YEARBOOK

Camp Robin Hood
19 27

As I sit at my desk here at The Realm writing this letter on a crisp fall day, I am blown away by the trees turning many colors all around me. It leads me to think of the stories these trees could tell. What started as one man's dream in 1927 has evolved into a reality for thousands of kids. If these trees could talk, they'd tell stories of young men coming together each summer to escape the urban heat while enjoying what fresh air and open space can do for a city kid. They would speak of the generations who came to camp to escape the turmoil of a world war or the terror of a global polio outbreak. They would speak of the joys of young men arriving to camp in 1948, just a few months after fire engulfed The Realm, but after many great men had rebuilt it by opening day. Andy's letter in that summer's yearbook describes boys running from their cars upon arrival and rejoicing in the smell of the pine trees. Some four decades later girls joined the ranks and became a permanent fixture.

Which leads us to the story later generations will tell about the summer of 2020. A tale of a band of merry ladies and gentlemen who came together to accomplish what most people would not dare to try. Staff members who did whatever it took to make sure The Realm's legacy would live on. 308 children who did the work before camp to arrive healthy and ready to happily follow seemingly impossible protocols. All so everyone could continue to enjoy The Realm.

I will remember sitting at this desk and listening to laughter and joy every day of this summer. The view I shared with the trees, of kids inundating The Realm with spirit and energy. The moment Doc Arash announced on Day 6 that the masks could come off. July 4th, Beach Day, graduations, belatedly celebrated Halloween, best Green & White Color War break ever…

This yearbook is therefore dedicated to the true protectors of The Realm: Andy, Drew, John, and Joan, who looked out over us all summer long; to Chuck, who is a living bridge to those founders; and to the parents, who trusted us and supported our every move.

As promised, the summer of 2020 is one none of us will forget. People will talk about what we accomplished together for an eternity.

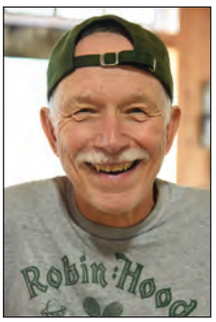

Love always,

Woody

tinkers! pagers!

Please get out of your assigned bathrooms and showers, head back to your cohort areas, take your masks off, and strap in for a recap of this extremely unique summer. I promise, if you read through this whole thing, we'll have a dance party before bed. If you don't, no flashlight time! Don't worry, Juju, Henry will read this to you.

Okay…time to dive, or belly flop, or cannon ball, or 360 off of the tower and into the memories we made this summer. This summer would not have been the same if we hadn't started off with a bang: Senior Waterfront as our first EA. Senior Waterfront could never get old…and neither could early morning fishing with Rick! Nothing like reeling 'em in instead of waking your counselors up before reveille to start the day. Remember when we went tubing for the first time? Hutch was our first victim of a spicy ride, Jack submarined his tube, and, from then on, we couldn't get enough. "Ricky, when are we going tubing? Can I go tubing? Please, Ricky!" said every single T.P. We were in the water for probably half of the summer, and if we weren't, then we sure were asking for water periods. Remember our first archery period? Bullseyes only, boys. Then we totally got all of the candy canteens that Steve promised us. And who could forget our paper airplane competition at crafts? Erin certainly can't.

You boys really know how to put paper, tape, and markers to work. Remember when we read the 'bee for the first time? Some of you read the trajectory of the frisbee better than your own letters. The junior camp basketball court was quickly dominated by Walker and his ability to get buckets…#fettywetty. Our first day would not have been complete without seeing Steve Rupp at the range. We scoped up, tried not to let the rifle stands fall, and shot down a crazy amount of tennis balls. Remember beating the Jugglers in most sports? Too hype. We spent a lot of afternoons with three straight water periods. From sailing and capsizing with Jackson to swarming Ricky and getting absolutely launched, we would give anything to get back in the lake.

At meals, we most definitely loved staying inside the tent and sitting down when we were supposed to…and how could we forget about Chuck telling us to say Grace, and Jake saying "Grace!" Zac sleepwalking to Henry's area was another Radvinsky highlight. Remember that one period where Sam was just posted up in a kayak? We never could get to his level of chill. Soon enough, we all became pirates on the peddleboats. And how could we forget baseball with Peter Corbin? Alex's walk-off homer for the win against the Jugglers was crazy. We, the T.P.'s, stayed undefeated, beating the Scribes in bombardment and the Jesters in gaga. Unfortunately, the T.P. humor was not as undefeated…at least when you were trying to be funny. Julian and Walker were the only ones who managed to make the counselors laugh with spontaneous giggles and a fake bee sting respectively.

Remember how spoiled you were during the first GL day-off? The Beaty Balls, Jet-ski jumps, and a scavenger hunt ending in our first candy canteen! Our tubing period with DJ Wood might have been the craziest with Ricky getting yeeted off the tube and campers flying in the boat.

Arts and Crafts stayed fun with our first tie-dye period, and we quickly got serious with our debate about what day starts the week. Sunday? Monday? Who knows? But then we were able to relax in the hot tub at Senior Waterfront…Then we met our Saxon Big Brothers and could not stop annoying them. With those Saxons, we got our first taste of Green & White. The least honorables, Ricky and Peter, did a great job judging an incredible mini war with a win for the Green. After that, we thought we could dance, and killed it to the tune of classic Smash Mouth bangers. Then we got some Christmas spirit in the summer, watching your favorite movie, Elf, in Woody's cottage. To become better campers as soon as possible, we learned some fun facts about our Saxons and were taught some important Boys Camp traditions at the ODT campfire. Remember when Jake said "remember when" every single time? After many Walker on Walker nighttime conversations, we said goodbye to the bushiest kid on camp, Hutch Walker, taking us into the second session of camp 12 strong.

How could I forget our nightly dance parties? Yes, fine, I can play Hamilton. Without all that practice we wouldn't have killed it in our Junior Camp Talent Show performance. Calvin's crazy lip syncing skills lead the charge. Before we knew it, we were in the depths of Green & White. With Peter gone, we became the TPJs, led by our four young Captains and Co's. Starting off with an intense 9 Square period with Ricky present, we set the tone for an incredible war. My condolences to those members of the Green Demons, and congrats again to my boys on the White Galaxy. With color war over, we were finally in the End Game. Haha, get it? Cause we spent the last two nights of camp watching Avengers: End Game. Isn't your group leader hilarious? While I was writing that previous question, I realized you guys were probably pretty excited to have Scribe GL Kendall Brown for GL Swap Day. A little break from Papa Rick must have been nice, and just like I did, she fell in love with you little dudes.

TPs

Colin Bea – It would've been easy just to stick by your home friend's side for the entire summer, but you branched out into activities outside of your comfort zone like a seasoned camp veteran. No matter the activity the group was at, you always made sure not to waste a minute and give your all wherever we ended up. Keep coming back to camp – this group needs you more than you know.

Ali Callahan – From the first few days of the summer you fit right into the group and continued to establish your role for the rest of the season becoming more of a leader towards the end of your stay. You have a lot of passion for sports and made your extreme athleticism apparent to the rest of the group. You're definitely better than me at basketball. I hope to see you next summer.

Walker Dorfman – You were thrown into a completely new environment days before camp opened , but it was absolutely a joy to see you come into your own over the course of the summer. You're a fierce athlete and competitor, but you're not afraid to be goofy every once in a while too, and that blend of traits will take you far in life. I'd love nothing more than for you to stay at Robin Hood, but if you have to return to your previous camp, I know you'll thrive there just as you did here.

Sam Evans – Throughout the summer, you have proven to be a strong athlete, a funny guy to chat with, and a chill, independent person. You showed the rest of the group your passion and skills in soccer, dominating the field when we played full games. You made my summer better and I hope that we all did the same for you.

Jack Grossman – During your time at camp, you have proven to be a strong athlete, good sport, and a great friend. I've seen you not only become a better athlete but also a bigger part of the group, and even become a co-captain for color war. For a first year at camp, you certainly made the most of it and I hope you come back for another great summer next year.

Drew Hoglund – You came to camp with more knowledge about camp than most of the other kids in the group did, as it was your second year in The Realm. In sharing your knowledge with the other campers, you quickly became an obvious leader in the group, in addition to making friends outside the group. You seem very comfortable at camp and it seems like a place you will keep coming for a long time.

Harrison Klassman – For your first week at camp, similar to everyone else, you had your doubts that this was the place for you. But you quickly found activities you truly enjoyed and ended up having an amazing summer. Even when the activity wasn't your favorite, you proved your maturity to us by trying your best and enjoying the time to play with your friends. You always had a smile on your face and were kind to everyone. I hope to see you again next summer.

Julian Klassman – Juju! It's safe to say you were a bit of a camp character this year, and that was definitely for a reason. Your energy, laugh, and smile are infectious, and I'm beyond happy you chose to share them with us for two more weeks than you were originally scheduled to. I can't wait to see you come back and take The Realm by storm in the coming years.

Jake Radvinsky – Coming to camp at six is no easy feat, but you took the adjustment in stride and made the most of your time here. Your competitive streak is fierce to say the least, and it was a joy to watch you put it into work during Green & White. Keep coming back; camp has so much more to offer you in the future.

Zachary Radvinsky – I believe I am correct when I say that you really found your place at camp. You were a good friend to many, a very good athlete on the field and an even funnier personality, never failing to get a smile or a laugh out of people around you. You grew to become a leader in the group and it'd be great to see you back next summer.

Alex Snyder – I don't know if I've ever met a more level-headed and aware kid your age than you. Camp is in your blood, and it truly shows in your knowledge of all things camp. You're a leader in the group, and that was definitely exhibited in your peers voting for you to lead them in Green & White. Stay just as you are, and you have some exciting summers ahead.

Calvin Van Horn – While it may seem like the dream scenario from the outside, coming to camp with a parent isn't as easy as one might imagine, but watching you go from missing home in the first week to wreaking havoc with your new closest friends by the end of the summer was nothing short of inspirational. You bring so much joy and energy into the group, and I can't wait to see you grow here in the future.

Hutch Walker – Ever since our call before you got here, I knew you were going to have a great first summer at camp. The group was very sad to see you go early, but it was incredible to watch you come into your own by the end of the three weeks, whether it be at riflery or sharing your toys around the bunk. Keep being the kind, energetic, smart person that you are.

Henry and Jackson – I cannot thank you guys enough for the work you did this summer both for me and for the kids. Whether it was handing out towels or getting up for temperature checks, you guys did everything with no complaints. It was an honor to be your GL for your first year on staff, and I am excited to see you both thrive here in the future. Love you, boys.

tinkers and pagers

I can truly say I had an incredible summer with you all. I am forever grateful to your parents for sending you my way and ensuring the future of camp. I know Henry, Jackson, and I will miss those early mornings, the absurd amount of time it takes you guys to get from place to place, and, most of all, your magic cards. Have a great year, thank your parents, and keep coming back to Robin Hood. Like the Saxons said in their speeches, you are the future.

JUGGLERS!

Please put down the Topps cards, stop spraying the bug spray, and get on the benches because we have SENIOR WATERFRONT!!!! In all seriousness, please take a break from your busy home lives so that we can look back and remember the great COVID summer we had together.

The first day came slow but it went fast! Day 1 was filled with everything from camp drop offs to quick Corona tests. And don't forget about when Xander almost beat ALL of the Tp's in gaga, or when we got a nice sweat going as we got our bearings around camp.

Day 2 we picked up right where we left off. After a long night of listening to Jacobs bed creak, the day started quickly. I will never forget when I woke up to Xander spraying me in the face with water so I hope you guys don't either. After that, it was a day filled with more water as we played around on the paddle boards and had a great first senior waterfront. Remember when we hung up the mini basketball hoop. Even if it did not workout it provided some fun for those twenty minutes.

Throughout the first few days after that, the fun did not stop. DO you remember the hilarious and wildly appropriate mad libs, or the bumper cars with the peddleboats, or when the lightning ruined our rainy gaga activity? What about when we beat the TP's in gaga or the awesome tubing period we had when Quique flew on the tube? It became a pattern this summer that the Jugglers were great riflemen but do you remember the first time we realized we were sharpshooters? The memories continued to be made as we got closer to the final round of corona tests. Do you remember Jacob's noble sacrifice in our first camper hunt game. What about when we stopped to play football on the quad and Buster had some insane one handed catches. Don't forget about Xander's flip off the rave, our cotton candy feast dedicated to Julian's bravery, looking at pictures of when I was a baby, Adam jumping off the kayak, or when Jacob spotted Chuck without his mask! Do you remember when we found a sea snake??

Finally, the day came when we all took the Corona tests. Although it was hard, I am very proud of how brave all of you were, especially Adam! The day was filled with other victories too like when we beat the scribes in dodgeball or when we beat the TP's in capture the flag. Do you remember family feud and when I got rocked on the tube. What about when the TPJ's had the CLEANEST bunk in camp.

Hey Jugglers, MASKS OFF. Remember when we were all negative and we celebrated with fair food, ring pops, water slides, jousting sticks, a giant dance party, the staff talent show, and a whipped cream bonanza?! Although it was too cold to go in the water at senior waterfront we did beat the Jesters in gaga.

The excitement did not stop there! Once again you showed off your riflery skills as Irv shot down two tennis balls in one period. Do you remember when Julian made the counselors laugh, or when we had a legendary water gun fight while searching for oysters? What about when Peter and Ricky made some questionable decisions with their facial hair…Remember when the Jugglers showed off their athleticism first with our win against the TP's in baseball and then when Cole called his shot!! Babe Ruth style. I'm sure you remember when Peter dunked…

Remember when we had our first lazy sunday and when we had a great tubing period and when Owen got over his fear of tubing? Although sunday dessert was a little disappointing, Sam, Henry, and Jackson made a great scavenger hunt that ended in…CANDY CANTEEN?! Remember when everyone in the group wanted to stay 5 weeks, when Irv taught some of us his own language, and when we all took a break to get our mommy checks? Remember our Saxon aids, when Noah Grossman threw kids off the Rave during our all water afternoon. The day ended with infection but not before we started to learn our dance!

We got our Saxon buddies and we had fun hanging out with them. Remember when Cole pulled everyone onto the Rave, and when some of us tye dyed t-shirts while others watched Steve shoot the musket at riflery.

Do you remember mini Green & White? The Saxons broke it right after breakfast and we quickly picked teamed and got to work. We played gaga, dodgeball, spelling bee, and of course had a very intense game of basketball in the rain! Do you remember our super fast showers and when we perfected the dance with Jonas? Do you remember when Hutch hit the yellow target twice in a row and when we absolutely killed the dance? The TPJ's showed why we were the most talented group in camp. Remember when we watched Elf at Woody's house?

Remember when we played steal the bacon at the waterfront? It was a tough battle on both sides as we all fought hard. Remember when Cole asserted his dominance and trucked Drew? Drew took the hit well and got up with a huge smile on his face.

JUGGLERS

Irving Bruder – Although I know you did not love playing a lot of sports, your ability to fit in and try new things was inspiring. It took you a little bit to get used to the traditions and routines of Camp Robin Hood as you went to another camp before, but after you did, you took off. I can't believe I did not know what your smile looked like for five days, because after the mask came off, I can't remember a moment when you were not smiling. Your witty responses when I asked you what was up, were always highlights of my day and were proof of how smart you are. I really hope you keep coming back to camp because I truly believe your best days are still to come.

Cole Cuddeback – It was great to see you take a leadership role in the bunk this year as one of the few returning campers. The way you successfully lead your team as Green & White camper captain proved this even further. With your wisdom beyond your years, you are and will continue to be valuable to The Realm. Keep coming back.

Buster Heller – From the second you got here it was clear to me that you are a leader in this group. Your go with the flow attitude and constant positivity rubs off on your friends and creates a great group dynamic. I really hope you come back for longer next year because camp needs more people like you.

Adam Jablow – What's up Jabs! Ever since day one, it was clear that you were meant to be here. Your flexibility and go with the flow attitude uplifted the group and was greatly appreciated by the counselors. Known for always saying "This is sooo good," at meals, you always had a smile on your face. I know your family has had a long history at camp and I am so happy that you are able to continue that legacy. Keep being you and keep coming back because you need camp and more importantly camp needs you.

Jacob Josephson – Ever since you pulled up on day one, you brought the group an endless supply of energy and motivation. Your swimming improvement was inspiring, and seeing how easy you made friends with the rest of the group, even after we merged with the TP's, floored me. You are a great competitor and most importantly a great friend. I hope to see you here for years to come.

Owen Leichtling – Your energy and sense of humor added a lot of liveliness to the group which always made everything we did more exciting. I really appreciated how much you loved every second this summer. I really hope you come back next year because I think you need camp and camp needs you.

Xander Slayton – Although you were new, you fit into the group right away. Your maturity and overall respectfulness was clear from day one which I appreciated a lot throughout the summer. I hope you will be here for longer next summer so that you can take your place as an important part of the group.

Quique Zubillaga – As soon as I found out I was Juggler group leader I was so excited about being with you all day. Your smile and laugh is so contagious which is part of the reason for why people love being around you. Although you may not see it, you are a true leader in this group which is why it is so important for you to keep coming back. I hope one day you can truly appreciate how special you are because your counselors sure did this summer. I am looking forward to our occasional face times throughout the year, they are always highlights. Keep watching tick tock, keep hitting the gym, and most importantly, keep being yourself!

Sam Rosenthal – Thank you so much for all that you did this summer, I really could not have done it without you. You were always willing and happy to help wherever you were needed and it did not go unnoticed. It feels like yesterday that we were TPJ's together and I am so happy it has come full circle.

JUGGLERS

JUGGLERS!

After 10 summers in The Realm this has been my favorite and that is in large part to you. I have loved getting to know each and every one of you and I hope you will all be here for many summers to come, sooner than you know it you guys will be running this place.

SQUIRES

The first day set the bar for how the summer was going to be, from the great squeegee war to the newcomb JAAIIILLLBRREEEAAAKKSSS!!!

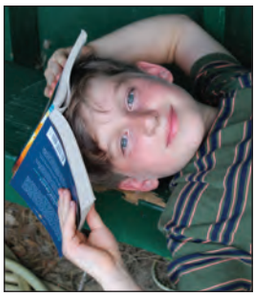

You guys always made the most fun out of anything that was put in front of you, even the four lap swim test that everyone passed.

Remember when we showed all the other groups our athletic prowess. We challenged and defeated the TPJs, Jesters, Bows, Quills, and who could forget about our epic battles with the Shires and King Julien's amazing offense as striker? Never forget to Kick Their Shins!!!! The raging war between the Squires and Shires continued to Bombardment, which we crushed in.

The next week brought great news when Woody announced our test results which all came back negative. Finally seeing all of your smiling faces after you put in so much hard work was so rewarding. If you guys take any lessons from that experience it would be that working hard will get you far in life. Leading to a great Fourth of July part two, also known as Fourth of Ju-seventeenth. All of you guys loved the carnival that the Saxons and Scribes put on, especially the big inflatable slides and the jousting arena. After the Squires dominated the other groups in jousting, Fuente established dominance over Adelman for the main event to claim the Walkie Talkie Championship. After, we headed down to the biggest beach bash I've ever seen - "Beach Beach Party!"

Who could forget the Briaritas and the amazing boardwalk which put the Ogunquit equivalent to shame? The all camp Gold Rush activity was a blast, and the Squires earned a ton of points that were spent entirely on ice cream and slap-bracelets. We even got swagged out in the hottest commodity, the super retro 2019 beach day sunglasses.

Remember Robin Hood "So You Think You Can Dance?" The Squires stole the show dancing to "Boyfriend" by Big Time Rush. Watching you all on stage gave me the biggest smile because I know a lot of you did not want to do it, but you still gave the fullest effort. It made me so proud! We easily had the best dance of the night and it was so cool to hear how loudly the camp was cheering you all on. Wrapping the night up in the best goodnight song I have ever heard, we sang it so loud and proud.

Remember Julien being a beast at soccer? Zach being a beast at basketball? You all amazed me with how competitive and athletic you are. Remember helping bring baseball back to The Realm? We played all afternoon and Adam turned a sweet double play. Remember playing 9 square every day for a week and loving it more and more each time? This led to the treacherous alliance known as the Fishy Bois dominating every 9 square game.

Who remembers Csus being the best fire bender outside the world of Avatar and building a better fire than Fuente? Those fajitas never tasted better especially after listening to the Mets get crushed and the churros that Chuck brought. The rest of the Squires showed their outdoorsy skills by building a massive teepee hut next to the JC jungle gym. This was further exemplified every morning at 6:00 am when you guys would fish with Rick Lowe. Not only did you guys have survival skills but espionage skills as well. Those Archers never knew what hit them after the great heist of carpet balls.

Remember the creation of the Magic Mansion? I've never seen a group love Magic the Gathering quite like you guys. Every spare moment was spent there playing those games. Remember Dungeons and Dragons with Will? It was so cool to see some of you fully embrace something and have fun with it. You really got into it with all of your characters.

SQUIRES

The days went on and we were forced to say goodbye to our three weekers – Rufus, Jack, Ale and Sebastian.

The rest of the group began to feel the hype for Green & White. Remember the break? Chuck's Celebration Night turned into David Dobrik and Natalie announcing the break capped off by an incredible fireworks display. Remember how loud it was in the barn that night? The next morning the war truly began. Congratulations to Ben and Zach for being elected captains as well as Max and Carter for being elected co-captains. It was such a pleasure for me to watch you all kill it in the 4 day war. Watching you play basketball, dodgeball, newcomb, and baseball renewed my appreciation for the competitive fire that exists in all of you. Also, it was really fun for me to see so many Squires on stage for talent night. Eli, Max, Carter, and Nate all brought it for the Junior Camp Skit, while Zach and Ben showed off your moves in the Junior Camp Dance. You guys competed hard all war and finally the White Galaxy narrowly defeated the Green Demons.

After Green & White the group came together as one family. Ty became a GL, and we were ready to live out our last few days of Summer 2020. We finished off the summer with some incredible activities. Who could forget the slip and slide evening activity, the Yeeeeaaaaaahhh off, Make Your Counselors Laugh, or searching for Sir Terrance in our Scavenger Hunt!

You guys got all you could out of camp for those last few days and I could not be more proud of each and every one of you. Finally though it was time to go home. It was so sad to watch you all go, but I know you all will carry on the memories of this summer forever.

Sam Blacksburg – I had the pleasure of watching you compete throughout the whole summer and I'm so proud of how you carried yourself on and off the field. You are a great camper. I can't wait to see you come back for many years.

Julien Ehrenkranz – You are one of the best Squire athletes this camp has ever seen and everyone took notice of that. It was so fun to see your spirit on the fields as well as your silly side back in the bunk.

Nate Gearhart-Robboy – You are a ball of energy and it was awesome to see you make a mark on The Realm with your spirit. Your yo-yo skills are also the stuff of legends. I've never seen anything like that before!

Gavin Horowitz – Your smile lights up any room you enter and it made me so happy to watch you always positively interacting with your groupmates. Your love for dogs could only be trumped by your love for magic. Can't wait to see you next summer keep coming back.

Max Jelin – You attack every activity with a fire that you normally don't see in Squires. I loved watching you become the best you throughout this summer. You will continue your family's long legacy here at CRH with pride.

Adam Kanter – You started off the summer a little quietly but it was such a pleasure to see you grow into a leadership role within the group. I had so much fun hanging out with you this summer.

Sebastian Kaye – Even though it was your first summer, the way you got along with the rest of the group made it seem like you have been here forever. I can't wait to see you come back for years to come.

Zach Levine – Everything you did, you did with a smile. You never complained once and that's a testament to how much of a positive influence you were to this group. It made me so proud to see you excel in everything you put your mind to from baseball to dance.

Alejandro Nuñez – Your bright smile always lit up my day. You were able to overcome your fear of horses and ended up loving riding. I'm so proud of how you learned to love camp and I hope that you keep coming back.

Caleb Pirok – Watching you grow as a person throughout the summer was truly a treat. You left such a positive energy wherever you went and it was clear that your group mates loved you for it. No one could rock a bathing suit like you could with your great sense of style.

