Camp Robin Hood
19 RH 27

The summer of 2021 was unique in so many ways and yet it was always consistent with everything our founder, Andy, dreamed about 94 years ago. Once again, children from far and wide entered The Realm on opening day with excitement, passion, and understandably a bit of uncertainty. They drove under the camp sign at the gate and immediately felt safe, surrounded by love, support, and the magic in the trees. Camp has seen this every summer for 94 years – the trees, the sailing shack, the red garage, the office, the bunks, the fields; they all serve to shelter the campers and staff of The Realm from the world's problems. The Friedman family and their friends planted the trees and rebuilt the buildings following the fire in the spring of 1948. If only they could talk, can you even imagine the stories they would share?!

The principles upon which CRH was founded still hold true today: CRH is a place for campers and staff to come together every summer to make lifelong friends, to try new things, to learn the value of giving back, to build character, and to embrace the idea that being respectful and considerate of others is ultimately the key to our success. For the second year in a row, our campers and staff did the work at home to help us to create our bubble and guarantee our safe haven, and the results speak for themselves. Together, we proved that NOTHING can stop Robin Hood. The memories we created together, the wholesome fun we experienced in the fresh air away from screens and technology, the games we invented together, and the close friendships we made will forever echo in The Realm and will serve to perpetuate the magic in the trees.

I want to address the entire Camp Robin Hood family – our campers, our staff, our parents, and our alumni – and to say thank you from the bottom of my heart for believing in the mission and helping us execute it. I always thought it, but now I know it: anything is possible…absolutely ANYTHING, when we all work together for a common goal. I am forever grateful that we took this journey together. It is one that we will NEVER forget.

With gratitude, love, and tremendous pride in the CRH family,

Woody

TPJs! TPJs!

Put down the carpetballs set aside your lacrosse sticks, and head over to benches! And no, Hutch, Magic Cards unfortunately can't come with us to the activity.

Remember when we had our first day together? We kicked it off with Wowbutter and Jelly sandwiches for a quick snack – what a great start to the day! Remember when we had our first activity? Who could ever forget soccer on the far field. Even in the 90 degree weather you guys gave it your all. Who saw Calvin score the goal to win the game? Next up: waterfront! Remember when you all would chant "To the lake! To the lake!" while digging trenches in the sand? I've never seen you guys so engrossed in an activity. From then on, the waterfront became your favorite activity.

Before we knew it, dinner was just around the corner. After a quick meeting on the benches, we walked up the hill to the dining tent. Chicken Patties! Remember when we drank bug juice, too? The day could not possibly get better…or could it. Our evening activity that night was infection and candy canteen! What a great way to start your summer at Robin Hood.

Remember when we watched the staff talent show? We started off the night strong with our role call. Who remembers our TP chant? #Sheeeeeesh. The crowd went absolutely crazy when the DJ started a dance party. Cooper had some pretty crazy dance moves to The Black Eyed Peas "Boom Boom Pow!" I was so excited to see you all waving at me while I was performing on stage during the group leader dance.

Remember when we had our first camp fire?

You all did so well introducing the Saxons in front of Boys' Camp. Arm-in-arm we sang camp songs all night at the outdoor theater. What was your favorite song we sang?

Remember when we celebrated the Fourth of July? We spent all morning at arts and crafts decorating our sign for the parade that afternoon. I have never seen someone use so much paint and glitter – it was everywhere. We met everyone up by the tennis courts to start the parade, and you guys got to lead the way with the Scouts. The day followed with lots of time swimming in the lake, playing on the inflatable water slides, and even an ice cream truck. Remember when Nathan got hit with the soap and sponge during the carnival games?

TINKERS/PAGERS/JUGGLERS

Remember when we had color run? After breakfast we all put on white shirts and met at the barn to start the run. Anyone remember who got covered in the most colors? We ran by the dining hall, next to the tennis courts, and around the soccer field – we must have covered all of camp. The run ended at the waterfront where you guys were able to wash all of the colors off of you. What a great time we had!

Can the TPs dance? You sure can! Remember when we performed in So You Think You Can Dance? The curtains opened to Alex L. and Connor slow dancing to "When We Were Young " by Adele. You all then slowly waltzed onto stage in pairs until the music faded out into "Blueberry Faygo." You guys completely killed your dance moves! Remember when Nathan made the crowd go wild after his solo dance? The show couldn't have been started by a better group. We had a great time cheering on the other groups as they went up to the stage to perform after us. We ended the night by singing the goodnight song while swaying arm-in-arm with each other. What a great time we had!

Remember when we had beach day? Kicking off our day at the boardwalk was truly a highlight. Kelan N. kept asking if his tongue was blue from the blue raspberry icee he had just eaten [but his tongue wasn't the only one that was all blue]! We then went on to have a water balloon fight over on the sand volleyball courts. Who remembers the water balloon free-for-all? I can't believe Alex L. popped my last balloon. We ended the day with, of course, swimming at the waterfront! We had the best time together that day.

Remember when we had the Junior Camp Talent Show? You guys worked so hard to plan out your acts. We started the night with, of course, a dance party in the barn. Who remembers Mariano's roll call? It was so much fun watching you all perform in front of the crowd; your hard work practicing truly paid off. Remember when Juju and Grey sang "Chug Jug With You?" Mariano must have been in 5 different acts, too! That night went on for hours – you guys just had so much talent to show!

As the first session came to a close, we had to say goodbye to a few of our fellow Tinker/Pagers; however, our summer was not over yet!

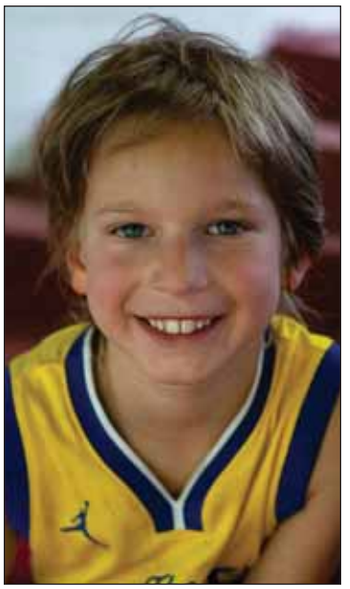

Remember when Woody said that we could have one last song at dinner…that turned into a concert at the waterfront for the Green & White break? It felt as though we all had been waiting weeks for the final break. Remember when you all got to participate in the Saxon's fake break? You all got dressed up in hats and canes and piled into one of the camp trucks covered in Green & White streamers. After being driven to the waterfront, you hopped out only to reveal to the entire camp that it was fake – we had everyone fooled!

Remember all the Green & White events you got to compete in? We started off at 9-square where you battled hard for the first win of the day. Remember some of Jack Jack's crazy hits? Even though the White team ended up ahead, I could tell that you all were going to use every last bit of energy you had to win. I think I had the most fun coaching you in basketball. Both Ali and Lucas hit threes in the game – you guys all played so well!

Remember when we had founder's night? So many of you gathered onto the stage with your one-year water bottles as Woody called your name. Drew even got a three-year pennant!

Remember our last full day of camp together? After spending the morning packing our bags, we played infection for the entire afternoon. What a great game to have as your last activity! Remember when we had banquet night? One last time, boy's and girl's camp met under the dining tent to celebrate the lasting memories we created. We ended an amazing summer by giving out awards to individuals in each group. You all did so well – each and every one of you played an important role in our group. The summer would have been so different without you!

The end of camp came way too fast – I miss you guys already! Have a great school year, and I hope to see you next summer!

Tinkers / Pagers

Mariano Barrios Gomez – I don't think a day went by where you weren't able to make the whole group laugh at least once; I am so grateful for the energy you brought to each activity. You will forever be count off number 1 to me, and I will never forget your pajama jumps!

Grey Coen – I always seemed to find you doing a new science experiment back behind the bunk. I enjoyed watching your curiosity run wild this summer – you tried so many new things. I hope to see you next year so that you can continue exploring!

Connor Deane – Connor you might actually be the funniest person I know. From your dancing in So You Think You Can Dance to your various count off voices, I knew I could always rely on you for a laugh. Can't wait to hear your jokes next year!

Nathan Grossman – Nobody else I know would willingly roll around on the ground in mud gaga…and enjoy every second of it. I loved watching you tackle every new activity, while also never losing your sense of humor.

Sylvester Holz – I knew that we were going to have a great summer together ever since I first unpacked your Kevin Durant basketball shoes before you arrived at Robin Hood. Your easy-going attitude and willingness to try new things always brightened my mood. I can't wait to watch you grow next year!

Alex Kesselheim – Let me guess, you're holding your lacrosse stick while reading this article. But in all honesty, was there a sport that you couldn't play? I loved watching the energy you poured into each activity we had. Can't wait to see you master the sweatpants-tucked-into-socks look next year!

Julian Klassman – Did you lose your glasses at least once a day? Yes. But did you still bring a smile to every activity? Also yes. Juju, I have never met such a kind, caring person. You managed to make a mark on every person at this camp: you truly are a Robin Hood celebrity.

George Konary – You were always such a good friend to others; your kindness and compassion truly had an impact on our group this year. I'll never forget when you helped everyone sneak into the loft to break into our candy stash. Can't wait to see you next year!

TINKERS/PAGERS/JUGGLERS

Alex Leebow – Mini muffin! You might have been the youngest camper in all of camp, but you were the only one I knew that would sleep past reveille. I'm going to miss the positive attitude you brought to activity – come back next year!

Charlie Levine – I don't think I've met someone who loved carpetball quite as much as you did, Charlie. I also never had to worry about forgetting something with you around. Remember when you found Juju's lost glasses? You were a big help to me this summer, and I hope to see you next year!

Kellen Long – I loved watching you build confidence over the seven weeks you were here! I'll never forget how much you laughed during sock wrestling. Your easy-going attitude made every activity enjoyable for everyone. See you next year!

Kelan Natauri – Your happiness is contagious, Kelan. I loved watching you give your all at every activity we had. Even on rainy days, you were able to make the most of every situation – you were a joy to be around! I am truly going to miss tucking you and dolphin into bed each night!

Jake Radvinsky – I miss you already, name buddy. Even with it being only your second year at camp, it seemed as though you had been coming to Robin Hood for years. I so valued your help eading all the activities we went to [and even explaining some that I had never done before]! Jakes stick together – can't wait for you to come back next year!

Cooper Thau – From the moment you first stepped out of your car on opening day, you had the biggest smile on your face. Your smile and laugh were contagious – you were always brightened the mood! The energy that you carried with you every day was truly unmatched. I will miss having your positivity to rely on!

Calvin Van Horn – You were like another counselor to me! I knew I could always count on you, and I so enjoyed watching you grow as a leader this summer. I already miss being your buddy at the waterfront – come back next year!

Hutch Walker – The magic card extraordinaire! I always admired how willing you were to try new things – I so enjoyed watching you learn over your summer at Robin Hood. I'll never forget your green robin hood hat and your grey fuzzy pullover: those were Hutch Walker wardrobe staples! Hope to see you next year for a rematch in chess [I really hope that I win this time]!

Jugglers

Paxton Bash – Professor! I have never met a TPJ who likes hot sauce quite as much as you do – you must have used it every meal! You always brought a sense of happiness to our group, and I appreciated how willing you were to try all the new activities at camp. I'm so glad you decided to stay for the full seven weeks!

Colin Bea – We were all so glad to see you back this summer. Your infectious positivity was a guiding light for the group. Thank you for your enthusiasm. You made our jobs easier, and we're grateful to have gotten to know you

Ali Callahan – I'll never forget when you beat a Forester in tetherball. You were incredible in every single activity we went to! Can't wait to see how much you excel during the year – come back next year to kill it in more activities!

Jack Chibnik – After not seeing your face last year, it was so refreshing to see the tiny [chaotic] adorable tinker all of a sudden transform into one of the most mature ten year olds I've ever met. I don't think a single person was surprised when you were voted to be a color war captain, and that's not because you're one of the oldest or most athletic kids in the group, but instead because your maturity is apparent to everyone and we all trusted that you could lead the green TPJs well. Never skip a year again!

Sam Evans – Sevans! Thank you for being the kindest TPJ I've ever met. Even during rough days for the group, I always appreciated how respectful you were to the counselors and your peers. I will never forget all of you incredible jukes during our soccer activities. I can't wait to see you next year!

Lucas Frank – You have such good questions, and always impress me with how interested you are in everything we do. I will also never forget when you hit the 3-pointer in the TPJ Green & White basketball game – can't wait to watch you ball next year!

Jack Grossman – Grossman, you were consistently one of the funniest, most mature, level-headed, members of the Jugglers. I admire your ability to always pick up the group and be a leader no matter what the situation. You were such a leader during Green & White, always willing to help out the group and lead your group mates through an amazing war.

Drew Hoglund – The first time I met you, you told me that you were a swimmer. It wasn't until I saw you in the Green & White swim meet that I truly understood what you meant: you really are part fish! I'm going to miss having my swimming buddy at waterfront – come back next year so that we can do the island swim together!

Harrison Klassman – Where the heck is Klassman!? You are one of the funniest people I've ever met [there's a reason why you were the only one that could make us break during "make your counselors laugh".] I can't wait to see you and your brother back again next year!

TINKERS/PAGERS/JUGGLERS

Owen Leichtling – O-GLIZZ! You are truly the man. You are easily one of the funniest people in our group, and to top it off you sure can spit some mean bars. I admire your ability to always be your loud, confident self, whether it be through performing "Behind Bars" at the JC talent show, or just your general humor throughout every day. It was truly a pleasure to have you as our camper.

Rodrigo Pauly – You are genuinely one of the smartest people I've ever met. Your innate curiosity is truly unmatched. Your insightful questions and comments allowed the group to better understand their experience and, therefore, have a better summer.

Austin Ponsky – POONSKY! You were a welcome addition to this group. We can't wait to see you back next year to hear more crazy stories from the farm. Keep being yourself, and you'll be going places.

Zac Radvinsky – I'm going to miss seeing you on benches each morning before breakfast. Even with the early mornings, I always admired how ready you were to take on each day. You brought a smile to every activity that really brightened the mood. Thank you for being so kind to your brother throughout the summer – see you next year!

