experience, we headed back to our campsite before going out for our luxurious dinner at The 99 Restaurant.

The next day we drove to Portsmouth, NH for a tour around the old port. Afterwards we stopped for coffee and ice cream. Once we arrived back at camp (just in time for dinner), we got right back into the swing of things and awaited the best part of the summer… Green & White.

Remember when Green & White broke? Your staff sat clueless in a staff meeting while performers with LED sticks led you to the far far field for a fire show. That FIRE break (hahahaha) got the war off to a great start. Your captains Hilary and Ginsberg led both teams with ease.

The war was so intense, and from every activity to the talent show, both teams killed it! The Green & White Bards demonstrated how to be great sports while trying their hardest. I'm so proud of all of you and I wish we could all do it again!

Although the last days of the summer were easily the most emotional, we still killed every single activity and made every moment count.

BARDS

Alana – You're so hilarious it's unreal. I loved getting to know you this summer; the more I got to know you, the cooler and cooler I realized you are. You're a bigger part of the group than you even realize, and everyone loves you so much. Continue to speak your mind and be the boss you are, and keep coming back! The Realm needs you.

Alessandra – I'm so glad you came out of your shell more this summer. Seeing you become the confident girl I know you've always been was amazing. You care so much about each girl in the group, and everyone was so sad when you left. You're actually so crazy and I think that's what everyone loves most about you! Never change!

Anna – As soon as you left, the dynamic changed, making it clear that you are a huge part of the group. Everyone loves you so much and your energy is unmatched. You have such a sweet soul and that matched with your craziness makes for one awesome girl. You lead the group with ease just by being yourself, and that is seriously awesome. I can see you being an amazing GL one day. Keep coming back!

Ava – I don't think I've ever met anyone crazier than you, and that says a lot. You're an amazing girl who really made me proud this summer. I know you care about camp and the girls around you so much. Don't take a minute of this special place for granted. If you love The Realm, the Realm will love you.

Cate – Since the day you got to camp, you had a smile on your face. You're crazy athletic and so smart; never ever doubt yourself. You lead the group with ease and I know you care about every single person around you. You're so hilarious and such a well-rounded girl, and I'm so proud of the person I've seen you grow into over the past seven weeks. Keep coming back to camp; you're going to kill it as a Scribe.

Coraly – Coral! I cannot believe how much you blossomed here at camp. You came as a shy girl knowing little English, and left a loud, crazy girl who speaks English fluently and had made a place of her own in the group! You're hilarious, honest, and so mature, and I love that about you! Please keep coming back; I can tell how much you love camp!

Elizabeth – You are such a sweet soul and so positive. You appreciate camp so much, and I really don't think I've ever heard you complain once. Your smile is contagious and I'm so glad you decided to stay seven weeks. You're wise beyond your years and you're exactly what your group needs. Never doubt yourself because you're an amazing girl with so much potential!

Ella – I don't think anyone has ever made me laugh harder than you. Your inside voice is a yell, and you're constantly bouncing off the walls, but I wouldn't have you any other way. I love how much you love camp, and I can see your compassion for the other girls in your group on a daily basis. As cliché as this sounds, keep coming back. Your group wouldn't be the same without you.

Ginevra – You are seriously the sweetest person. I don't think I ever saw you without a smile on your face. Any time I ever needed a hug, I knew I could come to you. You're more mature than I think you even realize, and I can tell you appreciate camp and all it has to offer so much. Keep coming back, Girlie.

Ginsberg – You are so hilarious it's unreal, and I am in awe of your maturity. Even when you were late to benches, you somehow made me smile. This group would never be the same without you. Your compassion for the people around you always showed from the second we woke up to the second we went to bed. Keep killing life (and dressing like a BOSS). You're going to be an awesome leader of Girls' Camp.

Hilary – Your positivity is one of the traits that makes you such an amazing person. You lead the group with ease and everyone clearly looks up to you. You embody camp. Everything you do shows how much you care for The Realm and the girls around you – not just in your group but in all of Girls' Camp. I'm so proud of the girl I saw you be this summer. Never change. You will be an amazing Scribe. Keep coming back.

Lia – I could always tell you wanted what was best for the Bards as a whole. I know you see the good in everyone and that's such a great quality. Your athleticism is honestly unreal and you need to believe in yourself, with athletics and more! You're really just such a cool girl, who also always had the best hidden snacks. You know what's good! Keep coming back.

Lily A – You are seriously wise beyond your years. Every group conversation we had became even better as soon as you spoke. You are loved by the group more than you even realize, and I know the group would be totally different without you. The group needs a girl like you; never forget your importance. You are one of the strongest, coolest people I know. I am so happy I got to know you. Keep being you, and keep coming back.

Lily C – You are such an amazing girl and you're so sweet! You bring such a positive energy to the group that never goes unnoticed. You never complained and killed anything you tried! I could tell you always just wanted what was best for the group, and that approach was so mature. I really don't think I've known anyone nicer. Please keep coming back.

Lily D – You are part of what keeps the group together. You love camp so much, and you were such a positive light this summer. You always had a smile, and you were always willing to try new things. You lead the group and always kept the good vibes circulating inside and outside of the bunk. You're hilarious, smart, and kind-hearted. I cannot wait to watch you lead as a Scribe and eventually as a group leader. Keep shining and being you!

Macy – You are so cool! You're so laid back yet so honest and genuine. What a great combination. I love how much you branched out this summer. You are such a huge part of the group! Everything you did was with pure intentions, and I love you for it. The group loves you more than you even realize, and as soon as you left it was clear there was something missing! Keep coming back.

BARDS

Mia – You are seriously one of the most kind-hearted people I have ever met. You always wanted to do what was best for the group and it never went unnoticed. You are so smart and genuine, and I never want you to forget that. You are going to be an amazing Scribe and an even better group leader. I can't wait to continue to watch you grow. Please keep being you, and please keep coming back!

Morgan – You're insane, and I love it. You are the definition of never wasting a minute. Your love for camp is evident in everything you do, and your kindness never goes unnoticed. Also, don't be surprised if I ever text you asking you to make me a playlist. Your DJ skills are unmatched. Keep coming back; I seriously cannot wait to watch you lead Girls' Camp.

Olivia – You are one of the most passionate people I have ever met. Your love for camp is so evident and it always makes me smile. You care so much about all the girls in the group and it was obvious that the happiness of the group was your number one priority. You're a star. Please keep coming back to camp; your energy is needed in the group and I can see you leading Girls' Camp with ease.

Reggie – You are seriously the sweetest girl! When you left everyone was so sad, and the group was definitely different without you! You do everything with a smile, and do it well, which is such an amazing gift. You were always so genuinely kind to every single girl in the group, and it never went unnoticed. Your love for camp was truly evident in everything you did. Girls' Camp needs girls like you, so please keep coming back! You'll kill it on staff one day!

Sammy – You are one crazy girl, and I love it! I'm so happy that you opened yourself up to camp and gave it a chance. You're so funny, so kind, and so athletic! You mastered every sport you tried with ease, and let's not forget those skills on the waterskis! I'm so proud of how positive you were and how ready you were to go to every activity and try your best!

Sydney – Sydney, you lead the group with ease and are so fun to be around. You're so mature and know exactly what to do in any situation. You crush any activity you put your mind to, and to top that off, you're absolutely hilarious. The group wouldn't be the same without you. I loved every second of getting to know the awesome person that you are. Keep coming back to camp no matter what happens.