David Porres – Big D! Your smile is infectious and whenever I talked to you it always ended with both of us on the floor laughing. Your spectacular dance moves never ceased to brighten our days, Keep being you.

SQUIRES

Eli Rosenstock – Seeing you on stage decked out in your orange nose as Olaf brought me so much joy. Your true love of all things CRH shines thru every day. Camp needs you so keep coming back.

Ben Snyder – It was so fun watching you establish your leadership role within the group. Everyone respects you and it's clear that you deserved your appointment as captain. It was awesome to see your love for your family and your group all summer.

Carter Susman – There is no one in camp with a bigger smile than you. I loved watching you take The Realm by storm all summer. It is clear to everyone that your CRH career has only started.

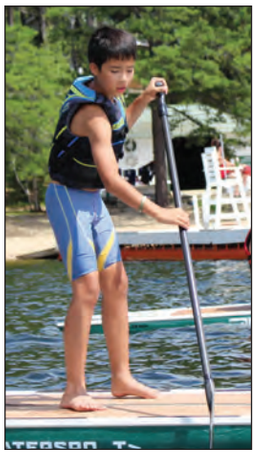

Grant Van Horn – You were always there to inject a positive vibe within the group. One of your big smiles always lit up the room and gave me strength throughout the days. Your tranquil vibes always brought calmness to the benches.

Rufus Walker – You came into your second summer with a level of energy that amazed me. You fit in really well with the rest of the group and everyone feeds off of your easy going nature. I know you will have a long successful CRH career.

Jack Wiggins – You are one of the nicest kids I've ever met. You are scholarly, there wasn't a time I didn't see you nose deep in a new book. Your genuine love for camp always shines through. You brought a sense of maturity to the group, Keep coming back – camp needs you!

To the staff – Thank you all for helping to make our summers the best that we have ever had. You all went above and beyond in your efforts to both engage with the campers and to fill their summers with happy memories. Whether it be Will's amusing sea shanties, Grayson's witty remarks, or Ty's smile, you guys all left a lasting mark on camp and were a joy to be with every day.

Squires of 2020 – Embrace and never forget a second of the fun times we shared together at The Realm this summer. Talk about it in your Saxon speeches and tell your groups when your GL'S one day…Remember there are NO friends like Camp friends!!!!

To the Squires

We could not ask for a more fun-loving and energetic group. You guys took The Realm by storm and left your marks everywhere you went, especially the Arts & Crafts shack. Not only did you teach Fuente and Adelman how to cook a perfect s'more, you always put a smile on our faces. Even though the cohorts separated the group for the first week, it was amazing to see you all bond and come closer when we all tested negative. We can't wait to see what you all will accomplish in your future summers at camp.

ARCHERS

LET'S ROCK AND ROLL!!!

There have been so many memories from this year that it has been incredibly hard to separate the best ones. I'm talking about pontoon boats, Fourth of July, Color Run, HALLOWEEN…the list goes on. My favorite camp memories almost always center around waterfront and ODT campfires, and we did both! I know each of you remember the time it rained during our first campfire. The clouds opened up, it started to downpour, and we had the tremendous idea to sprint back to the bunk…shirts off of course. That was the first moment where I saw each and every one of the new campers really come out of their shell and get a feel for what camp is all about…BROTHERHOOD, POSITIVITY, and most of all, FUN!

We've had many "remember when" moments this summer, but it is fair to say that the biggest one was starting our own baseball league!!! The ABL (Archer Baseball League) was a personal favorite of mine because I love the game and it really seemed to bring everyone together. Every time I picked up the schedule in the morning, all I would hear was…"DO WE HAVE BASEBALL?!!". It makes me so glad that you all were able to find a common interest in an activity.

Remember when James took that baseball to the eye during his first game? Who would have guessed that the youngest and newest member of the group would be so tough! As his black eye faded, so did his fear of what the summer had in store.

Remember when Stephan got caught in his bed? He LOVED to remove his own bed planks and stick various body parts in the space. One night in particular, Stephan felt it was of major importance for him to stick his leg straight through his bed post. Needless to say it did not end the way he envisioned.

Remember the muscles? (no I'm not talking about push-ups). You guys could not get enough of going down to the waterfront and searching the bottom of the docks for clams! In the end, Woody and the marine science division of the New Hampshire state government agreed that releasing the muscles back into the lake was in the best interest of Lake Ossipee.

Remember when we did our tribute to Akon! You boys worked so hard to learn the dance moves in such a small amount of time. Whether it was the music mashup, Cooper's solo, or the in-sync dance moves, I could not be more proud.

Remember Green & White!!! A handful of you guys had never experienced it and you all put everything you had out on the field, court, etc. This level of competition is not for everyone but you guys absolutely killed it.

Remember the PJ jump and lake shower? I'm still finding little bits of shampoo in my hair after that night.

Finally, remember the canoe trip? True bonding moments are hard to come by and that moment was truly special to me.

ARCHERS

Hudson Berger – Hey Hudson, "what's the Cubs score." In all seriousness, it was a blast being your counselor this summer. Our baseball talks rivaled those I've had with my best friends. You are a great friend and a core part of this group. Can't wait to see you back for many more years to come.

Marshall Brown – I am so happy that you decided to come to Robin Hood this year. You are without a doubt one of the funniest people that I know and joking around with you will be one of my fondest memories of this summer. I hope that you keep up with track, I want to see you in the Olympics in 2028.

Ian Carreiro – Your goofiness and love for camp stood true for the whole group. It was clear that you had a great time this summer and helped others have the same. I'm very excited to see you come back next year and stay the whole time because you are a very valuable member to the group.

Nathaniel Carreiro – Hey Nate! Killer summer my friend. I'll tell you what, I never had to worry about you when it came to sunscreen! Every time someone needed it, especially me, there you were. Thank you for all of the memories you helped the group make and I can't wait to have you back in The Realm next summer.

Landon Devine – Everything you did this summer you did it with a big smile and with 110% effort, and I couldn't be happier. You're a great athlete, solid friend, and you know how to be a leader. These are not easy qualities to have individually… and you have ALL THREE. Keep coming back buddy, you won't regret it.

Oskar Goshin – OG you're an icon. You are a wiz with garage band (thanks again for the help btw) and an overall great person and camper! All you have to do now is ditch that Brooklyn Durant jersey and we'll be in business! cough snake cough Awesome summer kid, Sigma Oda for life!

Tyler Grossman – Your leadership and love for Robin Hood never ceases to amaze me. Aside from your obsession for Boston sports, I loved watching you be a leader throughout the summer and give your best in every activity. Keep coming back because your group and camp needs you.

James Harber – The man, the myth, the legend himself. James, it is fair to say that you are one of the toughest kids I know after the summer you had. Who knew that a 70lb kid could tackle or be tackled as hard as you did. You loved to give it all you had no matter the activity and that is an awesome trait to have. I know it was not easy at times being on the younger side and having this be your first year, but you definitely made the most of it. Hope you catch a big tuna next time you are fishing with your dad!

Gus Hope – I was so happy to learn that you extended this summer. You were a blast to have around. You know how to be a loyal friend and groupmate. Continue to come back because you love it here and you bring so much to the group.

Jack Ilarado – I don't think I've seen a junior camper as positive and caring as you are. You take this personality trait with you to every activity and you know how to be an amazing friend. I am so excited to see you mature and become a great Saxon in the years to come.

Matthew Johnston – Matty Ice!! You brought an unparalleled level of energy to the group and always wanted to get the group active. You are extremely loyal to your friends, and will always be a valuable member of the group. Keep coming back – camp and your group need you!

Will Morrison – Will, "do you have emerald." You are one of the funniest campers I've met that still knows when it is time to be serious. That is what we loved about you. Your love for camp is as strong as anyone else's here and it makes you such a vital part of the group. I already know you will keep coming back, so don't waste a minute.

Luke Orlowski – Thank you for being a great sport and role model in every activity. Your compassion and care for camp set you apart from the group. The group needs campers like you who are always so positive and always listen. Keep coming back.

Mason Penner – Your athleticism and dedication for the group was unparalleled. I appreciated you stepping up to the plate as a leader in the ABL. You play an important role in your group and you bring so much heart to everything you do. Keep coming back.

Stefan Ruggles – I am extremely happy that you decided to come to camp for the first time despite the Coronavirus. I am proud of you for stepping out of your comfort zone and giving the camp experience your all. You were always brought up during remember whens for something hilarious you did that day. I am so glad that you had so much fun and I can't wait to have you back in The Realm next summer.

Eli Sapir – You truly came out of your shell here at camp. You found your place in the group and I was so proud of you receiving the most improved baseball award in camp. Really hoping you come back next year because this group of brothers loves you.

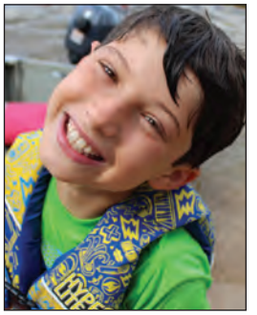

ARCHERS

Cooper Sobel – I loved watching you take over in activities with an absurd amount of energy. I don't think I've seen an 11 year old with as good ball skills as you. Needless to say, I hope you add to your families many great summers here at The Realm.

Jack Stern – You had an amazing summer. You were always there for your friends when they were feeling homesick or sad, and you never let them down. You are an amazing basketball player and always took any chance you had to work on your game. I look forward to having you at camp for many years to come. You are a great camper and a great friend.

Zachary Tirrell – What a summer you had! You are far and away the most independent and self-sufficient member of the group, and I have a lot of respect for how you always know what you want to do. You brought determination and energy to every activity. You will always have a spot here at Camp Robin Hood.

Robert Toroscik – Wait a minute…you were 10 years old this whole time?!! I'm shocked because of how mature you were throughout the the summer (for the most part wink). Your love for harvesting plants and feeding them to your pet caterpillar was inspiring. You had fun doing whatever activity we had and made the most of your time here. Rock on Robert!

STAFF

I couldn't have imagined a better staff than Doodle and Callum. Each of you had your own strengths that made leading the group so much easier and fun! Whether it was Gabe's instinctive ability to take the reins whenever necessary, or Callum's incredibly effective methods for keeping the kids from running around all night, you two always delivered. Some days were long but you guys never lost a step. I will be forever grateful to you for making the Summer of 2020 truly unforgettable.

ARCHERS 2020 for life!

Well Archers, what does Woody always say…it's never really goodbye. Each of you have formed emotional bonds over the summer that will never be broken. We had all kinds of experiences this summer, most were good, a few not so good, but in the end it's all about how you look back on them! For the good memories, we will never forget those awesome experiences and fond moments. However, if mistakes were ever made, we learn from them and become stronger and smarter because of it. I am so proud of what you all were able to accomplish as individuals and as a group. You were my 20 little brothers and I will never forget it. Archers 2020 for life!

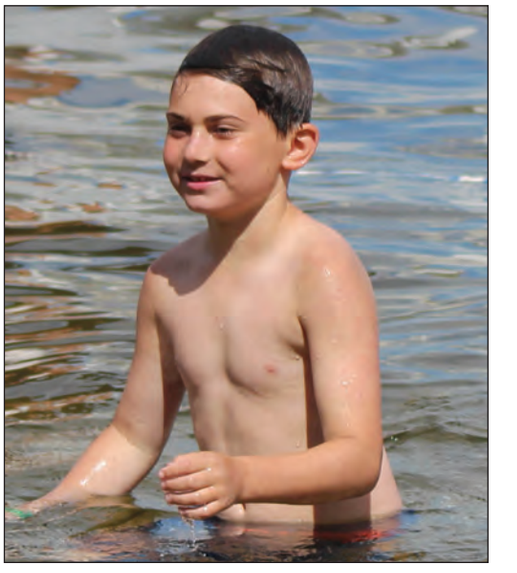

Remember opening day? Everyone a little hesitant about being back in The Realm, you couldn't see it on your faces, though, MASKS ON! Rain or shine? We can't tell, we don't care. First meal arrives, it's dinner, it's chaos. Remember Jesse the server king? Or the staff carrying blue trays with 15 plates of food? Remember summer 2020 starting? Beat West End? Not this summer. Ouch.

Remember when Lucas RKO'd the tube? And when France won the world cup? Sorry Max, that was 2018. Remember when the tidal wave took out the green cohort? Remember cohorts? Remember Freddy R leading the book group? Another night, another chapter. Until he went rogue, the book was too good to wait until bedtime. Remember when Colton's plank snapped? Or Max's one liner?

Remember territorial negotiations at Senior Waterfront? Or when Grover wondered if it was working? What was that she said at 9 square? The swim test includes back flips this summer. Uh oh. Remember Lucca on the tube? Or was it John Cena? Now you see me now you don't. Remember the group's lunchtime escapades. Is that a bug on the brink of death? Don't worry, Dr. Gavyn is on the scene to perform CPR. Remember when Luca yeeted John at football? The ball was down, Luca, relax. Remember when Lucas and Ian almost capsized? Remember the inflatable battle arena? Or Freddy's endeavor? Remember when Kag could speak? WE DON'T!

Remember The Fourth of July Seventeenth? Festivities were off to a start at the Casino. They boys go up huge at the Black Jack table…just to lose it all on an overly aggressive all in hand. No candy. Next was the dance party. Sike, the marriage boothe takes the spotlight. Root beers in hand, candy on the horizon, what could be more romantic? A beach party perhaps. A quick dip in the lake before transitioning to the slides on the home run diamond. Remember Noah vs. Grayson in the battle arena? Only one possible outcome, right? Back to the casino to hit the sport books? We wish. Instead it was time to hike to the far far field for…we're still not sure.

Remember when a bird blessed Joey at benches? Or when you guys absolutely killed the dance? Remember Sunday Sundaes? I mean sundae Mondays. Last try: Monday Sundaes. Remember grad night? Nobody walked from the Yeomen but we supported the grads like they were our own. Remember the archery expose'? Or when the Scouts were here? Remember when the entire Arrow group challenged eight of our boys? They couldn't handle the full lot of you.

Remember Freddy D's new look out of the water? Or when Freddy R capsized? Remember always playing Camper Hunt? Hiding on the basketball court proved to be the best spot on camp. Remember Grayson's heroic sacrifice? Or when there was a snake in the water?? GET OUT OF THE WATER!! Sssssssssss.

Remember Lake Ossipee beach day? Who needs Ogunquit? Not us. A flawless cleaning job sent us out early in the gold rush. Thousands of dollars, a few Briaritas later the Yeomen and Lancers played, tanned and swam at all of the water fronts most historic spots. Are those…ice cream sandwiches? Sign us up, or just erase the marking from our hands.

What about all of Steve's stories'? Anyone have a problem? Feel free to hit up Ian and his free therapy clinic. Call now, spots are filling quickly. Remember when Ryan couldn't handle Joey's pump fakes? Or Jesse's auto pilot? Sick Js Noah, thanks for staying, or you're welcome? Remember all the geese at SWF? Or Zane's land of the lemons?

Remember Lucid Dreams as roll call? The entire camp joined us in our Juice tribute. Remember the cookout at the outpost? Fajitas, nachos, smores and… eclairs? Yup. What an amazing night. Remember napping at gaga? Or tubing extra spicy? The boldest of you even went diablo. Remember when Freddy D got got? Or the JC talent show?

Remember when Freddy R nailed Kieran with a tennis ball? It's not counselor hunt Fred, relax. Remember the "beautiful" sunset? Remember when Joey explained Eagle ball? Emphasizing the importance of keeping the ball on our side of the fence. Next thing we know Joey throws the ball right over the fence. Remember Duck Duck Goose?

Remember Lucas hiding the ball at bombardment? How could you, Lucas? Remember Frosted Flake Santa? Christmas came early boys. Remember when Colin got locked in the LAX shack? Or Grover's stink bomb? Jesse? Is that you? Luca, do you want milk with your cereal? Remember Ian's tennis meltdown? Or Exploding Kittens? Remember FP? Or Coopers hat? A series of unfortunate events.

Remember David Dobrik crashing Chuck's big night? Best flog ever? I'm saying yes. Then to the soccer field for an incredible firework show. Are those visiting judges coming out of the woods? Nope, just the ones we have. It'll do. Green & White. Remember Cooper's failed softball strategy? I know Owen does. Remember Joey's haircut? Eew, right? Remember the tropical storm? Couldn't stop us, nothing stops Robin Hood. Remember White Galaxy's comeback? Joey's calling it the best ever. Remember all of you trying your hardest at every activity? What an unbelievable show of heart and determination. You were all amazing.

YEOMEN

Ian Allard-Neptune – Even though this was your first summer, you came into this group like you've been here for many. You bring so much to the group, especially as a leader. I hope to see you back for years to come.

Hudson Brown – As a returning camper, I had high expectations for you coming into this summer. You lived up to every single one of them. You bring an unmatched positive energy to the group. Never stop loving camp and busting some crazy moves.

Zachary Buman – You killed it this summer. I loved seeing you giving it your all at activities everyday. This group needs your competitive spirit. Keep coming back, and I know you'll keep doing great things as an important piece of the group.

Andrew Carnoy – I'm so glad you had such a good time this summer. You joined an already tight-knit group and cemented yourself as a key member of it. I know you'll keep having an amazing time as you return in the coming summers.

Frederick Degear – You could not have had a better introduction to The Realm. With your good natured humor, you always knew exactly how to lift the spirits of the group. Thanks for a great summer, and I hope we spend many more together.

Ryan De Jong – I loved watching you kill it this summer. Your positivity was always a welcome presence. You are an important piece in this group despite this being your first year. I know you'll love coming back for years to come.

Zane Fishman – You've already become such a major presence on camp in just a few short years. Everyone here loves you, and I can tell you love this place back. Thank you for an incredible summer.

Grayson Harber – Your infinite knowledge and impeccable cube rotating abilities aren't the only things going for you. Your smiling presence is contagious and your determination to succeed is unmatched. I know how much you like to apply stats to everything, so now it's my turn: the group is 100% better with you in it.

Grover Henderson – You have cemented yourself as a notable camp personality in just five weeks. We all know you for your wacky sense of humor and your ability to have fun with others. And I know I'm speaking for the group when I say we appreciate you for it.

Myles Hernandez – I'm so glad you had such a great time despite coming in from another camp. It's too bad we couldn't have spent the whole summer together, but I can't wait to see you return for longer next year.

Jasper Jackson – Camp needs more people like you. You are never afraid to speak your mind and are always looking to do the right thing. We wished you could have been with us for longer but we cherished the time we had with you.

Lucas Kaganovsky – You really came into your own this year. You established yourself as a clear leader of the group. The group followed your positive example, and we all had a better summer because of it.

Oscar Kolz – Thank you for really throwing yourself into this summer. You gave your full effort in every activity and made the most of your time here. I see you coming back for many years, only improving on this great summer.

Noah Martin – I was so happy when you decided to stay for the full summer. I knew you'd love Green & White, and I had a great time watching you compete to the best of your ability. Your newfound love for camp will only grow in the coming years.

Robert Milacci – I was so thrilled to be your counselor coming into this summer. Your reputation on camp is that of a leader and a great friend. You exceeded my high expectations. Thanks for a fantastic five weeks.

Luca Milite – I really watched you come into your own this summer. At first, you were pretty reserved and kept to yourself. But, over the course of a couple weeks you became one of the group's biggest personalities. Camp needs you back next year.

Owen Oliver – Even though you've been at camp for a few years, you welcomed all the new campers as if you were all old friends. Your inviting personality brightened everyone's summer including my own.

Colin Robinson – You made an impressive adjustment coming into camp this year. From the moment you arrived, you seemed like you'd been here before. This seamless transition made for a great summer that I hope you loved as much as I did.

YEOMEN

Frederick Rosenthal – I can tell you had an incredible summer. And, I know that you helped make everyone else's just as incredible. Everyone in the group cherished your presence, and I can't wait to see you back for many more years.

Lucca Serafino – You bring so much energy to this group. Everyday you were livening the group up to give it their all in each activity. Thank you for being an essential part of a great summer.

Maximillian Seuss – You are one of the funniest people I've ever met. Every time you cracked a joke, the entire group would roar with laughter. You made everyone's summer more enjoyable, and I can't thank you enough for that.

Gavyn Shephard – Even though I just met you at the beginning of this summer, it feels like I've known you for years. The group needs your personality to continue to thrive in the coming years. Keep coming back.

Colton Stratman – Nothing made me happier than seeing you leave everything on the field during our activities. Your athleticism and effort stood out amongst the group. I'm so glad we shared this great summer together.

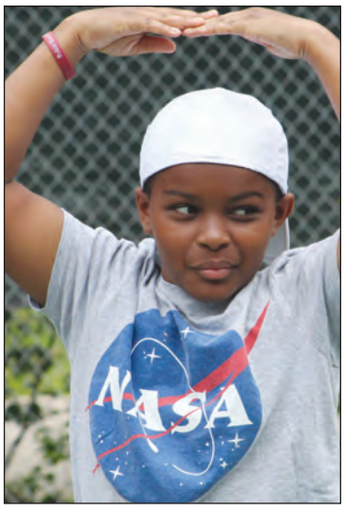

John Zaccaro – It's not just your good arm that makes you so special. Your unique sense of humor and ability to brighten up any room you walk into are what makes you an integral part of this group. I know not every activity is your favorite, but I hope you'll soon realize that being here is all that matters. I can't wait to see how you and Camp grow with each other.

Cooper and Jesse – You guys are amazing. I'm not sure two FYAs have ever been put in a tougher situation. You two balanced the job of a FYA and an AGL beautifully and allowed this summer to operate smoothly. Thank you for being by my side, truly, thank you. I love you both.

YEOMAN

I love you all so much. You made this summer one of favorites, and for that I am forever grateful. It's only a matter of time before you realize how much you all love each other, allowing you to truly unlock the power camp can have over a group. I can't wait to see you for five next summer.

What's Up Lancers?

Stop listening to that podcast,
stop doing your daily pushups,
stop singing Bloody Valentine.

It's time to relive a truly unforgettable summer.

Remember opening day? We have to wear masks and keep our distance, but not even that can stop us from being the loudest and most energetic group in camp. Twenty-eight strong, the Lancers dominate the summer from the beginning. Remember your poems during our scav-hunt on the first night? Playing in the rain on the top of the quad? The Lancers quickly make it clear that they will be a force to reckon with this summer.

Even after opening day, the fun keeps going. You guys absolutely devour those barbeque sandwiches and cookie cake on the waterfront for Jacksons's birthday – totally worth the stomach pain later. Remember Matt eating his fudgesicle? When Rick taught us how to play Rugby, and we all loved it? How about that double period flag football tournament? Jake makes a couple of truly ridiculous touchdown catches on his birthday to highlight a truly great period capped with candy canteen for the winning team. Remember having senior waterfront twice in one day? Remember eagle ball? The game hasn't been played at camp for a couple of summers, so you guys are hesitant at first, but our first eagle ball quickly turns into one of the best EA's of the summer. How bout our EA with Rick and Peter? The blindfold game inspires some hilarious moments and you guys come up with some truly brilliant all camp ideas during shark tank.

Remember the Fourth of Ju17th, and the Scraxons pulling off a great carnival? Some highlights of the day include drinking all that rootbeer, negotiating your way into as much candy as possible, and causing absolute chaos in the marriage booth. You guys definitely made the most of the day.

Over the course of the summer, the Lancers make it their mission to be the fittest group in camp and our daily pushups definitely help us get there. Brody you sure you've gotten enough in today? How bout when you guys became sick volleyball players? Many groups try to beat us but they can't. On our path to volleyball superiority the Lancers vanquish the Arrows AND the Saxons – impressive stuff boys.

Remember our family feud EA. Definitely not our best, but we are able to find some humor in Zubi's biased, but still totally accurate lists. Remember the Russian HQ at senior waterfront? Owen's half-field shot in soccer? The excitement continues as Melo becomes the Foresters No. 1 target. We protect melo with all we got, but we can't stop him from getting sandweeeeeched a couple of times. We'll do our best to prevent it next time. Remember Cooper and his shorts? Couldn't have said it better myself.