Jordan Simanovsky – One of the greatest pleasures of being your counselor was seeing you slowly emerge from your shell and become one of the leading members of our group. It's hard to learn how to be confident and come out of your comfort zone, but you did so wonderfully [and only in the span of seven weeks!]. I can't wait to see you next year.

Alex Snyder – I knew I could always count on you to be the first one on benches. I so appreciated how much you helped keep the group quiet and on task. I loved watching you take notes in your notebook during Green & White – you were the best co-captain the white team could have asked for!

Finley Williams – You were the first Juggler to arrive at camp, and you brought some unmatched energy and enthusiasm with you. You fully embraced every aspect of camp, which helped keep the group on the same page. I know everyone in the group was grateful to have met you, myself included.

To my Staff – I could not have asked for a better support system this summer! From water soccer, to counselor hunt, to smores in the rain, I always knew I could rely on you guys. Thank you for making my summer one that I'll remember forever!

THE NORTH FACE

TINKERS/PAGERS/JUGGLERS

To the TPJs of 2021

I'll always remember you guys as the first campers I ever had while on staff. Thanks for making my summer one to remember. I will miss you guys so much – come back next year so we can play more infection!

Hey! Squires! Couldn't hear me?

HEY SQUIRES!

Get on the benches and get ready to relive the best summer ...of your lives.

After saying goodbye to your parents we started the summer off with a bang, playing mafia at the adirondack chairs. It was a great way to learn everyone's names. However, I think Drew was too preoccupied with the whereabouts of Jake to focus on the game itself. Remember when we all had to take the swim test – but watch out for that spider. On that same day we had our first evening activity, capture the flag, which featured Irv's jailbreak.

Remember when you all became obsessed with "The Left" and took down the most athletic staff on camp and Corbin in bombardment in which Leo caught a ball with his legs? Remember the first scavenger hunt of the summer that concluded with hunting for Will in his gilly suit?

Remember the first Sunday Sundaes of the summer? We took down the Foresters in the battle for last. "WE ARE LAST!!!" never would have thought that ten-year-olds would have so much patience waiting for ice cream.

Remember Irving's special pass in 9 square that gave him permission to cut the entire line and end up as king? Skit night at Woody's dock followed by sunset gazing by the water ski shack capped off one of the better bonding experiences our group had. Everyone came together and watched in awe as lightning shattered over the horizon of a beautiful orange camp sunset.

Remember when Leo and August had birthdays on the same day? Double cookie cake, double pizza and a beach party with the Jesters made for double the fun. Remember when you guys couldn't figure out how to walk in a line blindfolded without hurting each others' shoulders.

Remember when we challenged the Archers in bombardment? We walked up two by two blasting "Bullseye" trying to intimidate them. When the countdown finished you guys fought your hardest. In the final round Jake came up clutch, taking down Archers left and right, ending with a dramatic one on one. In my eyes that night was a big victory for our group and we showed camp that Gabe's Babes Remastered were a force to be reckoned with.

Remember when David suggested Millions of Peaches as the song for our dance. I'm confident this would have made for a spectacular dance. Remember when there was a chipmunk in the bunk? Remember when it was sunny at our waterfront periods? Don't remember that.

Remember celebrating July 4th? Oh wait, I mean 5th? Simon dressed up for the occasion with red, white, and blue face paint. After parading around camp the fun began. Remember going down the slip n' slides, and eating way too much ice cream, popcorn and cotton candy? Following the marriage booth many of you quickly divorced after getting your engagement ring pop. Remember winning a football lesson with Eli Sobel and pizza from the raffle!

Remember our pre-campfire "make your counselor laugh". August was spot on in his nerd impression, and JC was…JC! We then transitioned to one of the best campfires I have ever been a part of. You all came together like a family, supporting and listening to one another and I'm very proud of you for that. I'm not gonna lie, I too shed a few tears. Moments like these showed me that this will be a special group in the future.

Remember when we had sock wrestling [aka the best EA ever]. Jacob's match got cut a little short, Ben vs Jack never seemed to end and when Nick beat Eli!!! Although half of you ended up in the loss column, you still had a lot of fun. Remember when Quique had a day. He started off the day winning Bingo for our group, which gave us a pontoon boat ride, and then scored a few goals in rainy soccer. Seeing you all go hard in the rain made that one of my favorite periods of the summer. What about when the staff shared a pizza slice 6 ways at our evening meeting? Remember when you guys lightened the mood by coming outside with your shorts pulled up to your chest and with your arms out like robots. You continued to walk to the upper courts like that, amazing me and the rest of camp with your hilarity.

SQUIRES

Remember when you rocked out on the dance floor to "Montero" and salsaed to "Ojala que llueva cafe?" Y'all worked so hard on the dance I was so proud when the pieces came together for So You Think You Can Dance. Jake brought Lola up on stage at the end to cap a phenomenal Squire dance. Our group continued the heroics on stage when Simon sang "Hey There Delilah," the skit crew gave the audience a laugh, and Leo unexpectedly performed to the Fortnite song with his sister.

Remember beach day? The Ossipee Lake Edition, part 2 was a blast. We started the day off by coming in second place in goldrush, which led to an Archer uprising. For the record, I had zero influence over the point system. Next we relaxed on the "boardwalk" and sipped on slushies courtesy of the Margarita Man. After that we had tons of fun water balloon fighting – and then played the day away at the beach party. At the end of the day we had a DJ Wood dance party in which Simon went all out on the stage and each of you earned candy canteen by dancing the whole time.

Remember all of our tubing periods and when JC got to tube for the first time. Remember when Irv wasn't constantly shouting "banana?" I don't. Remember when we had an epic pickleball tournament on Javi's birthday and surprised him afterwards with pizza.

Remember when we said goodbye to all the 4 weekers and our group of 21 became a family of 9. Bunk renovations led by Gabe and Javi led to the "Squires Only Long," the best hangout spot on camp. That same day we had pajama jump to end the long day of moving the bunk around.

Remember when we celebrated Jake's birthday, except I couldn't make it for cookie cake. That night on full stomachs, we played camper hunt which featured Will's gilly suit not working and Doodle blending in with the Foresters.

Remember the storm…seeing the lightning strike was pretty cool. Remember when we played team handball…gone Nathaniel? How about the backwards scavenger hunt… your impressions of Nick were spot on. Later that night we did the toothbrush tradition, sour patch edition.

Remember the Scotty Rimer original Pros vs Joes? You guys always came away with a huge win. How about when Gabe had an itch? Remember when we got big? Or when we played "bounty hunters"?

Remember when we all thought Green & White would break…and then it didn't… and then you guys got fooled by the TPJ-Saxon fake break? When the Bon Jovi cover band broke the war we split up into two teams, eventually named Electric Green & White Phoenix. I am so proud that all of you put your heart and soul into the war. From day one's 1 point basketball game through song night, Green & White was a special experience for all of you. It was amazing seeing a third of the group participating in the Talent Show. Cole and Charlie you killed it on the dance floor and Ben was amazing in glee. Very excited to see each and every one of you kill it again next year. In my opinion one of the best parts of color war is the end, win or lose. Reuniting after five days made me so happy.

We wrapped up the summer with some great days together following lazy day. We had a great s'mores campfire even though all of you couldn't figure out how to keep your marshmallow on the stick after toasting it. I'm pretty sure Cole had to toast three before being able to eat one. We also had an epic pontoon boat ride with the Yeoman. Remember getting flung off the end of the boats by the counselors. On the last night of camp we enjoyed one last movie, Black Panther. We munched on some cookies and then when the movie ended half the group fell asleep right there in "The Long." Although summer 2021 is over, next year's Archers of 2022 is going to be a force and take over The Realm.

Irving Bruder – Banana! Irv, to say you were loved by all would be a gross understatement. Whether it be your infectious excitement or insanely random but fascinating facts about building iPhones or coding, you won over the hearts of every camper and staff member. I can't wait to see you take The Realm by storm all over again next summer.

Drew Coslov – I was so impressed with how well you fit in and how quickly you became a key member of the group. Your willingness to try new things and get out of your comfort zone was truly admirable. Can't wait to see you again next summer.

Cole Cuddeback – Every moment of this summer you consistently showcased your leadership and maturity. You impressed with your athletic abilities but also with your instinctive ability to lead a group. It was a pleasure watching you as Color War captain. Keep coming back, I know you will continue to kill it.

David D'Alessio – From your first moments on camp your energy and enthusiasm was evident and it was clear that this place was meant for you. I loved hearing about everything you had to say whether it was random facts or about cars and I can't wait for you to tell me more next year.

Simon Field – Simon, your perseverance and ability to overcome adversity was inspiring. You were able to flourish here, always going hard in activities and especially on the stage singing and dancing. Cannot wait to see you and your beautiful hair back next year.

Leo Friedman – From the moment you stepped into camp I could tell that this place would be perfect for you. You are a great competitor and athlete. I loved seeing you compete your heart out in Green & White. Really hope you come back next year because camp gets better each year and this is your place.

Owen Goldberg – Watching you come out of your shell was one of the best parts of this summer. I always knew you had that goofy, outgoing personality hidden behind your ever present respectfulness. Once you found your place in the group there was no going back. Hope you decide to stay the full session next year because camp needs kind people like you.

Max Gottsegen – You are one of the kindest and sweetest kids I have ever met. You always listened and your smile always brightened everyone's mood. See you next summer buddy.

Buster Heller – You are one of the most beloved kids in this group and for good reasons. You are a great athlete and an ever better friend. Despite your occasional goofiness you always knew when it was time to be serious and I appreciated that. I hope you are able to stay the full session next year because camp is your second home.

JC Hernandez – You are easily the funniest kid I have ever met. Your ability to turn any situation into a lighthearted one is extremely valuable. It is clear that you love your friends and will be back for years to come. Can't wait to see you as head counselor in 20 years…NOTCH!!!

Adam Jablow – Your continuation of your dad's legacy here is to be envied. One day, I hope to see you in his position leading The Realm. You are a fun and uplifting presence to your friends and counselors so keep coming back. Camp needs you.

Jacob Josephson – It may only be your second year at camp, however it's clear that you get camp and it means a lot to you. You delve into every activity with excitement. Camp is truly in your blood and it shows in how much you care about your groupmates. Keep coming back!

Eli Kesselheim – I was impressed by your athleticism immediately, but your ability to make friends stood out the most. Your friendly demeanor is what camp needs and I hope you come back next year and for many years to come.

SQUIRES

Jack Lipton – Jack, you remind me so much of myself, mature, respectful, while still finding time to be goofy. Spending 45 minutes straight on the benches with you just to prove a point was a highlight of my summer. Thank you for always being first to benches. Keep being you and look forward to seeing you next summer.

Ben Marks – You are a clear leader in the group with your natural ability of comforting and supporting friends, which was most evident in Green & White. When you are around, your group mates are happier. Excited to see you contribute to your group in this way again next summer.

Jake Matsuzaka – I don't think I have met someone kinder than you. You are the heart of this group, always willing to try new things and always smiling. Your optimism is infectious and I'm so happy you stayed for seven weeks. I can't wait to see you come back for years and years. Camp needs you.

Cayson Seley – Te amo Cayson! I watched you come out of your shell this summer. You're an incredibly loyal friend, and you would always have their backs. Can't wait to see you back in The Realm next summer.

Xander Slayton – I was so impressed by your ability to make friends and your adult-like maturity. Whenever someone was feeling down I could always count on you to pick them up. I hope next year you can stay for Green & White because you will kill it!

August Speyer – You quickly fit into the group with your infectious energy, care for others, and crazy athleticism. Your speeches on the benches were just one of many things that made you stand out. You have a great future at The Realm and I hope you stay for Green & White next year.

Charlie Willard – You are so mature and advanced for your age it's unreal. You are such a huge part of the group and missing camp last year didn't set you back in the slightest. I can't wait to watch you grow up and become a camp leader.

Enrique Zubillaga – Quique! Your passion and grit in every activity was unrivaled. You are wildly determined and hard-working, I can't wait to see you bring your extreme loyalty and love for sports back to The Realm for years to come.

Staff – Thank you for helping me provide the kids with an amazing summer. I don't think you realize how much your care influenced their lives, you guys were the reasons they had so much fun. I hope this summer was a great experience for you and that you can take solutions to each challenge and apply them to your future. Glad I got closer with each of you.

Squires 2021 – What a memorable summer it has been. So many new faces – 12 to be exact – took The Realm by a storm and established our group as one of the strongest and funniest groups in camp. I was so proud to see everyone open up and embrace camp – together. Like I have said since the beginning of camp, we are not just a group, we are a family. Ride the highs and persevere through the lows. Stay in touch and keep coming back! Miss you all.

Archers! Put away your Magic cards, forget your phones, lose your schoolwork, and get ready to remember your favorite summer yet!

Opening Day was a day that is hard to forget. Not only did we all finally see each other again after a whole year, but we figured out how to fit all of the Archers into one bunk. I'm sure Hamad would have offered to sleep outside [his request was not fulfilled], but we decided a bunk bed might suit him better. After we finally got the bunk all set, we moved right on to our first camp activities. It all started with a game of Gaga against the Bows. Both groups fought hard, and the rivalry managed to continue through the rest of the summer. For our first dinner that night – who cares about dinner – we all only remember the desert. Leo somehow figured out how to get his hands on four cookies rather than the typical one-per-person, and he ate them all in a single bite. He had his share of cookies for the entire summer in one night! We all did nothing after dinner and went right to bed. Of course we didn't! We had a crazy game of infection where Lachlan always seemed to be infected and we had our first nightly group meeting together.

Staff Talent Night arrived way quicker than we all thought it would – summer was just going by so fast! The Archers were taken by surprise to see that their staff had so much talent. If anyone ever needs an a cappella lesson or an interpretive dance idea, stop by bunk 11. Rex was quick to point out that the staff talent show "skills" were less impressive and mostly just entertaining for the audience. Either way, talent night concluded with a crazy pizza prank on the campers from the archer staff. Everyone was put to bed but Ben refused to believe it and knew some kind of trickery must be up, but he began to settle into bed regardless. Five minutes later, music was playing and we all got pizza!