Tabor – You're seriously such a cool person. You're crazy yet so mature, and everyone clearly loves you so much. This was only your second summer, yet you led the group with ease. You're a beautiful girl on the inside and out and I wish you could see how awesome you are. I can see you leading camp one day just as you lead the group now. You're a force to be reckoned with and I cannot wait to watch you grow up. You're a star; never ever forget that.

To My Staff – You all killed it. I really can't thank you enough for the work that you put into this summer. Being a counselor for crazy fourteen year old girls can be a challenge, but you all did it so well with smiles on your faces. I'm so proud of you all and I love you all so much.

To the Bards of 2019, Scribes of 2021 –

I am so proud of how the group evolved and got closer this summer. Each of you has individual skills and traits that, when they come together, make an amazing group of girls. I love you all so much.

SHIRE. EM-PIRE. SHIRE. EM-PIRE.

Anjali Anjali Countoff.

Beetle, Vulture, Flamingo, Bat...OK. OK, hold on to your spirit animal cards, reflect back to Jersey (Joy-sey) City, and let's take a journey through the full-send summer of 2019.

It all started off when the buses pulled into The Realm, reuniting everyone in the group – including even Maren and Herma (who may as well be part of your group at this point, for real!). Before we knew it, we were gathered on our benches outside Bunk 5 ready to tackle the EMPIRE-SIZED summer ahead of us.

Remember the Backwards Scav we did on our first night? We started on the quad but quickly made our way to the Far Far Field where the scavenger hunt definitely got "backwards." We then strolled down to the WATER-WATER-WATERFRONT for a bonfire with the Scribes – the beginning of a summer-long bond between the two oldest girls groups.

Before we knew it, the classic routine of camp was upon us and the Shires were full-sending everything from soccer to volleyball to lacrosse to yoga to spinning to dog walking. The Bards became our neighbors next door and the energy in the Girls' Camp Senior Quad was absolutely CONTAGIOUS!

Remember lip-sync battle? Daisy turned into Ke$ha and the party didn't start 'til the Shires walked in. Actually, a few unwanted visitors may have walked into the Barn during our performance. Who remembers Christmas in June? Or laughing uncontrollably during circle time, literally being unable to stop? A certain someone's dairy-free yogurt order at Cozy?

Beach, beach party! Beach, beach, beach party! Remember our surprise trip to Ogunquit with the Foresters, Saxons, and Scribes? Even though we may have eaten too much ice cream and couldn't quite see through the fog, we were able to have a fancy dinner on the main strip of the town, followed by even more ice cream.

Remember our hike up Rattlesnake with the Bards? The summer of the full send was in complete effect once we started climbing to the top in record time. Luckily, we were able to refuel with a quick trip to McDonald's on the way back to camp.

Who remembers when we caught a last minute invite to Woody's cottage on a steaming hot day? We were so happy to cuddle up and watch a classic chick flick with the A/C blasting. Woody even joined us for the finale!

Remember the Mainers' Game? Following a relaxing lazy Sunday morning, we made our way to Sanford, Maine for a prime-time baseball game in the same stadium where Babe Ruth played. Along with yummy food and a few lucky on-the-field appearances with dizzy relay races or golf cart rides, we had a BALL.

None of us could forget our barn times with the Foresters! A preview of your time as Scraxons, we became closer through silly activities like 30-second Q&A, sunset waterfront hangouts, a talent show filled with on-the-spot acts (don't forget the Beatles cover), and human-tangled webs we had to pull apart. Scraxon summer has no idea what's coming!

Remember the 4th of July? The Scraxons woke us up in style, and we quickly got decked out in our red, white, and blue. We danced around the dining hall at both lunch and dinner belting out tunes from Firework to Hamilton. The carnival was one of the best parts as we ate lots of fun food, found our soulmates in the marriage booth, and bounced around on inflatables all day. Remember how much Giorgia loved the slip 'n slide and how she asked everyone to go down it with her? A beach party was just what we needed to top off an unreal day. Fair food at dinner, from fried dough to watermelon to Philly cheese steaks to corn dogs, was the perfect final touch!

Remember the West End Game? We threw on our Robin Hoods and face paint and charged our way to the House. Finally moving up closer to the court, our energy was loud and we cheered until we had no voices. Although a VERY close game, the Hood was no match for West End this year.

Who recalls our mid-day trip to the sandbar? Summer of the full-send included random EAs during the day, of course. Especially when we brought giant floaties along with us! Remember our Sherwood Forest Yacht Club Party? You went back to the bunk to find formal invites waiting on your beds telling you to get dressed up and head to the cottage. Fun, refreshing tropical drinks complete with cute drink umbrellas and straws, tasty limes, cherries, and lemons awaited you. We ate snacks, hung out, and sipped on drinks with our pinkies up, of course. After a sunset pontoon photoshoot, we headed down to the waterfront to catch an even better glimpse of the sunset to finish off our fancy-living night.

Remember the Shire-Scribe Sleepover? We put on paper bag skits and performed at the Scribe bunk stage. Leni and Sloane were definitely the stars of the show! We then came back to Bunk 5 for surprise pizza and a PG movie on the projector. Pizza and Shi/Scribe bonding: what more could we ask for!

Remember when neon nail polish wasn't the coolest trend? Remember when Maya's fall on the quad wasn't the funniest thing ever? Remember when Perin was a Leader? Or when Val wasn't cracking someone's back? How about Charlize not using her amazing flexibility to drop into the splits to save the dance? Remember when Cass wasn't being the sweetest girl in the world? Remember when Jessie didn't have the biggest smile on her face? Remember when Lucy's stories made sense? Cause we don't!

SHIRES

Remember our GIRLS' CAMP SWEEP! We took female sports by storm and defeated Forest Acres and Birchmont like nobody's business. Our basketball game at the Upper Courts was booming with energy from pump-ups and all-camp cheering. Coach Maren and the rip-off pants also had an impact on our basketball skills. We then took to the volleyball court to defeat Forest Acres yet again. Coming down to the last game, our new friends were no match for us! Finally, we took to the field for soccer and defeated Birchmont in penalty kicks. The celebration was unreal!

We continued to amaze the masses when we took a break from our athletic endeavors to create the best Girls' Camp activity of all time: Shire Jeopardy. You guys worked so hard to not only create a whole jeopardy board, but you also took the time to thoughtfully create questions and keep it entertaining. When the time came to actually lead the activity, all the little ladies of girls' camp were for sure impressed and had loads of fun. I can confidently say that you smashed it and showed camp how amazing you guys truly are.

Shafer, Perin, Charlotte, and Rosie continually took to pen and paper to help with the renewed Robin Hood Newspaper – their articles were our fan favorites! Remember our leg wrestling fight night? We all made our way through the bracket, but we were no match for Perin's technique. Everyone else was CANCELLED!

Remember our Challenge Cup lip sync with the Scouts and the Scribes? I don't think we'll ever forget how crazy Jill looked in that blonde wig. Hey Charlotte, take that demon out your mouth! Dunia, take that rock out of your mouth! What is with you guys?!

Also, why was hitting our heads a trend this summer? Jemma had her basketball head injury, Casey whacked her head on the shelf above Perin's bed, and Daisy got that massive bump from hitting hers on the shelf. Thanks to good luck and the infirm, we all ended up just fine. The only consequence: it may have made you guys even crazier than before.