I think all of camp remembers our dance. The Kesha medley is a huge hit, and you guys absolutely killed it on stage. Safe to say the Lancers had the best dance of the night. In the lead up to Beach day, Lake Ossipee edition, the hilarity and good times keep coming. Remember the helmet heads at 9square – best strategy ever. When Sam ate the Jello for the first time? I know you'll never forget operation rink. Definitely one of the best moments of the summer.

An already amazing summer gets better with our in camp version of beach day. The morning starts off with an all-camp gold rush. The Lancers quickly jump out to a huge lead but the bank begins taking away money from us – we totally got robbed. Clearly the only course of action is to start a protest. We protest our way back to the top of the leaderboard and end the gold rush with one of the highest totals in camp. Armed with our cash from gold rush, the Lancers have a great beach day. It wasn't Ogunquit but it was still pretty great.

The three week mark comes and goes with the Lancers staying strong and not losing a single camper. Remember when Isaac's dad flew over camp? When we sang Bloody Valentine to Scott and got called for Sunday Sundaes? Remember our waterfront trick shots off of Chuck's dock? A bunch of you make one, but the highlight has to be Dery making three in one period! Are you serious kid!? Remember when Kerian was better than Cooper at basketball? Still pretty debatable.

Remember when Ratner broke the bench during the junior camp talent show? Ratner for MC? Not sure after that bench incident. Remember Ratner and Smith's epic collision at team handball? Not sure I've ever seen a cleaner hit. I know you were all pumped to watch the NBA restart in the lodge. We watch the Jazz take down the Pelicans in style.

Slowly but surely, the hype for Green & White builds. There are a couple fake breaks, including Matt using a boat, but by Founder's Night, it still hasn't broken. A bunch of Lancers get their first year water bottles, third year pennants, and five year shirts. Gotta get those vests boys. The night seems like it's winding down with Chuck's video, but suddenly NATALIE! DAVID DOBRIK WITH HATS AND CANES!?!! After the vlog squad breaks Green & White, we get treated to an absolutely sick fireworks show on the far far field. The counselor captains are announced, the camper teams are picked, and Green & White 2020 is on its way.

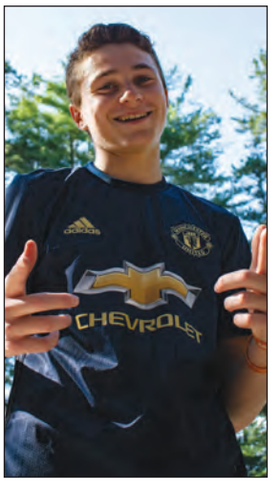

Green & White 2020 pits the Great Green Demons against the Mighty White Galaxy, and what an incredible Green & White it was. The Lancers and the rest of camp truly packed in all the intensity of the normal five days into four. Remember the A-team volleyball game and the rally before the game? Segal going off in basketball? The super intense softball game, and Dery coming up clutch? By the end, Galaxy ends up completing the comeback and Zubi loses his undefeated streak. Overall, an incredible war.

With Green & White over, the Lancers don't waste a minute and milk everything out of the summer. Remember all your shenanigans at canoe, kayak, paddle – so many capsized boats. How about when we brought back one of the greatest activities ever with our team handball period at girls camp field? How about our last EA? An awesome game of British bulldog on the lax field followed by pizza and an amazing campfire at the ODT. One last poker tournament in the bunk and a late night showing of the Dark Night Rises in the lodge mark a great last night. We can't make time slow down, and eventually we had to watch the buses pull out, but there's not a doubt in my mind that the Lancers of 2020 will come back even stronger as Friars of 2021.

LANCERS

Aiden Adams – Not one person at this camp would have a bad word to say about Aiden Adams. Your kindness and maturity were a great addition to the group. This group runs better with you in it and I really hope you come back to continue that.

Isaac Bitran – When coming into camp already in a big group of friends it can be so easy just to stick with them and inside your comfort zone, but you definitely didn't do that. You were open to trying anything and becoming friends with anybody, and I can't thank you enough for that.

Gregor Brockmann – Gregor, you are honestly the nicest kid I've ever met of any age. Whether it be a hug or just a simple hello, you have an uncanny ability to brighten the day of everybody around you. I know you'll continue to sprout into a leader in this group, and I can't wait to see that.

Mackie Burke – I can say without a doubt that I've never seen you without a smile on your face. You're always a genuine and positive person at all hours of the day regardless of whether we're at 9 Square or Ultimate. Everything you do you do with a warm spirit and openness to having fun.

Owen Cunningham – It's always difficult to come to camp without knowing anybody beforehand, especially in a year like this one, however, Owen you were able to win everyone over with your consistent effort to get to know people and genuine friendliness. Although I'll never understand how to tomahawk a frisbee the way you do, I do understand why everyone here at camp is such a big fan of Owen Cunningham.

Kai Daglio – The balance of competition and humor you brought to every activity served as the perfect compliment to this group. The smile on your face was almost as constant as that signature hat that never seemed to leave your head. Wishing you many more knockout victories in the coming years.

Andrew Dery – Remember that sick walk off hit in Green & White!? From your first activity, it became evident just how much this group adores you. Your gentleness and good nature will get you very far in life. This group would fall apart without you Dery. Keep coming back.

Cooper Ferdman – From the first day you set foot on camp this past July, I could tell you were going to be a key leader for this group as your friends proved by electing you to be a color war captain. Each day you showed the same unwavering passion and commitment to your friends as you did on the court and in the fields. Thanks for a great summer.

Archer Gould – You are an amazing camper. You were awarded for your athletic ability and respectful manner earning this summer's sportsmanship award, however you didn't stop there. Your compassion and ability to go with the flow made our jobs as counselors much easier. You are a leader in this group in more ways than you can imagine.

Jake Horowitz – It was amazing to watch how seamlessly you fit into this group. It was by no means an easy year to do so, however, your warm disposition quickly won over your groupmates. You approached each activity with an open mind and for that I commend you. I'm excited to see your friendships here continue to blossom. They are special.

Keiran Klasfeld – It was clear from day one that you would be a leader in this group. Your relaxed demeanor combined with your lively sense of humor came together this summer to really help you flourish here in The Realm. We are all eager to see how you mature throughout the years here at camp.

Andrew Levine – "Le-veen", this group will never be the best version of itself if not for your infectious humor yet strong maturity. I'm amazed how you can go from fooling around crushing plastic cups at meals to being a leader in serious conversations. I could always depend on you to help everyone have fun yet not hesitate to look out for others when needed.

Blake Lipman – You embody so much of what makes camp great. You know how to have fun in any situation but also know when you need to get serious. You're a friend to everyone in the group and camp needs more people like you. Keep coming back, there's still so much left to experience at camp.

Bryce Lippard – You really came into your own this summer as a leader of this group. By the end of the session, we could always rely on you to guide your group mates in the right direction. You're an extremely entertaining kid, whether it be your sense of humor or your electrifying athletic ability. Your contributions to the group cannot be understated.

Alex Mcgee – From the moment you arrived in The Realm it was clear to see you had found your home away from home. You fit right into the group making an immediate impact with your sense of humor and good nature. Your camper experience will only get better from here.

Jake Mund – With every encounter you always managed to put a smile on all of our faces. Jake, you truly are a bright light in this group. Your persistent optimism and cheerfulness made you a pleasure to have as a camper this summer and I look forward to seeing you grow into a great young man.

Sawyer Plimpton – Thank you so much for spending your summer with us. It's truly a joy to watch you tear up the lake in a sailboat or dominate a Gaga period. I know this place has so much left to offer you, and I can't wait to see where your camp career takes you.

Henry Powell – Your inescapable warmth and kindness came to be a positive influence on everyone around you. I came to respect your consistent positivity and the genuine passion with which you roam this place. You have a fantastic sense of humor and a great outlook on life. I really enjoyed getting to know you better these past five weeks.

Noah Ratner – You are the glue that holds this group together. You're a natural leader and it's a privilege to watch you bring it to every activity. Camp wouldn't be camp without kids like you. I can't wait to see you ascend boys camp these next few years.

Cal Rodin – It is not often that you come by a camper both as intelligent and hilarious as you Cal. Even before the masks came off, everything you did this summer it was with a smile on your face. You are a true leader in this group. It is clear to see that you will thrive in this place for a long time.

Brody Rothenberg – No matter what you were doing this summer you always found a way to make everyone laugh. Whether it was horsing around in the bunk or never being content with dessert, I thoroughly enjoyed our time together this summer. You bring a lot to the group.

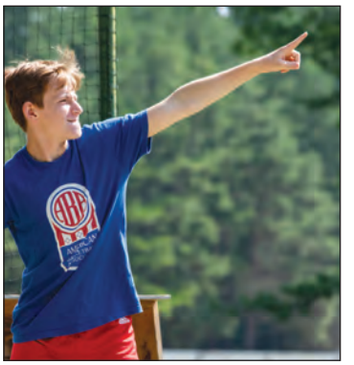

LANCERS

Adam Segal – Your competitive drive was vital to motivating the entirety of the group with each activity. But outside of sports your habits as a prankster are a core part of what makes the Lancers. Your wild laugh when you know you're about to do something troublesome show how happy of a kid you are. I'll miss unsuccessfully trying to get you to sleep and the fun energy you brought with every day.

Noah Smith – It seemed as though every group meeting we had this summer you knew just what to say. You are a very wise and mature 13 year old making you the perfect leader for this group. Those leadership abilities were fully on display as a co-captain during Green & White. This group will rely on you for direction for a long time.

Jackson Steinlauf – You have such a kind heart and its clear to see you striving to do the right thing each and every day. You have a deep understanding of this place that many others are incapable of at your age. Being elected color war captain once again was no surprise. You will shine here for a long time.

Sam Swartz – One of your most positive and defining traits is your willingness to make friends. It really stood out to me how quickly you put forth an effort to get to know the new guys at camp and make them feel more at home here. You as much as anyone have matured since archer summer, and it was amazing to watch. Never forget how much you love camp and camp loves you.

Marcello Zarif – Melo, your crazy sense of humor and the energy you brought to everything you did made day to day life in the Lancer bunk so much fun. You always managed to lighten the mood when we all needed it and for that I thank you. Keep being yourself, and I can't wait to see what your future at camp holds!

Jonas Zatlyn-Weiner – Not many people can come in as a new camper and have the same kind of presence on camp that you did Jonas. You're obviously a great athlete, but more importantly, you're a great friend. You have an important role to play in the group, and I hope to see you in The Realm for many years to come.

Staff – It was obvious from the beginning that we had a great staff, but you still all managed to exceed my wildest expectations. You're all amazing counselors and amazing people, and there's no way I could've run this group without each of you. You all have the chance to be leaders at camp for years to come, take advantage of it.

Keep in touch.

Lancers of 2020

Boys, I could not have imagined my last summer any other way. You are probably the craziest, most ridiculous, and energetic Lancer group since my own group, which is why you remind me so much of my group and made me feel 13 again in the best way possible. You are such an amazing group of individuals, just remember to love each other and love camp and you will be running camp as an amazing group before you know it. Keep in touch and much love.

WAKE UP BOYS!

HOW'D YOU SLEEP?

GET YOUR KILTS ON, FINISH UP YOUR MORNING WORKOUT, STOP BEING SO ATHLETIC, AND STRAP IN TO RELIVE THE EPIC SUMMER OF 2020.

Remember rolling up to camp? Everyone gets a lovely nose massage and gets split into cohorts. Cohort B was comically more athletic than A (my bad!). In the first week we play rugby and Brock turns into a human tank. Later playing British Bulldog absolutely no one can get Jack out until Max makes a heroic tackle.

Remember saying "I know" every time we received a compliment? It's not rude it's "acknowledging you're a king." At tennis we play camping and all the campers struggle to figure out the rule. Cian was a little too confident he knew the rule. At make your counselor laugh Lorca and Phillip do their best to do just the opposite. At Family Feud a couple days later Gabe gives an interesting answer.

After five long days we get another Covid test and finally, finally, finally, the masks come off. We celebrate by dancing in the dining tent. Later that night Tanner gives us an interesting lesson about online investing. In the next couple days we have an all camp graduation. So proud of all of you who completed eighth grade and are headed to high school.

Remember our Spelling Bee? Gabe spells 'iridocyclitis' and Phillip gets 'gnathasome.' Beckett then immediately spells 'dog' wrong. Sorry kid, better luck next year.

The next week we're all practicing hard for our Scottish dance. Everyone practices prancing and their best smiles for O' Flower of Scotland. Nobody realizes that Joey's Scottish accent is just a little too good.

We have beach week and Brock buys Gerald the elephant and gives him a nice home by his bed. We all have one too many Briaritas and have a blast at the all camp beach party. That night, before cookout, Joey makes a shocking announcement. Surprise! He's actually American. I've watched the reaction video maybe 100 times. You guys were completely fooled. It might be the greatest prank I've ever personally witnessed.

Remember Brock offering everyone a tuni and teaching us all the real truth about Quebec. Meanwhile, our beef with the Lancers is in full swing. Jack is constantly getting chirped with chants of "AAU" and they make fun of Joey's "Scottish" accent.

Remember sitting at the beach and explaining to Rick Lowe our injuries? He was not impressed. Sadly Tanner has to go home that week and Ellis gets a little too excited and runs into the golf cart. In Tanner's honor the next day, Hugo hits a massive blast at home run that hits a truck. Rumor is that ball made it to Mexico by now. We do skit night and Beckett performs an amazing rendition of Syrup. Moucha is insistent his voice is actually that deep.

Where were you when you found out AB went to the 'fins? Andrew is confident he won't last two weeks. We're sad to see our three weekers, Jack and Hugo, go but we finish out the three weeks song with a night of sock wrestling. The next day we make a sick chill spot in the middle of the bunk and everyone learns how to play spicy Uno.

The next week can only mean one thing, Green & White. David Dobrik makes a cameo and we're all treated to a great fireworks show over the far far. Congratulations to the captains Phillip and Jasper.

FRIARS

We sorted into groups: Jasper, Max, Daelen, Andrew, Gabe, Robbie, and Peter on the great green demons and everyone else on the ~other~ team. Jasper gets ejected for an egregious handball in soccer, and thinks Rick Lowe's joking at first. Everyone gets trapped in the barn or the lodge during the storm. The barn is absolutely lit while the lodge isn't ~nearly~ as fun. The next day we have maybe the greatest rope burn in Green & White history. Green eeks out the win by maybe half a second. I was so proud of all of you this war. It was the culmination of all your hard work throughout the summer. Later that night Green is robbed in one of the most controversial endings in G&W history. But seriously, I can't wait to see all of you for five days next summer and blow some calls in favor of the green team.

Joey has to head home after night 4, but he went out with the greatest G&W a Scot could ever have. The next day our last activity ever is a…car wash! Everyone fights over who gets to wash the Brockmann's car and we put on some ridiculous outfits. Ellis's team goes on to win the senior camp basketball league. His shoulders hurt from carrying the team. On the last night we play jail and Phillip takes a hard hit like a champ. We watch half of the Dark Knight Rises after long technical difficulties until all the counselors fall asleep. The next day we all say goodbye at the stables.

Lorca Danziger – You're so important for this group. Your energy is infectious. You're a leader and I can't wait to watch you and the group grow over the next couple summers. I could always count on you this summer, thank you so much.

Beckett Fox – I don't think anyone made me laugh harder than you this summer. When I was feeling down you could always put a smile on my face. Keep working on that jumpsuit and learning how to spell. I can't wait to see you at G&W next summer

Gabe Freedman – You're such an easy going kid, it was a pleasure being your counselor this summer. I could always depend on you to do the right thing and go hard at every activity. You always set the right example to others in the bunk. Thank you for leading from behind.

Max Grad – You had as good a summer as anyone could ever have this year. I loved watching you compete everyday, especially during G&W. You're such an important camp personality, and I know you'll continue to be for years to come.

Cian Hare – I loved getting to know you this summer, I really got to watch you fall in love with camp this year. I was so proud when you won most improved volleyball. Here's to many more awkward walks to the stargazer.

Phillip Harris – Wake up! It was great to watch you blossom this year. You really killed it this summer. I was very impressed that you became a G&W captain. You lived up to my expectations and more.

Hugo Herscher – That's cap. In all seriousness it was great to watch you crush it this summer. It's not easy to come from another camp at this age, but you embraced camp and camp embraced you. It felt like you knew everyone in camp the day you arrived.

Jasper Karlson – BIC dance, what more needs to be said? It was such a privilege being your counselor this summer. You ran every activity hard with a smile on your face. You killed it during G&W, I'm so glad you were on Green with me. Keep up the good work.

Jack Kolz – I'm not sure what you were expecting when you came to Robin Hood, but it definitely wasn't camp. It was great to watch you get out of your comfort zone. I loved how much you embraced camp and I'll try to pull some strings and get Cobbossee to have arts and crafts.

Robbie Levine – Sorry for calling you Zach all those times. You're the perfect Robin Hood camper. You go hard at every activity with such a great attitude. I loved playing and talking basketball with you this year. I can't wait till you come back next year as a 6' 10" paint beast.

Andrew Morrison – I hope you never cut your hair. The mullet+glasses was an iconic combo. You walked around everywhere with a big smile on your face, and had a good attitude about everything. I'll always remember how hard you went at our final car wash. I hope you know how much camp and your group love you.

Remember Whens:

- Saying I know
- Hugo softball on Truck
- Sock wrestling
- Car wash
- Scottish dance
- AB to the fins
- Max tackling Jack at British Bulldog
- Speed dating
- Ellis Houdini
- $40 Big Mac
- Chill area
- Beach Day
- Robbie didn't graduate
- Tanner phone number
- Tanner-only fans
- Phil describing to inform
- Beckett can't spell
- Spicy Uno
- Ellis runs into the golf cart
- Joey Scottish
- Joey "I'm not actually from Scotland"
- Beckett's weak knees
- Explaining to Rick Lowe our injuries
- Hugo capping
- Moucha's deep voice
- Remember me getting seconds for everyone
- Pouring waters
- Watching the Dark Knight
- Rugby period
- Camping game at tennis courts

- Are you hungry to TPJ
- Stocks
- Gerald, Brock's elephant
- Bricks tuni
- Hating Quebec
- Brock GL
- Don't talk to me, I'm on a day off
- Jack getting chirped

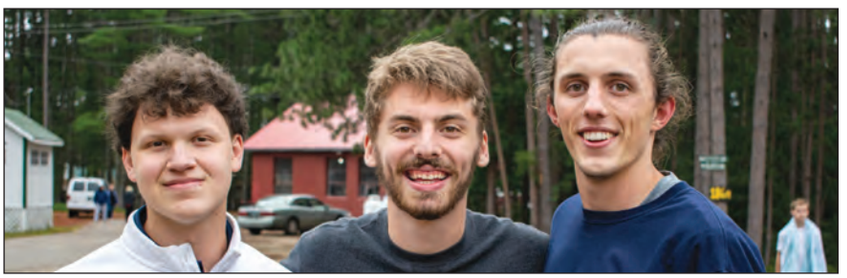

Jack Moucha – From saying 11 in a funny accent, to trying to convince us you have a really low voice, to the other random moments of hilarity, you always had me laughing doing something ridiculous. You're such a good kid and the glue of the group. Keep crushing it.

Daelan Pinsky – You're the man. You had as good a G&W as anyone could ever have. I loved hanging out with you this summer, you're so easy to chill with. Your positive attitude is so important for the group. When you're smiling, everyone else is. Soon you'll be running camp.

Ellis Resnick – It's not easy to come from another camp. I loved how quickly you embraced Robin Hood. The group loved you this year and whatever happens I hope to see you back here at some point. Thanks for always being able to put a smile on my face.

Brock Suidgeest – I'll never forget you dropping people with a perfect form tackle during rugby periods. I loved getting to know you this year, and watching your role in the group expand. You really helped shape the group's identity a lot this summer. Keep coming back, this place has so much more to offer.

Peter Torocsik – The Wall! Like some of the other new guys, it's not easy to start at a new summer camp at this age. You came and you crushed it and I hope you found a new home here. Hopefully next year you'll have a little less homework!

Staff – Thank you all for your hard work. The three of us did the work of six people this summer. We had so many great days and nights laughing with the kids. I had the easiest job on camp thanks to you guys. I'm so appreciative of all your work.

BOYS, WHAT A SUMMER IT'S BEEN.
Thank you for giving me the best summer of my life. You're amazing kids, keep being you. I can't wait to see you all at Green & White for years and years to come.

WHAT'S UP BOYS? Please do me a favor and put down the minecraft, the bowls of cereal, the poker chips, and most importantly GET ON THE BENCHES as we reminisce on the best and craziest summer of our lives: The summer of 2020.

Our beautiful family opened up with all 20 of you arriving on July 11th and I could not have been more excited. I knew exactly how goofy and exciting and fun you all were and I was so ready to jump right in to the fun, as I'm sure you all were as well. Remember at least seven people hitting trees within the first couple homerun diamond periods? Sorry Chase. Remember Theo maintaining OJ's innocence…the introduction of Schmidties… our incredible paddywagon inducing Spud games…Phil's sensitive teeth and us taking full advantage with popsicles and ice cream…Eli's outstanding bed…Chase's collection of missing items…Coalition and Dragon Tails at the waterfront…Lips being a natural athlete…"For the right price"…our love for the seaweed salad…and a Corbin vs. Corbin Steal the Bacon matchup?

Remember the algorithm always messing with Kreindler…our macarena circles… Chase's beautiful wedding letter at crafts… Eli's intense Covid test at the infirm…Alex Corbin being the most coordinated person in The Realm…"WE ARE THE BOYS CAMP"… Alex Young expressing his frustration in Steal the Bacon…"They're picking me up!!"…T-Fue vs. Ninja…BRICK…the Free the Bee underdog…Collin's egg head after waterski…praying to the almighty Notch… Eli's "eventful" 2 days culminating in a very interesting 4th of July celebration…"Sobel to Foresters, Sobel to Foresters, secret channel!"…walkie channels being very active this year…and CHAZ?

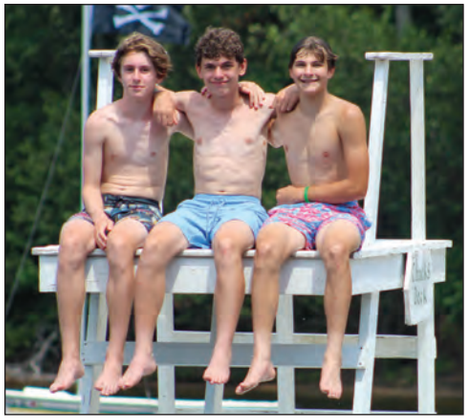

Remember beach day? Creating all those amazing cutoffs and crop tops from the amazing shirts we all received. This was just the first instance of how well you guys adapted to the new circumstances camp was under this year, and I couldn't have been prouder seeing you all take it in stride and accept that things were different and still made the best out of everything.

Remember our amazing dance for SYTYCD? It was the best one out there for sure. Remember Lips leaving a surprise for Eli during our skit night…our burning love for minecraft, especially the villager noises and demanding emeralds from everyone…putting the leaf blower in Sobel's bed…the Hi-Chew abuse scandal…Theo's bball clinic which worked like charm… Chase's use of the constitution…Alex Young, Kriendler, and Harris' birthdays!… experiencing the harsh realities of prison life in capture the flag…Alex's surprise toot… Goodman's valuable hot tub policy… and Mi Kasa?

Remember our epic EAs of sock wrestling and the NFL combine? The intensity was unmatched there boys. Remember our consistency with injuries and how the infirm loved seeing us…our synchronized diving sessions…walking like iron golems and demanding that all of camp give us their emeralds…listening to the podcast that explained the behaviors and habits of the villagers and their emerald obsession… remember night four festivities…the Blessman…mixing dodgeball and kayaking with the introduction of Arthur…T-Fue taking control during the hurricane and becoming a general…Toby's interesting beverage on the last night…all the necessary notches…Chase, J-rock and the secret hole…the Icy Hot incident… running ladder drills at benches…"Is that a counselor?" #Jatted…Chase, Toby, and Eli's secret competition…Tamer the halfcourt shot king…lowering the rims on the Girls' Camp hoops…winning BIC peddleboats along with our apology song from the Pirates of the Carribean…and finally our incredible rendition of the 2019 White team alma at awards night? Day…breaks…slow…

Remember Tamer's unbreakable 5 step plan…Jeff the dead fish…letter trading (still don't understand why you guys do that)…BONE ALERT! We found so many bones this summer…the bat in our bunk wreaking havoc and finally being corralled into a plastic bin…our stall policy…Sebastian!…our lunches being filled tomato roulette…all the toe suckers…Chase's plethora of leg days… Goodman hitting the gym…not being able to keep Sohn and Harris out of the gym…and Theo's epic debut? We were so proud!