The first camp fire took place just as the skies cleared up after a day of heavy rain. After we laid towels down on the benches and managed to collect the few remaining pieces of dry fire wood, the Saxons and the tpjs introduced each other while the rest of boys camp watched. Eli might have tried to wear a duck onesie to the event, but he decided to save it for a less-muddy occasion.

The 4th of July started with Sam waking up under Hamad's bed. No idea how or why, but Sam seemed to be convinced that he had one of the best nights of sleep in his life. Immediately, the day started with water activities, food, and fun. Zach was showing off his sponge-throwing skills, and Caleb was becoming great friends with the popcorn maker.

During the color run, we got to run all around camp while the Saxons and Scribes threw different color powder on us as we sprinted by them. We finally made it down to the waterfront and all jumped in the lake to celebrate the end of the race.

So You Think You Can Dance allowed for the Archers to display their dance that they had been working on for weeks. Even when they were so sick of perfecting their dance, they still persevered, and it was clear on dance night. The Archer dance was one to remember – Gavin starting us off, Sam and Rufus in the middle, and Max and Carter finishing it as the centers of the stage. Even though Jake couldn't find a red shirt that was clean in that dirty laundry bag of his [we had to open it with gas masks on to hide the smell], he still managed to be ready for his crucial position.

Beach Day was one of the nicest days of weather in the whole summer. The entire day was filled with lake-front activities and water games. Sebastian – yes, he had his fedora on – was convinced he could sail, and the Archers watched as he began to drift uncontrollably into the middle of the lake. Everyone including himself had a laugh as he was towed back in. That night, we had a social in the barn, and at one point all the Archers filled the stage as they were dancing to the loud music from the DJ. David managed to hop on stage with the Quills! However, nobody could match Jelin's dance moves.

The Junior Camp Talent Show started off with a bang when Liam jumped up on stage to show off his incredible dancing skills. Everyone got so excited for him – I even saw Gus smile! The last performance of the night was Caleb as he showed us his remarkable singing talents that nobody even expected.

Multiple mini-hoop basketball tournaments concluded our first session. Rex [Kevin DuREX] and Ethan [3than] were the MVPs and led their teams to multiple wins.

The mysterious Green & White break seemed to keep us all on our toes for weeks this year. Nobody had any idea when it was going to break, but when we heard a Bon Jovi cover band performing from a boat at the Waterfront, we began to get the idea. We then ran to the barn after the little concert, and limousines following police cars brought the judges into camp. It was all so exciting! Almost immediately, Captains and Co-Captains – Carter, Ben, Grant, and Zach – picked our teams and the intense competitions began.

ARCHERS

The Archer Green & White events were a joy to watch. The White team seemed to win most sports that involved a ball like soccer, while the Green team took the events that required more of a specified technical skill such as riflery. Our game of bocce ended in a catastrophe for the Green team as Rohan managed to knock his winning ball out of the way! In basketball, Julien's crazy hook shot led the White team to a dominant victory over Green. The Green team was able to win in tennis, even without the presence of Tammer and Henry!

We had such a great time at Founders Night this year. We honored the campers and staff who have spent multiple years at camp, and we even got to cheer on one of our own staff members as he celebrated his 10th year at Robin Hood. "He's an Archer!" chants rang throughout the barn. The rain was crazy all throughout the afternoon and evening, but we still made the best of it. Afterwards, in the heavy rain, we all ran around camp in our clothes to do "parkour." We jumped in puddles, balanced on logs, ran across benches, and slid through the wet grass as we had what we all believed to be "the best evening activity of the summer." There was no better way to end the night, we decided, than to have cold s'mores in the bunk. It was definitely a night to remember.

The Archers were represented well at Banquet Night. It was a perfect way to wrap up the summer and identify some of the big takeaways and standout moments. The Archer staff expressed their desires to reward the entire group for how amazing they were for the entire summer!

Closing Day came faster than we all would have liked, however, the speed with which it came was only a sign of how great of a summer the Archers had. We might've been the last group to have our bunk packed up and clean [it was a mess!], but we still had so much fun doing it. The campers used the empty beds and mattresses to make a fun place to spend their last few hours together at camp.

Hamad Al-Thani – You always knew how to make everyone in the group laugh. You fit right in with the group and really came out of your shell by the end of the summer. Hope you can stay longer next summer!

Max Band – The humor you brought to the group lifted us up every day. You killed it in So You Think You Can Dance, and I hope you stay for the full summer next year!

Augustus Barber – You are so polite and respectful, but you can also ball out on the basketball court. The whole group respects you and sees you as someone who's always on their side. Keep it up!

Sam Blacksburg – You are such a great competitor, and you're also a great sport after wins or losses. You always pick your team up after a loss. Everyone really looks to you when they're down!

Liam Cowan – You're definitely the next best MLS goalkeeper, but I didn't realize you could dance like you did in the talent show too! I hope you come back for seven weeks next year.

Spencer Daglio – I've never seen someone more resilient than you are. You always stay positive, and it reflects on the group!

Julien Ehrenkranz – I'm so glad you came back this summer! Every sport we participated in, you carried the group and set an amazing example of how to play at the highest level. I made sure to get your autograph just in case the next time I see you is on TV!

Ethan Feldman – Besides being the next Michael Jordan yourself, you always seemed to push the group to reach their highest athletic potential. I hope you stay longer next summer!

Jose Ferrua – You're one of the funniest people I know, and the humor and light that surrounds you is something that will get you far in life. Thank you for always being game for any activity, and I hope to see you soon!

Alexander Glimcher – You are such a great athlete, but you were able to connect with your peers in multiple ways. Everyone in this group would go to you to find a friend, and I really hope to see you again!

Gavin Horowitz – You really lead by example and you have such a level head at all times. You make the best of all situations, and I'm so glad I got to see you this summer.

Max Jelin – No matter the circumstances, I can always count on you to arrive with a positive attitude and a desire to persevere. The entire group sees you as almost a mentor, and the role you play here is irreplaceable.

ARCHERS

Sebastian Kaye – I'm going to miss you and your fedora! I'll be balancing my salads on my head from now on. I hope to see you and your positive attitude again!

Zachary Levine – As always, you were dominant on the courts and fields. Beyond that, you pushed those around you to be their best selves. The role you play in this group would be impossible to do without.

Tammer Makarem – Even though this was your first summer, it seemed like you've been here for years based on the way you fit in with the group. Hope to see you again soon!

Rohan Natauri – I've never met someone as genuine as you, Rohan. Whether you were making a designer-quality bracelet at crafts or throwing frisbees outside the office, you always gave everything you had.

Rex Perlman – Watching you perform on the basketball court was always a joy. You always had a smile on your face, and many should attempt to replicate your ability to stay humble.

Caleb Pirok – You always managed to lighten the mood of the group. Whether it was to crack a self-deprecating joke, or to do a funny dance, we could always count on you for a smile. Thank you!

Jake Ponsky – No matter what activity we had, you always brought so much energy and enthusiasm to it. I hope you stay for longer next summer!

David Porres – Even though you had a rough first game of spud [lol], the staff and campers always saw something special in you. You're everyone's friend, and you know how to keep everyone engaged. You're the glue of the group, and we couldn't be here without you!

Eli Rosenstock – The fun you bring to this group is unmatched. No matter the activity, your eagerness to participate really kept the group energized. Thank you for being such a nice person to all.

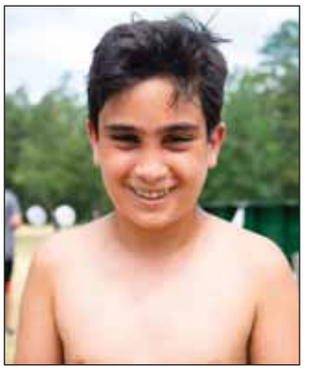

Leo Schader – I regret not asking you for your autograph, because I know you'll be playing in one of the next World Cups. Looking forward to seeing you and your game progress!

Spencer Sears – You were always walking around with a smile on your face, and it was truly contagious. You've taught me to try to emulate that quality of yours in my own life. You fit in so well with this group, and I hope to see you again soon.

Ben Snyder – You are truly a leader. Everyone listens and looks up to you – it's as simple as that. Thank you for keeping me in check and for shaping such a tight-knit group around you!

Carter Susman – Everyone respects you so much Carter. I t showed this year, you're clearly such a people person. You know how to play through everyone's strengths for the benefit of the team. This is a pivotal skill – one that will suit you well in life!

Grant Van Horn – You grew so much this year – emerging as a solidified leader in the group. I hope you know that you're a crucial part of this group and that things wouldn't flow without you. I'm certain your confidence and leadership is palpable beyond camp too.

Rufus Walker – You're so important to this group. You're the one who kept everyone together, and we all relied on you to keep everyone's spirits up all the time! I hope you stay for a full seven weeks next summer.

Henry Walter – I wish I could say I wasn't trying my hardest when you beat me in tennis all those times. You're seriously one of the best players I've seen and I can't wait to see how you and your game grow.

Lachlan Whelan – You're one of the funniest kids I know, and you're friends are so lucky to have you in their group. I hope you stay for seven weeks next summer!

To the Archer staff of 2021 – Even though it rained the majority of days, you guys always made every activity fun. Even when I seemed to be out of ideas, you guys never were, and you really kept me running all day. Thank you all!

To the Archers of 2021 –

Thank you for giving me such an amazing summer. You have all gotten so close – something that's hard to achieve at such a young age. Keep coming back and let's do this again!

YEOMEN

Yo, Men!

Let's put down the rubix cubes, the chess sets, the poker sets, the wiffle BALLS AND THE MAGIC cards, get on the benches [please], and let's Pump It Up as we remember summer 2K21.

The summer started with an absolute bang! The 33 Yeomen united for the first time with a competitive game of capture the flag on the far far field. The game had many memories like when Hudson ignored the entire team as they stormed the flag. Or when Cooper climbed the soccer goal to get a better vantage point of the enemy. Or remember when Stefan poured water on the saxons or when Julian threw glow sticks all over the bunk? Remember when thumbs down actually meant going faster in tubing?

This was only the start, as we all started to come together as one group. A few nights into camp the staff showed off their incredible talent as we sang and danced for the whole camp. Off the stage, the Yeomen were hitting the fields hard as we survived the 95 degree heat. Remember when Stefan caught a chipmunk in the bunk or when Pau nicked down the volleyball net? Remember when Julian and GUs switched names? The fun most definitely did not stop there like when Tirell fell on the dock while fishing or when Oli snuck up on Ilardo, Paulino, and Devine in camper hunt. Remember when Khalid got assaulted by a Tinker Pager? Stefan could not be beaten in bombardment when he sat on the ground and protected himself and Connor could not be beaten when he schooled Cooper Strauss while discussing finance.

The excitement continued as we pushed through the heat. Remember when we stopped our activity short to have an epic water fight on the soccer field? Remember when [you're not going to believe this] Ilardo scored a goal?! Remember when Stefan won dodgeball by sitting down again and when Will threw corn puffs in the water? Remember when Landon caught serious air on the tube? Remember when Will let go of the tube?

After the heat came the rain, and lots of it. However, that didn't stop the Yeomen from having the summer of our lives. Remember when we played basketball in the rain? Remember when Connor could not miss in Riflery which impressed Steve? Remember when Sobel showered with all of his clothes on or when Tyler lost to Olivia Goldman in soccer? I guess it was not a great day for Yeomen because Khalid could not make a shot in soccer and Hudson did a bat flip to a ball that was ultimately caught and turned into a double play. We made up for the lack of athleticism with a great evening activity of Among Us. Remember when Miles did not realize Stefan was the imposter? Remember when Oli put on Nate's Perry the Platypus onesie?

The rain paused briefly so that we could have a legendary July 5th day. In the afternoon, we enjoyed all of the events at the carnival like poker night in the barn, waterslides on the home run diamond, and root beer pong in the dining hall tent. Outside of activities, we were still having fun like when Marshal dissected the bug or when the group witnessed an ant war. Remember when Brody beat Oli in 1v1 basketball or when Julian and Jack could not carry the laundry bag by themselves? Remember when Italy won the Euros?? Remember detective Strauss at senior waterfront or when everyone was honest and said they wanted one piece of candy so that the whole group could get some? Remember when the hockey league went into overtime? Remember when we held a memorial for Tyler after he fell on Jerry's laundry bag? Remember Brody, OG, and Connor won the 3v3 tournament or when we were last for Sunday Sundaes or when Jerry drew 24 cards in UNO? Remember when Brody could not complete the two minutes of silence or when the smoke alarm went off? The whole group loved to annoy Oli and this was no different on lazy sunday. Do you remember when Robert tricked Noah into drinking from a broken cup?

As the summer continued, the Yeomen continued to take advantage of this special place. Gus thought he could jump higher than he actually could and fell. Connor accidentally pushed Strauss off the boat with all of his clothes on. Remember when Sobel killed it in teh Lip Sync battle or when Luke left his shower to a special surprise? Do you remember Nate's back hair? We quickly took a break from normal activities to participate in the color run. Do you remember when we went first and crushed the competition?

Do you remember when Julian struggled pitching in wiffle ball? Do you remember when the Yeomen were extra athletic like when some of us participated in Scraxon '25 vs. Scraxon '26 volleyball or when Stern hit a no look bullseye in Archery or when Ian found a gold star in gold rush. Remember when we protested Doodle for making us lose the gold rush? After this long morning of gold rush we enjoyed a beautiful afternoon in which we participated in Robin Hood's own beach day. Whether it was waterslides on the Home Run Diamond, ice cream and popcorn near the craft shack, or swimming in the water at the waterfront, the Yeomen made the most of a great day.