Who recalls our chariot to Excursion? The Shires and Foresters teamed up for the first ever Robin Hood chartered bus into Boston. First stop – Quincy Market and Faneuil Hall! We shopped around and took in the sights of this cute area in the heart of B-Town, our Starbucks in hand. We then made our way to Boston Duck Tours with our jokester of a tour guide. Abracadabra – QUACK QUACK! Next up was a journey to TreeTop Adventures. We got strapped in and began swinging from trees, jumping off of platforms, and zipping over water. Some even dared to tackle the black-diamond course! The course proved to be more challenging than expected, so we decided to fuel up with some Chipotle for dinner! Remember how Izzy was crying laughing at Chipotle because she didn't understand why Panera Bread was named Panera Bread?

After a good night's sleep in our luxurious hotel followed by relaxing real showers, we made our way to the John F. Kennedy museum to take in some American history. We perused the exhibits and watched an interesting documentary. The coolest part of the museum was the massive atrium which made the perfect area for a quick photoshoot! We then made our way to Fenway Park for a behind-the-scenes tour of the old stadium. From the media room or on top the Green Monster, we really got to see everything! Remember seeing the Lion King and Spiderman 2? The movie theater in the middle of the Seaport district was decked out with reclining leather chairs. Oh, what luxury! Only the best for the Shi Shis.

After the movies, we hopped back on Billy's bus and made our way to our Michelin star dinner. How could we forget the delicious flavors of the Hard Rock Cafe? Remember the wall covered in symbols, which resulted in tiny children banging on them with forks for the entire meal? We ended the night with our final exploration of Faneuil Hall. After topping off with some Ben & Jerry's, it was back to the hotel.

Following our next morning of admiring the New England Aquarium's finest penguins, stingrays, and seals, the Shi Shis went to our final excursion activity: the ultimate shopping spree. Newbury is practically a Shire's dream: trendy shops, ice cream, insanely good food, and most importantly, lots of iced coffee. This chill afternoon was for sure the perfect end to our amazing excursion.

Despite a necessary pit stop for Billy to rectify a problem of stinky proportions, we still had a lot of fun on the bus ride back to camp. From watching Rudy to "Hey Lottie" cheers and everything in between, it was an all around great time. I will say, though, Ally was definitely the life of the party!!!

Back in The Realm, we immediately returned to our full send routine: living life and loving every moment. Tensions grew high as we all anxiously gave our best guesses as to when Green & White would break. Would it be during snack? Perhaps during the goodnight song? No. None of these things. On July 29th, 2019 at approximately 9:47 pm, it all began. You sprinted out of the bunk in PJs, and in some cases facemasks, once you heard the music over the PA system. The people waving their LED lights around eventually led us to the Far Far Field, where we watched the crazy fire show. Remember how those very same people came and performed at camp just weeks before? Remember our favorite juggler, Tim? Safe to say, it was one of the best breaks of all time.

Let's not forget how the judges wore masks as they marched us into the Barn. Remember how crazy the energy was right before they announced captains? I don't think we've ever felt more excited. The six captains were announced cough cough Maren cough cough, and the war had officially begun.

You guys gave it your all those five days, and I think it's safe to say it was your best Green & White yet. From soccer to softball to bocce (with a squad of judges) to tug and everything in between, both teams put their heart and soul into each activity. Who remembers Alice's tie-breaking botch that won the bocce game for white? How about Lily Mooney celebrating her birthday by absolutely killing it at track meet? Never forget Gimbel's scream when she fell during soccer: "TRIP RIKLEEN!" Not to mention the Shires kind of stole the show in the talent show. Remember Izzy's flight attendant appearance and Daisy's skills being showcased in the front and center of the dance? After a crazy hype song night, we all reunited with hugs and closed out an amazing war with our beloved goodnight song.

Lazy Day was definitely lazy for the Shires, but it was well-deserved. We spent our final days in The Realm singing our hearts out in the D-Hall, having in-bunk neon-light frat parties (thanks to Charlotte), and continuing to full send whenever possible. Camille and Segal even got back into their habit of water fights. Remember our long-awaited trip to Dunkin' with Gilban and Jonas? What a CREW. Or our trip to Cozy the night before? I think it's safe to say Landsports has earned the title of honorary Shire.

Let's not forget about GL swap. Sobel was ecstatic to have picked you guys out of the hat. I mean, how could you not be hyped to spend time with such an amazing group of girls? Who would've guessed that Sobel would fit in so well with our group? After some introductions during rest hour, Sobel got to experience our epic bat mitzvah celebration. Mazel, Alice!

Suddenly, the last day made its way onto the calendar. We spent the morning finishing off activities and then headed to an amazing steak and banana split dinner in the dining hall at night Awards night culminated our summer, celebrating everything that the Shires have accomplished over the past two months. We were able to share a late-night bonfire with the Bards and Scribes at the waterfront, dishing advice to those younger than us and taking in all that those older girls had to tell us. Looking around in that moment, it was clear that Girls' Camp is in great hands for years to come.

SHIRES

This group of Shires is so special. Your combination of personalities makes for the most perfect presence in The Realm. Younger girls aspire to be you, older girls are envious of your tight group bond, and staff looks at you in awe. I cannot wait to see you all smash it as Scribes and show the entire camp how phenomenal you all are. We love each of you deeply and will always be here for you – queue "Mercy" and think back to this summer whenever you need a smile. I can't wait to see what you all accomplish.

Casey Benson – Your eternal optimism, even in the face of adversity, is one of the many reasons everyone loves you so much. You're a great listener who is always there for her friends, and for that everyone is grateful. On a less serious note, you're hilarious and can always bring me to tears of laughter. You were made for this place, and this place needs you. Never forget that. Bring the energy next summer – Girls' Camp needs some Casey Benson!

Jessie Brockmann – An absolute ray of sunshine. You are one of the sweetest, most genuine girls to walk this camp and you were such a positive addition to the Shires. The summer of the full send would not be in full swing without you showing everyone how fun each and every activity we did was. You set the tone for the summer – and this group is lucky that you did!

Jemma Fox – Our own personal Jell-O. Your flexible, quirky self allows for everyone to absolutely adore you. You move at your own pace and call your own shots, and you are the kindest friend to anyone and everyone. You are always laughing even when you are singing your classic Jemma song. Always be you, find your ongoing camp niche, and keep coming back to camp.

Giorgia Genghini – My favorite Italian! Even though I didn't know you last summer, I knew I would absolutely adore you from everything I heard. I was right! You have such a positive and fun demeanor about yourself that allows the whole group to gravitate toward you. You light up a room (and a bunk) and are an amazing addition to this group of Shires. See you in Rome!

Carly Gimbel – Gimby. You know we have something different. I am so lucky to have you always there to check on me, while you know I am always there for you as well. You have a whole new vibe about you that shows your devotion to and love for camp and the people who are here. You still have your strong edge which, this summer, has been used perfectly. I can't wait to stay friends forever. Let's do some virtual FaceTime abs soon.

Lucy Hallinan – Nothing makes me happier than when you have your arms stretched open for a big hug. We just understand each other. Since your first summer, we have been in it together. You remind me of myself and I cannot wait to see you be the most caring, genuine, and character-driven Scribe. I know you will continue to thrive at camp as you already do. Stay passionate and present for everyone. This group needs you.

Alice Hare – You are the definition of a camp success story. I am absolutely blown away by your integration into the group from Arrow summer until now. This entire group adores you and you care for each and every Shire deeply. So much so that we had to throw you a hand-crafted mock-bat mitzvah! You are always there to lend a hand to anyone who needs you and make someone who is down feel included. You have compassion unlike anyone else.

Izzy Lightman – First off, I can't wait to lead a spin class with you in the real world one day. It would be off the chain. Real talk, you have always been a leader and go-to camper in this group. People revolve around you because of your hilarity and genuine interest in others. Although difficult at times, you understand how to balance that pressure like no one I've seen before. You have a big legacy with your older sisters, and I am counting down the days until you finally run The Realm like they have.