FORESTERS

Toby Bloch – You are absolutely one of the most mature 15 year olds I have had the pleasure of knowing. Experiencing your wit and humor have been highlights of the summer for me. You are a true leader in this group and I know you will be crucial in maintaining the close bond and love for camp that you all have. I know I'll see you here for many more years. Love you, bud.

Chase Brook – Your humor and intelligence are well beyond your years. I could always count on you for a laugh or even a serious conversation. You are one of the most interesting and goofiest campers I've ever had and a day with you was never dull. Your group loves that about you and you are such an integral part to their success. I hope to see you back for many years to come

Ben Buman – You have an energy about you that just never quits. From your horrible puns to your easy-going attitude, being around you was a true pleasure and I couldn't have been happier to be your counselor this summer. You have such a clear passion for camp and it's so obvious in the way the group sees you as such a positive force. Camp needs more people like you and I hope you can keep giving yourself back to camp.

Alex Corbin – You came into this group and immediately made a name for yourself. Your humor is one of a kind and your attitude about every activity is second to none. I'm so happy you and your brother decided to give camp a try because it's so clear to me now how influential you can be in this already tight-knit group. I hope you keep coming back because it's clear The Realm has not seen enough of you.

Max Corbin – Similarly to your brother, I could not have been happier you were at camp this summer. You were the first camper I met and from the beginning I knew we were gonna hit it off right away. You bring such a positive light to this group and it's clear to see in the way they respected you and valued your opinions and ideas right away. Camp can benefit a lot from new campers like you and I hope you understand how much you and camp both need each other.

Theo Drye – You were nothing short of a true pleasure to be a counselor for. Your positivity and zest for camp life every single day made me realize how lucky this group is to have you. You can be the voice of reason and yet at the same time be incredibly goofy and fun to be around. You are one of the true leaders in this group and it's obvious in the way you carry yourself every day. I can't wait to see how you evolve throughout the rest of your time here. Love you, buddy.

Collin Field – It's hard to believe that this was your first year here because it absolutely did not seem like it. Right away you threw yourself into everything camp had to offer and that was incredible to see. You've clearly solidified your place in this group and made 19 brothers in the process. I hope to see you back here because you make camp a much better place. Live it up in LA, kid. Love you, man.

Tamer Fishman – You know exactly how to push my buttons. But at the same time that's one of the things I love most about your character. You are one of the funniest campers I have ever met and your goofy and carefree attitude is part of what makes this group so great. This brotherhood needs someone like you. You care so much about your group mates and you are always up for just about anything. Keep perfecting your halfcourt shots and I know I'll see you later. Love you, my guy.

Austin Goodman – I can say without a doubt in my mind that you have changed the game when it comes to camper expectations. You exceeded them with zero issues and had one heck of a summer. The passion and energy you bring to the group never goes unnoticed and goes a long way in the decisions that everyone makes. This group loves and needs you and I hope you never get tired of it. Camp needs your energy and spirit and I'm so excited to watch it unfold.

William Harris – To the most realistic Minecraft villager I know, I didn't really know much about you or what to expect once the summer started, but I quickly realized we would be good friends. You know exactly how to make me laugh while at the same time realize when a situation needs to get serious. That says a lot about your character and I love that camp was able to see it this year. Keep practicing your tennis and I hope to see you back here for many, many more years. Love you, bud.

Ben Kreindler – Being able to talk with you every single day one on one was for sure one of my favorite parts of the summer. You are one of the most mature 15 year olds I've ever met and that will take you very far in life, as I could see during Green & White leading the white team. This group needs your serious side along with your incredible sense of humor in order to succeed, and it's blatantly obvious that you are perfectly intertwined within this deep family. I'll see you soon, my man.

Gray Klassfeld – You meshed into this group right from the start, and I could tell that everyone benefited from your presence. Your humor knows no bounds and you brought intensity and passion to everything you did. I can tell that even in your first year you understand how important camp is and I hope you can continue to experience that for more years. I hope to see you soon, my man.

Jack Levine – J-rock, you brought a vibrancy and high energy persona to the group that everyone needed to get themselves going every day. You are always down for anything and will participate with zefo complaints, which I always appreciated. You gave this group a much needed boost and I couldn't have been happier to be able to experience that this summer. I hope your training goes well this year and I hope to see you soon!

Tyler Lipman – You absolutely killed it this summer. Whether it was playing volleyball or 9 square, you treated every activity like it was your last and it was clear to see your passion for your group and for camp while you did it. I hope you realize how integral you are to this group and how much camp and your boys need an easy-going and calming personality like yours. See you soon, buddy.

Max Lippard – I could not have been happier to have you as a camper again this summer. Whether it was wearing your onesie to giving a heartfelt speech at the campfire, I can tell that you love this group and you especially love camp. You were clearly made for this place and it seems clear to me that your spot in this group could never be filled by anyone else. I hope you can keep coming back for as long as possible because you clearly understand how much this place can benefit somebody.

FORESTERS

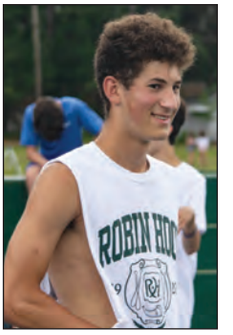

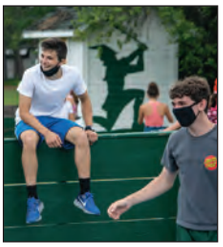

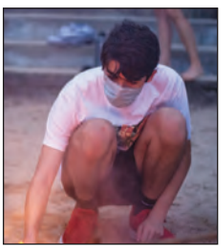

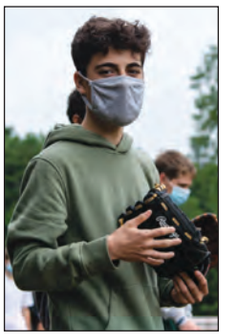

Eli Sobel – What can I say? We're family, and I thought we could never get closer, but I was so so wrong. I was able to see even deeper into your incredible personality and see that beyond your goofy and carefree attitude lies an extremely caring and deep soul that understands the impact that ampo has on the people that are lucky enough to experience it. I couldn't be prouder of you after this summer and I know you'll be here for many years to come. Love you, my guy.

Will Sohn – Your persistence and level-headedness is off the charts. Even with a hurt ankle that kept you sidelined for a few days, you still showed positivity and optimism towards the next activity, no matter what it may have been. Similar to others, you clearly struck the perfect balance between being able to be goofy and laugh abouit stupid stuff and being able to have a seriouys conversation. Camp needs people with your kind of cool, collected attitude, and I hope camp can experience that for more years to come.

Pierce Terowsky – Your hilarious mannerisms and comments still surprise and entertain me after all these years. Having seen you grow up at camp, it's clear to everyone that you need camp and camp needs you. You show more effort and positivity in whatever you do than just about anyone else I know. I couldn't be happier to have been your GL this summer and your maturity this year has been amazing to see. You clearly have solidified a place in this group and it's amazing to see you be yourself around your best friends. Hope to see you soon, man.

Nate Wildman – Nathaniel Doggage, you are everything a camper should be. Everyone knew your name, and yet you keep yourself humble and grounded, which is something I absolutely admire. You have grown into such a fine young gentleman and you deserved MC without a doubt. Being able to see you lead so prominently this summer has been incredible and I can't wait to see where you'll go in the rest of your camper career. Love you, my guy.

Alex Young – OWIE OWIE OWIE! You never cease to put a smile on my face and keep me laughing. You are definitely one of the funniest and kindest kids I've ever met and it showed in the positivity that radiated through the group every single day. You have such a strong impact on this group and it's obvious they look up to you and see the admiration you have for camp. I can see how important this place is to you and I hope you can keep experiencing it for many years to come.

Phil Schmidt – I couldn't have possibly asked for more from an AGL. You are one of the coolest and most relatable guys I've ever had the pleasure of being on staff with. You did everything I possibly could have wanted from you and more. I think we've definitely gotten much closer after this summer and I'm glad to be able to get in touch and talk about whatever, whenever. So excited to watch you and your group lead camp on staff next year. Much love, my man.

FORESTERS

Well boys, after giving it a long, hard think I've come to the conclusion that this summer has definitely been my favorite out of the 14 I have under my belt, and I have you all to thank for that.

You were my first senior camp group and I couldn't have lucked out any more. Keep loving each other and keeping each other in check, and you will all go far here. You are all the closest group I've seen since my own Saxon group, and I know that camp is in good hands with you all at the helm next year.

Until next time boys, much love and take care.

SAXONS! Throw out those masks, turn on Use This Gospel and let's reminisce on one of the happiest times of our lives.

Everyone arrives on camp willing to do anything possible to make this summer happen...except for Logan who can't seem to figure out his mask. The Martha's Vineyard crew rolls up and we start cleaning off, painting and fixing the ping pong table. Remember calling Scottie Rimer in to check on our progress. Remember playing a ton of ping pong and Pickles and Nathaniel being as good as we all expected.

Remember Logan "WHAT DID YOU EXPECT!"…and then everyone spiking on him and/or blocking him. From the very start you guys were the leaders of camp. Everybody played directly into our hands and it was just too easy. Remember Mercer only talking about Juice World. Remember Drip night and all of the camp looking at you guys while we walked down the runway and presented ourselves at dinner.

Fourth of July-Seventeenth was a hit and it was all thanks to you guys. Noah and Nathaniel ran the barn like a casino, Nick and the Lancers crushed it at the marriage booth and Pickles dominated the quad. Remember Mercer and Amos dressing up like frat bros and Baumoel single-handedly beating all the TPJ's at basketball. Remember Schmidt reaching places that we couldn't reach, Graham dominating the offensive boards and doing his best to impress half of camp.

Remember LARPing with the Scribes. Remember swimming from Woody's to SWF, Nick finding the golf club. Remember eating surf and turf at Woody's, not being able to get connection to the TV and watching ESports much to the chagrin of everyone but Nick and Eli. Remember doing all that work at the Chalet and burying the hatchets. Remember Mercer and the Bros across the lake. Remember graduation night, rolling down the quad attached to each other.

Doing the thing from Remember The Titans with all of senior camp.

Remember The TOGA PARTY! Everybody had to speak in weird voices and amuse the birthday boy (Nick). Remember Mercer's acting ability. Then we all went back to the bunk and watched Nick DEVOUR the Mt. Washington in record time…Then he returned to Ossipee.

Remember when we were constantly in the garbage truck, when we turned it into a picnic table and when Gavin, Graham and Noah took over trash duties for a week. Remember Mercer being the only one who was willing to help out (Take THAT Libthaniel!)

Remember you guys finally being athletic for Green & White. Remember Nick being on the A-Team in Volleyball and us losing to the Shires. Remember Schmidt leading us, Pickles doing his best, Oli trying to be calm, Gavin being the most medium, Schmidt being my AGL, Mercer cleaning the garbage and being filthy.

We really did post Green & White well. Of course, all of you somehow couldn't play sports again…but we did manage to do some pretty amazing things. Your saxon speeches were easily the best The Realm has ever heard…Gavin set the bar pretty well. Amos called in for the first ever wireless speech and it was MONEY (thanks for the shout).

Remember singing Childish Gambino at the meals, listening to dive and watching Jake solo the performance from A Star Was Born…because Nick couldn't figure it out. Remember all of us jamming to Taylor Swift's Love Story. Remember BEATING THE FORESTERS IN SOFTBALL.

Remember THE HOT SAUCE on the last night. Remember Graham doing it twice and then instantly regretting it. Remember Nick and Gavin backing out. Libthaniel throwing the carton of milk onto the floor and Schmidt being totally calm. Remember Mercer screaming LEFT. Remember running on the far far field and chasing the geese the night before. Remember our game of Spud! Remember Chuck speaking to Nick while he was asleep.

SAXONS

Nick Barone – Nicky!!!! Your attitude is infectious. You've matured and grown so much since Lancer year but just like your old group leader Clay, your kind attitude remains the same. Give Wolfie a hug for me and keep coming back, this camp and everyone needs Nick Barone.

Jake Baumoel – You're humble, you're athletic, you're a beast, you're a leader… the list goes on forever. I'm so proud of you for all you've done, can't wait to see where your Robin Hood career takes you.

Amos Blumberg – Tennis Amos, you had such an amazing summer. You made me and your group mates laugh every moment you were here and we missed you when you left. We all love you and look forward to seeing you on the courts next summer.

Gavin Gore – GG! Mr. Medium! You've grown so much since Lancer summer. You've become a leader and key part of the group. This camp loves you and I hope you come back for years and years because camp will be better for it.

Eli Greenfield – The comeback kid. You are the heart of this group. You always know how to lift the vibes and keep your friends smiling. Your legendary comeback performance for the Saxon dance will never be forgotten. 2024 color war captain, you heard it here first.

Noah Grossman – Christian McCaffery! Noah, you're an amazing kid. Every year you became a better camper and a better man. You are hilarious, kind and your laugh is simply the best. I'll miss you constantly asking me simple questions and making me laugh when the rest of the group was making me ready to cry. You'll be a captain one day, keep coming back.

Nathaniel Hill – Libthaniel! What an amazing summer. You stepped it up big time in Green & White and you were amazing with the kids you aided for. I look forward to seeing you go beast mode on staff.

Logan Kaganovsky – It's amazing to me how much you've grown in the last four years. You've become a very strong presence in the group and after you left things just felt different. I really hope you continue to come back to camp and continue to be the goofball that you are. "What did you expect?"

SAXONS

Sebastian Karlson – Pickles! Unlike your Saxon speech, I'm going to keep this short. You are the best. You put a smile on everybody's face whenever you do anything, we're all better for having you around. Keep being you.

Mercer Kruzner – You're like a little brother. Your funnier than words can describe, your energy is unparalleled and this year you proved you're a leader in this group. Keep coming back so that we can hangout for five days every summer.

Graham Napack – I wish we could tree-do this summer! Seriously though, Graham you were amazing this summer. You never stopped working and the boys and camp owe you a debt of gratitude. Real life can wait, camp needs you. See you next summer.

Andrew Schmidt – You're the nicest kid I've ever met. You're a gentleman, a leader and a personality that this camp needs very badly. You were my AGL this summer so I know you'll kill it next year on staff.

Oli Snidow – You're a great kid. I can't believe this was your first summer staying full session, it's crazy to think given your place in the group. You always know how to get the group going and everybody enjoyed your love for camp. Thank you for the pizza rolls.

SAXONS! of 2020

THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!

I love you all like little brothers. It was amazing being your group leader for so many years, I wouldn't have traded it for anything. You guys gave me 3 great summers and this last one is one that I'll never forget. I'm writing this since leaving camp…and I can't help to wake up everyday feeling a little sadder. I wake up and you guys aren't there, there are no funny jokes, no laughs…nothing. It's alright though because I think back to the summer we had, I laugh at the remember whens and I'm just appreciative of all of it. I can't wait for you guys to come back and have those memories with your own groups. We got on the bus Lancer summer…all the way back in 2017…and we didn't get off the bus…we never will.

SCOUTS GOT...CLOUT

BANANA!! STOP LISTENING TO THE DUCK SONG AND LEAVING YOUR WATER BOTTLES IN THE "RESTAURANT"...PUT ON YOUR PJS AND GRAB YOUR STUFIES...AND GET READY TO RELIVE

THE BEST SUMMER OF YOUR LIFE!

Remember the first day of camp! It all started when Neve, Violet, and Hazel were the first to arrive. They spent the whole first day waiting for the rest of the group to join them. We made some s'mores before bed and woke up ready for camp to actually start! Six other Scouts came the next day and the group was almost complete. That night we did a treasure hunt all around camp and found the treasure in our bunk. We had our first circle time and the summer of fun began. Camp was in full swing. You all successfully passed the swim test and got your colors.

Remember the pink and yellow cohorts? The duct tape served as a nice bunk decoration. You guys were so good about staying on your side and even made it fun by creating cohort names. We had the pink donuts and yellow fire. Each cohort made their own sign. You all were such troopers with the masks and surprised me with your ability to keep the mask on! I was SO PROUD of you for getting your tests and after five days we got take the masks off and give each other big hugs! Who knew that so many of you were missing your front teeth??

Remember when just a few days into camp our bunk was named the cleanest bunk in camp? We had ice cream that night and m&m pizza at the ODT a couple days later to celebrate the win. Scouts are clean! We also learned that beetles are our friends and they basically became the Scouts pets. Violet loved to just hold them! How about when it started pouring rain during our backwards scavenger hunt! Also, it didn't take long for me to find out that you guys are archery pros!

The day that our masks camp off got even better because it was the 4th of Ju-seventeenth! We got dressed up in red, white, and blue clothes and celebrated a belated Fourth of July. The Scribes and Saxons put on a great carnival! There were inflatables, fortune tellers, and a marriage booth. We can't forget about the fair food that was for dinner! I know you were all big fans of the food.

Remember your favorite activities… peddleboats and archery!! You guys were stars on the peddleboats! You would peddle away and play bumper boats non-stop. I think you guys spent more time in the water than on the actual boats, but had so much fun. In the archery range you all amazed me with your talent! There were so many bullseyes and arrows on the target. Who knew the Scouts could shoot arrows so well!

Remember when the Scribes woke you up by breaking Mini Green & White? We sat with our teams at breakfast and had a silent meal. We spent the morning and most of the afternoon competing in different activities like gaga, kickball, bombardment, and more! In the afternoon Drama Josh led us in a cracker eat and spelling bee. The word orange became the word to spell for the rest of the summer! You guys were great competitors and got some practice forthe real Green & White!

Remember the junior camp talent show? You guys have so much talent. Almost everyone participated in amazing dances and gymnastic performances. I was so impressed!

Oh oh oh woke up today! Remember when we had the best dance ever created for So You Think You Can Dance? From our massive smiles to our amazing moves, we lit up the stage like no other. We sang so much "Hairspray" to get us performance ready. We all put in so much effort and it showed in the final performance. Your spunk and energy was reflected in the dance and I wouldn't have changed a single thing about it!

Remember when we had on camp Beach Day? In the morning you all did so well with Gold Rush! You found so much gold and other currency around camp. I was very impressed. We all got matching blue shirts and there were so many activities to do! From Senior Waterfront to drawing with chalk, you guys were having so much fun! We moved from station to station and at our last stop, the Boardwalk under the tent, we stuffed our faces with ice cream, candy, and slushies. Although it wasn't Ogunquit, Lake Ossipee still gave us a pretty good Beach Day.

Remember when we made dinner at the ODT? Evin helped us build a fire and cook some awesome steak fajitas. You all got to make your fajitas and then we put them on the fire to cook. We also got to swim in the lake! We played a couple rounds of freeze dance and ended the night with some yummy s'mores and s'mores quesadillas! It was a great night.

Remember Arletta's last night of camp? Everyone got into their beds and then your counselors woke you up and we went on a secret mission. Remember don't tell anyone what we did! Remember the Color Run? We ran around camp in white shirts and the Saxons and Scribes threw different colors all over us! The run ended with a beach party where we got all of the colored chalk out of our hair! Remember all camp capture the flag! Keegan got our team a point and ran the flag over the line!

Remember Halloween in July? We all dressed up in our costumes! You guys put hair chalk EVERYWHERE and looked so good! There was even a two headed person. We spent the afternoon doing a parade around camp and showing off our costumes! Then we went trick-or-treating around camp. We stopped at the Waterfront, Siberia, the Infirm, the craft shack, and Wendy, Peter, and Rick's house. You all ate so much candy!

SCOUTS

Remember when Green & White broke? We were sitting in the barn watching a video for Chuck's 55th when David Dobrik came on the screen and broke color war! We ran to the soccer field where we watched incredible fireworks that lit up the night sky. We went back to the barn and the six captains names' were read. We found out that Green & White would only be four days this summer. We fought hard for four long days on the mighty White Galaxy (yaya) and the great Green Demons. You guys kept the intensity and competition going for the entire war, but never forgot that we are all Scouts and love each other no matter what! Although, white won the war, we all still had so much fun! We spent the next day eating donuts and hanging out on my bed at the waterfront, happy to be a group again!

Remember the last few days of camp? We had GL swap day where Mikey Brockmann and Sam Jonas were your group leaders for the afternoon! They had so much fun with you and even gave you candy canteen. The next day we all woke up early to go fishing! I was soooo impressed by how many fish you caught and slightly disgusted by how much you liked playing with the worms. We spent the afternoon doing evening activities! First, we went swimming at Woody's cottage where some ducks paid us a visit. Next, we had two intense games of camper hunt and we ended the afternoon with a backwards scavenger hunt. That night was our last evening activity. We washed so many cars and they got so clean! Maybe you should come to California and clean my car! Later that night, you were awoken with m&m pizza on the porch of our bunk. A nice late night snack!

Remember when Lily wasn't being a shark, Hazel wasn't eating all of the ketchup in the world, Sloane wasn't a vampire, Violet wasn't tripping over everything, Keegan wasn't sweeping, Nellie wasn't in a onesie, Arletta wasn't coloring, Neve didn't know everything about sharks…Tessa wasn't making skits, Phoebe wasn't late for benches, and Eva wasn't brushing her hair…WE DON'T!

Remember when…we always played Pikachu, we did the toothbrush song and you requested The Duck Song every night and the beetles around camp were everyone's best friends! Thank you for making this an amazing summer! Keep in touch with each other. I can't wait to see you continue to have more and more amazing times in The Realm. I will always have so much love for my Scouts!

Arletta Curran – Your kindness and positivity brought so much life to the group. I wish you got to stay longer, so I could watch this continue throughout the rest of the summer! I loved getting to know you. Seeing how much you already appreciate and understand this special place warms my heart. I know that you will be back for many more summers.

Tessa Hoglund – Your past camp experience allowed you to be very welcoming and helpful with all of the new campers! You always make sure that everyone around you is feeling loved and included. I appreciate your fun-loving energy and creative nature. It is so clear that camp holds a special place in your heart. I can't wait to watch your love for camp grow over the years!

Hazel Lipman – I loved watching you spend time with your brothers! You have such a special place in this group. I had a blast getting to know you and your contagious energy brought life to the group. With everything you do, you never fail to put a smile on my face. Remember to appreciate the time you have here!

Violet Lipman – You are so silly! From picking up beetles to just laughing out of nowhere, you are always having a good time! I love spending time with you and hearing your crazy stories. You could always put a smile on my face. You understand camp, which is the most special thing to see. Never lose this love for camp and your friends.

Neve Murphy – I am so happy that you came to camp this summer. You make everything so fun and silly. I loved watching you be a little fish in the lake and improve to yellow, so you could jump off the tower for hours on end! You amazed me with your knowledge, even at such a young age. Keep coming back and maintaining your fun loving, energetic nature!

Lily Nickerson – Lily shark! Your energy was infectious and was a great addition to the group. You are so sweet and caring and you never complained. There was always a smile on your face with everything we did. I loved every second I spent with you this summer. You're so lucky that you get to share this place with your sister for years and years.

Nellie Oliver – You are a star on and off the field and court. You are so silly, but also know when it is time to be caring and more serious. I loved every second I got to spend with you. You understand camp and your love for this place is already evident. I can't wait to watch your love for camp grow and to see the amazing person you become.

Eva Perrin – You've got the sassiest, best dance moves and an amazing personality. You have such a special place in this group. You instantly made your mark on camp and had so much fun. With everything you do your fun personality never fails to bring a smile to our faces. Your love for camp and everyone in the Scouts is so evident and makes me so happy! Keep being yourself!