As we wrapped up the first four week session, the excitement continued. Remember our last evening activity was skit night and

Pau did a great impression in his skit? Remember when the rain forced us to hide in the lax shack and host our very own song night? Remember when we took a "break" from canoe kayak or when Stern started his own breakfast delivery service for the counselors on lazy sunday? Sobel was throwing nasty sliders in the Yeomen wiffle ball league and the rest of the group was burying Connor in the sand. Khalid was getting a little frustrated because you all would not "stop blowing the whistle." On the other hand, remember when Khalid sunk into the trash can?

It was very sad to see so many four week campers leave, but the fun did not stop there. As we awaited the highly anticipated Green & White break, the Yeomen continued to fight through the rain and make memories we will never forget. Remember when Jules faced off against Brody, Landon, OG in fireball? Remember when we beat the Shires in Gaga? Remember when Khalid showed his dominance to the Lancers? Remember when Landon and Julian threw baseballs to get the stuff off the roof? While Paulino was dominating the camp in Pickleball, and Ilardo was falling during infection, the Yeomen did not forget to throw away their sunscreen. Remember when Oli learned how to play chess? Remember bocci with Scotty when Julian lost or our legendary pontoon ride to the main lake with Bohm at the helm? Remember when Callum took a few of us for a joyride on the speed boat? Remember when the multicolored team got a joyride with Scott during infection to escape the other team?

Finally, after we could not take it any longer, Green & White broke and our group was split into two teams for the five day war. The break was very exciting as the kids ran down to the waterfront to see the 2020 counselor captains and a Bon Jovi cover band. After the rest of the judges came out of a limo near the barn, the war had officially begun. Congratulations to Landon and Josh for being captains and Ilardo and OG for being co-captains. For the entire war our group battled in every activity enjoying a very competitive war. Remember when we tied in softball or when the soccer game went to Penalty kicks? Remember when many of the Yeomen killed it in the talent show participating in glee, dance, and skit? It was remarkable to see the group compete so hard during the day but always come back together as one group, showing their love for one another. This was especially true after Tug of War.

Once the war concluded, the Yeomen were back as one group, enjoying the last few days of camp. Founder's night was a special night as we watched Khalid get his ten year vest and OG and Brody get their five year shirts. We also went pontooning again with the Squires as the counselors threw the campers off the boat. Remember the rave with the Quills? And then, before our very eyes, the summer was coming to an end. We enjoyed a nice banquet night before going into the barn one last time to celebrate awards night. Here, the Yeomen skills were on full display, especially our paddleboarding [shoutout Will!] It was a sad time to see everyone leave the next day but we knew we made the most of summer 2021.

Paulino Barrios Gomez – Being the only international kid in the group can be difficult for most kids, but you made it look easy. I love how easy going you are and how you are willing to be flexible in order to keep everyone around you happy. It was a joy watching you reunite with your friends after missing last summer and I hope you continue to grow on the progress you made this summer for many years to come.

Hudson Berger – Your energy was truly infectious and it was a joy to watch you light up the group with your presence. You were always smiling and laughing which always brightened my mood whenever I was having a bad day. Keep being you and keep coming back because it is this type of energy that makes groups like the Yeomen so special. Thank you for Rizzo!

Marshall Brown – It was so great to see you back in The Realm this summer. Your passion for sports was evident throughout the summer, making you an important part of this group. As the summer progressed, you became more and more of a leader of the group, keeping your groupmates accountable so that everyone could have an incredible summer. We all greatly appreciated your maturity and willingness to listen. I can't wait to see you back at camp next summer hopefully for seven weeks.

Ian Carreiro – It was insane seeing how much you've matured over the summer. You make everyone around you wanna be better whether it's helping you clean the table or using manners. It is clear to everyone that you are a leader and a great brother. Whenever someone in the bunk was feeling down you always, always wanted to try and make them feel better. Keep being you, and carrying around your sunscreen.

Nate Carreiro – Carreiro!! Not only are you a great brother, but you are an even better friend. Watching you interact with your groupmates in such a positive manner is something I will never forget. You always know what to say and when to say it. You are an intelligent and funny kid and I know that one day you will be leading a group here. Stay safe this year and I can't wait to watch you kill it next summer.

James Cleveland – It was a pleasure getting to know you this summer. Your respectful attitude and willingness to go with the flow was extremely helpful in such a big group. It was always so great to see you smiling and having a good time. I am so proud of the way you were able to connect with your groupmates and can't wait for you to come back for years to come.

Landon Devine – Landon, your athleticism is unmatched. You killed it in activity after activity giving it your 110% percent. Even after the injury you came stronger and more determined to get the job done, whether it was in Green & White or cleaning the table meal after meal. Never stop coming back. It is clear how much you need The Realm and how The Realm needs more people like you.

Matteo Ercolano – MATTEOOOOO! It was truly so great to see you thrive in The Realm this summer. The ease in which you transitioned into the group was remarkable, making me sometimes forget that it was your first year. You belong at camp for so many reasons: your great sense of humor, your intense competitiveness, and your go-with-the-flow attitude. I cannot wait to see you become a leader in not only this group, but camp as well.

Miles Frank – Your smile will be missed. Your athleticism and coordination was amazing to watch. It was great to see you mature day to day and look after your little brother when he needed it. You were there whenever your team needed you during Green & White whether it was killing it in the Green & White talent show or scoring a game winning basket.

Evan Gomez – I was so glad to have you in the group this year. Although you came to camp only knowing a few kids, I was proud to see you quickly branch out and become friends with many more of your groupmates. Your smile lights up a room and was always a bright spot in my day, and your willingness to listen to us as counselors made it a true pleasure to spend the summer with you. I hope to see you back in The Realm for years to come.

Oskar Goshin – What up lil brudda. OG what can I say other than you killed it this summer. From including fellow campers around you in activities to becoming co-captain in color war, your work ethic is unmatched. Keep trying to build your body no matter what time it is. Keep doing your sit-ups and have a great year!

Tyler Grossman – You always have the biggest smile on your face. You are a bright kid with such a great future in The Realm. You are always high in energy and always took it to another level when it mattered most. You gave it your all at every activity and were incredible at all of them. You play a crucial role in this group and I know I can trust leaving camp in your hands one day.

YEOMEN

Henry Harrison – It was a pleasure being your counselor this year. Even though it was your first year, after day 1 you were fully acclimated into the group. Your competitive nature is truly remarkable. No matter what activity we were at, you gave 100 percent. Nothing can stop you from achieving your goals and you have such a bright future in The Realm. I know you will be at Robin Hood for life and I can't wait to see everything you accomplish here.

Julian Heller – You were hustling in every activity. Whether it was to score a goal in soccer or to try and get on base during a homerun period. As it showed in Green & White, you always gave it your all. It was so great seeing you smile as it always lit up the room. I hope you keep coming back as you will continue to see how special this place is.

Gus Hope – In all my years at camp I've never seen someone have as much energy as you. No matter what, I always saw a smile on your face and it was clear how good of a time you were having. You have such a bright and bubbly personality that allows you to thrive in this group. Keep coming back because this group needs kids like you.

Jack Ilardo – When are we going to brunch??? Your combination of both humor and quirkiness is something that will never be matched by any other camper. Your laugh is contagious and when you have a smile on your face, so does the rest of the group. You are not only a great kid, but you have such a bright future in The Realm. I can't wait to watch you grow up here and be back for years to come.

Matthew Johnston – Matty Iceeeeeee. It was so great to see you grow into a leader of this group this summer. I love your energy and your willingness to go with the flow. Your love for camp is extremely clear which rubs off on the rest of the group. I know that you will be back for many summers to come and cannot wait to see you become a leader of The Realm.

Connor Kelty – It was incredible watching you grow and become more comfortable at camp throughout the four weeks you were here. I loved watching you smile and laugh with the friends you made and it was a pleasure watching you spread your joy with the rest of the group. I know you loved archery and riflery, but it was great to watch you try out new things and new interests at camp. I hope to see your camper career flourish as you become a leader of the group.

Zach Kesselheim – What up Z! Watching you thrive and become a part of this group is something I'll never forget. You got out of your comfort zone and grew so much in such a short amount of time. I can't wait to see that smile for years to come and for camp to be your second home forever.

Sam Lappin – It was so great spending time with you and getting to know you this summer. The quality time we spent with each other was something I will treasure forever and the laughs we shared together served as some of the highlights of my summer. Seeing you thrive at camp brought me so much joy and I hope you can continue to become more comfortable at camp. I better be invited to your band's first concert!

Jerry Lewart – I can't believe how much you've grown this summer. It was incredible seeing you thrive in every activity you did and how much of an impact you made in every sporting event. You gave it your all and we couldn't be more proud. Jerry, keep being you and knocking down those threes!

Will Morrison – I know for a fact that camp will live on with you for years to come. Your experience, knowledge, and love for camp is so important to this group. You always have a smile on your face and never fail to make every opportunity you have a fun one. I can't wait to watch you continue your legacy here by teaching the rest of your groupmates how to make the most of any canoe, kayak, and paddleboard period.

Luke Orlowski – You are one of the smartest kids I have ever met. Whether it's hitting every target at the rifle range or beating your group mates in tennis, you made the most of your time here. You are a mature and funny kid and you fit in so well with your groupmates. I can't wait to watch you not only improve your forehand and backhand but continue to grow and do things outside your comfort zone. Keep coming back and have a great summer next year.

YEOMEN

Stefan Ruggles – You are one of the smartest, most creative, and curious kids I have ever met. You were always making some sort of contraption or using an object in a way I had never imagined using it, adding so much life and brightness to the group's days. Your smile was contagious as you were always laughing and playing with those around you. I loved watching you become more comfortable at camp and with your groupmates. I really hope to see you at camp for years to come because I think camp needs you and you need camp.

Brody Russo – Brody! Brody! BRODY!!! I can't imagine what this summer would have been like without your presence. You jumped right back into the group after missing last summer and it was remarkable to see. You are not only incredibly funny and athletic but you're a leader. You have a very important role in this group and love to see the way your groupmates look up to you. Keep coming back because camp needs kids like you.

Viraat Sharma – It was a pleasure watching you thrive at camp this summer. As soon as you arrived, you fit right in and seemed to have little trouble finding friends in the group. Your smile and laugh were contagious and you were always brightening the group's mood throughout the day. I love your energy and enthusiasm for everything you do. I hope you can start to understand how special this place is and that I can see you here for years to come.

Cooper Sobel – Your passion that you carry with you all the time is truly impressive and something I try to emulate in my own life. I love the way you can bounce back from adversity and continue to have a smile on your face. Your maturity and understanding of people and relationships is far beyond your age and I know this will carry you far in life. I cannot wait to see you grow and become a leader of this group and of camp.

Jack Stern – JACKARIAH! We are all going to miss that adorable smile of yours. We always appreciated your company and the support you gave to your fellow bunk mates as you were always lighting up the room. You are a great kid with incredible manners. Have a great year, you will be missed.

Bennett Talford – It was a true pleasure to have you back in The Realm this summer. You never caused any problems and were always willing to do whatever anyone asked of you. Your competitiveness and ability to try hard in activities clearly rubbed off on your groupmates and made the entire group have more fun. Camp needs more people like you and I hope to see you here for years to come.

Zach Tirell – Tyrell, you were definitely one of the characters of the group. Your love for reading was unmatched. Your strength is incredible for a 12-year-old! Remember when you almost hit trees? I already know your hitting it next summer. Keep coming back, and have a great year!

Robert Torocsik – You brought a spark to this group that will be missed over the year. You are one of the most intelligent and mature kids I have ever met. No matter when I looked at you, I would always see you laughing with your friends and enjoying yourself. Even though it was only your second year, you gave off the impression of a seasoned vet. You are a leader and a great kid and I can't wait to watch as you become a leader of camp.

Andrew Wang – It was incredible watching you get introduced to camp this summer. You are clearly an extremely bright kid who was always open to having a great conversation. Your skills with the rubix cube were quite impressive and fueled a group wide mission to learn to solve the cube themselves. As the summer progressed, it was clear to me that you were becoming more comfortable at camp and with your groupmates and hope this growth will continue as you spend more summers in The Realm.

Josh Weiner – I don't know where to start. You became a major part of this group so fast even after skipping last year. I learned so many factoids from you and now I am proud to say that I can tell people several different facts about the ocean and our solar systems. You are a great brother and friend and your love for camp is clear. The Realm needs more kids like you and I can't wait to watch you kill it for years to come.

Strauss, Khalid, Grossman, Oli, Sam, and Greenie – I truly can not thank you enough for this incredible summer. Not only did I appreciate your necessary work around the bunk and with your kids, but just as importantly I appreciated the friendship you all gave me. I loved waking up and knowing I was going to be working with you guys everyday. You guys made everything a little easier and I am forever thankful for that. I hope to see you all back summer as you take over camp.

Yeomen of 2021!

This was honestly my favorite summer ever at camp and that is all because of you all. Your energy, spirit, and love for all things camp is infectious and was a joy to be around. All of you have left an impact on not only each other, but camp itself and you should be proud of it. Our 33 strong was a force to be reckoned with and I hope that you all continue to come back. I cannot wait to see you all become the leaders of camp and show how awesome you truly are. I love you all.

Lancers!

Stop playing magic and ping pong, get out of the hammocks, and get ready to relive the summer of our lives!

Remember opening day? 25 Lancers all masked up and ready to wreak havoc across The Realm. Remember balling out on cookies before going straight into an intense game of gold rush? Grover's controversial sock blocking? Noah's grape jelly? Remember shooting absolute blanks at riflery with Steve?

Remember Gavyn's bench-shaking earthquake? Grover versus the little guys in sock wrestling? Remember Freddie's voice crack and pet camel during skit night? Jules the international businessman? JC prays for Phil and his return from the infirm? Remember our day trip to the chalet? Remember senior waterfront and the one liner of the century?

Remember the 4th of July? Nick's mixed feelings over the group flag? Remember watching the fireworks by the waterfront? We don't! Dylan's last day of middle school, bar mitzvah, and time of his life? Remember beating the Arrows during the Gaga challenge?

Do you remember Dylan's dream within a dream? Remember finishing the movie Inception? We don't! Remember the terrifying, pizza-filled campfire led by Amos? Remember Ryan's rage quit? And who could forget his action-filled team handball saves? Remember Ian's scripted broadcast? Remember flipping the hexagon?