Cass Merino – Sweet and kind, you hold yourself to the utmost character. Even with a late entry to camp this summer, you went with the flow and effortlessly joined in on this amazing summer. This group appreciates your presence and is better as a whole because of it. Can't wait to see you back next summer and better than ever. The Shires need you!

Lily Mooney – Not sure who Lily Mooney is. I only know Usain Bolt. Just kidding! Not really though, but I'm pretty sure you're even faster than he is. Your dedication isn't exclusive to your running; your clear passion for camp and this group of girls is outstanding. You always make sure everyone has a smile on their face just as big as yours. I know you'll be an amazing Scribe and one day an amazing counselor, Lil Moo.

Val Peters – You came into camp with the correct mindset and gave this place everything you had to offer. You have such an incredible amount of confidence and wit, and I know it will take you so far in this place. I was so proud to see you grow over your time at camp and was so happy to get to know you. I will always be here for you no matter what!

Perin Romano – You are just one of my people no matter where we are. Whether, as we know, good or bad, you are a designated leader of the group that influences the entire reason why the Shires are loved on camp. Keep caring and loving everyone in your group as you do. Soon, you will not only have this group to love but also an entire Girls' Camp to lead. I am counting down the days. Stay silly, stay angsty, and keep on LEADING.

Charlize Roshanski – A new addition with spunk and personality…the perfect mixture for this crazy group of Shires. After observing you as you steadily found your way into the group, I knew you had finally sealed your spot as soon as you got down on the stage for our lip sync. I loved getting to know you this summer and bonding over your obsession with Why Don't We. You are an awesome girl who has a bright future at camp!

Leni Samuel – Where to even start. You are such a care-free, go-with-the-flow camper who never finds herself stuck in any drama. Camp is your place. Everyone in this group loves you and you have the perfect amount of silliness that allows you to capture camp as your second home. I was so happy that we got closer this summer and am always just a phone call away. Keep being fun and quirky – it ABSOLUTELY works for you and allows for everyone to strive to be around you.

Dunia Sarkis – You are one of the wackiest, most entertaining, and genuine Shires to ever walk this camp. It feels like yesterday that I called you on the phone explaining camp as your big sister, and now suddenly you are in the same position as I was as a leader of Girls' Camp. We will always have a special bond and I am so excited for your future in The Realm. Can't wait to see you bring your spunk and creativity to camp as a Scribe. Never stop being you.

Carly Segal – Cacaw cacaw! I know how much you loved that paper plate award. For real though, it's apparent how much you love this place. You're always the first person to remind everyone to full send every moment and to not waste a minute. Your sweetness and your sassiness are the perfect mixture and make you so loved by this group. The Realm needs more leaders like you.

Lily Shafer – The most campy camper in The Realm, hands down. Your growth over the past summers has been one for the books. You always carry yourself with grace, you understand how to bring the perfect amount of energy and fight, and you've formed relationships with every single member of the group. You suddenly have a maturity that is unmatched and I can't wait to see you use it as a Scribe to continue to positively impact others. Thank you for winning song night for me (cue YMCA intro). I am unbelievably proud of you.

Maya Shah – As much as you love camp, camp loves you back. You have grown up so much over the past years and it is so evident that you've become a lovely, mature young lady who isn't afraid to speak up. One of the things I admire most about you is your ability to speak freely when you find the time to be right. You think thoughtfully and always make the right decisions. Your passion for camp is unmatched, and I am so happy to have been your counselor for so many summers.

SHIRES

Camille Skala – Camimi, you are one strange kid. That being said, WE ALL LOVE IT. You can lighten any situation with some obscure joke, an understated dance move, or really anything. Even though you prefer a more dark, muted color scheme, you really are a ray of sunshine and this group needs it. We all look to you as a leader who is not afraid to voice their opinions and enact change; we all admire you a lot for it. Never stop coming back; camp would miss your wit too much.

Rosie Swidler – Hello, Swidbut. I am the luckiest counselor to have been part of (almost) every one of your summers up to this point. You are a force on camp who is known by all. I think you have found hundreds of niches in this group where you fit in – any Shire would be happy to be with you. Your serious but spontaneous personality allows you to be the person to be around always. Even in all of your shenanigans. So glad we will have our friendship for years to come. Thanks for everything.

Daisy Swirsky – Hope this isn't too "generic," just like I promised you. You have a new appreciation for this group of girls that I have seen growing throughout the years, but suddenly you have grabbed and run with it this summer and as a result, you absolutely thrived. You are going to be the most amazing Scribe: someone who younger campers look up to and wish to be (and may even be a little intimidated by, of course). Remember your love for this place and pass it down to those below you, they will listen. I can't wait to see you be a phenomenal GL one day.

Ally Valentine – Where to begin. I have seen you grow up so much over the past four years, and the result is absolutely indescribable. You are a core member of the Shires who can capture the attention of the whole group and, of course, make them laugh no matter what you do. You are an emerging leader of Girls' Camp and I am waiting for the day that you are an amazing Group Leader. I'm always here for you.

Charlotte Wasserman – My dude. Our friendship runs from camp to home and I could not be more grateful for it. We are always on the same page about everything and I am ridiculously happy that we will always have each other forever. You are the definition of camp, the person who keeps me sane, and also one of the craziest campers I have ever had. You understand camp like no other and I can't wait to see you pass all that you know down to others. Stay weird.

Jill Zolot – You are one crazy Shire. Considering your intelligence in all things life and camp, it's no surprise that you understand the perfect way to be. This summer you came in with confidence and grit, allowing yourself to connect with the group seamlessly. I cannot wait to see you do the same next summer as you enter as a Scribe. Continue being confident, stay serious but silly, and get ready to have an impact on many campers next summer.

Herma – My Rock. It has been so special to see the bonds that you have with this group of kids. You serve as a confident, hilarious, and carefree role model that they are lucky to have and look up to. Thank you for everything this summer.

Marija and Kiara – You have added such an important perspective to the Shires. They have been extremely lucky to have specialty staff that genuinely care about them so much. Not to mention, I couldn't have completed this summer without both of you. Love you guys so much.

SHIRES OF 2019 –

I am not only unbelievably proud of the impact you have made on this camp, but also of the name you've created for your group as a whole. Your Scribe summer will be over before you know it, so please live it up and remember everything you have learned over your time at camp each and every summer. One day, you will also be passing down wisdom and stories to younger generations. Love you all endlessly.

XOXO.

ATTENTION ON CAMP! STANDBY PLEASE...SCRIBES!

PUT DOWN THE STRING AND BEADS, TURN DOWN 3:15, STOP VLOGGING, AND GET READY TO REFLECT ON ALL THE WILD MEMORIES THAT FILLED THE SUMMER OF 2019.

Remember when Grace wasn't our own personal Wikipedia, Maggie wasn't with all of JC girls 24/7, Eléonore didn't have 100 hidden talents, Sloane wasn't singing the words to every song ever written, Ruby wasn't screaming like a mad person during sports, Jessie wasn't taking go pro videos for her Scribe video, and Ines wasn't talking about taking a nap? Remember when Solenne wasn't amazing all of us with her piano skills, Claire wasn't requesting "Down Bad" for the queue, Clara didn't have the biggest smile on camp, Elisabeth wasn't using Sun-In, Immy wasn't our perfect ray of sunshine, Caroline wasn't the group mom we all needed in our lives, and Maddie wasn't doing an accent to make us all laugh? WE DON'T!