Phoebe Plouffe – Phoebs! So happy you finally gave me a hug this summer. I never knew where your area stopped and Violet and Tessa's started. I loved hanging out and laughing with you. Your camp knowledge helped everyone get adjusted to camp quickly. Keep loving camp and keep appreciating the little things about this place! Take advantage of sharing camp with so much family – that is so special!

Keegan Shepard – I don't think your hat left your head all summer! I enjoyed seeing you get into activities. Even during free time, you went out of your way to play basketball and go to riflery. You were a little ball of energy and smiles. You killed it all summer! You have an adventurous personality and mindset. Keep being yourself and continue keeping everyone on their toes.

Sloane Susman – Sloaney Sloane! You know exactly how to put a smile on my face and make a room erupt with laughter. You are such a natural leader and your maturity impressed me all summer long. Your enthusiasm and positive nature has a big impact on the attitude of the rest of the group. Watching you this summer has made me so proud. I can really see how much you get camp even at such a young age.

Second Ever Scout Staff

How did I get so lucky! I can't say it enough, but you guys are amazing. I would not have made it through this summer without your constant support and our incessant laughter. We worked so well together. You all are incredible and I can't wait to watch you continue to thrive as counselors in the future. Love you lots!

To The Scouts

(Scribes of 2028, 2029 and 2030)

I am the luckiest person to have spent the last five weeks getting to know you amazing girlies! I love you all with my whole heart. You are so wild and fun! I enjoyed every second I spent with you this summer. Always remember that each of you brings something special to this group and camp. Your energy is infectious and love for camp is already evident. Make sure you take in every moment you have in The Realm. Before you know it, you will be Scribes!

Tumblers Tumblers off the Chain

PUT DOWN THE FRIENDSHIP BRACELETS, PUT ON SOME HAND SANITIZER AND GET READY TO RELIVE THE MOST AMAZING SUMMER OF YOUR LIVES.

Lets take it all the way back to July 11th when 10 extremely energetic and excited girls arrived at the best place on earth, some for the first time and some for the second. The day everyone arrived, the magic was all the same and I could see it in all of your faces. Remember that feeling of driving under the Robin Hood sign for the first time? Smiling from ear to ear we waited for our group to arrive one by one eventually ending with Mackenzie and our little summer family was complete. That night we went on a treasure hunt around camp. We visited the office, the barn and of course the stables to visit the horses. We circled back to the bunk and had our first circle time with some Hershey kisses of course. We all sat down together to discuss our goals and expectations and created rules that we all signed onto and agreed upon. It was a perfect way to end our first day. Little did we know that that night was only the beginning to a truly off the chain summer?

After days of fun activities, we received the news that everyone was covid free and we could take our masks off and hug each other after five days of living in our separate cohorts. This was truly one of the most iconic days in camp history. To celebrate, we had the legendary and festive 4th of Ju-Seventeenth. Although a little chilly, we had the best day and made the absolute most out of it. We went from a beach party to the inflatables to the marriage booth to so much fun in between. At the end of the night we had a delicious feast with carnival food. I am personally a big fan of the fried dough, but everyone had their favorites.

Remember the color run? All of you ran so fast I could not keep up with you. After cooling off in the lake we had to get ready for so you think you can dance. I will say it over and over, our Avatar dance was a showstopper and you guys absolutely killed it. Huge water bender gal myself.

Remember on camp beach day? We had so many fun activities. The day started out with an insane game of gold rush. Picking up rocks and climbing under bunks you guys scored big time. After lunch, in our matching blue shirts, we went from station to station and had a blast at every single one. From drawing chalk to sr waterfront to stuffing our faces with slushies and candy at the boardwalk, Ossipee beach day was one to beat.

Remember our ice cream party in the rink? It was the perfect way to say goodbye to the 3 weekers. We tricked you guys into going to the rink only to find ice cream for you to enjoy. We all went around and said our favorite memory of camp so far. This was the night that I saw all of your love for camp. To hear you talk about camp the way I have for the last 11 years was truly a magical experience and I couldn't have been happier that you all felt the love.

To kick off the second part of the summer, we celebrated Halloween in august. We all dressed up as super heroes and ate soooo much candy. Such a fun day!

After days of anticipation, Green & White finally broke with David Dobrik and fireworks on the far far field. The next day we chose Lexi and Kyra to lead their teams in an amazing war. After a hot and tiring war, the White Galaxy came out on top with the Green Demons right behind them in the fight. I was so proud of each and every one of you. From swim meet to talent show to song night to everything else, every single person gave it their all and put up some very good fights. I can't wait to sing these color war songs together for the rest of our lives. Some of the best four days ever.

Remember when I woke you up in the middle of the night to eat m&m pizza, an important girls camp tradition that I was so happy to show you all? You all looked so confused but after you realized what was happening you all ran to the porch to find your paper plate awards. So glad we got to wear them the next day.

Remember when Lexi wasn't killing it at every sport, Emma didn't have a smile on her face, and Evie wasn't singing or dancing? Remember when Kyra wasn't asking questions, Lilly was in bed, and Mackenzie didn't have a bug in her bed? Remember when Fairfax wasn't doing a tiktok dance, Marin wasn't happy, and Eva wasn't making bracelets...WE DON'T!

TUMBLERS

Mackenzie Berger – You have camp written all over you. Your positivity and smile brightened up my day and I can't wait to see you thrive. Remember; don't let the little things get to you. time goes by so fast here and you must savor all of it. Before you know it you will be leading girls camp one day and I can't wait to see it.

Kyra Jelin – You are just hilarious. Your positive and vibrant personality was contagious and I can't wait to see you thrive in years to come. You're such a good friend and I know you will always be there. You are 100% a camp person and I am excited for everyone to experience that. Keep coming back! You won't regret it!

Evie LaRose – I am so proud of the way you carried yourself this summer. I can't remember a single time where you didn't have a smile on your face or you weren't laughing with your friends. You must keep coming back; camp needs more happy and positive people like you! I miss your cute dance moves and beautiful singing voice.

Emma Nickerson – I can always count on you to make me and all of your friends laugh. It won't be the same without your random and constant giggling. Your smile is infectious and you are always there for your friends no matter what the circumstance. I was ecstatic that you decided to stay longer than three weeks and I hope you come back for many years to come.

Chloe Pirok – It was great to see you shine in your favorite activities and to see your true athleticism show during Green & White. Jamming with you to Queen was amazing… I've never met a 9 year old with such an advanced music taste. You are so intelligent and wise and I can't wait to see how you continue to grow at camp!

Lexi Strauss – If I could use one word to describe you, it would be a leader. You always knew what to do in every situation and I can't wait to see you grow up over the next few years. You are always there for your friends and always know how to have the best time. Your positivity rarely wavered and I really appreciated that. Ill miss my Broadway and Disney sing along buddy.

Eva Thakarar – You are just the sweetest. Your happiness radiates to the entire group and I am so happy I got to experience that. You always bring a smile to my face and I miss seeing you make bracelets at every activity. I've said it a million times but please keep coming back! I can't wait to see you thrive! I miss you so much!

Marin Thoma – You are honestly just so cool. Whether we were in the fields, in the lake, or in the bunk, you always had a smile on your face. You make everyone around you so happy and you are such an integral part of the group. I'm so excited you stayed for Green & White and felt the magic. Keep coming back. Camp needs people like you.

Lilly Thompson – You are a star. I don't think there was ever a time where you didn't have a smile on your face. You are always so funny and positive and we were extremely lucky to have you as a camper. Everyone loves you and you're just an amazing friend. I can't wait to watch you thrive as you take The Realm by storm. Also please get into bed lillerz!

Fairfax Walker – FAIRF! You were just clearly the comedian of the group. Everything you did was so hilarious and I could always count on you to put a smile on my face. Watching you do random tiktok dances throughout the day was insane and I am excited to see you grow up. The important thing is not to waste a second at camp. You are meant to be here.

To my staff

I don't know how I would have been able to function this summer without you. We went through a lot together, I'm not going to go into details but I'm sure you can all reminisce on your own time. You guys gave me the best summer of my life and I can't thank you enough for it. I know we will be best friends for a long time and you all had such a huge impact on my life. Love you all so much!

Thank you all for giving your staff and me the best summer of our lives. I will forever be grateful for you guys. You are all so unique and different, but when put together, you are an unstoppable force. My biggest piece of advice for all of you is to stop letting the little things bring you down, because in the end you are all at the most special place in the world filled with so much magic, people wouldn't even believe it.

I love each and every one of you so much! Keep being your perfect little selves!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY JUSTICE!

HEY JESTERS…JEST PARTY

Stop popping pimples, turn off "Good Morning Baltimore", put down your string, pause Disney+, and jest party as we relive the best summer ever –

JESTERS 2020

Remember opening day we were so excited picking everyone up at the tents and starting our summer. We had s'mores on the beach, watched the sunset over the lake, and learned fun facts about all 17 Jesters and your 6 counselors. For five days everyone in camp wore their masks, so we could create an air-tight bubble of safety. This didn't stop us from an incredible first week filled with backward scavs, hilarious lip syncs, camper hunt, and of course dog show. Remember when got to have Cozy because we had one of the cleanest bunks in camp (although that didn't last very long). We stayed in our cohorts and on our sides and all did the work to make it safe for everyone. Each and every one of you girls were troopers through getting the COVID tests and wearing your masks. Remember one of the best moments of the summer when Arash announced we were COVID free and everyone threw up their masks. The bubble was officially born, and we continued to make more and more memories.

Remember when…We weren't at gaga or crafts? We weren't begging for more sweets? All our fingers weren't hurt? Remember when…We did more than one perfect count off in a row? We were on time to benches?

Remember when…Josie wasn't making everyone laugh? Agnes didn't love dogs? Boe wasn't dancing to savage? Lila wasn't telling a story? Lexi wasn't jumping on people's backs? Sloan G wasn't making everyone smile? Caroline was calm? Cybele wasn't a beast swimmer? Lyla wasn't hugging everyone? Allie wasn't giggling? Sammy wasn't singing? Sloan S wasn't helping out? Alia wasn't reading? Ava wasn't dancing? Dylan wasn't a great friend? Sasha wasn't asking questions? Natalie didn't love watermelon?

WE DON'T!

GLs: Rosie Rothschild + Sadie Jacobson

Remember the 4th of Ju-seventeenth when we played Hamilton "Non-Stop" throughout the day. We had our beach party, carnival, inflatables, casino night, and of course the marriage booth. Luckily, Lexi's highlighter didn't stain her face. Then, that night, your staff went on stage and made complete fools of ourselves. Remember when we made up for "the party we missed" and all got to support Alia as she crossed the stage and graduated elementary school. DJ Wood also gave us one of the best dance parties of the summer.

Remember for Boe's 10th birthday, we walked around camp blindfolded and ended up at the waterfront with breakfast and CHURROS! We had an amazing day full of Mini Green & White, pontoon boat rides, cookie cake, and hunger games.

Remember for So You Think You Can Dance, we performed Revenge Party – Glen Coco Glen Coco Glen Coco. Everyone did an incredible job, and then we celebrated Boe's birthday (part 2) with M&M pizza in the rink. The stars were perfect and we ran off a lot of energy from the food and candy in the perfect setting.

Although we couldn't leave the bubble, remember Beach Day Lake Ossipee edition was still one of the best days of the summer. We found a lot of treasure in the morning during the gold rush and cashed in all of it at the boardwalk in the afternoon. Unlimited Briaritas, ice cream, snap bracelets, and adorable animal keychains were just a few of the boardwalk highlights. We relaxed on the beach and swam in the water, but this year the water was warm!

Remember when we challenged the Squires to an intense game of gaga, and ended up on top with Lexi leading us to victory. After, the Jesters and Squires worked as a team to defeat all of the counselors, and we ended the night at the office gorging on candy canteen. The food and sweets continued when we spent our in camp excursion at the New ODT, where your counselors channeled their inner chefs.

We ate nachos, guacamole, chicken fajitas, and s'mores and couldn't stop laughing at each group's paper bag skit. Sadly, we had to say goodbye to Boe, but the last 2 weeks of the summer were full of activities and memories. We celebrated Halloween, played all-camp capture the flag and counselor hunt, and ate our Monday Sundays.

Remember on Founder's Night we celebrated Chuck's 55th along with everyone else who was celebrating a benchmark year at camp. Camp alumni, including some of your family members, Zoomed in and shared their favorite memories of Chuck. The end of the video was the most exciting part when Natalie and David Dobrik broke Green & White. The firework show was as incredible as the four day war. With Lexi and Caroline leading the great Green Demons and Ava and Sammy leading the mighty White Galaxy, the Jesters fought with integrity and intensity. We were so impressed with the way everyone worked their hardest with great sportsmanship from the bean pick through song night. The Galaxy ended up on top, but it was well fought by both sides.

Remember the last few days ending on a high and filled with dance parties, "Shake and Pop", candy, positivity, and all-around fun. Remember GL swap day when Ricky and Ty took over the Jesters. We really missed you the whole afternoon and were so happy to be back with you girls for cookie decorating! Remember when we had a fashion show with a catwalk right off of the tower. Your outfits were perfect, but your acting was even better. We all went to bed until the counselors got a little bit hungry, and we had a super secret adventure full of sugar. Remember ending our last night with paper plate awards, McDonald's, The Princess Diaries, and of course, our time capsule. We'll let you know where it is in 2026.

JESTERS

Caroline Callahan – You are such a spunky girl! You know how to make everyone around you smile with your silly and positive attitude. You fit perfectly into this group and always can be counted on to keep things interesting. This summer it was clear that you stepped up as a leader who could always be counted on to include everyone.

Sloane Ginocchio – Your sweet nature and happy personality never fails to make us smile. I don't think I heard you complain once this summer, and you always made the most of everything we did as a group. Thank you for being the incredible girl that you are.

Natalie Lefberg – Your smile draws people in the group to you. Your crazy, energetic attitude brings so much fun to the group, and it's clear that you are a great friend. Never stop loving watermelon or finding the best out of every situation.

Ava Lowe – You meshed perfectly with this group of girls and emerged as a true leader throughout the summer. It is clear how much you care about supporting your friends and including each person in the group. Please keep coming back because this place needs you.

Alia Meyerovich – It is clear that this group is where you really belong. We enjoyed getting to know your witty, sweet personality, and we're glad you found your long lost cousin. Thanks for always keeping things interesting.

Dylan Oakley – We are constantly impressed by your ability to balance your maturity with your sense of goofiness. Your giggle could truly make anyone smile, and your willingness to jump into any situation made being your counselor a pleasure. You hold an important place in this group.

Boe Pettit – You are kind to everyone in the group while bringing so much energy and excitement. You have an ability to get along with everyone and brighten each and every room you walk into. We can already tell that this is your place, so please keep coming back – hopefully for even longer next year.

Cybele Pirok – It was amazing to watch you grow throughout the summer and become friends with so many different girls. You always keep a level head and are honest with your counselors, and we really appreciate that. We will never understand how you are able to swim so quickly or run so fast.

Sasha Radvinsky – Your enthusiasm and laugh are contagious and always lighten the mood of the whole group. We were so impressed by your dedication to improving your swimming skills and proud to see you succeeded. Never forget that when you put your mind to something, you can achieve anything.

JESTERS

Agnes Rales – You have a quiet confidence that really shined through this summer. Although it took a few days for you to open up, you have become a huge presence in this group. Keep coming back. I know Ossipee, Bella, and Wally already miss you.

Allie Rosenberg – You bring so much energy to everything you do and seeing you giggle always makes us smile. People naturally gravitate toward you, and with that comes a lot of responsibility. I can't wait to watch you grow up in The Realm and continue to emerge as a positive force in both the Jesters and girls' camp.

Lila Rosenberg – You are hilarious and so kind to every group member. Every moment we spend with you, we can't stop laughing or smiling. Your positive and uplifting attitude made everyday so much fun! You are such a valuable member of this group, and we know one day you will be a true leader of The Realm.

Josie Rosenfeld – You are one of the funniest girls we've ever met. We sometimes wondered if you wrote down jokes in the morning and planned what time you would deliver them. Either way, you definitely kept the jesters laughing out loud all summer long while being a great friend. Never forget how special you are.

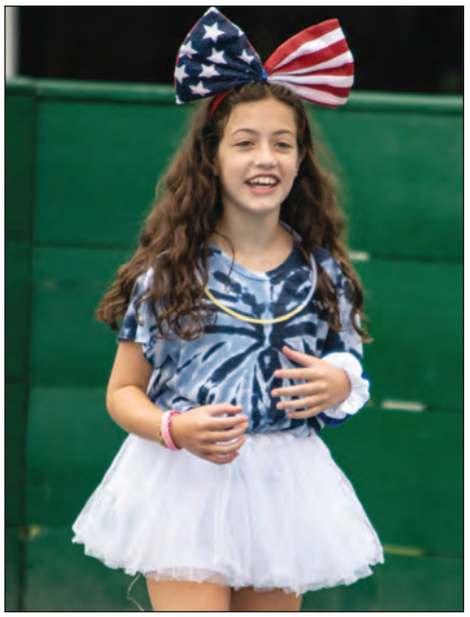

Sloane Singerman – We really admire how you care about each camper and counselor in the group. It is clear you want the best for everyone and are always willing to lend a helping hand. Keep coming back because this will be your happy place forever.

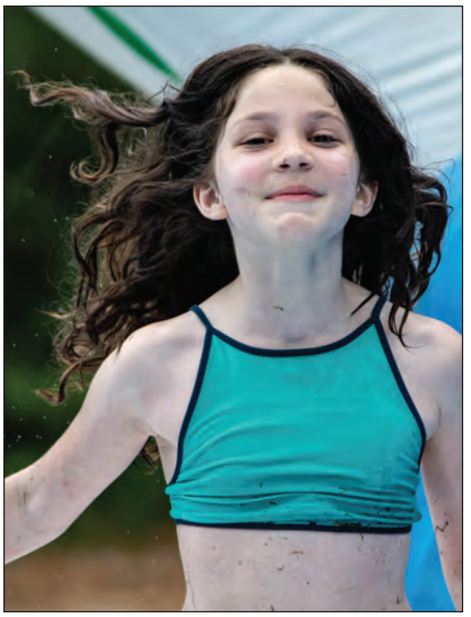

Lyla Solomon – You are an incredible friend and it is so evident that you care about each and every person in the group. We love your hugs and how kind you are to your counselors and your friends. This group needs and appreciates your presence.

Sammy Steinlauf – You could run camp with your eyes closed. You understand this place at the age of 10 better than most people ever will and are an integral part of the Jesters. Somehow you are good at pretty much anything you try from archery to singing but always remain humble, which is a rare quality to have.

Lexi Zweibel – You somehow are able to balance your crazy personality with being a kindhearted leader. Never stop jumping on people's backs or screaming at the top of your lungs for your team. We cannot wait to see you grow up and one day become a scribe and counselor.

Paige, Maggie, Julia, and Rachel – We could not have asked for a better staff this summer. All of you are such incredible people and counselors, and we're so grateful to have spent the summer with you. The kids loved all of you, and this summer would not have been possible without all of your hard work. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

JESTERS 2020

Thank you all for the best summer ever. We loved being your counselors and can't wait to see you take over The Realm next year as Bows 2021 and one day as –

SCRIBES 2026

ELLOOO LOVES!

Put down your phones, close TikTok, and stop watching the Sway boys because it's time to relive the best summer of our lives!

BOW, BOW, BOW, WHAT'S NEXT?!

Remember when camp opened during a world pandemic, but we were safe in our bubble?! Remember our dance party in the dining hall tent after masks came off, of course, we all shed some happy tears. We continued our dance party maskless in the rain and attempted a 15 person group pyramid. Let's just say it was unsuccessful but we had lots of fun. Then just around the corner came the 4th of Ju-seventeeth, where we wore the best fourth of July outfits and got candy canteen! We had s'mores at the ODT where we learned random funny facts about each other and then had our first Brittnay Snow theme day!

Remember Lila Solomon in the squire dodgeball challenge. Let's just say she got tagged…Remember when Brooke flew 5 ft in the air on the tube and stayed on and landed. Or when Esme and Scarlett left their mark on the far far during back scav? And who won the dance battle against squires in the rink? Of course, the bows took that win. And we can't forget Eliana's dinosaur costumes and all the fun that was had in them. Remember when the whole group spoke in British accents the whole summer even during our workouts. Bows are royalty! Remember our kid's TV show trap remix dance for the talent show. Even though you guys can't bop up and down…It's fine. We're fine. I guess you guys still killed it. Including Brooke crawling across all of your backs. And a world pandemic can't stop Robin Hood from having beach day. We had lots of time to swim and plenty of Briar-itas from the slushy truck! We finished the day off with High School Musical in the barn – a classic. Alex and I can't forget getting woken up every morning by you crazies jumping on to our beds, but we do love the cuddles. We also had tons of fun getting color thrown and splattered on to us during the color run. We can't forget the movie we watched in the bunk and Sloane and Izzy finessing candy canteen for us:) We continued our theme day saga with Marj Kozloff day in our "rompers"! You all looked amazing in your one colored outfits. Speaking of looking amazing – remember how good you guys looked walking across the stage at your 5th grade graduation! No excursion, no problem, we got to do Snapple caps and dinner at the new ODT. We had yummy fajitas and s'mores and maybe next year Alex and I will be trips staff! We continued our "excursion" when we had some bathroom technical difficulties so we brushed our teeth at the water dispensers…BOW BOW WHATS NEXT

This summer we had food galore with yummy treats and snacks all the time! We woke you guys up with M&M pizza and you all almost cried. You were so surprised. Glad you all got to taste our favorite camp tradition. Of course we munched on some cookie cake for Adelaide's birthday too! Never forgetting the lives Scarlett and Eliana created for themselves along with the accents during the marriage game. Remember when Jazzy slept walked… Ratner does. Then David Dobrik and Natalie Mariduena broke Green & White! Interrupted Chuck's 55th summer celebration but we still were all so excited! There were many many tears, happy ones of course. Then we woke up at 7 am to start day one!! During the middle of Green & White hurricane Isaias hit but didn't stop our war but it did take out our power. But you guys still continued to learn songs and dances in the dark and all killed it in the talent show! When it was all over, lazy day consisted of donuts, Victorious, and a massage train at the ODT. The last few days were jam-packed! We had GL swap, of course, you guys ended up loving Landsports. Told you he's not scary! Thanks to Fifi we got the cutest Bow apparel there ever was. One of our last EAs was listening to the scribe speeches. This night reminds us never to waste a moment at camp because it is these summers you will cherish forever.

BOWS

Catie Carnoy – You bring high energy and spirit to the group that we saw flourish throughout the summer. From your killer dance moves to your artsy tapestry and lights, you really embraced camp and what it is all about.

Brooke Dery – Great things come in small packages and that is you! You start and finish the day with a huge smile on your face. You are a huge part of the group and everyone looks up to you especially because you put 100% into everything you do. We know you'll keep killin' it and we can't wait to see the things you'll accomplish in your camper career.

Caroline Desoe – this summer you really branched out and broke out of your shell. You have a huge personality that shined this year and we hope next year you stay longer because camp needs you and you need camp!

Jessie Heller – Since the first day of camp you have been welcoming and inclusive. You helped new campers make the transition with ease which is really special. From sports to crafts to dancing you have thrived in all camp aspects and we can't wait to continue to watch you grow.

Sadie Kreindler – Since day one you have always been positive and helpful in and out of the bunk with a huge smile on your face. Your confident and competitive spirit has allowed you to grow in all activities. You're a big part of this group and we hope you never change.

Esme Leichting – You always have something to say and are able to lift the group's spirits with ease. Your high energy shines through in all you do, especially when you're the first face we see hovering over us at 7:59 am. We can't wait to see what else your camper career has in store for you!

Scarlett Brez – read this in a British accent We are so happy you decided to take a leap of faith and come to a new camp this summer because you clicked with the group right away. You are a natural leader but at the same time are silly and fun. The perfect combo! We hope you come back next summer and years to come because your camp journey has just begun.

Alexandra London-Grant – We are extremely proud of the things you have accomplished this summer. You are one of the friendliest people we have ever met and your bubbly personality adds something unique to the group. You always hype everyone up and it makes everyone feel good to be around you. Whether at camp or not, you know we will always be there for you and we hope the magic in the trees stays with you forever.