Remember So you think you can dance? Dylan's unreal break dancing? Buman's woo cough? Hudson's fan favorite solo? Remember Colton always bringing the intensity? Or Joaquim, JC, and Grover's all hilarious roll calls?

Remember Beach day, when we somehow came in third during the morning all camp gold rush? Remember Freddie being in his element literally all day? Pegging everyone and anyone with water balloons, then running screaming away from retaliation?

Remember the pizza party and sunset at the ODT? Dylan's blazing sub-six forty yard dash? Bohm's unfortunate run-ins with nature in the form of a skunk? Staff leaving a lot of pizza for Andrew? 6 PM good mornings? Remember Schmidtball? Remember Grover, Robert, Kag, and John hitting trees? As Lancers?!?! Remember Amos hitting trees for the first time as a FYA? Sadly, Remember saying goodbye to the four-weekers, and how much we missed them during the last three weeks?

Remember Gavyn's late-night mustache growth? Remember the all-out paddleboard war? The barn mitzvah with the Arrows filled with speed friending and Dior? Remember the terrifying nearby lightning strike sending the group sprinting? Kag's sticky fingers for utensils driving Schmidt crazy? Remember Landsports Freddie? Remember pedal boat shenanigans? Hudson's stinky present for the bunk? Kramer putting JC on skates outside the grandstand?

Remember Green & White? The spectacular Bon Jovi cover band flanked by judges? OH MY GOD IT'S BON JOVI! Wait…Is it Bon Jovi? Oh, it's not Bon Jovi. BUT IT'S THE JUDGES!!! Remember having chill, relaxed, and classy events? We don't! Remember Oscar's dominant basketball performance? Or Eli P. acting up on Day 4? Remember Hudson and Freddie killing it during the talent show?

Even with only a few days of post Green & White camp left, the Lancers never skipped a beat. Remember the amazing second to last EA of pontoon rides to the main lake? Or the 300-horsepower engine? Remember Caleb trying and trying, without success, to tackle literally anybody on the other team during team handball? Or Caleb also getting a bruised shoulder from tubing? Remember shaking the pedal boats ever so slightly, resulting in the Lancer Family Feud top answer for biggest overreaction of the summer? Unfortunately, the only thing the Lancers could not do this summer was slow the passage of time, as the amazing summer of 2021 was capped off by the departure of the buses. Still, this group has plenty of time next summer to come together as an even closer group of Friars of 2022.

LANCERS

Ian Allard-Neptune – Right from the beginning of the summer it was clear to me that you are not only a huge part of the group, but a leader as well. I look forward to watching you grow as a friend, groupmate, and leader in years to come, at camp, as well as the group, needs you back.

Juan Carlos Barrios Gomez – You have so much character and confidence in all aspects of life. This year you really got out of your comfort zone and stepped up as a leader in the group. I'm excited to see you come back for seven weeks next summer and to thrive even more.

Hudson Brown – You add so much to this group, whether it be breaking it down on the dance floor, or just being a really good friend and groupmate. Your maturity has shown through this summer, and I cannot wait to watch you grow and continue to kill it in future summers.

Zachary Buman – This year you grew up a lot, you were always so kind and thankful. Your kind heart and love for camp rubbed off on the group throughout the summer. You always went extra hard in activities which was great to see. I know you have a bright future ahead of you not only at camp but also in the real world.

Andrew Carnoy – Cornboy! I am so glad you decided to make the jump to stay seven weeks this summer, as the group would not have been the same without you. I am so glad I got to watch you step out of your comfort zone and really embrace camp this summer.

Nicholas Choi – The drip king himself! You are such a funny, caring, and kind person, and I am so glad I had the opportunity to be your group leader this summer. You really took a lead this year in terms of embracing your friendships with your groupmates, and it became clear to me that this group needs you back for years to come.

Ryan de Jong – RDJ! I've never seen a better handball goalie in my entire life. I will never forget those highlight reel diving saves. You always had the entire group laughing, especially during remember whens, and your love for camp really showed through this summer. Keep coming back, as camp and the group needs your positive and hilarious attitude.

Zane Fishman – You are such a kind and caring person, and your love for your group and camp as a whole was evident this summer. You always have a smile on your face, no matter the circumstances, bringing energy to the group that is often very necessary. This group, and camp, needs you back for summers to come.

Dylan Frank – Through all of the injuries you endured you really improved your game in a lot of sports this summer. Although this is my first year meeting you, I feel like I've known you forever. Keep coming back, camp is a special place that you have grown to love. I hope that 40 yard dash is sub 5.5 seconds by Friar summer.

Grover Henderson – You killed camp in all aspects this summer. Your confidence and raw leadership helped you thrive amongst the group. All the late night talks and funny jokes were the best part about hanging out with you this summer. Keep coming back for years to come, your group loves you and I know you'll be here for 7 next year.

Lucas Kaganovsky – In the interest of full disclosure, I will never forgive you for stealing my silverware and making me lose my mind. However, I will cherish the time we shared this summer. You are a huge part of this group, as well as a natural leader. Camp needs you back from years to come, and I cannot wait to see you mature through your remaining years in The Realm.

Oscar Kolz – Your sportsmanship and great friendships helped you have an amazing summer. You hold a really special place in this group, keep coming back and expanding your leadership role in the group. You absolutely killed it in Green & White and I know I'll see you here for years to come.

Eli Kramer – Coming into camp your first year as a Lancer was definitely a challenge, but you made it look easy. At the very beginning of camp you solidified your place in the group. A great friend and an exceptional athlete. I know you have a bright future in The Realm and will continue to come back years down the road.

Noah Martin – After this summer, I know I will definitely miss our late night dap ups. You are such a mature, funny, camp-loving kid, and you really took a big step into becoming a huge part of the group this summer. I know you will keep coming back, as your love for camp shines every day, and camp really needs you.

LANCERS

Robert Milacci – Bob, it's been great getting to know you and seeing all the hilarious faces you make throughout the day. You've been coming to camp for a while and it really shows in your personality and maturity. You killed it this summer and I know your Robin Hood career has a bright future ahead of it.

Luca Milite – I do not know if I have ever seen any camper as close with literally everyone in a group as you are [as evidenced by your sleeping arrangements]. You are a hilarious, caring, and mature young man who truly loves camp. I know you will be back for as long as you can be, and I hope I can continue to watch you grow up in the years to come.

Reid Olynick – You came into camp a little quiet, but once we got past the first few days you really stepped out of your comfort zone. You have been such a great kid and camper throughout the summer. Thank you for always doing the right thing and being such a chill dude. This group really looks to you for guidance, continue to come back and grow.

Eli Perrino – Every time I look in your direction, you are having fun, smiling, or laughing. You are so kind to everyone in the group, and have fully embraced your group mates as some of your best friends in the world. I am eternally grateful for the connection we formed this summer, and cannot wait to see you back for many future summers.

Caleb Rivchun – It's really evident how much you love camp and how much your group adores you. You killed it at waterski this summer and I'm so proud to see you turn into a great young man. You are very mature for your age and know how to converse with everyone, including staff members. Keep coming back for 7, your group needs you.

Frederick Rosenthal – Freddie! I cannot say that name without smiling. You are both mature and a goofball every second of every day. The group feeds off your energy, humor, and love for camp. Despite your obvious love for water sports, you clearly have fun doing whatever it is that we are doing, as long as it is at camp, and the group needs you back for future summers for that exact reason.

Lancers of 2021!

What. A. Summer. You guys are one of the greatest Lancer groups I have ever seen in my time at camp, as it is clear how much you guys love each other, camp, and having a great time. Despite the fact that you are all so different and unique, you bond together as one to create one of the strongest groups on camp. Camp needs every single one of you back for years to come, and we cannot wait to watch you guys mature into leaders in your future summers here at The Realm ●

Joaquim Siemsen – Wawa, from the moment you got out of your aunt's car I knew this place was going to grow on you. The difference from your first day to your last was a huge change. You came in as a scared boy and walked out as a confident young man. This group of guys loved you so much, you were always the one cracking jokes and making everyone smile. I hope to see you and your brother for seven weeks next year.

Lucca Serafino – Finoo! You grew up a lot this summer and always brought the intensity to every activity. You killed it in Green & White throughout the whole war. You hold a really important place in the group and I hope you keep coming back for years to come.

Gavyn Shephard – My Florida boy, I'm glad you slept right next to me all summer. You grew up in a lot of different ways this year. One of the funniest kids in camp, I can't wait to come back and see you continue to kill it over the next couple of summers.

Colton Stratman – I already miss you a lot dude, I wish you stayed for seven weeks this year. You killed it and went all out in every activity. You are a natural leader and I know you are going to continue coming back and make a big difference in the group.

John F. Zaccaro – Zaccarious! I was so happy to see you grow as a camper and person throughout the summer. Hitting trees was a huge confidence boost and awesome to watch the joy you got from it. Keep coming back, this group loves you.

To Our Staff – Right from the beginning, it was clear we had the best staff on camp. Even with this expectation, we could not have fully grasped the extent of how great you would make this summer. You are all amazing counselors, and even better people, and camp needs you back for years to come.

COUNTOFF?

This is your host, Ashley Flowers. Stop talking and eating Bunch-o-Cinnamon Squares, and listen up. I'll wait until you stop talking to keep going...Alright, now that your mouths are shut and your socks and shoes are totally on, we can dive into your make or break summer, one that you most definitely made.

We started off strong, welcoming our new campers, Juan, Grady, A. Will, Elijah, and Mohammed, and ripping our first campfire of the summer. After an evening of spikeball on the beach, we found out that most of the group was nervous about the Covid tests and that everyone was excited for an amazing summer. Eventually, the virus was once again in the rearview mirror, and we were finally safely on our way to becoming the Friars of 2021. Soon enough,our first game of Duck Duck Goose was over. This led to our first big EA, a basketball tournament where half of the group only played once, but we discovered that Camilo was a god on the court. Mellow somehow hit a game winner. We then played and lost to the Scribes in volleyball.

On to July 4th which we celebrated on July 5th. Always one of the best meals of the summer, and we were energized enough to play volleyball in the barn with the Shires. The weirdest night of th summer was when McGee woke up Camilo at 2am because his ear was bugging him, there was totally a beetle in his ear! Ricky came back from the infirm with him on a golf cart, only to find Ratner in his bed fully cuddled up in his blanket. A pattern of asserting our dominance emerged, as Smith took over Mercer in basketball and we came back in volleyball against the Bards. We were becoming the Wolfpack. Our B volleyball players got an incredible clinic from Mercer as well.

As the summer kept moving, more and more periods full of bonding kept coming. Rainy day soccer was the most we had seen all of you run while still getting wet. Of course, that was followed by an extremely long session of bunking with music, podcasts, and games. We soon hit the Chalet with the boys, setting the tone for an incredible rest of the summer. Ratner might have eaten too much ice cream because he ended up breaking the hammock. Remember the Olympics "Red Tornado" and Japan's finest? Cause I don't. Swim lessons with Ms. Andrea brought us much closer to our goals as a group and we were looking good heading into the second session. However, scrapping our terrible dance, and making a new one in three days to the Bee Gees really set us up for success.

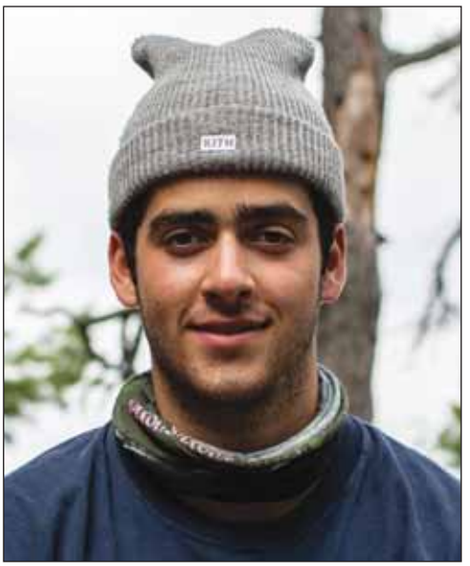

After losing our four weekers, the counselors thought we would maybe have an easier time. Boy, were we wrong. Ricky's pocket glizzy, a period of just tag on the lax field, and Keiran attempting to climb the iceberg in flippers showed that we had a lot of maturing left to do. But of course, we had to run a period of just rap battles that was unfortunately shut down by A. Will's bold bars. Don't think we forgot your trips to the island. We also won counselor hunt!! We totally never cheated and were rewarded with nugs from Corbin. We then kicked off the final stretch of the summer with our second campfire, where Ricky spoke super slowly, but everyone was very honest and ready to make the most out of the rest of the summer.

Soon enough, Green & White hit with Zubi weirdly dancing on the dock, and your captains and cos led you through an incredible war. You guys had some awesome games such as the football game which ended in a Keiran injury, and your final activity which was a crazy Ultimate Frisbee game. Many of you also participated in the Senior Camp Talent Night which was exciting to watch. Overall, you guys had an awesome war, and I think the whole camp was proud of you, especially the judges, the brass, and your staff.

We closed off the summer with a good Founders Night where we had some five year shirts and three year flags, and then an Awards Night where you guys were an undeniable presence. From Andrea shouting us out to Sam winning Sportsmanship twice, we made it clear that the Friars were a force to be reckoned with. A late night movie rounded out our last night, and we woke up to say goodbye for now.

Mohammed Al-Thani – Big Mo, in your first summer at camp, you truly made your name known. Whether it be your love for riding, soccer, or volleyball with the Bards, you found your camp passions and became a big personality in the group. I am glad you had Khalid to talk to, and I hope you bring the spirit of camp back to Qatar.

Grady Ames – G. Ames, Games, Walmart…In other words, absolute chiller. You really took camp by storm with your athleticism, easy going nature, and kindness. Though many jokes were made about it, your skills and abilities on the courts and fields are legit and never went unnoticed. Your presence was much needed in the group. I hope you enjoyed your time enough this summer to come back next year and experience Green & White along with everything else this camp has to offer.