Remember sitting at home, scrolling through old photos of camp, watching the seasons slowly change, and wondering to yourself when summer would finally come? Remember the feeling of butterflies in your stomach when you drove under the Robin Hood sign for the first time of the summer, and having all those feelings fade away as the smell of pine needles made you feel at home? Remember when it finally hit you that you were Scribes and it was your time to run girls' camp?

Remember when Sloane, Ruby, and Maddie were the first three Scribes to arrive? Remember when we were 5 strong for day 0? Remember watching a beautiful sunset at the waterfront for our first EA? Remember welcoming all of camp on Day 1 with our Scribe shirts and getting compliments left and right? Remember pumping up all of camp as the New York bus pulled in? Remember dancing with the campers at lice check sign? Remember getting the fridge? Remember when Clara and Ines joined us just in time for a group trip to Cozy Corner?

Remember walking arm in arm into girls' camp as we picked up everyone for our first campfire of the summer? Remember sharing your favorite camp traditions with girls' camp, teaching the alma mater, Party Time, and Freak It? Hey Elisabeth, can you freak it? Yeah. All of you introduced our little sisters to camp for the first time, helped girls' camp write wishes, and ended the night with another beautiful sunset. You led campfire with such a sense of ease, and it and set the tone for the rest of the summer.

Remember starting the tradition of watching Black Mirror with the Saxons? Remember the dog show? Remember when Maggie and Ruby's dogs had an accident on the ODT stage, and Ines and Maddie's dogs were in an ABC outfit? Remember going on a hike up Rattlesnake, visiting the nature center, and getting ice cream with the Scouts and Tumblers? Remember being so exhausted after the hike that we lay on the ground listening to music, and then suddenly found your Scribe song? It's moments like that where you least expect something to happen that end up making a lifelong impact down the road!

Remember getting to head to the beach for beach day 1.0 with the Foresters, Shires, and Saxons? Remember our five star meal at Bessie's? Remember calling everyone in the town to find Maddie's wallet? Remember going to Walmart afterwards to shop for the Fourth of July? Remember when the boys bought a helium tank and a microwave? Remember when Claire, Eléonore, and Caroline FINALLY joined us? Remember taking the quickest bike ride to the Marina? All of us got to eat ice cream on the dock and enjoy the beautiful weather. Remember when we never had a count off…oops.

Remember going to West End to only have the team get destroyed, but not letting that keep us down? We finished out the game cheering in Robin Hood style with classic Green & White cheers that had nothing to do with basketball. Remember eating ice cream in the bunk after the game in the colossal rainstorm? Remember when our group grew even more with Jessie's arrival?! Remember when Maggie and Elisabeth played Volleyball and the entire camp came to watch? Remember EVERYONE making it to the top of Washington? I am so proud of each and every one of you. Climbing that mountain is a massive accomplishment that all of you should pat yourselves on the back for again right now. Did you do it? Good.

Remember waking up early, putting on our best red, white and blue outfits, and running around girls' camp to wake up everyone for the Fourth of July? Remember running the parade and carnival in the afternoon? We got to have a well-deserved swim at the waterfront after that and then headed to Wolfeboro to eat at Bailey's Bubbles and watch the craziest fireworks show. Remember blasting music in the van ride back with Brendon's solo in Super Bass and Ines dancing proudly to her favorite Spanish songs?

Remember having the Saxons challenge us to Volleyball, and then beating them?! Remember when Ruby brought Insecure to The Realm? Remember finishing your Scribe song, which is a perfect reflection of the Scribes of 2019. You are all not only funny and crazy and good friends to one another, but also your song also shows how much you all undoubtedly love camp and the little things that make the magic in the trees possible. Try to remember every line of your song for as long as you can!

Remember finally going to the REAL beach day? We spent the morning with our aiding groups and then had the night for ourselves in Ogunquit. Remember finally tasting sushi for the first time in months? Remember the 10-year old waiter? Remember making our time capsule? See you all in 8 years!

SCRIBES

Remember meeting Pam Landwirth, who is the very cool and outgoing president and CEO of Give Kids The World? We had the pleasure of eating pizza with her in the cottage, playing muddy gaga, and watching the sunset. We learned that just like camp, the Village is such a special place where kids can be kids again to escape the worries that often invade our lives from the outside world. We were lucky enough to be invited to a Coasting For Kids event at Storyland to spend time with the children and go on roller coasters all over the park. It was truly awe-inspiring to see each of you immediately gravitate to the kids and spend the day running around Storyland with them! Never forget the impact a grab of someone's hand, a kind word, a hug, or a friend can have on someone's life.

Remember the Scraxon Cabaret show? We performed the Dance Moms sketch featuring Maddie as Abby Lee accompanied by a bag of chips. The Clara, Ruby, and Caroline performance as the actual dance moms was a 10/10. Remember having red sauce everywhere by the end of the joint skit? Remember going into Conway for a night of mini-golf and pizza with the Saxons? Remember when we woke up in the middle of the night, ate midnight McDonald's, and went right back to bed like it was a dream? Remember when PVD finally came and we got to perform our dance and song for all of our parents? Remember when we got to do late-night stargazing for hours to appreciate the feeling of safety you become wrapped in when you lie in the rink? Tonight try and look outside to find the Big Dipper. It will always bring you back to that very moment in the rink.

Remember when we got to head up north with our girl Peggy to Canada?! Remember our first stop at the Big Orange? We started the day with a tour of the cathedral, had a nice dinner, and finished out the night with a ride on a Ferris wheel. Remember going shopping in the old city, doing a zip-line (hands up; don't move!!), going on a never-ending walk of the undergrounds, and then seeing Spiderman? Remember when we went to the maple farm and sang our hearts out and played the spoons? Remember having breakfast in bed? Remember when the entire bus smelled like coffee? Remember hearing Oreos for the first time?

Remember Brittany Snow day? Remember when we walked to Cozy Corner? Remember when Eléonore said it would take listening to 5 full songs to drive there? Remember your first EVER successful Make your GL Laugh where you made everyone laugh?! Shout out to Jessie for her spot-on impersonation. Remember building the Scri Tri? Remember having a spa morning in the cottage with coffee, snacks, face masks, nail polish, and last but not least, Great Gatsby? Remember when all of you sat duty when color war broke with fire dancers on the Far Far Field? Sorry I was wrong, and that those of you in JC had a traumatic experience (especially sorry about the Scouts, Immy and Grace). Our Scribe family was split up for five days into the Great Green Rage and Mighty White Legion (throw up the W). All of you led girls' camp for those five days with such class.

You played hard and shined on stage, but above all, each of you amazed the judges by being united as one Scribe group at the end of the day. Remember when the war was finally over, and we were back together to spend the morning of Lazy Day hanging out in my bed that had been relocated to the waterfront? Remember when Grace and Ruby hung Robby from the flagpole? I hope those five days showed each of you how phenomenal you will be on staff next year.

Remember Claire's return from Ithaca? Remember when we had human ice cream sundaes, leg wrestling, and a sunset swim all in one night? Remember GL swap day? Remember when Sloane braided Rybo's hair? Remember Scribe speeches? Remember when everyone ate their own Mount Washington sundae? Remember raiding the kitchen with the Tumblers? Sorry, it wasn't a real raid Grace! Remember our ~evening activity under the sea~ with sardines, fishbowl, "swimming upstream," and a lap around the Far Far? Remember playing muddy gaga and Infection for our last EA? Remember when we finished off the night by crashing the dance party in the Barn and singing all of our group's favorite songs? Remember when Ruby missed accepting her BIC trips award? Remember ending your last day as campers by doing every activity on camp as a group? Remember when we finished the summer on the highest note possible by living every day to its fullest potential? Remember never wasting a minute? Remember realizing that although it's goodbye for now, you'll be at camp together as staff before you know it?