Eliana Mehta – You are hilarious. You are outgoing, funny and the wokest 11-year-old we've ever met. You are a key part of this group and camp needs more people like you to keep the traditions and magic alive. Keep coming back!

Fiona Mereu – You came into camp with a smile on your face even though you just missed lunch. From then on, we have loved your mature and fun attitude. Camp is the perfect place to be a confident kid and that is exactly what you did. Keep coming back because camp loves you.

Lila Ratner – Your goofiness and knowledge of camp make you a very important and special part of this group. It is evident how much you love camp, and how much your love for it will continue to grow during your camp experience. Camp will always be here for you so never stop coming back.

Lila Solomon – You're the sweetest girl on camp. Everything you do is for the good of others but you also know how to have a good time. Your confidence has allowed you to branch out, try new things and become a really important part of the group. We loved having you this year and can't wait to watch you grow in years to come because Robin Hood is your home.

Adelaide Swartz – You are really starting to understand what makes camp special. You are a kind person and a good friend. Keep coming back to form indescribable bonds. We are so proud you stepped out of your comfort zone in all activities and more. The group needs more people like you.

Emery Thompson – We're so proud of how much you've grown this summer. We were so sad you couldn't stay longer but we really saw you connect with the girls and find your place in the group. Were so glad camp finally brought out your confident silly side. Camp is your place to grow and shine so keep coming back!

Carly Zolot – You're the glue that helps the group stick together. You are funny, crazy but also respectful and polite. You are always putting in effort to make you and the group better as a whole. Camp is your place and we hope that never changes. Love you.

Staff – Since day one, you all created such close relationships with the Bows and staff. Plus, everyone was always ready and willing to do work which is helpful to a GL and shows amazing character. Everyone killed it and can't wait to see what camp brings you next. It was the best summer and one we will never forget.

LOVE YOU!

BOWS

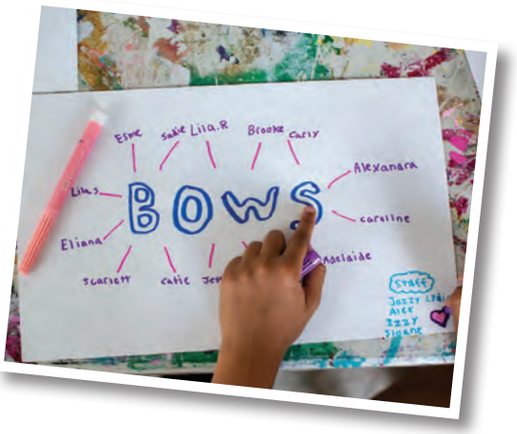

BOW, BOW, BOW, WHAT'S NEXT?!

Bows, we cannot thank you enough for giving us the best summer ever. We will never forget the fun we had as CO group leaders for you guys. You really made us remember what it is to be 11 and we can't wait to stay in touch and see you all next summer!

Whuddup Quillssss!!!!!

Remember (after getting several sticks up our noses) when we all arrived for opening day? We hit all our favorite activities and then had some intense rounds of mafia in the dining tent. How about our very first evening activity where we played camp bingo and came up with our creative cohort names: "besekesemar" and "niners."

After six days of masks, cohorts, and a few more sticks up the nose, who remembers the iconic breakfast when Arash announced we were 100% negative?! We had the best hugs ever followed by an epic dance party in the tent. Just when we thought the day couldn't get any better, we celebrated 4th of JU-SEVENTEENTH! We stormed camp decked out in red, white, and blue ready to rock the day. We got some crazy face paint, played some poker, and ate a tad too much sugar. It was okay though because then we topped it all off with fried dough for dessert!

Who remembers watching Parasite in the lodge?…SIKE!!! Too bad the projector wasn't working so you all had to run down to the waterfront for PJ JUMP instead! What a great

It's time to get off tiktok, stop whipping your soy butter, and get ready to relive the most bomb, lit, fire, amazing, dope, hype, crazy, out of this world summer.

Fever, chills, cough, fatigue, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, headache, muscle or body aches, sore throat, new loss of taste or smell, congestion, runny nose, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea? DIDN'T THINK SO!

night. Between your ridiculous (and painful) jumps off the tower, to your hilarious diving competition, I think we can all agree we'll never forget that night.

Remember graduation? We got to watch our friends receive their diplomas which was awesome, butttt more importantly we had an epic dance party led by camp's finest: DJ Wood. It was super sweaty but I think we can all agree it was worth it.

Remember Moucha's birthday? We were abruptly woken up at 7:30am and sprinted to the homerun diamond for some early morning gaga and a delicious breakfast in the rink. We dressed up in "rompers" for the big day and had some bomb cookie cake after dinner. Maybe cookie cake right before camper hunt wasn't the brightest idea for our stomachs…we survived though!

Just when we thought COVID was gonna hold us back from our favorite tradition, we proved it wrong and threw our very own BEACH DAY! We got to swim in both waterfront and senior waterfront, along with great music for a beach party. Then we got to walk the "boardwalk" and had candy, snacks, ice cream, and of course the kid-friendly margaritas (which were fire). We wrapped up our beach day like we always do with a cookout on the beach. To top off the night we watched High School Musical with all of girls camp. Who needs Ogunquit anyway, am I right?

Remember when we woke you guys up out of your deep slumber at 11:00 blasting "Wake Up America" by Miley Cyrus. You were all so confused, and then we gave you late night pizza (with m&m's of course – the girls camp way). That was our last night with Alexa, and I couldn't think of a better way to spend it.

How about So You Think You Can Dance? After many days and activity periods of hard work and practice, you all proved that you guys are, indeed, 2 Legit 2 Quit. You guys shined on the stage like no other and absolutely stole the show. Due to some technical difficulties, one time was just not enough, so we performed AGAIN! What a night for the quills, you guys really strutted your stuff out there.

How about Green & White? Remember when we sat in a circle on the porch anxiously making our break predictions. We were all a little suspicious when Founder's Night was pushed back, but I think the break exceeded all our expectations. Once David Dobrik got on the screen we knew it was legit, and we sprinted the soccer fields with some of the craziest fireworks I've ever seen. What a night! We woke up and picked our captains and co's (with most honorable Evin Rothschild). Katherine, Ellie, Liv, and Clarisse all did such a great job leading the group during the war between the Great Green Demons and Mighty White Galaxy. After all the fun and intensity, it felt so good to come back together as one big happy family on Lazy Day. Not to mention, we owned The Realm in our dope new quill t-shirts.

Remember spending GL swap day with Adelman? ou gave him a nice new hair-do and made some great memories. I was ready to come to you guys at the end of the day though. How about Schmitty's birthday? We woke you up with loud music at 7:30am and made you all sprint down to the waterfront. I couldn't think of a better way to spend our last morning together than pajama jumping. We had an amazing morning schedule with waterfront and crafts, followed by some fire cookie cake at lunch. How about our high-school-stereo-type theme day and we all dressed as jocks, nerds, cheerleaders, goth, and so many more. You guys killed that and we had some pretty funny new couples in the group.

How about our final dinner, when we got to have flagpole and ate in the real dining hall. It felt so good and surreal to be in there again. We had a classic camp cheer battle (obvi the girls were louder than the boys) and we had your favvvvorite meal: uterus chicken. After awards night we made a megabed on the porch with all our mattresses and had a movie marathon! From She's The Man, to Kissing Booth 2, you guys managed to stay up all night – thanks for not wasting a minute;). To top off the night, we got a massive McDonalds order delivered right to our door and we all had nugs and fries. I couldn't have imagined a better way to spend our last night.

Remember when…Sofia wasn't singing Hamilton? When Bella wasn't trying to catch a fish for candy? When Sabrina wasn't wearing something with cats on it? Alex wasn't reading someone's aura? Addie wasn't dominating on the field? Alexa wasn't crushing every sport?.Ellie wasn't a camp expert? When Riley wasn't doing a tiktok dance? When Ali wasn't screaming about a bug? When Liv wasn't being the group mom?.When Clarisse's toe wasn't in pain? When Maya sang the correct lyrics? When Schmidt's area was messy? When Reagan wasn't being the shower czar? When Clara wasn't giving massages…? WE DON'T!

Sofia Bea – Coming into a new group of girls at this age is not easy, and you did it better than anyone. You quickly came out of your shell and brought such an amazing energy to the group. You truly are a camp person and I hope you keep coming back forever.

Bella Biondo – Could The Realm have a crazier gal? I think not. From the moment you arrived you brought such a great energy to the group that is absolutely unmatched. You know how to put a smile on anyone's face and you truly light up a room. You thrive here and I can't wait to see what the future at camp has in store for you.

Sabrina Bruder – You came to camp completely unsure of what to expect and you've had an array of experiences to give you a sense of what life here at The Realm is like. You are the spunkiest member of this group! From your style, to the way you do things, you are always your authentic self 100% of the time. I admire that so much about you and I know your groupmates do as well.

Alex D'Alessio – Where do I even begin? You seriously are one of the coolest people I know – despite the fact that you can literally read my mind. Your confidence and maturity is so admirable and really plays an integral role in the group. Never stop coming back to camp because you truly thrive here. I can't wait to watch you grow up.

Addie Dorfman – My oh my, what a summer you had! Coming into a new group of girls is never easy, nonetheless coming from another camp. You truly did it like a champ. I have the utmost respect for you for taking a risk like that, and transitioning so smoothly. You are a camp person through and through and I loved watching you thrive here, whether it be on the fields or in the bunk. Thank you for being so great this summer!

Alexa Heller – Could you be more athletic? You walk into every activity ready to make the best of every minute and I admire that so much about you. You are such a great friend to every groupmate and watching you grow up from Jester summer to now has been amazing. Never stop coming back, this place is meant for you.

Ellie Hoglund – Hogieeee. You are camp – there is no other way to put it. You and Robin Hood go way back and your passion for camp shows every day. I see so much of myself in you, it scares me at times. I don't have to tell you to keep coming back because I know you're meant to be here for the rest of your life. Thanks for being such an amazing leader, camper, and friend to all your groupmates.

Riley Klasfeld – Wait, was this your first summer? You entered camp with so much spirit and excitement that I knew you would fit in instantly. Being the very first camper to arrive must have been a little scary, but you handled it like a champ. I'm so glad you made the choice to come here. You are funny, kind, caring, and truly know what it means to be part of a group. I hope you keep returning for years to come.

Ali Lerner – Your positivity and enthusiasm has such a big impact on this group. You know how to put a smile on anyone's face and you always have the best attitude. Believe it or not, I will miss you being the last one on benches every day. I can't wait to watch you thrive for years to come.

Liv Lerner – My Livitaaa! Watching you grow up from Jester summer to now has been amazing. You bring a sense of kindness and maturity that is so essential to the group. Your peers all look up to you. From your spotless area, to your constant positivity, you are a camp person in every way. Never stop coming back.

Clarisse Moucha – I truly mean it when I say – you are one of a kind. Your sense of humor is unlike any other, and you always know how to put a smile on everyone's face. You are crazy! Never stop being your authentic self because you are such a unique, amazing person. Thanks for being an awesome camper and an even better friend.

Maya Rosenberg – Oh Maya, where to begin with you! You are such an amazing camper, through and through. Your consistent positive attitude is so appreciated by everyone around you. You are hilarious and always know how to make me laugh, no matter what mood I'm in. Keep coming back because this place is meant for you.

Katherine Schmidt – Schmidtyyy, my angel. You are so mature, sometimes I feel like you're my own age. You are such a genuine, kind person. Whether it be getting on benches, cleaning your area, or just hanging out with your friends, you always do the right thing. I promise it doesn't go unnoticed. You are an amazing friend, camper, and leader in this group. Never stop coming back.

Reagan Van Horn – You came into this summer unsure of what to expect, and from the moment you arrived you had full confidence, energy, and enthusiasm. You are always 100% your authentic self and I admire that so much about you. Whether it be on the fields or in the bunk, you thrive here. Camp is amazing for you and I hope you keep coming back.

Clara Yager – Coming from a different camp is not easy, but you did it with such ease and I couldn't be more proud. Watching you come out of your shell in the first few days, I knew you'd be a perfect fit. I'm so glad you made the decision to extend to five weeks because you absolutely killed it! I hope you keep coming back for years to come.

My Staff

I can't imagine a better staff to have spent my summer with. You never ceased to impress me with your devotion to the group. Beyond our time spent with the quills, we bonded so much and you are now some of my best friends in The Realm. While I tried to show you all the ropes, I feel like I've learned so much from you guys as well. I can only hope that some of us will be on the same staff again next year to relive these glory days. Thanks for everything, love you to the stars on the quad and back.

To the Quills OF 2020

Thank you for such an amazing summer. I could not have asked for a more sweet group of girls to spend my summer with. Each of you bring so much to this group and you are all making great impacts on the Realm. I hope you will all be back in 2021 to carry on the fun.

AAAAAAAAAA ROWS ROWS ROWS ROWS ROWS ROWS!

PUT DOWN YOUR GOPROS, PUT YOUR CROCS IN SPORT MODE, EAT YOUR CHEERIOS, AND GET READY TO REMEMBER THE BEST SUMMER EVER!
DO YOU HAVE...FEVER, CHILLS, COUGH, FATIGUE, SHORTNESS OF BREATH
OR DIFFICULTY BREATHING, NEW LOSS OF TASTE OR SMELL, CONGESTION, RUNNY NOSE, NAUSEA, VOMITING, DIARRHEA? WE DON'T!

Remember when Julia, Erin, Grape, Abby, Nora, Ruby, and Noa came for day 0 of camp? Who could forget playing volleyball on Girls Camp Field when Sbutler got the ball stuck in the tree…Great start to the summer!

Nora came to camp SUPER stylish with her camp acrylics, featuring Jessie's beads and some gorgeous pine needle tips. Remember opening day? You had to get Q-tips stuck up your nose and show up to camp with your masks – we barely recognized each other! Feels like forever ago doesn't it? Good thing we followed the rules and were eventually able to take off our masks. Even if a few of you wanted to sit at different tables every day, we still made it work. As much as we didn't like the guidelines and rules, it was all worth it for the most amazing arrow summer.

Our first day was definitely one to remember. We took The Realm by storm with 26 TA. I don't think we ever put down a volleyball that whole day! Remember our first EA when we had a Tik Tok party at the ODT? That was #lit! Remember our first soccer period of the summer – we all dreaded it but ended up having the best time with Peter's drills. Who could forget the infamous save! Remember that night when it took SO long to learn how to leg wrestle, but then it was one of our favorite EAs ever? Your staff is going to practice at home for some rematches next year.

Remember our crazy backwards scavenger hunt on the far far field? We had a few invaders, but nothing stopped us from having fun. Who could forget our amazing water aerobic activities at Waterfront 2? We might have rarely had Waterfront 1, but when we weren't there we made it work. Countless flippers and goggles were lost and found while we played mermaids or dove for toys. Remember playing bombardment when Woody spontaneously gave us candy canteen? We are obviously the greatest group in camp…We got our candy before EA and set off to the pontoons to swim at the Sandbar 2.0.

Who could forget girls camp Brittany Snow day! We gave it our all and showed up to lunch with the craziest outfits. Definitely the look of the summer! Remember Grape's birthday? We got to chill on the docks at the cottage and watch The Office in air conditioning. Remember our first campfire? We all got our Secret Summer Sisters and had the best week giving clues and surprises to them.

Remember playing on the inflatables the whole afternoon? Definitely a great way to cool down. Afterwards, we went to the barn for a great drama period with #DramaJosh. That night we had one of the best EA's camp has ever seen – a Robin Hood bat mitzvah and graduation all in one! Mazel Tov to Noa, Meadow, Skylar, Gill, Sam, and Sylvie. The social was so much fun and of course a little bit too hot. We all came back exhausted, sweaty, and ready for bed. We love socials!

Remember the 4th of Ju-Seventeenth? A couple weeks late and the arrows still strutted through The Realm with their American pride and spirit. Nothing can stop Robin Hood from celebrating the fourth! There is always enough fried dough or corn dogs to go around.

Remember when we watched that awesome nature documentary? WE DON'T!!!! With a few technical difficulties and lots of candy, we were able to finally watch a movie, sadly, not The Lorax.

The second week of camp brought us our favorite activity – Arrow Bard Volleyball League! We got lots of practice for Green & White and even got fancy shirts. Who could forget the color run! From the powder that didn't come off of your skin for days to the hours of GoPro footage you collectively took, the memories will surely last forever.

We might have been super indecisive about the song for our dance, but we know that ANYTHING we would have chosen would have worked…and we mean anything… One Two Step was a great choice, however. You all danced your heart out for your parents who were watching over Zoom, and they could not have been more thrilled to see you all perform! We obviously had the best dance!

ARROWS

That same night, tensions were high in Crystal Palace as Gill convinced everyone that Green & White was breaking. You all ran through girls camp late at night screaming and waking everyone up. Thanks, Gill! We love your enthusiasm!

We all dreaded our first fitness period, but with a positive attitude and some Chloe Ting we had the best time. Who knew arrows were fit? How could you forget our amazing Lip Sync EA? We asked, and you most certainly delivered. Maybe a little too much?

Beach Day sprung up on us out of nowhere. We started the day off with an all-camp Gold Rush, where none other than the Arrows came in first place. We spent the afternoon rotating from the waterfront to the boardwalk, where we learned that you can never have enough Briar-itas! The day ended with High School Musical in the barn, Lyla was definitely happy to listen to Bop to the Top for the one millionth time.

Remember Ultimate Frisbee with Arash? Arrows are HUGE ultimate frisbee fans. Remember when we snuck out? We almost got caught by the brass, but sprinted too fast for them to catch us. We might have almost lost Nora, but she quickly recovered from her tumble and made it out safe. Pizza with M&Ms, soft music, and the amazing stars at the rink sounds like an ideal night.

Remember all-camp Halloween? We got to dress up in costumes and trick-or-treat throughout camp! We should celebrate halloween every year. Who isn't down for more sugar and sweets! There better be some Kit-Kats and Hershey's next time around. Major mistake.

Remember how much fun we had during Green & White? David D and Nat literally broke it. That was crazy. Both teams fought so hard and we are so proud of each and every one of you. The few days following Green & White were a blast, who could forget our root beer party in the barn? Remember our last EA when we did human sundaes? We will have ice cream and chocolate chips in our hair until next summer. We ended that night with "D-hall Time" with the lancers and ate way too much pizza.

Remember when we caught the largest bee we had ever seen? RIP to Oscar. Lets not forget GL swap day. Suna round 2. He must just really love you guys, I mean, how could he not! Unexpectedly and abruptly, the last day of camp rolled around the corner. The last couple days you guys put your all into everything and never complained (not). We ended the summer with a bang and made the last couple days the best that we could have. We cuddled and watched The Lorax and Mamma Mia. WE HAD FUN!

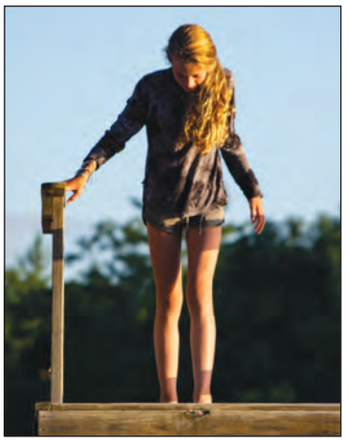

Amanda Ballas – You are such a sweet, amazing, and selfless person. You give your all in everything that you do and it is evident how much you care for others. You mesh with the group extremely well and bring a new perspective to the group. Please keep returning to The Realm in your final camper years, the group and camp need you here!

Julia Baumoel – Jubau, where do we even start? You breathe and live camp. You always have the largest smile on your face and never cease to make the group laugh. Your campy personality is what makes people gravitate towards you. You are crazy, spontaneous, and affectionate and we can always count on you to bring the energy. Never stop reminding people how little you were when you came to camp or talking about being a Baumoel. We love you so much!

Skylar Boggs – I am so grateful that your spunky self came to Robin Hood this year. When you stepped out of your car with your crazy mermaid hair, I knew this was going to be the place for you. You bring so much positivity and energy to the group and everyone here loves you so much. I hope that Robin Hood becomes your new home and you continue to come back because The Realm needs people like you.

Lola Boudreau – You are such a crazy, energetic goofball. You always have the biggest smile on your face especially when you're being flung around while tubing. You are such a daredevil and so enthusiastic about everything. You bring so much love and energy to the group. This group wouldnt be the same without your positivity and care.

Meadow Brunelli – You are one of the most outgoing souls we have ever met. You aren't afraid to speak your mind or hold back from doing the right thing. You are helpful, attentive, and someone we can always count on. You are a crucial part of this group and always help bring the energy. Continue to always be true to yourself, you are such an amazing person!

Abigail Carneal – Abby, you fit into this group from day one. We could tell you were going to be an important part of the group from the second you got out of your car. Your random spurts of hyperness and craziness brings us joy. You are extremely amiable and cooperative and you contribute so much to the group. We are so glad that you came to camp and stayed the whole summer, camp needs more people like you!

Ava Charney – Your energy and enthusiasm is contagious. Everything that you do is with full force and confidence. You strutted into camp ready to take on the summer no matter what got in the way. You also might be one of the best tik tokers in this camp. We are so proud of the beautiful young lady you have become and cannot wait to continue to be with you in the future. Never ever leave!

Seven Danziger – You are one of the most easygoing, positive people that we know. It is clear that you and camp are a perfect match. You are also one of the coolest people we have ever met! You give such sweet hugs and spread so much love throughout the group. Camp was made for people like you so never leave. You have so much to offer here, give it your all!

Noa Goldman – Your desire to make camp a home for everyone is something we admire tremendously. You are constantly there for everyone in the group when they need it and are always supportive of everything that we do. You are extremely sympathetic and compassionate about your relationships with your friends. Keep doing you and always be true to yourself.

Audrey Gore – Grapey poo, you will forever be such a cutie. We love your enthusiasm and positivity towards everything. We cannot wait to watch you grow into even more of a lovely young woman. You are so sweet to every person that walks this place, and you bring smiles to everyone's faces. The Realm needs more people like you.

Madeline Jennings – As much as you love camp, camp loves you back. One of the things we admire most about you is how you are so mature and level headed. You could never say a mean word about anybody in the group or The Realm. You are so drama free and we envy you for it. Continue to walk with your head high. You are on an amazing path of life and we cannot wait to watch you grow up!

Annabelle King – As scary as the first day might have been with COVID and coming to a new camp, you walked in with pride, confidence, and a positive attitude. That continued throughout the whole summer and we are so proud of you. No matter what we did, you always put your all into everything. I really hope you come back next summer because you fit right into this group and the camp.

Asha Kumar – You are a crazy character. Whether it be volleyball or senior waterfront, you are giving your all with a smile on your face. It is so obvious that your friends love you so much as we do. The group would not be the same without you so keep coming back. We know that your future holds something extraordinary in The Realm.

Erin Lowe – Remember when you were the only camper with all of the staff for two weeks? That was hilarious and we are so lucky that we got to know you so early. Your energy in sports and activities brings so much light and intensity to the group. You're so good at every sport and we are honestly scared of you in gaga. Don't forget to mention cup pong also. We are so happy that you came to Robin Hood and hope that it becomes your new summer getaway for the rest of your life!

Bee McAlister-Rogers – Oh bee, what a meme you are. You literally tik tok everywhere you go and you honestly kill it. You are the most trendy teen we have ever seen and bring such amazing vibes to the group. You have such a good hearted soul and you spread so much love. Remember, never follow someone back if you don't know them or don't have 50 plus mutuals with them.

Sylvie Plouffe – Your ability to put others first so easily is something we all admire. You always consider other people's feelings before your own. Whether you are taking care of your family or your friends, you always know how to make everyone's day. I wish everyone could have a Sylvie Plouffe in their life, you are someone that will leave a huge impact on camp and this group forever! Please keep coming back because your group and camp loves you so much!

Sam Porres – No matter what is going on, you always have a smile on your face. You show the rest of the group what it's like to have fun doing anything, and you know how to make friends so easily. Your love for camp is so immense, and camp's love for you is even greater. Never leave this place.