Isaac Bitran – It is strange to think that this is only your second year at camp given how smoothly you gel with the rest of the boys. Obviously you had your friends from home, but you are such good friends with everybody in the group that an outsider might not even think that you are a brookliner. You are always up to something cool or interesting, or are just a good friend to talk to. Thank you for being such a positive presence in the group, I hope you feel as much a part of camp as I know you are.

Gregor Brockmann – I look back on the summer and I cannot remember a single moment with you where you didn't have a fat grin on your face. I have so much admiration for how you can keep things light hearted even when helping your friends out or going through the toughest times. You try so hard in every activity and are in many ways the glue for this group. I don't even need to tell you to come back because you love your friends and camp so much that you will anyway.

Mackie Burke – BIG MACK!! You are quietly the funniest kid in the group. You somehow are a part of every iconic group moment and always say the thing that puts us all over the edge dying laughing. You are always looking to have a good time and make memories, which is truly what camp is and always has been about. Keep coming back and keep making memories my man!

Owen Cunningham – I think everyone on camp knew how kind, respectful, and outgoing you were, as you never hesitated to greet everyone with a smile and a hello. I can't wait to hear about your future at camp and beyond.

Kai Daglio – There are very few people I can say love basketball as much as you dude. The mental drive and commitment that you have in pursuing things that you want to do, whether it be basketball or anything, is truly unmatched at camp. You always kept everything interesting and fresh in the bunk and at activities. You are the man Kai, keep coming back #2.

Andrew Dery – The many moments of joy you experienced this summer, whether it was playing pickleball or tennis, doing crafts, or riding, were an absolute pleasure to witness. The group loves you, and I know you love the group. Whatever ends up happening with your career at camp, you'll never forget the many years you've had, and you will always have your friends to reminisce with. I hope this year treats you well and that your back and better than ever in The Realm in the future.

Cooper Ferdman – Having known you for as long as we have, coming into this summer we expected you to be a big part of this group and you did not disappoint. You are a natural born leader Ferds, and you showed that to us as well as to your group mates day in and day out. Your innate athleticism paired with your passion for camp made it a true pleasure to be your counselor this summer. You were always someone we could go to with any task big or small to help better the group as a whole. Thanks for everything.

Archer Gould – You are so mature for your age. Your naturally calm and collected disposition gave you the ability to help unite the group in moments of conflict or doubt and established you as an integral leader for your peers. You clearly understand what makes camp so special at such a young age, and as your counselor I could not be more appreciative of that. You brought spirit and competitiveness to every activity, and played every game like it was your last. The grit and determination you displayed this summer are honestly unmatched. You truly never waste a minute here. You served as a much appreciated resource to your staff, always keeping a pulse on the vibe of the group and keeping the peace whenever necessary. I cannot wait to watch you continue to leave your mark on The Realm in the years to come.

Jake Horowitz – Hero-witz! It was so awesome to see you really come into your own this summer as a huge part of this group. Whether it was in the dining tent, with the Bards, or on stage at So You Think You Can Dance, your moves were unmatched and quickly became a trademark of this group. It was clear to see that you're a great friend to so many in this group and it seems you've truly made this place a second home. Keep coming back.

Devon Kislin – I could not have been more pumped when I first heard that you would be returning to camp after taking last summer off. It was shocking to say the least to see the absolute beast of an athlete and young man that you've become. I know that it was difficult for you to be sidelined by your foot injury for as long as you were so early in the summer, but you took everything in stride. The way in which you slowly but surely made your way back onto the court and into the fields with unfaltering passion for camp was impressive to say the least. In that moment of adversity, you showed everyone including your staff that you are so much more than just a fantastic athlete, but also a good friend, hilarious personality, and important member of this group. I mean it when I say you are valued by this group and were clearly missed last summer.

Keiran Klasfed – K-Star. You are genuinely one of the funniest people I have ever met. I knew I could always count on you for a laugh or just a chill time overall. Your natural athleticism paired with your laid backness really helped with the flow of the group and was much appreciated by all. Watching you step up for your team during Green & White, joining them late in that ultimate game despite your injury was both impressive and a testament to your dedication to your friends here. You're the homie. Keep coming back. This group needs you.

Andrew Levine – Your singing was catchy. Your energy was contagious. Your effort was mighty. I'm proud of how much you grew as a member of this group and how you always stood up for yourself. It is clear that you have the Rock genes, and I'm sure they will keep serving you well as you move through your future years at camp. Keep coming back.

Blake Lipman – Some of the shining moments of the summer for me were watching you have fun. Whether it was in the lake or playing pickleball, your smile was contagious. Everyone was really sad to see you go. The Realm and the connections you've made here will always be there for you. I and the rest of the group would love to see you back here next summer.

Bryce Lippard – B-Rice, you da man. Thank you for always being someone we could count on to do what needed to be done at any given time. As a clear cut leader, your playful but respectful demeanor were extremely valuable to the success of the group. You humbly gave it your all in each and every activity and made life in the bunk all the more entertaining with your sense of humor. I look forward to watching you rise through the Robin Hood ranks these next few summers. Thanks for all the good times.

Alex Mcgee – Your energy and jokes were unmatched. Your Superman imitation was uncanny, and we could always count on you for a laugh. I'm also so glad we got that beetle out, that was one of the wildest nights of the summer.

FRIARS

Jake Mund – We are so grateful that we got to spend these seven weeks with you in our group. From your constant excitement for activities to your long shirtless rest hour decomp walk, you always kept the group entertained and happy to be around you. You never caused a single problem and were always great for de-escalating a tense situation, or even just being there for your friends when they were having a tough time. Even though you may have been surprised when you got it, you are clearly the person most deserving of the group master camper award because of how truly good a person you are. Your staff, your group, and camp all love you dearly and want you to keep coming back and keep smiling for many years to come.

Henry Powell – The thing that may have made me the happiest all summer was watching you come out of your shell and become a good friend to everybody in this group. You played a major part in uniting the Friars as a big group of friends and really bridged the gap between your friends from home and the rest of the group. The purified king Henry rightfully earned the group fellowship award and I want you to continue to be a great friend to everybody in the years to come.

Noah Ratner – The way in which you are able to not just keep up in this group, but excel at everything you do despite being a year younger is impressive but no surprise. You are a fantastic athlete, an even better friend, and true leader. The ease with which you balance your competitive spirit with an unwavering sense of humor and camaraderie was masterful and a pleasure to witness firsthand. Whether it be hitting three pointers "in [my] mouth", or gracefully prancing across the stage to the Bee Gees hit More Than A Woman, you did everything with a smile and that's all we can ask for as a staff. I hope you have a great year and I can't wait to see you next summer.

Cal Rodin – I can assure you, your unmatched intelligence and lively spirit are never overlooked by your staff nor your peers. Your level headed leadership and experience at camp make you an integral part of the group and a real joy to have spent these past 7 weeks with. There were times where it felt like you were a 6th staff member, always making rational suggestions based on your read on the group. You are always able to put a smile on everyone's face and I am so excited for you to absolutely kill it at boarding school this fall.

Ryan Rowe – Right off the bat it was clear this group had missed you. You reacclimated seamlessly and quickly found your groove. Your easy going nature combined with your sense of humor were a great addition to the group. Whether it was dancing to Pop Smoke or just hanging out in the bunk, you always had an almost effortless ability to put a smile on your groupmates faces. Although it was not your first summer in The Realm, it was awesome to see you really embrace this place and the tight knit relationships you were able to develop in your time here.

Johan Samuel – Dear Johan, it's unbelievable how tall you got in the past couple of years, but you're still the same Johan I remember from when Pablo had you as a camper. It was a pleasure to get to know you better, and I along with the group really appreciated your presence, the way you stood up for what you felt was right, your constant steeze, and your 9 square skills. As much as I complained, I loved listening to Tyler with you and EJ, and I hope you both come back next summer.

Nathan Schlieman – As one of the smartest, most curious and responsible kids in the group, you were always on point and brought a calm and level-headed aura with you throughout your activities and endeavors at camp. You also established yourself as one of the best comedians in the group, and I could always count on you for a laugh or an intelligent conversation. Your counselors and the group appreciate you more than you know. Really hope you can come back for the entire summer next time.

Noah Smith – There is not one person in this group or on this camp that would have a bad word to say about Noah Smith. Whether it be games of Magic: The Gathering in the bunk, or playing lockdown defence on the basketball court, you thrived at everything you did this summer. It was no surprise to see you selected as a color war captain and it was a pleasure to watch you step up and lead your peers those five days just the same as you had all summer prior. The combination of your amiable disposition and fierce competitiveness make you such a necessary part of this group. I know that you will make the most of all this place has to offer in what remains of your great career here at Robin Hood.

FRIARS

Jackson Steinlauf – Jackie Son! It is no secret that you carry a lot on your shoulders at this camp but you have always done so with a lighthearted grace that is truly admirable. You are and always will be a leader in this group and your genuine kindness and love for Robin Hood are contagious. You did all we asked of you this summer, giving everything you had at activities, always serving as a calming, rational presence in the bunk, and putting on a So You Think You Can Dance performance that will be talked about for years to come. You have a really good heart Jackson and I can assure you that will take you very far in life. You really are a sweet kid and that was something your group mates and staff truly appreciated.

Sam Swartz – It is easy to see why you became the first camper in Robin Hood history to be given the sportsmanship award twice in the same night. The enthusiasm and intensity you brought to every activity, from basketball and football, to pickleball and duck-duck goose, really raised the bar for the group as a whole. I admire the way you carry yourself with humility and compassion for others both on and off the field. Trust me when I say you are the glue that holds this group together. It was a pleasure getting to know you these past seven weeks and I could not be more excited to watch you lead boys camp in the coming years.

Juan Villalobos – Juan on Juan! It's so cool to me how you took camp in stride and quickly established yourself as an integral part of the group. You never caused any problems and were always down to do whatever. It's guys like you that make it worth coming back each year to meet new people. You meant a lot to all of us, but Camilo and I especially appreciated being able to speak Spanish with you now and then. I can guarantee I will be rocking those sunglasses for a longtime. Fue un placer, bro. Hope you come back next year and experience everything else camp has to offer.

Alex Williams – Your decision to stay for the entire seven week session of your first summer in The Realm was so impressive and says a lot about the person you are. Diving head first into a new, sometimes daunting environment, was brave but so rewarding. It's been a pleasure to watch you develop over these past two months into the camper you are today. I'm so glad you were able to solidify your place as an invaluable addition to this group. I'm so glad you were able to thrive here the way you have and I hope to see you continue to do so in the summers to come.

Elijah Williams – I was very excited when I found out Johan was bringing a friend to camp because I knew they would be mad chill, and you did not disappoint. You're the man. I loved watching you compete in activities, get excited about Tyler playing on my speaker, and make the whole group laugh including your counselors. I'm so glad you found camp because your personality was much needed in the group. I hope you find your way back here.

Marcello Zarif – I had heard so much about Marshmallow, and it was an honor to finally be your counselor. Thank you for always bringing the vibes and competing with me for aux. Your fits were unmatched, and your goofiness always lit up the group. Though I hope you sleep a little less next year, I can't wait to watch you use your personality for the good of the group as you all move forward. Keep coming back.

STAFF –

Shaunahaun, Palmer, Ginger Lebron, and Ferb! Absolutely stacked. I really could not have done this summer without all of you. This really was a team effort, and I cannot thank you enough for doing what was necessary to make this summer unforgettable for both us and the kids. I look forward to seeing what camp has to bring for each of you, and I hope we can all stay in touch. Much love.

FRIARS OF 2021

Boys, I am so proud of the note we left on, and I can't wait to watch you guys run camp for the next five or six years and beyond. Each and every one of you brings something important to this group, and you guys will all learn so much from each other in years to come. I hope you can look back on this summer with pride too. You guys made it through a lot and came out a unified group.

LOVE YOU ALL.

FORESTERS

Hey fellas! Turn off Among Us, stop being so Humble, and let's relive the time that was Summer 2021.

All 22 of you rolled into The Realm ready to take it by storm. "Make your counselors laugh" gets the summer off to a hot start. Beckett's cookies need seasoning, the incarnation of Jabriel completely breaks Tanner, and a summer-long love of art is born. Then, the first EA, an intense rock-paper-scissors tournament, really showed how you guys can put your hearts into any activity and make it memorable.

Remember the decor we used to spice up the bunk? The rock cone is back, Brock created a state of the art communications system, and the neon Among Us sign just tied the room together. Accusations kept flying around that people were venting. Ellis might be Dobby, but Beckett definitely starred in The Polar Express. Remember walking around the Dining Hall for sundaes? Lorca loves Pringles and the legend known as Welding Will is born.

Remember stopping Gaga to whip and nae nae in the rain? Marquet hides in the Lax Shack but Tanner breaks him out. Everyone draws tasteful Among Us characters for Big Ev, Peter writes his college application and Ants despise Brock.

Who remembers the Staff Talent Show? Lorca doesn't believe in magic. Marquet's rendition of "Burber Bing Boot Bettuce" steals the show, but the real stars were obviously the Forester Staff. Evan was party rockin, Tanner got a good pump in, and Adelman showed off his angelic singing voice.

Remember our poetry slams? Moucha professes his love for his TI-84+ Color Edition Graphing Calculator and everyone totally knows how to rhyme. Kyle went for an alley oop and Julian remembered Julian.

Remember when we celebrated the 4th of July on the 5th? After a great parade where we showed off the best poster Robin Hood has ever seen, we settled in for an afternoon of candy, carnivals and a beach party. Everyone got married and got their fortune read. Finally right before the fair food dinner we got to bear witness to Adelman becoming a 2-time Homerun Derby Champ.

The night was of course capped off by an awe-inspiring fireworks display, truly a memorable moment.

Remember Dr. Seuss cereal? What about Twinkie cereal? We walk dogs for an EA and then shower in the rain. Ellis is a gym rat and we discover our love of K Pop or when Beckett and Jesse have a marathon ping-pong match.