SCRIBES

Caroline – You're hands down one of the most mature people I've ever had the pleasure of meeting. My heart was so full once you made your return back home to The Realm. Ever day you made me proud. Never forget to keep holding onto what you're passionate about, and always to chase your dreams. I am only a phone call away. Come back on staff to be the next Diane!

Claire – I am so unbelievably happy you decided to come back this summer. You came into camp this summer with such a sense of passion for helping others and for helping the group form into a truly remarkable unit. I can confidently say that your years at camp are far from over. Come back on staff to share your camp journey with others, support girls whose place you were once in, and help the magic in the trees continue to grow.

Clara – Are you sure it was your first summer? From the second you walked into The Realm, it was as if you had been here for years. As the song says, you're the perfect puzzle piece. I am so happy I got to see you continue to step outside of your comfort zone all summer long. I can confidently say you will be returning to The Realm because your positive attitude makes it a better place!

Eléonore – Watching you break out of your shell this summer has been one of the best things ever. I saw that you truly started to love and appreciate the magic in the trees. Next summer, you MUST stay full session. Sorry, it only takes one song to get too cozy… You're such a great friend to everyone in the group, so please keep coming back forever.

Elisabeth – I know I can always count on you, whether it was playing music at every meal or going to help another group in need. Watching you grow into the influential Scribe that you were this summer over the past couple of years has been a dream come true. I can't wait to go back and see you running camp as a counselor. Please promise me that you will be at camp until you're the next Chuck, OK?

Grace – From hugging me at every meal last summer to walking around Montréal looking for cute coffee shops, you have left your mark on me, and I would not trade any of those moments for the world. Your random fun facts and hilarious side comments made my summer. I truly admire how you gave every aspect of camp your all this summer. Please come back for as long as you can – camp NEEDS you.

Immy – You, my girl, are indeed something special. I still can't believe that it's only your second summer, because to me it seems as if you've been at camp your entire life. You're an outstanding young lady that has so much love in your heart for every single girl in the cabin. I can't wait to watch you continue to grow into the strong leader that I know you are.

Ines – Hey, what time is it? The Scribe group would genuinely not be complete without you. You're one of the most caring, compassionate, and sweetest people I've ever had the pleasure of meeting. I hope you can see the impact that you had on so many JC campers. Please come back to continue leaving your mark at camp; our group was not the same after you left!

Jessie – Are you having separation anxiety from my speaker right now? Thank you for being one of the only people who thought I was funny, and for calling me ~cute~. Every single day you kept impressing me with how much love you have for camp, the girls in the group, and the magic that makes this place so unique. You are going to make a special group of girls so lucky by being on their staff next summer!

Maddie – Woody screaming NEWMAN! Somehow you always knew how to make everyone in the group laugh with your impressions, accents, and hilarious jokes. Please consider a career in stand up. This summer you showed the group how to see the light at the end of the tunnel in any situation, so thank you. I can't wait to watch you thrive as the fantastic first-year aide I know you will be!

Maggie – YOU MADE IT!! With everything you do, your love for camp shines through it. From being in the dining hall with kids climbing all over you to playing hard in the fields, you could not have made me more proud if you tried. I promise I will finally visit you, and I can't wait to watch your love for camp continue to grow each summer.

Ruby – I miss dancing with you, and flailing around like the rest of the world doesn't exist. You truly cared about every single girl in the group's happiness 24/7 and made sure that every day as a Scribe was lived to its fullest potential. I cannot even begin to express to you how amazing you will be on staff, so keep coming back forever and ever. When I come back to visit, I expect to see you and Rimer running The Realm as a dynamic duo.

Sloane – Should we get on the benches and dance? I love how much energy and enthusiasm you bring to every single activity, jam sesh, and even benches. It amazes me how much camp knowledge you have. The Realm needs someone with your heart and energy to keep the Robin Hood spirit alive. Always remember to live every moment with confidence and to never waste a minute.

Solenne – As I write this, I can imagine you playing the piano beautifully to A Thousand Miles. I'm so happy the entire group got to see a new side of you this summer. You are such a fun and bubbly person! You're also one of the strongest people I know – always think back to how you feel in your happy place here at camp!

Staff – Thank you from the bottom of my heart for everything you did for the group this summer. Being new to a summer camp is not easy, but it was great to watch each of you learn the camp traditions and fall in love with The Realm. The Scribes of 2019 would not be complete without each of you being a part of our exceptional family.

SCRIBES -

All fourteen of you excellent Scribes have grown into a family as you led The Realm like there was no tomorrow. Each of you embody all the characteristics that Andy imagined his campers would have one day. Next year on staff, you will change your campers' lives, and your campers will change your lives just like how each of you changed mine. Never forget that your camp friends will be there for you until the end of time. Never forget to always be outside searching for the Big Dipper to feel back home in The Realm once again. Keep coming back! Thank you for the best summer of my life.

"Now we are Scribes '19, and we'll never leave. We wanna live like this forever in Andy's dream."

Gives Back Day

We celebrated Giving Back Day 2019 with Pam Landwirth, president and CEO of Give Kids The World [GKTW]

This amazing 86-acre non-profit resort in Central Florida provides children with life-threatening illnesses and their families with an unforgettable experience together away from hospitals and treatments, and so far has impacted the lives of more than 175,000 families.

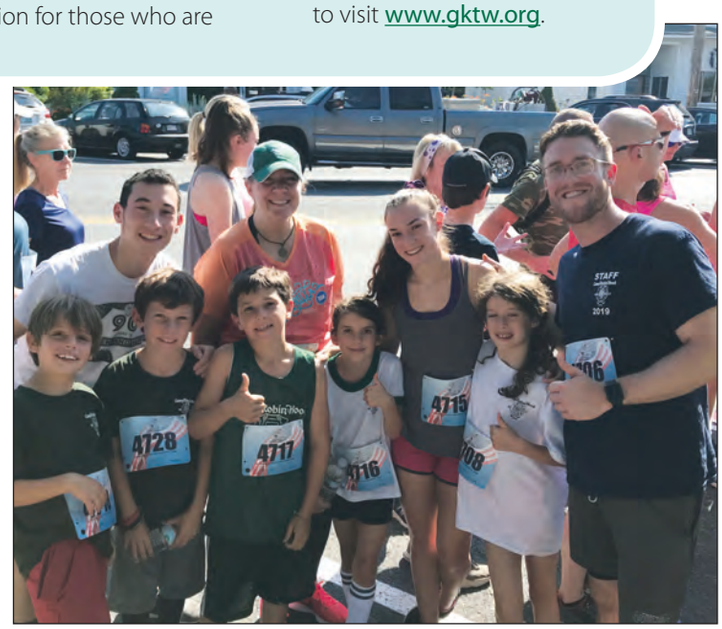

Pam began her visit by having dinner with the Scribes, where she got to know each camper individually and speak with them about exploring their passion. The next morning, the Scribes accompanied Pam to Story Land, where they had the opportunity to meet and engage with nine families from New Hampshire and Maine who had been served by GKTW. This was a very impactful experience, as the Scribes had the chance to hear their stories and learn about the impact the resort had on their lives. The Scribes each partnered with all the children and enjoyed time together on the rides at the park, which is one of 16 parks around the U.S. that are participating in the Coasting For Kids fundraiser for GKTW.