Mandy Rosenfeld – We can always count on you to bring out the best in other members of the group. Your athletic abilities are insane and we wish we could be as good at sports as you. You are one of the most modest and caring people in all of camp. You have so much wisdom and good thoughts so do not be afraid to speak up. You are so loved here.

Gillian Rosenstock – Gilly Billy, what a goofball. It is clear that you care deeply about camp and the people here. You are constantly looking out for members of the group and putting them before yourself. Your compassion for others is very apparent, whether you are making the group laugh or looking out for Eli, you always know the right thing to say and do. Continue to be the amazing person that you are because camp needs more people like you.

Hannah Rothenberg – Your energy and enthusiasm is contagious. You can always put a smile on anyone's face, and we know that we can count on you for anything. Your confidence is admirable, and we appreciate everything that you bring to this group. Continue to be true to yourself and keep coming back forever.

Ava Serafino – From a crazy vsco girl to a confident and beautiful young woman, you have one of the most amazing personalities this camp has ever seen. You always put camp and your friends first. You do every activity with your whole heart and are always there for every single person in the group. It is so evident that you have so much compassion and care for everyone and it is an inspiring trait to have. Stay true to yourself and don't let others ever get you down.

Ceci Skala – How lucky we were to have the best Skala in camp! We are so happy you get to share this special place with your sisters. You are there for your friends 110% of the time and we admire how much you adore camp. We are so proud of the friendships you formed this summer and the bonds you made. Camp loves you so much.

CJ Strauss – What a wild summer. You might be a bit younger than the group, however, it was never evident because of your maturity and confidence. You continued as an arrow and thank goodness you did because this group loves you so much. You are such a ball of energy and happiness, and The Realm needs more people like you. There are many years to come for you and The Realm.

Lyla Tower – LT in the houseeee. What an amazing summer you had. You strolled into camp ready to jump right back in and be a leader for the group, and that's exactly what you did. You killed it as a Green & White captain like we all knew you would and we are so proud to see how much you have matured and grown since bow summer. Your love for camp is so evident and real. This camp needs a Tower, so never stop coming back. We love you so much.

Nora Wildman – Girlfriend, you are a shining star. You are an A+ friend to every Arrow and have so much love and care in that big heart of yours. No matter what the situation is, you can make everyone in the room pee their pants laughing because of something ridiculous you say or do. We are beyond proud and amazed of the woman you have become and we have loved watching you grow up. You are a truly incredible person and camp needs you here forever.

Ruby Wildman – An absolute ray of sunshine in all of our lives. You never fail to make anyone smile and you know how to make everyone laugh in any situation. You have such a spunky attitude and we adore every minute we get to spend with you. We love watching you give your all in everything and kill it in every activity. We cannot wait to see what your future holds.

To our staff – Are you kidding? Talk about a stacked staff! We could not have asked for more from you guys. From day 1, you were all so outstanding and blew our minds away by what incredible counselors you are. It is so clear that these kids look up to you, care about you, and want to be like you one day. We are forever grateful for the hard work you put into this summer to make it a blast. We cannot wait to stay in touch throughout the year and be updated on every detail of your lives. We are so excited to watch you guys absolutely kill it next year. From the bottom of our hearts, we love you!

ARROWS

AAAAAAAAAA ROWS ROWS ROWS ROWS ROWS ROWS!

TO THE ARROWS OF 2020 – We hope you didn't find this article to be too mushy but we can't help it, you make us emotional. What a summer it has been! Although there was unclarity, confusion, and fear coming into the summer, you all embraced the change and had the best summer ever. We could not be more proud to have watched you grow up from little bows to mature, beautiful Arrows. You are truly the best group of girls on camp, regardless of what others may say. It was a pleasure to lead you all and we cannot wait to see what your future holds, we know it will be extraordinary. Peace out Arrows, we love you from the stars on the quad and back!

BARDS

PUT DOWN YOUR PHONES, LOG OUT OF TIK TOK, PAUSE YOUR MANIFESTING AND GET READY TO RELIVE THE BEST COVID SUMMER EVER!

Our journey began on opening day with swabs digging up your noses and masks covering your beautiful faces, only to find out we were all CORONA FREE!!! And so our sweaty summer began. We welcomed our new friends, Caitlyn, Ellie, and Leilani, into the group and they fit perfectly into our new bard family. We started off strong with bonding and s'mores at the chalet. From then on, we knew we had found the best kids on camp. The next day, camp was in full swing as we tore it up at every activity and at the end of the day, when the rain came, you all danced in the rain on the basketball court before covering yourself in mud "masks" at the robinhood spa. That night, we took to the far far for the craziest back scav The Realm has ever seen. Sassy, Olivia, SamSol, and Lindogg came extremely prepared with a ginormous bin of items, and Millna ended the show with a nice pronunciation of our favorite phrase. We then treated ourselves to the first of many candy canteens. From basketball with Scotty Rimer, to Leni's crazy far shot in archery, we think we became the candy canteen czars. Next we saw major emotions in Herma's version of speed dating. It was clear that by the end you had all fallen in love. On the first epic Britany snow day of the summer, filled with crazy hair styles and neon clothes, Rick Lowe taught us the art of Rugby. He even demonstrated the proper tackle on our very own staff. This slowly but surely became your favorite activity of the summer, and our most scary. From Leni's unfortunate fall and Alex's wrist injury, we saw your intensity from the start. From volleyball to water aerobics to gaga, you guys always showed the utmost level of intensity and sportsmanship. Speaking of intensity and athleticism, let us never forget your first ever hunger games, where alliances were broken, and only the strong willed prevailed. Congrats Mill-Na. Even after the most competitive periods, we can always all come together for a yoga period with smooney at the odt. With her essential oils and drishtis, she kept our group calm and brought us back to our zen whenever we needed her.

After a week of masked up activities, we got to take our masks off for the last time as we cheered and hugged in the tents as Woody announced the bubble had opened. Never has a negative felt so positive; we truly will never forget the unadulterated joy of that moment. It was your commitment to The Realm that made this all possible and we cannot thank you enough.

Another huge accomplishment of this summer was our incredible dance to Copa Cabana. Your skills were put to the test with your staff's lack of dance abilities, but you guys managed to come up with the sickest spicy salsa dance that The Realm will ever see. You merengued and cha-cha-ed your hearts out, easily taking the title for best dance of the summer. Caitlyn really found her groove through the dance, and although Avery struggled at first, (always too eager to do the cha-cha to pause) we were looking like the ALDC by the time we got on stage. Speaking of dancing, let's not forget about how hard we all went at the social. We all left the barn with drips of sweat and huge smiles, but as herma says, "if you don't look ugly when you leave the social, you did it wrong".

Remember when David Dobrik broke Green & White?!?!?! It is safe that was one of the best breaks we've ever seen; the tears in Girls' Camp are proof. During Green & White, you displayed the utmost level of sportsmanship, while also giving your all to everything you did. The basketball game was a perfect example of who you guys are. Even though some of you were epically losing, and the others were scoring constantly, you were all giggling (when Olivia skidded on the court LOL) and showing your love for each other throughout the whole game. Every game was played with such intensity, and we loved watching you guys in your element as the amazing athletes that you all are. Remember when the White Bards got a shoutout from Woody on Song Night for your epic tug comeback? #shortendofthestick! It felt so good when Song Night ended and we all got to run into each other's arms again; our happy little Bard family was finally reunited.

After Color War you guys continued to cherish every moment you had left in The Realm. Each day was filled with so much laughter and so much love. From signing in the DHall tents to origami to basketball periods, you guys embodied Dick Robert's famous quote; not a minute was wasted. At Make Your GL Laugh, you all got to show Girls Camp just how hilarious you are. May we say that Caitlyn was an absolute comedy star?? Her adlibs to Leilani's beautiful singing were the true reason why eight Group Leaders couldn't hold back their laughs. Remember when every one of you received the Major Sweetie Award for cleaning the crazy messes that were our areas? We never even asked you guys to do it, but your decision to spend your Lazy Day doing something kind for someone else truly showed the type of group the Bards are: caring, selfless, and beautiful inside and out. We love you all so much and thank you for the best summer ever.

Caitlyn Adams – It is not easy to enter a completely new environment with no expectations of what may lay ahead, regardless, you did it with grace and integrity. You spent every moment being unapologetically yourself which made your courage and kindness be something to admire for all of us. From your many stories of your journeys throughout the US to your intricate card games, it is clear that you love putting smiles on others' faces, and we are so grateful we got to see that.

Ellie Bedard – And the major sweetie award goes to…ELLIE. Seriously though. It is no easy task to switch camps, yet your outgoing personality and kind spirit made you a perfect fit for the group. Whether you were wowing us in volleyball or breaking alliances in the Assassin EA, you showed us just how much we had to learn about you. Continue to open yourself up to new possibilities, it is clear to see you are capable of so much.

Alex Benson – You are such a kind, caring, and energetic girl. Your positivity radiates throughout the group, and we are all so lucky to know you. You spice things up with your competitive nature, and you never take an activity at camp for granted. Your love for camp shows in everything you do.

Linley Grosman – Lindog, you are a truly special girl. From day one, we saw your amazing personality and positive outlook on life. You have such a big heart, and we are so lucky to have you at camp. You are so kind and it shows in everything you do. Linley wins the sweetie award every single day.

Avery Johnston – Av-Ro-Jo! You are the heart and soul of The Realm with your contagious laughter, huge smile, and amazing body rolls. You demonstrate your love for camp with everything you do and the whole group can feel it. You keep everyone positive with your endless cheering for EA and tik tok dancing. Keep doing you girl; you're everything this group needs.

Sophie Mooney – Smoons, our favorite yogi. Every camper and counselor looks up to you for your undying dedication to those you love. Everything you do, you do it with passion; you never leave anything undone, when you have a goal you work towards it no matter what. We could all take a page out of your book. Keep pushing your own limits, we know there is so much greatness for you to continuously uncover.

Millie Nathanson – MILLNA, from the start to the end you have been such a great girl to have around. You are absolutely hilarious, and your kindness and leadership abilities show through everything you do. You are such an important part of the group, and with you around there is never a negative moment.

Leilani Schwartz – You are one wild gal and we can't get enough of it. You're a master of pottery, a shoe tye-dying czar, and a beautiful potato singer. Even with those, there are not enough ways to describe you and your many talents. You came into this group full steam ahead and we couldn't be more grateful for it. You keep the group laughing every day with your opera. No one else makes the group laugh like you with your crazy jokes and outrageous stories. Please never change, you are so beautiful inside and out.

Betsy Solomon – Betsy-Bea! Your genuine kindness and sweet smile makes you a beacon for happiness in this group. From your beautiful renditions of riptide to your various accents, you never fail to brighten the mood of anyone you talk to. Never stop throwing yourself into camp; The Realm needs someone like you and your baby pink vibes.

Sam Solomon – SAMSOL. The queen of dancing. The ukulele prodigy. The future Cirque-du-Soliel acrobat. Your warm and welcoming nature makes everyone around you instantly feel welcomed and at home. Although you're not one to get the group's attention by means of volume, when you speak, we all listen. You are an integral part of this group, and the Bards of 2020 wouldn't have been the same without your shining face.

Samantha Stratman – Sass, you are such an amazing sweet girl. Your kindness and compassion shows in everything you do, and you are also one of the silliest people we have ever met. You add so much to the group and display leadership skills in everything you do. Your intense love for camp is evident everyday, and we love you so much. Always come back. You have so much more to gain from The Realm, and it has so much to gain from you.

Lily Swidler – SWIDLER. Your amazing energy and care for your friends make you the type of person that camp was made for. You are fearless, strong, and, most importantly, a major sweetie. Camp needs you and your spirit more than you know; we need more people like you. Continue to live every moment to its fullest and embrace everything that The Realm offers you, you deserve it.

Olivia Wahlstedt – It's hard to imagine that the eye rolling teen that showed up on the first day turned out to be such a major sweetie. You're hilarious, kind, and a great friend and camper. You never fail to make us laugh, and your big heart shows the moment you get close to someone. You are such a special girl, and we are so lucky to have had you in the group this summer.

Leni Wisniewski – Lenster. From the moment we met you, we both could tell how genuine and caring you were. It was so amazing to watch you fully embrace camp and every opportunity it provided. It is clear that you are an essential member of this group with the warmth, laughs and athleticism that you bring. Your passion for camp shines through in everything you do, and we could not be happier to see that. Keep doing you, it is exactly what this group needs.

Bards!!!

Bards — how could we possibly sum up the amazing summer we shared. It was because of all 16 of you that every stargaze, every deep-end tread in the lake, every upside-down paddleboard, every bite of M&M pizza, and every laugh felt like it was the first. Given the circumstances and the way that we cherished every moment, this was truly a summer we'll never forget. Your CoGLs will love you forever and all we ask is that you continue to pour all your love into camp as you already do. May we never forget the summer of 2020, and may The Realm never forget the Bards of 2020 <3."

Get off Depop, put down the Cheez-its, pause Stay by Gracie Abrams, stop discussing your favorite fromages, and get ready to relive the most outstanding, unbelievably electric summer of our lives.

Remember pulling up to camp in your cars and seeing my face, AKA dad (mask on, of course) through the car window? Remember our first EA of fishbowl when everyone laughed so hard we cried? What about during our first s'mores of the summer when Ella charred her marshmallow and claimed it tasted better that way? Who can forget when the new camp laundry system was revealed and our group was given the camo laundry bags? Remember the waterfront snake and Woody coming down in a backward hat to save the day? Remember playing Quidditch and then Ossipee came and hijacked our game? Remember being the first and only group on camp to do the island swim this summer? We checked that off the bucket list! Remember when Cate and Syd ran circles around the counselors during our EPIC camper hunt? What about when we played slip n' slide backwards scav and it got super intense? Remember when we had the best summer EVER?

Remember when Hilary wasn't being the better Adelman? Remember when Morgan wasn't complaining about her ingrown toenails? Remember when Lily C. suddenly became the fastest person in the group? What about when Tabor wasn't hanging Ruel photos all over the bunk? Remember when Lily D. dyed her hair pink and it got everywhere? Remember when Macy wasn't going on runs every morning and waking us up at 7 am? What about when Goldman told us about "oreogate"? Remember when Ella wasn't screaming everything she said? Remember when Lia wasn't being the most helpful person in the group? Remember when Elizabeth had the best Green & White ever and created the sickest flag? Remember when Syd's Dad was funnier than her? Remember when Cate wasn't beating Mikey and Podl in volleyball? Remember when Schmidt thought Ava was faking her British accent? Remember when Alanerz won musical flip cup? WE DON'T!!!

Remember the 4th of Juseventeenth? How about when we watched all of senior camp on the blow-up joust machine and had the best afternoon ever? We can't forget Camp Beach Day: Lake Ossipee Edition. Remember when we designed those amazing shirts? I can't wait to see those on scavenger hunt lists in 10 years. Who could forget our legendary Shire dance? Remember when we took forever to agree on a song and finally picked Somebody to Love? What about when that wasn't enough and we added Boom Boom Pow? Remember when we practiced for a week straight? Seeing Wendy cry after showing her our dance made it all worth it. You guys had the absolute best dance of the summer!

Remember Club Shi? When you guys had the biggest rager camp has ever seen in the barn? Remember when Wendy showed up and watched our legendary game of musical flip cup? Remember when Alana shocked the group and dominated the flip cup tournament? Remember the piñata? What about the sour skittles we filled it with?

Remember Halloween? When we dressed up as the Shire Zoo? Remember when Syd and Tabor swept the costume contest dressed as an NYC Pigeon and a Narwhal? What about the trick or treating? I'm still upset that no one would give me their HiChew. What about the Color Run? Or should I say Color walk for the majority of our group? What about our crazy all camp activities this year? Remember all camp capture the flag? Remember when the TPJs tackled Cate? Remember the all camp counselor hunt? When you all hunted down Jordy?

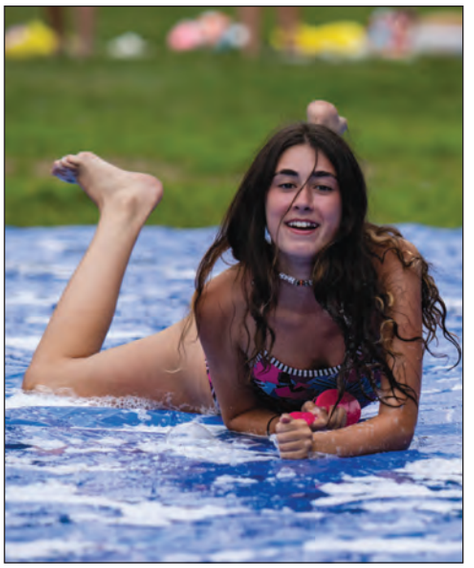

SHIRES

Who remembers how legendary Founder's Night was? Remember how cute it was to see Chuck receive his 55th summer ring? What about the amazing video they presented to him at the end? Remember seeing all our favorite Robin Hood alumni on the screen? What about when Natalie and David Dobrik came on? Remember when Ella cried at the sight of their faces? Remember when they finally broke Green & White? Remember running at the sound of the sirens? What about the legendary Green & White fireworks that had us crying of happiness? Remember when they called the names of the six captains? I've never been more proud to be your counselor and I'm so glad the group finally had a GL be captain!

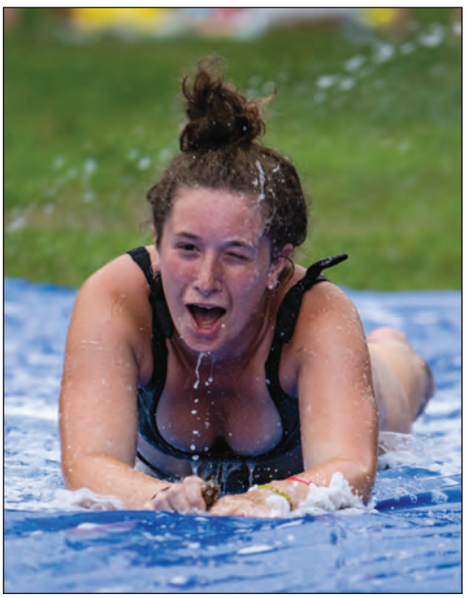

The next four days were a whirlwind. I'll never forget how hard both the Green Demons and White Galaxy fought during the abbreviated Green & White. Whether it was on the tennis courts, running around homerun for an intense game of softball, or all of us putting it on the line during the track meet, it all came down to song night with the white team taking the points. Remember when the Shires killed it during the senior camp dance? Let's play Bang Bang on repeat. Who can forget Elizabeth singlehandedly designing the white team flag? I couldn't be more proud of you!

Thank you all for making this the best Green & White of my life. I loved watching you put your all into the war. We all fought hard and had the most electric four days The Realm has ever seen.

Finally, the summer had to come to a close, but we didn't go without a bang! Remember when the Shires swept the Pickleball awards? What about when we won BIC Senior Waterfront? Shoutout to Ella for her honorable mention! What about when three fabulous Shires won Big awards? You guys made me so proud! Also, I can't forget to mention the crazy heatwaves we experienced while playing nighttime Gaga and 9 Square (before Ava ruined the game)!

Hilary Adelman – Our very own Chuck. Your love for camp is profound and I can't wait for you to continue camp's lasting legacy. Everything you do is done with grace, humility, and kindness. The group wouldn't be the same without you and I am so happy that I finally got to know you this summer. I can't wait to come back and see you kill it as a Scribe. I love you always!

Morgan Butler – Morgy, I am so glad I finally got to spend my summer with the third Butler sister. You have a mind of your own and I love how independent you are. Thank you for being a friend to all and I can't tell you enough how great it has been to be your counselor. Thank you for the positivity, the laughs, for always taking my clothes, and for bringing the UE Booms to camp. I can't wait to visit the Butler clan in Cleveland!

Lily Collier – When did you become the biggest athlete in the group? Watching you blossom this summer in so many ways was truly a blessing. The group is so lucky to have a thoughtful, mature, and well-mannered member like yourself. You keep everyone in check and you are the calm, even in the craziest of storms. This might be selfish, but I couldn't be happier that soccer got cancelled so you could spend the entire summer with us. I love you!

Tabor Dempsey – You are one amazing, crazy kid. Somehow, you manage to be the goofiest person while simultaneously acting as the mature group confidant that everyone can turn to. You remind me so much of myself as a camper and I know The Realm will see you for many more years. Seeing you love camp almost as much as you love Ruel puts a smile on my face. Never change, never stop loving your friends, and never stop putting a smile on everyone's faces – the group needs you!

Lily Drye – How crazy is it to think that this tiny, talkative Jester I met in 2015 would end up being my camper and best friend someday? Watching you grow up in The Realm has been an absolute privilege and I know the best is yet to come from ½ of the Drye twins. Whether you're talking to a TPJ or a member of the Brass, you manage to put a smile on everyone's faces. I can't wait to see you begin to lead The Realm as a Scribe – no one is more ready than you are!

Macy Goldfarb – No one had a better summer than you! you truly made the most of becoming friends with every single person in the group and took advantage of every activity we did. Never once did I hear you complain and I couldn't thank you more for your positive attitude and warm demeanor that you bring to the group. I can't wait for new opportunities to open up for you Scribe summer when you start aiding because I know you're absolutely going to kill it!

Olivia Goldman – This camp is so lucky to have you. Ever since your first summer it has been apparent to everyone how much you love The Realm. Watching you being an amazing older sister every year brings a smile to my face just thinking about it. Because of this I know you will be an outstanding Scribe aid next year and an even better counselor. I can't wait to come back during Green & White every year and watch you compete harder than anyone else while having the most fun doing it. I love you!

Ella Jaffe – You are the goofiest Gal I've ever met. Yet there is a unique sense of maturity to you that grew more apparent as the summer went on. Few people had quite the summer that you had and I can't wait for it to continue next summer when you are a Scribe. There's no one better suited to show the rest of camp have to be carefree in the best place in the world. You know the true meaning of camp and I can't wait to see you in The Realm for many more years.

Lia Johnson – You're the hardest worker ever! Although the Shires and Foresters had to do a lot more work this summer, you were one of the few people that never complained about it and always kept a smile on their face. Thank you for being my right hand man in the dining tent and for somehow making the chores seem fun. No one will be more prepared for Scribe summer than you!

Elizabeth Kreindler – You had the best summer ever! Watching you flourish was one of my biggest joys as a counselor and I hope you walked out of the summer feeling proud of yourself. I couldn't be more in awe of you for turning Green & White into the best time of your life. I am so glad you helped create my flag and I'm so glad we'll get to share that forever. You truly are a queen and I can't wait for you to be fought over every year now during Green & White team picks!

Sydney Rodin – You wonderful human! Seeing the Rodin Jeep pull out of camp on the last day of the summer left me with tears in my eyes. Seeing you and your family grow more impacted by The Realm each year has made me so happy. You've become a fierce friend in the group who knows when to stand up for those who can't stand up for themselves. I can't wait to see you come back as a Scribe and eventually as one of the best FYAs The Realm has ever seen. I don't even have to ask you to keep coming back because I know you will. I love you!

Cate Shanahan – You are the sweetest soul! You always have something nice to say about everyone and it's been a pleasure getting to know you this summer. The group is so lucky to have someone as friendly and kind as you are and I can't wait to see you pass those same qualities on to your own campers one day. You embody camp and I can't wait for the rest of The Realm to experience more Cate in the years to come!

Ava Swidler – From one Ava to another, I could not have been more thrilled to be your counselor this summer. No one at this camp has more zest for life or the ability to light up a room quite like you do. Even though some may think your accent is fake, I have loved being able to talk about England with my fellow Brit. You are going to be the spunkiest, most enthusiastic Scribe next summer. The Realm isn't ready!

Alana Zitomer – Alanerzzz! You were a constant source of hilarity the entire summer and the group is beyond lucky to have you. Whether it was on the tennis court or on the stage, you took everything you did seriously and performed to perfection. I know that next year when you become a Scribe aid the kids will absolutely love you. The future you have at camp is very bright and I can't wait to see you shine!

To my absolutely astounding staff, AKA Jordy – I could NOT have asked for a more perfect person to spend my summer with. It's crazy to think that I was once your Shire AGL and then you became mine. Watching you lead our girls was inspiring and I can't wait to see you with your very own group next summer. Promise me you will come back to The Realm – your time isn't over just yet!