We did it. We freed Britney. I was so happy to see you all put your hearts into our dance and you were rewarded with the best So You Think You Can Dance performance that Robin Hood has ever seen. I hope the lesson you all took away from that experience is that the satisfaction you get from something all comes from the care and effort you put in. Each and every one of you was amazing.

Remember living it up on Beach Day? We tried to hand in Lax goals and a tree for the Gold Rush and were rewarded with negative points. That didn't stop us filling up on Realm-a-Ritas and seizing the day. Everyone is literally a neanderthal, and the group is filled with young scholars.

Remember when Marquet was reveille? Alex is a religious man…bonk. Grinch dawg haunts nightmares and Jesse learns how to gaslight. We made campfire popcorn and it totally worked, Andrew forms the Jump Squad, and Malik and Beckett change their sheets. We defeated the Shires in Volleyball using Adelman's unstoppable "Ball Over Net" strategy. As long as it's followed it's impossible to lose.

Remember Green & White? I'm still pretty sure it was actually Bon Jovi who performed. The Foresters were split up for our only truly competitive activities of the summer, and you all competed your hearts out. Daelan destroyed trees for the first time, Robbie smoked everyone in the swim meet, and so many of you were the stars of Talent Night.

Sadly, the summer was winding to a close, but we still had time to make more memories. Marquet's favorite activity is pontooning, Julian made friends with the skunks, leading to Tanner's legendary selfie. Andrew's new friend Sir Terrance took The Realm by storm and we played one more game of freeze tag in the pouring rain. Many of you received water bottles, pennants, and 5 year shirts, Tanner got his vest, and the Foresters cleaned up on awards night. Finally, after an all night movie night and it was time for us to say goodbye.

FORESTERS

Gabe Freedman – You are a great person who is always willing to help out with anything I ask. You have a great work ethic and I love how you made sure to make the most of every activity this summer. You're going to absolutely thrive next summer and I can't wait for you to experience it.

Alex Geldzahler – You are really smart, well spoken, and kind so it's easy for me to see why all of your group mates love spending time with you. You had an incredible summer and I think you have just the right skill set to be a great Saxon and eventually a great counselor.

Jesse Geoghan – It made me so happy when you decided to extend to the full session because I can't really imagine this group without you. It's great to see how much you love camp. I can't wait to see you kill it as a Saxon.

Max Grad – You are one of the kindest people I've ever met and I know that your group mates think that about you too. You were always the first to step in to resolve a dispute and that's because you care about your friends so much. Can't wait to see how you evolve over the next summers.

Cian Hare – I love how willing you are to step out of your comfort zone and try new things. It's really inspiring to see someone be so fully themself. I know you'll kill it as a Saxon and beyond. Keep coming back.

Lorca Danziger – You have an unmatched energy that everyone in the group and on camp can clearly see. You were a great leader and it was clear how much everyone loves and respects you.

Beckett Fox – The group respects you and looks at you as a leader and it's obvious why. You have the ability to get everyone excited about anything that we do and that's something that I truly admire.

Malik Ibrahim – It was so fun to see you grow as a friend and as an athlete this summer. You showed that you are an all around great guy which was clear with how quickly the group accepted you as one of their own.

Jasper Karlson – You are the life of the party. It really inspires me to see someone put themself so out there while not caring what anyone else thinks of him. You have such a bright future at The Realm and I can't wait to see what you can accomplish.

Evan Lefkowitz – You have a really fun intensity that was great to see whenever we got on the fields. It was great to see you integrate into the group and I can't wait for you to kill it in The Realm next summer.

Kyle Lefkowitz – I truly respect how hard you work in order to find the best in every situation. In every early morning waterfront period you were the only one in the water and I think that was so awesome. Keep being you, can't wait to see you as a Saxon.

Robbie Levine – You looked like you had an awesome summer. It was so cool to see your love for your brothers, cousins, group mates, and of course camp. I'm so excited for what you are going to accomplish next summer and beyond.

Max Marquet – Your fun and unique personality breathed life into the group and it was so fun to see you at the center of every conversation. Watching you reconnect with the group and with camp as a whole was awesome to see.

Andrew Morrison – You have always had a big personality, and this summer you used it to take a huge step in your growth as a person. It was great to watch you continue to find your place in the group and within the rest of camp. I can't wait for you to kill it next summer.

FORESTERS

Jack Moucha – You took a big step this summer in becoming a big part of the group. It's obvious how everyone loves spending time with you and I know that you're going to do great things at The Realm for years to come.

Caleb Newman – You hit the ground running this summer and never looked back. It was really fun to see you back in The Realm and it was clear how much the group loved having you back. I am so excited to see what you bring to the table as a Saxon.

Daelan Pinsky – There isn't ever a bad word said about you. You're a great all around camper and friend and it was awesome to watch you be a leader this summer. It's clear how much you love camp and that camp loves you right back.

Ellis Resnick – There will never be a time that I don't laugh at one of your jokes. It was a pleasure being your counselor and watching you grow throughout the summer. Keep being you. Can't wait to see you back in The Realm.

Julian Rodriguez-Mauch – You fit this group like a glove. You match everyone's chaotically hilarious energy and it was so cool to see you fit in so well and so quickly with your friends. I know that The Realm will be a home to you for years to come.

Henry Samuel – Your big smile and constant positive energy never fails to cheer up the group when we were at our low points. It was such a joy to see you bring life into the group and I can't wait to see what you can do as a Saxon next year.

Brock Suidgeest – Something that I think is really great about you is that it seems to me that everything you say is important and has meaning. That pairs well with your fun personality and explains how effortlessly you get along with the rest of the group. I'm really excited for you to kill it as a Saxon.

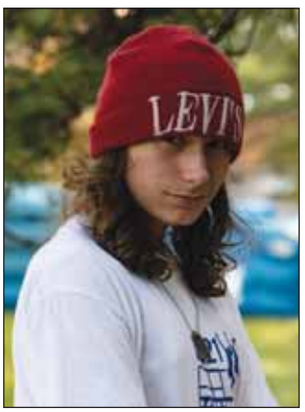

Peter Torocsik – You are a great friend and an integral part of the group. You brighten every room you're in with your jokes and laughs. You had an awesome summer and I know you'll do great things here for years to come.

To my Staff – Thank you both for supporting me, doing whatever I asked, and most importantly helping our 22 boys to have the best summers possible. I couldn't have done it without you guys.

FORESTERS of 2021

Thank you all for giving me the best summer of my life. You remind me of my own group in all the best ways. It makes me feel so secure and excited to know that The Realm will be in your hands next summer. I love each of you so much.

SAXONS
PUMP IT UP!
YOU'VE GOT TO
PUMP IT UP!

It's time to put down the emerald and pick up the water jugs because you guys went all out this summer! Each and every one of you stepped up big time and Robin Hood became such a better place because of it.

you guys absolutely CRUSHED IT!

remember...remember...remember...

Remember our first campfire? We all went to the ODT and talked about how awesome our summer was going to be. Bren-deezy didn't do that great of a job starting the fire and we all know Tamer and Chester had something to say about it.

Remember the late night free-styles? I think Goody had all of you guys beat, but the rapping was something that was so unique to your group.

Remember the Chipmunk hunt? I've never seen a group of guys come together so fast and work together so efficiently. After a series of elaborate traps made from cardboard boxes and sticks were set, it was my understanding that you guys actually caught the beast! Thankfully, the Chipmunk received a "fair trial" and was immediately released.

Remember the 4th [or should I say 5th] of July? We had nothing but rain on the 4th but the next day was picture perfect. Seeing Eli covered in whip cream was absolutely expected, but even I was surprised when he walked up to me being the stickiest I've ever seen him. A few of you even went on to represent the group in the Home Run Derby! [better luck next year wink wink]

Remember So You Think You Can Dance? J-Rock must have really hated his sideburns, thankfully Chester was there to take care of it. All of your dance moves were perfectly executed and the crowd loved every second of it!

Remember Cookie Monster Max? He ate 20 cookies and all of boys camp got behind him!

Remember putting Father Figure's bed on the roof? The look on his face was priceless when he walked in the door after forgetting something on his day off and found his area spotless.

Remember skit night? Enough said.

Remember the Donda listening party in the barn? Maybe by the time you guys get this yearbook the album will have dropped. I doubt it.

Remember our fake breaks? We might not have convinced anyone with the Scribes, but we definitely got some people with some help from Chuck and the TPJs.

Remember GREEN & WHITE?! You boys made this color war one to remember. Every single one of you fought hard through every activity, finishing your camper career leaving it all on the field. Remember the 20 minute break from silent meals? We had the whole tent roaring with chants, judges included. From the double team high triangle to Buman's transformation into Odell, you kept every game intense but had fun doing it. Seeing you come together after the tug illustrates how you have all become brothers throughout your time here.

Remember Saxon speeches? You gave Boys Camp so much guidance. You ended the summer on a positive note that will set the tone for next year. One last trip to Chinatown, and we all headed our separate ways. The goodbyes were hard but we'll all be reunited in the blink of an eye.

SAXONS

Toby Bloch – Well, well Tobias, you did it. You crushed being a camper, got the 10 year vest, and now you are on track to being a standout counselor. You always had something to say, and believe it or not I always listened. The ways you helped the group grow cannot be overlooked and I'm sure the boys would agree. Your DJ game was average I suppose but you and Goody really need to mix in more 70's - 80's rock. I'll have high expectations when you come back on staff, and I know you won't disappoint brother.

Chase Brooke – You really impressed me this summer. You used your 10 years of camp experience to make the most of your final summer as a camper. Your confidence and decisiveness guided the group through highs and lows. Though we didn't always see eye to eye, I witnessed you mature into an important camp personality, and I can't wait to see you back on staff.

Ben Buman – You are one of the funniest people I have ever met. Your ability to light up a room gave the group an unmatched energy. Also, you really stepped up this summer athletically, competing at every activity with Green & White intensity. You play a key role in the group dynamic that brought everyone closer together. Not sure if your unreleased Kanye tracks helped with that.

Alex Corbin – AC! After last summer, I was thrilled to see that you were coming back as a Saxon. Watching you lead Boys Camp solidified that you'll be spending many more summers here. I know you were a little ambivalent about aiding earlier on, but it became clear that you had fully embraced the role by the end of the summer. So proud of you.

Max Corbin – MC! We were all delighted to have you and your brother back this summer. You each bring something totally different to the table. Your positivity and easygoingness were a welcome addition to the high energy group. Not to mention your lollipops. You made me laugh everytime we interacted, and I'm so grateful to have gotten to know you.

Theo Drye – Having a documentarian is a luxury not many groups at Robin Hood get to have. I can't wait to watch the videos you took for years to come, looking back on this incredible summer. Your enthusiasm and humor constantly kept us in high spirits. And, your work during skit night was unforgettable. You might have a future in acting.

Collin Field – I could not be happier that you decided to come back for a second summer. As resident skater boy, you provided us with the West Coast culture that we so obviously lacked. The Collin Fit became an iconic rite of passage. Your consistent ability to bring a smile to my face was matched only by your desire for Dole mandarin oranges.

Tamer Fishman – Mr. Fontaine. You really came into your own this year. You fine tuned your sense of humor and fully embraced your final summer as a camper. I was so proud to see you win Most Improved Basketball as you rightfully deserved. You put the work in and you had a great summer because of it. Everyone in this group [and Woody] loves you. Great job, and I can't wait to see you kill it for years to come.

Casper Glaenzer – If it isn't the star of skit night himself! Casper, your story is one to remember. I'm sure it wasn't easy at first being an international camper, especially since you ended up being the only one come Saxon year, but you without a doubt made your mark on Robin Hood. Your defensive abilities in soccer [sorry…FOOTBALL] definitely stood out and you even inspired me to get better at the sport. You have a bright future ahead brother!

SAXONS

Austin Goodman – Goody, behind your 2019 Beach Day sunglasses is a great human being. Your dedication to this group was evident in your unrelenting effort in activities. You care about each and every one of your fellow campers and it shows. What would we do without your tales from Orange? Your storytelling ability is only matched by your basketball abilities with the Gilby. Keep coming back.

Gray Klasfeld – Even though it was your second summer in The Realm, you understand camp as if you've been here your whole life. Beyond your impressive athletic ability and impeccable bucket hat selection, I can tell this place is your second home. You could not have been a better fit for this group. We're all grateful to have you in our lives. You are truly the king of New York [don't tell Max Corbin].

Ben Kreindler – I knew I was going to like you Friar year as soon as I noticed we had the same initials. Your athleticism and will to win are frightening at times to be honest, and I couldn't be more proud. Your leadership qualities are ever-present and I knew I could always count on you to help take the reins whenever necessary. Thankfully you decided to come back this summer and ended up having your best one yet! Love you Kreindler.

Jack Levine – J-Rock…J-Rock…J-Rock… what more can be said about a kid with a nickname that cool. You are without a doubt the most driven and dedicated person that I have had the pleasure to know. Running, biking, waterski…the list goes on! I wish I had the energy to wake up at 6am to run 10 miles as you did on a regular basis. I can't wait to see how far you go in years to come, and I am certain that you will serve as an inspiration to many [myself included]. PS: Stop stealing my NUUN.

Max Lippard – Even though you're a Steelers fan, I'll do my best to say nice things [just kidding brother]. You did everything right this summer and I couldn't be happier with how the past few months went. You lived up to your Dad's expectations and attacked each and every activity head on. You were a great friend to every member of the group, and even though your free-styling needs a little work, I can't wait to see what next summer brings.

Eli Sobel – The level of how much you've matured over these past two years cannot be understated. Not only jumping up to near 6ft tall, but also being a terrific leader, friend, and relative to your little cousin was impressive to say the least. It was fair to say that all of junior camp looked up to you, both literally and figuratively, and I'm sure that you'll set an even better example as a counselor down the road. Love you Sobes!