Back at camp, Pam spoke with campers about finding their passion and using their talents to help others. She challenged each of them to identify three things they excel at, and think about how they can use those skills to give back and help others. Throughout the afternoon, campers made beaded friendship bracelets and wrote notes to the families for Pam to take back to the Village. Everyone then joined together for the Color Run as a fundraiser for GKTW.

From start to finish, this year's Giving Back Day was an extraordinary, very meaningful opportunity for campers and staff to gain perspective on what is important in life, have empathy and compassion for those who are experiencing challenges, and remember how important it is to be kind and help others. We are grateful to Pam for making the day so memorable, and encourage anyone interested in learning more about GKTW to visit www.gktw.org.

SPECIAL AWARD

GIRLS CAMP MASTER TROPHY

This year we introduced a new and improved trophy on awards night – the girls camp "Master Camper" trophy – which was crafted to match the Boys camp "Big Cup". We were honored to be able to name the award in memory of former directors John and Joan Klein. John and Joan dedicated many years of their lives to The Realm. It was under their stewardship that Camp Robin Hood began the Robin Hood Sports for Girls Program. We are proud to say that the girls program took off quickly, was a tremendous addition to Robin Hood, and now boasts enrollment equal to if not greater than the boys division. The award was presented to the Klein's daughter Leslie who graciously accepted on behalf of her four sisters and their families. CRH Owner/Director David Solomon gave a speech to our campers and staff highlighting the tenure of John and Joan and explaining the risk that they took by expanding camp and starting the girls program. This decision was not taken lightly and initially many people were not in favor of this change but as it turned out it was one of the best single decisions that our camp ever made.

> Thank you John and Joan – Your legacy will live on for many years to come and is now permanently memorialized by this beautiful trophy.

All These Things That I've Done

White has nowhere else to run
Sorry legion your time is done
Our team's fun
Cause we raged all war
We're Green to the core
Read the score

Green keeps the hype up, White is just too slow
Judges you know that the rage runs this show
Rage keeps shining, captains in command
We like the lake but to be honest
we're better on land

Another night break, chalk the meeting
The break was fire, now Green is sweeping
We're so much stronger than the White can take Rage is perfection, no objection

Yeah yeah yeah yeah White needs help yeah you know that White has no way out
Sorry legion life isn't fair
Yensi, we like our steaks cooked rare

We watched the White as they came undone
We chugged some bulls to get this done
These captains are Andy's dream
The other three ran out of steam

Yeah we know that Maren has the clout
Yeah Burgess and Sobel go all out
We know you wanted the Green
We're supreme
Yeah you know you're in the rage town
Yeah can't you see the White down
Yeah legion brings themselves down

Five long days but rage just got stronger
We're not done yet green could go longer

Five long days but rage just got stronger
We're not done yet Green could go longer

Five long days but rage just got stronger
We're not done yet Green could go longer

Five long days but rage just got stronger
We're not done yet Green could go longer

Five long days but rage just got stronger
We're not done yet Green could go longer

wildly scream while Barbara and Linley jam

Yeah this team's a true rage
FYAs less than minimum wage
Yeah you know the judges can't deny
Yeah the White will give you pink eye

Yeah you know that Green is on top
Yeah the rage only writes bops
Meredith came back to The Realm
Wish she was still here to see the White get overwhelmed

All along it was clear to all of us
The White got lost, Green just raged on
And now this war has been won

YMCA

Sorry! You know your team's going down
We said legion! Pick yourself off the ground
Come on Swoody! SDT can't rage now
Because our team won't get shut down!

White team, there's no place you can go
We said Green team, we know cook out's a no
Yeah legion we're sure you will find
That Evin's ba-be-sitting tonight!
ROLL TIDE ROLL TIDE ROLL

This war belongs to the r-a-g-e
You can't mess with this family

We have everything, so it's White we'll destroy
We've got Maren and our two boys

It's fun to be on the r-a-g-e
White's attempt was a tragedy

Rybo doesn't look clean, will there be a night 5?
Jeff came here to save some lives!

Green Rage, yeah we cancelled the White
And we're sorry, but you put up no fight
We miss Ricky, but The Realm is alright
Woody how's your solo summer?

Sobel, rockin' life in D3
We got Burgess, spilling the British tea
And there's Maren, getting a business degree
We know White's a bunch of groupies
You know you wish you were r-a-g-e
Watch the White sit there anxiously

White are you listening, legion is a boof name
Rage will put the White to shame

We have the best of 2-0-1-5
Our 3 will beat all of yours tonight

Infirm our food is yours
The tower fell on the floor
We want veggie options galore

The war has gone to the R-A-G-E
Watch us claim this victory
Green has come out on top
Yeah the rage doesn't stop
WE HAVE WON THE WAR TONIGHT

Supermarket Flowers

Look around, grab a hand, take in this moment
Because you'll only have so many more
Remember sunsets over Lake Ossipee
Let's stay here where we know we are free

Our songs and our voices start to disappear
Months ahead without you seem so unclear
Cherish these memories that someday will fade
There's a tear every time that we blink

Our hearts in pieces it's tearing us up and we know
We can't hear reveille as the cold winter winds blow

Slow down the time
All we wish to do is go back and rewind
The bond we hold so tight the Green and the White
Something doesn't feel right
Suddenly we're back home
Far away, now we feel so alone

Many years, we've been here, more are coming
Welcoming new friends along the way
We didn't realize that someday would they be Joining a family of judges here to stay

[SCRIBE/SAXON/STAFF] So will we be back next year?
The real world's calling us, it's our greatest fear

[CAMPERS] Please stay and watch us grow
You make this place home

[SCRIBE/SAXON/STAFF] Robin Hood
heart and soul
But we're forced to let go
Reality sets in and we're gone

Slow down the time
All we wish to do is go back and rewind
The bond we hold so tight the Green and the White
Something finally feels right
Now we're truly at home
Now we know that we're never alone

Centerfold

Let's go!

[Senior Camp] Did we win?
[Junior camp] Yes we did!
We'll go down in history
We picked the bean, the better team,
A legion came to be
We came we saw we conquered
Green rage could not compete
The legacy of the Green team will soon be obsolete

Years go by
Our army always has each others backs
We march as one united front
The Green spirit is WHACK!

We've got the magic in the trees
Listen up, it's Andy's dream
We'll break the curse of the Woodsteins
Woody stays a cookout fiend

We have more heart
Our band of brothers will never part
[nah nah nah nah nah]
We'll take our steaks a la carte

On the field and in the lake
We're on fire like the break
The summers lit, babies and tics
What is the green team? CANCELLED?
Green is shaking in their shoes
Judges have you heard the news
We have the 3 who can't be beat
Ev, rybo and swoody

Our legions cut through rage
A force that can't be stopped
And when this war is over
The white will be on top

We've got the magic in the trees
Listen up, it's Andy's dream
Heart and soul you've never seen
unstoppable machine

We have more heart
Our band of brothers will never part
[nah nah nah nah nah]
This war's been over from the start

L-E-G-I-O-N
Read the score, this is the end
L-E-G-I-O-N
Read the score, this is the end
Nah nah nah nah nah nah nah nah

Sobel likes to think he's hot
He's D3, he has no shot
They shouldn't even start to brag
Chris just got his three-year flag
Our family just could not resist
We got the better Butler sis
We picked the bean and it was fate
Mare cannot negotiate

We've got the magic in the trees
Listen up, it's Andy's dream
Heart and soul you've never seen
Unstoppable machine
We have more heart
Our band of brothers will never part
Everybody start

John and Joan
Because of you our story gets told walking through your footsteps
let's our memories unfold