TO MY SHIRES

I hope you made it through this article and didn't get too distracted! Now go listen to Heather or I Miss You I'm Sorry, to bring you back to this summer. I love each and every one of you with my whole heart and will always be here if anyone needs someone to speak to. I'll never forget saying goodbye to each of you on the last day of camp, realizing that I was leaving some of the best people camp has to offer and my new best friends. You guys made this summer the best one of my life and I am eternally grateful. You are my own personal hype squad and I hope you know that I am just a phone call or a text away whenever you need me. As Scribes, The Realm is now yours and I know that it has never been left in better hands. I can't wait to come back during Green & White and reminisce on the best summer of our lives!

I love you always. Dad.

Hey Scribes!

Stop trotting, close the refrigerator, empty the garbage and get on benches as we prepare to relive what was easily the most iconic summer in Camp Robin Hood history.

Remember when Maya wasn't yelling to scatter, Izzy wasn't disguised as her doppelganger, and Jill wasn't tripping over Ossipee? Remember when Jemma wasn't on the ground, Alice wasn't a Barbie doll, and Lucy didn't have a story to tell about a potential wedding? Remember when Camille and Lily weren't creating sick Friar dances or breaking the fourth wall? Let's cut the cameras real quick. Remember when Segal wasn't trimming her hair and Casey wasn't throwing it back? Remember when Dunia wasn't singing, and Mooney wasn't "filling up her water bottle"? Remember when Char wasn't playing basketball at rest hour and Jessie wasn't receiving the coolest letters ever? Remember when Gimbel was using her chest voice and Perin was an expert? Remember when Rosie decided against serenading everyone before Scribe speeches? Remember when Laurel wasn't winning every game of gaga and Alval was calm, cool and collected after finding out that Tik Tok was dead?
WE DON'T!!!!!

As the dust rose on that hot July day, one by one popped out 18 smiling girls…or so I can only imagine as our facial expressions were, for the most part, covered by our masks. This was only to be repeated the very next day when Jessie joined us, thus completing the crew and turning a corner on what would soon be considered the best summer of our lives. In no time, we scripted and filmed a safety video having become accustomed to practicing social distancing or – as some might say – physical distancing since we still managed to be plenty social. We made signs, crafted bracelets for our little sisters, and began brainstorming creative ways to make this unique summer, even more special. We certainly found a way, as can be recounted through our commemorative sweatshirt design, the physical representation of our winning fight against COVID, and further punctuated by the spectacular Fourth of Ju-Seventeenth extravaganza. These are two examples of how we, as Scribes, know better than anyone not to take any time here for granted, to celebrate victories big or small, and of course, to not waste a minute. Our Scribe necklaces are a lasting measure, close to the heart, that remind us of this every day. And, although we created many new traditions – like fake Beach Day, our "Early Off" at Woody's cottage, and of course Scribelton, we continued to carry out many old ones as well. Campfires persisted, Sundae's remained – although the Cozy Corner ice cream did make for a great break from tradition, as did "Monday Sundaes". Breakfast, Lunch, and Dinner Jazz also added to our repertoire as a Scribe group, "unlike other Scribes". This summer, and you all, will go down in history. You made camp what it was, and although we are all home now, accompanied by our memories rather than each other, the words of Giorgia still rings true; "The world isn't big enough to keep us apart forever."

I love you all from the stars on the quad and back and only wish that we could "rewind the time and flip the yearbooks through". Let's do it all together.

Remember when you caught on to our plan to get you all snacks so we recruited infirm Katie to give you what was supposed to be a fake – but soon turned very real – lecture about the importance of Epipens? Remember fake Beach Day and fake Halloween? The 'Briaritas' were certainly a big hit and the truck itself made for a great photo op. Remember our trip to Woody's cottage, followed by LARPing with the Saxons? I still double over laughing thinking about you all crawling around homerun with lightsabers and brooms in hand. Remember the Color Run that we planned, and how Izzy MC'ed the event? Remember eating tacos at the ODT while writing the Scribe song? Or Green & White and how you all practiced amazing sportsmanship on and off the field. Remember our swim to the island followed by Peaches at the waterfront? Those muffin…Remember the last night of camp when we slept with the bugs, stomachs full of instant coffee, powdered lemonade, and fireball candies? It definitely made for quite the combination, but ultimately did the trick because you all were able to pull a legendary all nighter. We laughed and we cried that night, but I would do just about anything to do it all over again. Remember, they made the summer happen, you made it work.

SCRIBES

Casey Benson – Cue the voice. Caaaseyy. I'm not sure if you know this, but your peers look up to you in immeasurable ways. I have been pulled aside on a number of occasions and told stories about what a good person you are, and what great values you hold. The moral is, keep doing you. You clearly have a good head on your shoulders and friends who support and care about you. Don't take that for granted!

Jessie Brockmann – Remember when your aiding group said that you were "too nice", as though that was an insult? You are genuinely a ray of sunshine that can brighten any day, and I hope you realize the impact that your mood can have on others. You are welcoming, compassionate, and the epitome of kind hearted. You have a way with words, and your care for others (be it your brother or your friends surrounding you) speaks volumes. You love and are loved. We apologize again for the mental cleanse.

Jemma Fox – As I said to you during our makeshift "speed dating"/mocktail night, you are someone I have always admired. Be it due to your tendency to say what you are thinking 100% of the time, or the fact that you spend your days uplifting other girls rather than tearing them down, you truly are a queen. You have the ability to make everyone feel special, and if I could, I would have Jeremy Jordan send you a video every day of the year. I cannot wait to hang out with you in either NYC or Kingston.

Carly Gimbel – I hope you don't mind, but I'm going to switch to my head voice for this. I cannot stress enough how proud I am of the person you have become. You somehow walk the line of intensity and sportsmanship, and you have the unique ability to take things seriously but not to heart. At times, I feel like we can read each other's minds – and I wouldn't want it any other way. I have always adored you, but was a privilege and an honor to watch you grow into the person you are today. Goooo Raiders!

Lucy Hallinan – What are the odds that our life stories would line up so well? What does this mean about us as people? Your bursts of energy are always on time and your smile is infectious. You are a rock – you keep everyone grounded. You also radiate camp's love and it is so apparent that you take everyone's best interests to heart. And speaking of hearts, you definitely rock those heart sunglasses more than I, or your actual fashion icon, ever could! Own it!!

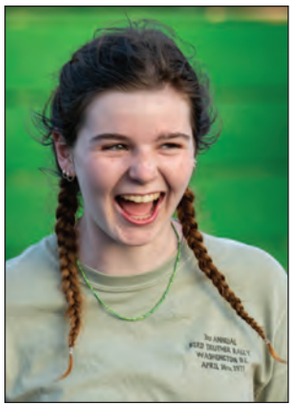

Alice Hare – You are genuinely one of the most hilarious people I have ever met. You have a unique sense of humor, and the distinct ability to be funny without being mean. Your stories are fire, (get it) and I love the "gifts" that you leave me every day. You are truly one of a kind in the best of ways. And, now that you have my staff shirt, I hope that you keep coming back forever!!

Izzy Lightman – You are bubbly and spunky and honestly…unique. Your energy is contagious and your spirit carries. You have a special ability to cheer someone up in any given situation, which is a valuable trait that will surely take you far in life and friendships: future and present. As you grow up, I hope that you never stop doing your imitations, being passionate about your beliefs, and above all, I hope that you never lose the spontaneous side.

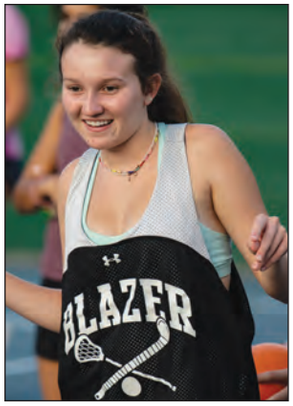

Laurel Milacci – I'm sorry that you had to endure a summer sleeping next to the illuminated bathroom! You are extremely personable, and yet you take yourself and others seriously. Speaking of serious – those oversized glasses are a Laurel Milacci classic, and the view of you in them: something I could use right about now. And, speaking of Laurel Milacci classics, your quote about "complaining as a hobby" gets me every time. I know that your reason for coming back wasn't what we would have imagined, but we are so glad you made it back home to us this summer. You are an asset to the group, and it genuinely wouldn't have been the same without you.

Lily Mooney – You truly light up a room. I can't remember the last time I saw you without a smile on your face and I wouldn't wish to. You carry yourself with such grace and confidence from which we all could learn. You are such a good role model, and it is clear that others look to you for encouragement and advice. Though you are personable, you are equally strong and resilient, and I can't wait to see the counselor that you will become.

Perin Romano – is there anything you can't do? And if there is, I know that you would be willing to try. You are the most altruistic, selfless person I have ever met. You constantly put others above yourself, and go above and beyond with anything asked of you. I know that you would have something to say about this next statement, but you are a true leader, phenomenal friend and gifted creative spirit. In short, you are not like other girls. And I mean that sincerely.

Dunia Sarkis – I've said it before, and I'll say it again. I have never met a person who is more unapologetically themself. You bring passion to everything you care about be it in terms of television, plays, celebrities, or even friends. You don't stop until you have properly understood something or someone, inside and out. Some may say, you will never be satisfied. You are non-stop. I can't wait until the day that you infiltrate the comedy circle, and star in SNL. Love you and all that you stand for.

Carly Segal – You've truly got the other Segal beat. Without a doubt. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise. You are always there to comfort a friend in need, as a shoulder to cry on or a listening ear. This, my friend, is an enormous show of character. And also, who knew you were a gifted astronomer. Remember that tidbit about shooting stars actually being mediors? Because I always will. Regardless, keep being you; never change for anyone or anything. And, from now on, every time I see a shooting star, I'll think of you!

Lily Shafer – I don't even know where to begin…your humor and musical skills contribute so many great things to the group dynamic. Jazz breakfast? A Lily Shafer original. I love the passion you bring to everything you do, be it your interesting interpretive dances or your enthusiasm to "aid" for the TPJ's. You're a great pick, please keep coming back until you have a team of your own. You. Bleed. Camp.

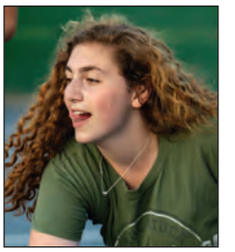

Maya Shah – You are sweet and talented and your video editing skills – unmatched! You are such a giver, and you never hesitate to help a friend in need (no matter how big or small the task). I can't wait to see your first day of school picture this year, and since I am home, I will proudly hang it on my refrigerator here so as to attempt to recreate our camp refrigerator. In all sincerity, you are a true asset to the group, and we are so lucky to have you. The world needs more Maya Shah's.

Camille Skala – Camimi! Best in camp Friar dance, creator of the fourth wall, and provider of my judge shirt. How can I ever repay you for all that you brought to this summer? You are quirky and undeniably multi-talented and I hope that you never forget it. I love you and all that you stand for and can't wait for the day that you inevitably show up at my doorstep, unannounced, in Boston again. I know it will happen.

Rosie Swidler – You say what you feel and mean what you say. It would be easy for someone as determined as you to get carried away, but you are equal parts empathetic and compassionate. You care about your friends, your siblings, and you filled our fridge with lots of love…if you know what I mean. I still can't believe that your drive and ambition translates into your impeccable internal clock waking you up at 6 am for abs and SAT practice. That is incredible, as are you! Everyone loves you, and you clearly love everyone considering the enormous show of love you displayed prior to Scribe Speeches. Just kidding, but never change.

SCRIBES

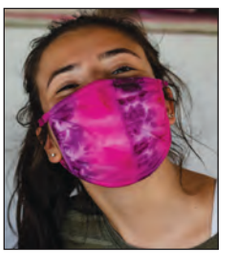

Ally Valentine – Allval! The positivity, compassion, and joy you bring to the group makes everyone's world so much brighter. Whenever someone is down you know how to cheer them up and whenever someone needs a smile you are the first person to realize. Your generosity does not go unnoticed. Thanks for the countless skin care and style tips – you're always right. Also I'm not sure how you know literally every Tik Tok dance to ever exist.

Charlotte Wasserman – You are the epitome of the saying "you get what you give". You put so much into camp and you clearly get so much out of it. Whether it is playing with your little sister nearly every rest hour, or volunteering for anything and everything that might come our way, you did so with a smile on your face and an optimistic attitude. Dare I say, you're gritty. You deserve the world, a buff and shine, and to road rage today and everyday. Please keep being you, the world wouldn't be the same without our CharBar.

Jill Zolot – You are as spunky as you are down to earth; a combination that makes you unique as a person and an integral part of the group. Though your jokes can be – let's just say…questionable… you truly have the kindest heart ever. The day that I witnessed you cut off a chunk of your hair in the name of the backwards scavenger hunt without skipping a beat was the day that I will not soon forget. Not only did it speak to your outgoing nature, but it also spoke volumes about your self confidence. Stay silly, flaunt your stuff, and remember, if you're ever feeling down, that your mom didn't lie to you about your AP score.

Kham – This summer would not have functioned without you. Although you were not physically living in the bunk, your maternal presence was not lost and the time we all spent together was not taken for granted. You have an ability to make people feel heard and consequently, something about you makes camp feel even more like home. I love you, and can't wait to hear all about the beach house.

Noa – Thank god you decided to come back. Camp clearly missed you. Your energy is unmatched and you can motivate anyone to do just about anything. Your smile is contagious and your spark is something that we all needed. I said it day one, but at times it seemed like we shared a brain. We were all so lucky to have you as WF/Photo/AGL this summer. I love you and can't wait to see the brilliant teacher we all know you will be.

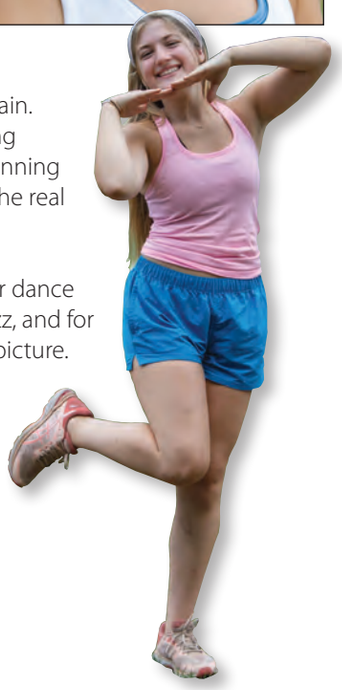

My Scribes. I am forever indebted to you for allowing me to be a Scribe again. As I said in my speech to you all, your time here is not over, it is just getting started. This summer punctuates the end of the beginning, not the beginning of the end. I will, however, admit that after this point, time moves fast. The real world will attempt, relentlessly, to catch up with you. Don't let it.

In the meantime, take every chance you can get to sing in the d-tent or dance in the rain. Make new traditions, listen to breakfast, lunch and dinner jazz, and for me – don't forget to take a step back from time to time to take a mental picture. I love you all, and can't wait to visit every year and watch you kill it on staff.

But until then – We are Scribes, Scribes, Scribes!
2020 did not kill our vibe
We led The Realm with Andy by our side
Forever in each others lives lives lives
We were the Scribes!

Don't Stop Me Now

Tonight, we're gonna have ourselves
a real good time
Celebrate our victory, and the war capped it on day four Watch us soar and haunt the White
So don't stop Green now, you won't stop Green
'Cause you know we're the dream team,
this is the fun team

Fireworks shooting through the sky
Where's the vlog squad?
Say hi to Nat and David D
Got the better 3, and a team that goes down in history
With Kendall, Suna, and Zubi
We're corona free
Your galaxy's in trouble
Don't know about you
But we like it here in our bubble
Your legacy's gonna crumble
When the Green Demons possess all of you

Conjuring The Realm, with Andy's spirit on our side
We're not gonna fail
Live free or die
Sununu's always been our guy, inspections and all
Don't stop Green now
You can't stop Green
We're having a good time
But we won't back down until you fall

Hey Sophie G, welcome to the 6, not so sunny
Joey can't go hard. It's out of control.
Ava's stuck in 2017, wishes she was Green
But it's a no oh oh oh LET IT GO!

Attention Channel 16
No secrets here, we're broadcasting our dream team
And we'll let you in on our scheme
We're gonna make an exorcism case outta you

(whispering)
Can't stop Green, can't stop Green, can't stop Green, hey, hey, hey
(louder)
We'll haunt you, we'll haunt you,
ooh ooh ooh
(loudest)
The fun team, the fun team has a good time, good time
We'll win it, we're winning, ah

Demonized the White team
We're in your dreams
And when you wake up we still hear you scream
No more than an outer space theme
You'll see we'll make a demonic spirit out of you

Can't stop us now, you are running out of time
Watch your stars fade
Can't catch us now
We're putting the line (wooh)
We're winning it all (alright)
It's over now
('cause I'm having a good time, yeah yeah)
It's over now
(yes, I'm havin' a good time)
The demons have WON IT ALL!

Make You Feel My Love

When the tears are streaming down your face
And your whole world seems out of place
Just to see that familiar face
Would make you feel at home

When the evening shades start to disappear
Tried ten months to make it through the year
Those winter days brought us so much fear
We wouldn't make it home

We know that time is pushing us away
And on the days when we are gone
Our hearts will always pull us back to Broad Bay
Because this is where we belong

To feel the warmth of Freedom sun again
Just like the embrace of an old friend
No, there's nothing that we wouldn't do
To feel camps love with you

We know that time is pushing us away
As we struggle to hold on
SC: Savor every moment of every day
JC: Before our camper days are gone

Next time the world tries to get in our way
We'll think back to these better days
Reliving memories that will not fade
To make us feel at home
To get back to our home

Exile

Underneath the sign it started
Feeling like we never parted
Singing with the friends we'll always be
So far from strife and care
With the magic everywhere
This is the haven of our dreams

This camp has seen it all before
But we made it through the endings
Judges your canes can hit the floor
Cause we are never shutting down
This is our home
Now we know we'll never let go
This camp has seen it all before

We can feel you watching, judges
Memories, they keep on flooding
Like the times when we were hugging You
Almost a hundred summers
Stronger with each newcomer
Can't stay forever, but its true

This camp has seen it all before
But we made it through the endings
Judges your canes can hit the floor
Cause we are never shutting down
This is our home
Now we know we'll never let go
This camp has seen it all before
JC: So we'll be ready for more

With C.E.I.
The dream's alive
Where would we be without you
All this time
We've always had you by our side
Andy, Woody, and John Klein
Heart was always on the line
Fifty-five
All the stars align
Nothing can stop our shine
Cause you're touching all our lives
So many lives
All fifty-five
So many lives

This camp has seen it all before
But we made it through the endings
Judges your canes can hit the floor
Cause we are never shutting down
This is our home
Now we know we'll never let go
This camp has seen it all before
And we are ready for more

With C.E.I.
The dream's alive
Where would we be without you
All this time
We've always had you by our side
Andy, Woody, and John Klein
Heart was always on the line
Fifty-five
All the stars align
Nothing can stop our shine
Cause you're touching all our lives
So many lives
So many lives
So many lives

Somebody Told Me

Dobrik and Nat crashing Chuck's big night
Beat COVID and we'll win another fight

Planets and stars galaxy shines bright
Safe in our bubble green can't ruin this
Zubi leave the waterfront, go learn your Spanish
Suna do a push-up, do you need an assist?
I said we got the better Brown and his moves don't miss
(Hudson stands up and does a dance move)
Masks are all off, more chalet doffs tonight
(Galaxy Saxon/Scribe/Staff)

Stars align for a victory (Vic-tree) it's the White

[Chorus]
White teams in high gear, demons we don't fear
With Soph, Av and Joey
This crew will make history for light-years
What happened to day 5, we're still feeling a-live

[Verse 2]
Corbins and Rick bringing something new
Camp beach day and we're eating packaged food
Judges on zoom in a war like this Laundry czar Josh in a war like this
Comets rain down, Woody's back porch tonight
(Galaxy Saxon/Scribe/Staff)

Tropical storm won't make our glitter fade

[Chorus]
White team's in high gear, demons we don't fear
Joey's room this year
Sophie's an honorary of fifteen
Av loves the Shires, ten years for Briar
Where is the, where is the quad

[Bridge]
We are galaxy
Green's a tragedy
Wood read the score now
All demons ever do is cry

[Chorus]
White team's in high gear, demons we don't fear.
With Soph Av and Joey
This crew will make history, for light-years
What happened to day 5, we're still feeling alive
Arash'in Arash'in The Realm

White team's in high gear, demons we don't fear
With Soph, Av and Joey
This crew will make history, for light-years
What happened to day 5, we're still feeling alive
Galaxy, galaxy YEAH!

GREEN & WHITE 2020

Green 3,060/ White 3,108
Margin of 48 for the White

From the moment that the three weekers departed, camp was abuzz with Green & White hype. When was color war going to break? How could it top last year's fire show? After a few days (which felt like a few weeks), these questions were finally answered on Founder's Night.

THE EVENING BEGAN WITH THE TRADITIONAL BANQUET, featuring Chuck's favorite meal, meatloaf. Everyone proceeded to the Barn thereafter, where we recognized those celebrating 5, 10, 15, and 30 years at The Realm. Then, it was time to honor Chuck for summer number 55 A video began, featuring Robin Hood alumni of all ages congratulating Chuck and recalling some of their favorite memories of him. As the tribute neared its end, a huge surprise came on screen. It was Youtube star David Dobrik and his partner, Natalie Mariduena, a former camper. They told everyone to listen for the sirens. Moments later, huge booms could be heard from the Far Far Field. Everyone screamed and rushed out into the night to watch an unbelievable show of fireworks. As it wrapped up, the on-camp judges led everyone back to the Barn, where Woody announced, to everyone's joy, that Green & White 2020 was officially underway! For the second year in a row, six captains were welcomed to the stage – Sophie Goldberg, Joey Licht, Ava Morollo, Andres Zubillaga, Kendall Brown, and Jonathan Suna.

Following breakfast and the selection of camper teams, Robin Hood was divided in half for the next four days by the bean pick. Sophie, Joey, and Ava picked the White bean and led the Galaxy; Zubi, Kendall, and Suna took charge of the Green Demons. A full slate of activities followed on Day One, and the intensity was at its peak from the start. The evening featured two staff basketball games and the cracker eat, which was almost a dead heat. By the end of Day One, Green had surged out to a 148-point lead.

Despite a perilous forecast for much of Day Two, the daytime activities were completed in overcast conditions. As is tradition, the day kicked off with the Swim Meet. Several hundred points were on the table, but the two teams battled it out to a near even outcome. Two activity periods took place in the afternoon. Then, around dinner time, the weather finally came to camp, and boy did it hit hard. A huge storm wiped out plans for staff volleyball and talent show rehearsal, as the night was called early and everyone safely returned to their cabins. Green had added to their lead, and White needed to make a big push the next day.

GREEN 1,607 | WHITE 1,316

After an all-camp stick pickup to account for the aftermath of the storm, color war was resumed in full force for the penultimate day, Day Three. An activity period in the morning was followed by the Track Meet in the afternoon. Everyone enjoyed a quality Talent Show in the evening, which was even more impressive given that the teams had less time than usual to rehearse. Staff squared off in volleyball under the lights. White got the huge day that it badly needed, thanks to an outstanding Talent Show performance, and the war was tight entering the final day.

GREEN 2,333 | WHITE 2,231

There was no time to rest on Day Four. The staff took the fields for morning softball, while campers gathered to practice for what loomed as an all-important Song Night. The final two camper field activities took place in the morning. Following lunch came a Giant Relay, highlighted by the closest Rope Burn in recent history, which Green edged by less than a second. This victory meant that going into the Tug of War, the margin was in single digits! Green carried over the momentum, winning a majority of the tugs. After everyone took a much needed shower, both teams gathered at the top of the quad for Flag Presentations. At this point, the war was to be decided by Song Night. Both teams gave it their all, but in the end, White emerged victorious, capping off a huge comeback!

Final Score: Green 3,060 | White 3,108

A margin of 48 for the White!