One family
We come together to fight the Green
Our teams in perfect harmony
A bond that can't be beat

This is our war
It's never been like this before legion 'til forevermore
Victory is ours

Come On Feel The Noize

Legion took the war!
Knocked Green to the floor
We're on fire, fire fire,
You look tired, tired, tired

So you thought that you could scream and shout
And break the legion down
That's just a grumpy face
You've never seen real rage

An army stronger than the Roman kind
Ceaser's pretty jealous
Of the White, White, White
When our L's unite

Legion can't be beat
Swim meet to cracker eat
We're the clear fun team
Rage is an emo theme

Fighting for our lives
Together, we will rise
Until we can't go higher
A force like Chuck & Briar

Rage is rattled, rage is going insane
You're voice sounds funny
No need to cry cry cry
Burgers are fine fine fine
Ev and Swoody rule in SDT
Green don't worry
Rybo brings BDE
Big day energy

Judges know the score
Legion gave it more
We fought valiantly
Can't break this family

Legion took the war!
Knocked Green to the floor
It's been a landslide
With Andy by our side

Legion took the war
Canes hit the floor
Because White White White
Won this fight

A Thousand Years

Day breaks slow
Reveille tells us so
History's here written on walls that we call –

Heart and soul
Remember we're not alone
Think of the past
See how we made the memories –

Last night here
Chuck don't you shed a tear
Frozen in time
Ever within our hearts and minds

Cant explain it

John and Joan every day worked towards this Judges don't be afraid we will hold this as if Andy's here
[JC] Hold it for a hundred more

At ease please
Mindful of all we need
We will not leave
As long as we sing it lives we breathe it in Standing on Andy's dream
Every tree sewing the seeds of his story

Sunsets fading

John and Joan every day worked towards this Judges don't be afraid we will hold this as if
Andy's here
[JC] Wish that we knew Andy more

Meredith came to us searching for you
Andy it's plain to see she was home
And for a moment there she was far from strife and care

Forests of These N'Those we adore you
Thankful for moms and pops we assure you
It's a camp career that's made us shed a thousand tears
We hope to share a thousand more

GREEN & WHITE 2019

Green 3,643/ White 3,754
Margin 111 W

It's Monday July 29. Groups are gathering at the flagpole for the normal ritual of flag raising, when two camp vans, bedecked in green and white and horns blaring, stop by the quad. Out jump the TPJs and Scouts in hats and canes to fool everyone with the first of many fake breaks to occur today.

BY THE TIME THE FOUNDER'S DAY BANQUET ROLLED AROUND, all were getting anxious for the real break to come along. So as we gathered in the theatre for the tradition ceremony there was a tangible tension in the air – eyes and ears were scrutinizing every sight and sound. We had the pleasure of welcoming Meredith Friedman, Andy Friedman's granddaughter back to The Realm as we recognized Founder's Day. She spoke to our campers about what camp was like when she was a child and how her family helped plant trees after the big fire. They hung on every word and this definitely added to the anticipation of the evening. As campers presented their gifts to camp we gave Meredith some gifts including a blanket. As she opened the blanket it revealed "Green & White 2019" and the crowd went wild. This of course was a fake break by the brass and the tension rose as we knew Green & White was inevitable.

Groups were dismissed to their cabins for the night, and the staff gathered in the dining hall for the weekly staff meeting.

THEN…at around 9:45pm…a rising crescendo of music was heard. And dotted around camp, performers began individual light shows. As campers poured out of the cabins, these performers converged on the quad and led their followers out to the far field to witness an amazing show of synchronised fire dancing. It was a spectacular display – with mesmerizing routines leaving us all spellbound. As the show ended, Green & White lanterns were seen emerging from the woods, carried by masked figures, who led the crowd back to the theatre, where they revealed themselves as our visiting judges. The curtains then parted to show Woody and the rest of the 'brass', resplendent in their Green & White regalia.
Green & White 2019 HAD BEGUN!

In Woody's first summer as sole director, it was decided that from now on Green & White would be led by six captains. He duly stepped up to announce that the following worthy people would lead camp for the next 5 days: Maren Butler, Evin Rothschild and Sarah Woodstein form the girls' side; and Ryan Bolman, Chris Burgess and Ben Sobel from the boys'.

The jelly beans determined that Chris, Maren and Ben would lead the Green; while Ryan, Evin and Sarah would lead the White.

And so the games began…

With 1,300 points up for grabs on Day One, it was a full-on day of activities. The weather was perfect, and we witnessed some amazing sport, with close games and plenty of determination and endeavour. After dinner the staff showed their mettle in two great softball games. The day ended with White ahead by 105.
GREEN 615 | WHITE 720

We woke up on Day Two to a beautiful sunny morning – perfect for the Swim Meet. There were plenty of tight finishes, one or two moments of controversy, and some outstanding individual performances, which all contributed to an exciting event. White proved to have the better swimmers, taking the meet by 32 points [361-393].

Green knew they needed a big afternoon to claw their way back into contention, and they fought gallantly to close the gap to 97 points. GREEN 1,481 | WHITE 1,578

Day Three, and the morning Track Meet gave the runners, jumpers and throwers a chance to shine. We introduced some new events, namely Bocce Toss, Frisbee Throw, and Tire Roll for Junior Camp, Middle Camp and Senior Camp respectively, which were all well received. After the dust had settled, White again came out on top, by 43 points [502-545].

With fewer activities in the afternoon due to the traditional rest day, Green was determined to fight hard to keep in touch, and managed to chew away at White's lead, ending the day just 75 behind.
GREEN 2,348 | WHITE 2,423

Day Four saw an early wake-up for our staff soccer players. It looks like we may have started a new tradition of 7am Staff Soccer! Two hard fought games evened themselves out with Green taking the mens' game and White the womens'.

We were back to the lake for the Senior Camp Regatta with Green dominant, finishing 137-98. A full afternoon of activity was followed by each team presenting their respective flags, which will hang proudly in the theatre for the foreseeable future. The Green Rage and the White Legion presented spectacular flags with the traditional pageantry and precision.

Day Four also heralded Talent Night. Both teams put on great displays of acting, dancing and singing. It is always impressive how campers can put in dedicated amounts of hard work, despite the numerous other distractions during Color War, in order to produce the quality that we witnessed in the theatre.

So, a busy day ended with White stretching their lead slightly, to 126 points. GREEN 2,970 | WHITE 3,096

A full morning of activities, was followed by the traditional Day Five afternoon events – The Giant Relay, The Rope Burn and Tug of War. White edged a close Giant Relay, and also prevailed in an exciting Rope Burn. So Green knew that to stay in contention they would need to dominate the Tug of War, and that is how it turned out – Green winning by a total of 260-120.

At dinner, we honoured John and Joan Klein, pioneers of Girls' Camp; and dedicated a new Girl's Camp Master Camper trophy in their memory. We were also delighted and privileged to welcome their daughter Lesley as a Guest of Honor. This was followed by heartfelt speeches from our six Counselor Captains.

And so to the final event – Song Night. With a record number of over 70 Judges on the stage, they were treated to another spirited display of singing from both teams. Both teams sang their hearts out. The white team won the points for their Alma Mater, the last judged event of the war.

Special guest, Leslie Klein was invited on stage to read the final score:
GREEN 3,643 | WHITE 3,745 A margin of 111 to the WHITE!

And so ended a hard-fought, spirited and close color war. Our six captains led their teams with dedication and commitment – determined to make the event as memorable as they could for their respective teams. They are to be congratulated, and we welcome them to the unique band of men and women who make up our Most Honorable Judges.