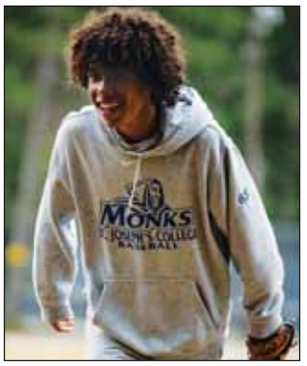

Griffin Steinkraus – Griffin, your dedication to getting stronger and wanting to play football was next level. It was a shame you couldn't have stayed longer, but the time you spent here was very memorable. The group had only good things to say when your name came up while we reminisced about past summers. Keep putting in the good work and the results will come… I promise!

Pierce Terowsky – What's up Ace's brother! Just kidding Pierce, you definitely made a name for yourself this summer. There was hardly a moment when you weren't giving everything you had out on the field, especially during Green & White [how's the nose by the way]. Even as a counselor I was afraid to line up against you in team handball, and I definitely wasn't the only one. I can't wait to see how far you go as a counselor!

Nate Wildman – Here we are Nate. I know you were told repeatedly throughout your camper career how much you meant to the group, and you never stopped living up to our expectations. Brute strength aside, you continued to impress me both as a leader and a friend to anyone who needed it. You always had a smile on your face and could be serious when necessary, and I could not have asked for much more than that. I look forward to seeing what the future holds for the infamous Nate Dog.

Alex Young – The legend himself. Your athleticism helped me develop more respect for lacrosse, even though Max Corbin could take you down single handedly. Nevertheless, this was without a doubt your best summer in my eyes. Your 3-point shot fully developed and you were able to turn it on when your team needed it. The friendships you made were genuine and I have no doubt that they will last for a lifetime. Much love AYoung!

SAXONS

It was such a pleasure to be able to walk side by side with you this summer. Each of you have so much to give to camp and I hope to see all of you out there leading and teaching traditions to younger generations of Robin Hood campers for years to come.

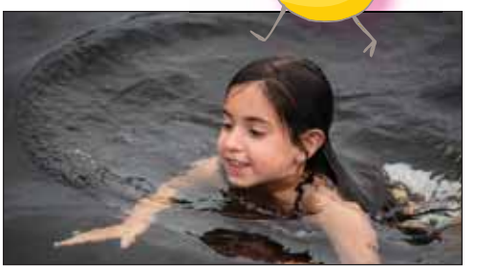

Scouts!

Put down your fidgets, grab a lovie, and get ready to relive the best summer of your life.

Remember when Maya wasn't giving us hugs? Anni wasn't telling a riddle? Elsa wasn't smiling? Teddy was on time for benches? Isabelle wasn't singing? Livy wasn't screaming HOYYY YA? Violet wasn't having fun getting messy? Lily wasn't giggling? Celeste had her shoes tied? Hazel wasn't in a onesie? Kylie wasn't making us laugh? Skyler wasn't dancing? Blake wasn't drawing? Rosy wasn't talking about Harry Potter? Neve wasn't winning gaga? Leah wasn't ready first? Poppy wasn't cheering us all on? WE DON'T!!

Remember opening day? It seems like just yesterday we all arrived at camp for our first day of summer 2021! It all began when Maya, Neve, Hazel, and Violet arrived a day early to welcome the rest of the Scouts. We patiently awaited as the rest of the seventeen Scouts entered The Realm. From the minute you all arrived, it was clear that we would quickly form the greatest group camp has ever seen!

Remember our favorite activities? Archery and riflery – You guys were stars and continued to amaze me everyday we went, coming home with fallen tennis balls and candy for popping balloons! And who could forget senior waterfront? Not the Scouts! Remember when we had it four days in a row? The iceberg was certainly no match for any of you.

Remember staff talent night? You all got to see your staff perform the craziest dances, displaying our unique personalities. Your screaming and cheering made us all feel so loved! Remember when we were named cleanest bunk in girls camp? We got first in line for the first Sunday Sundaes. Go Scouts! Best cleaners ever!

Remember our first girls camp fire? I loved watching you all come together and join in on a very special camp tradition. You all were introduced by your big sisters, and we learned our first camp cheers. We caught on quickly and were eager to participate in all the cheers in the dining hall tent, even starting our own!

Remember the 4th of July? We may have celebrated a day late, but that didn't stop us from having the best day ever! We got dressed in the most extravagant red, white, and blue outfits and topped them off with custom bandanas courtesy of Rosy. We decorated a beautiful Scout banner and led the 4th of July parade with grace. The day began full of treats – from ice cream, to popcorn, to cotton candy, to donuts. We had our fortunes told, united in marriage, and shined with smiling faces covered in face paint. And who could forget the best part of the day? Fair food! We piled our plates high with corndogs, french fries, soft pretzels, and most importantly fried dough. We were later surprised with winning double candy canteen in the 4th of July raffle. Go Scouts! There is no such thing as too much candy!

Remember evening activities? We played the marriage game, and you all actually stayed married the rest of the summer. Remember when our treasure hunt led to candy canteen? Remember challenging the TPJ's to gaga? We fought so hard and had so much fun! Remember our fashion show that ended in PJ jumping off the tower? Remember Scouts got talent? You all killed it in your performances from singing to dancing to comedy to drawings. You all continue to amaze me with your talent!

Remember the Color Run? Even though we took a little tumble, you all showed the importance of getting back up when you're down. We ran all around camp in white outfits as the Saxons and Scribes threw different colors all over us! You all ran so fast that I could barely keep up! We ended up covered in rainbow dust only to shower it all off in the lake with a super fun beach party.

Remember So You Think You Can Dance? You all lit up the stage, dancing your hearts out to "Ten Little Dinosaurs" and Miley Cyrus's version of "Girls Just Wanna Have Fun"! You all put in so much effort and energy, and it really showed in our final performance. It was so clear that Robin Hood loved your moves!

Remember waking up early and going fishing? Thanks Rick for sparking our passion for fishing! I was so impressed by how many fish you all caught. Your love for sticking your hands into the worm bucket to find bait will always amaze me! Remember Sadie Sunday? You all are so sweet and thoughtful to create such a special holiday just for me! My strawberry donuts and orange juice and cranberry juice concoction tasted best when shared with you all.

Remember Beach Day? We started the day off strong with gold rush. You all worked so hard to find the point items around camp, and we were so close to winning! We hit the inflatables first, battling each other on the joust and racing each other down the slip and slide. Later, in the afternoon, we enjoyed a refreshing beach party. We made beautiful sand castles, used flippers to explore the deep waters of Lake Ossipee, and jumped off the tower too many times to count. After spending so much time in the sun, we headed to the boardwalk to enjoy some Realm-a-Ritas, games, prizes, and lots of treats! We ended up with blue and red mouths and as many necklaces, stuffed animals, inflatable balls, and key chains as we could hold. We ended our eventful day with a massive water balloon fight with all junior camp girls!

SCOUTS

Remember the junior camp talent show? You all have so much talent! I was so impressed by how brave you all were to get on stage and perform in front of camp. Almost all the Scouts participated, showing off our amazing singing, dancing, and acting skills. I was so proud!

Remember dressing up crazy for dinner just because we wanted to? Everyone loved our outfits so much, we even inspired the Jesters to join in on the fun! Remember Kylie's birthday? We had yummy cake, Sunday Sundaes, and even ended the night with delicious pizza and stargazing! I loved sharing my favorite camp tradition, pizza and M&M's, with you all!

Remember when Green & White broke? What seemed like any other camp dinner ended in us sprinting to the waterfront for the 2021 Green & White break! We gathered on the beach to listen to a Bon Jovi cover band sing "Living on a Prayer," as last summer's Green & White captains, now judges, arrived at the shore on a pontoon boat. But the break didn't stop there! We then hurried to the barn where white limos pulled into camp ushering the rest of the judges. We couldn't believe it was finally breaking! Inside the barn, the six captains were announced and Green & White began! We fought hard for five long days on the mighty White Phoenix and the Great Electric Green. You all demonstrated great leadership and intensity, and most importantly, you always came back together as one big happy Scout family at the end of every day! Although white won the war, we all still had so much fun. We spent the next day eating our fair share of donuts and hanging out on my bed at the tennis courts. You all made me beautiful judges canes and truly made me feel so special. What a great end to a long five days!

Remember Founder's Night? We ate steak and cookout to celebrate the end of Green & White and came back together for some yummy ice cream. Later, we commemorated the majority of the Scouts receiving their one-year water bottles! Go Scouts!

Remember the last few days of camp? We had GL swap day where Gabe Zolot was your group leader for the afternoon! He had so much fun with you all and even got you all candy canteen. I missed you so much while I was off with the Lancers and couldn't wait to reunite with you all! We had a crazy slip and slide backwards scavenger hunt and played lots of assassin, hunger games, camper hunt, and bandaid tag, your favorites. And who could forget pontoon riding with the Tumblers? Rick threw you all in the water and we had a huge lake party.

Remember banquet night? We enjoyed a beautiful feast of Thanksgiving food, chocolate covered strawberries, and brownies with ice cream. Shout out to Poppy, Kylie, and Neve for winning big awards! I couldn't be more proud of every single one of you this summer.

Remember closing day? Before we said our goodbyes, we spent the night having one big sleepover together on the porch! We handed out paper plate awards and shared our final circle time and meditation. We ended the night watching Lemonade Mouth, one of your counselors favorite movies, and eating delicious M&M cookies with milk! Thank you all for making this such an amazing summer! I can't wait to watch you all keep coming back and continue making the best memories in The Realm.

Poppy Dobbins – Since day one, you were such an important part of this group. You thrived and were such a natural leader! Your kindness and spirit brought so much life to the group. I can't wait to watch your love for camp grow and see the amazing person you become!

Teddy Friedman – I really enjoyed watching you give it your all at every activity. Even during your free time, you went out of your way to try new things and play your favorite activities! You truly understand camp, and your love for this place is already so evident.

Celeste Hernandez – From you the moment you arrived, you instantly made your mark on the group and camp. You are so clearly loved by all, and your smile is truly infectious. I already know that you will have such a big impact on camp as you get older!

Isabelle Leebow – You're one of the most talented girls I've met, on and off the stage. Your eagerness to try new things was evident, and I am so excited to see you grow even more here. The group would not have been the same without your spunky spirit!

Maya Leebow – You have so much energy and it keeps everybody around you smiling! Your ability to mesh so well with camp the moment you stepped on camp was evident. Take advantage of sharing this place with so much family – that is so special!

Hazel Lipman – You are so energetic and know how to make everything fun and silly. I loved watching you take advantage of every second at camp and shine within the group. Keep appreciating the time you have here and maintaining your sunky nature!

Violet Lipman – You are so outgoing and have so much spirit, and it keeps everybody around you smiling! You were always such an amazing friend this summer, and I had a blast getting to know you. I know you'll do great things at camp!

Neve Murphy – As a second year camper, you were a natural leader of the group. You never failed to stun us with your creative abilities, and your love for those around you is so evident. I am so excited to continue to see you flourish at camp!

Blake Natauri – You are so sweet, and your ability to care for others is so clear! You truly hold such a special place in this group. Keep being yourself! I am so happy that you get to share this magical place with your brothers for years and years.

SCOUTS

Lily Nickerson – You're a friend to everyone, and your enthusiasm at every activity brought the group's spirits even higher. We could always count on you to bring a positive energy to our day, and you never failed to put a smile on our faces. Camp is so lucky to have you!

Skyler Oakley – Your kindness and energy brought so much life to the group. Your bubbly personality and amazing dance moves are a hit amongst all, and I admired your ability to look out for everyone! I can tell how much camp means to you already, so keep coming back and loving this place more and more.

Leah Peck – You always try your hardest no matter what activity we are at and with a smile on your face too. You continue to amaze me everyday with your athletic abilities, and I am so happy that you decided to come to camp this summer and even extend!

Elsa Rachelefsky – Even though your time here was short, you always made the most of every minute. I've really loved watching you be your best self here, and your enthusiasm and positive attitude made such a big impact on the group. Camp needs a special girl like you, so keep coming back.

Livy Rosenberg – It is hard to believe that this was only your first summer as a camper. Your personality lights up the room whenever you walk in and everyone is clearly drawn to you! Keep being your silly self and never stop coming back!

Rosy Lu Skotticelli – You always gave it your all, whether it was at activities or just having fun with friends. I was so proud to watch you improve your swimming skills and have a blast in the lake! Seeing how much you already love and appreciate camp warms my heart.

Anni Thakarar – Your creativity shines through in everything you do. You continue to amaze me with your riddles and stories and watching you come out of your shell this summer made me so proud! Keep loving camp, and keep appreciating the little things about this place!

Kylie Zweibel – You always see the positives in every situation and your energy was infectious. I admire your ability to make sure everyone around you is feeling loved and included! You play such an important role in this group, and I can't wait to come back and watch you grow here!

To the best staff on camp –
I don't know how I got so lucky! We worked so well together, and I am so grateful to be a part of such an amazing group of people. You all amazed me every day, and I can't wait to watch you continue to thrive as counselors!

Love you SO much!

To the Scouts of 2021
Scribes of 2029
and 2030

Thank you for being your outgoing, crazy, loving selves! I am so happy I got to be your group leader this summer. I wouldn't have wanted to spend my twelfth and best summer with anyone else! I can tell that camp has a special place in all of your hearts, so keep coming back and never waste a second.

I love you all with my whole heart!

TUMBLERS

Girlfriends, put your fidgets away, set your string down, get your rain jackets on, get on benches and get ready to relive the best summer of our lives!

Extend that A…YAAAAAS!

Remember when Keegan wasn't making crazy noises with her mouth, Savvy wasn't talking in the 3rd person, Ryan wasn't acting like a sloth, Sloane wasn't chasing people, Rachel wasn't reading, Bryn wasn't being the sweetest, Arletta wasn't upside down doing cartwheels, Dox wasn't smiling, Ella K wasn't being silly, Nellie wasn't being athletic, Tillie wasn't chatty, Ella P wasn't laughing, Phoebe wasn't playing with fidgets, Tessa wasn't happy…WE DON'T!

Remember the first day of camp! Savvy was the first to arrive and we spent the night hanging with Bella. The next day slowly but surely all 15 Tumblers arrived and we soon made the Bluff bunk our home. Do you remember we all had bunk beds? We spent that morning meeting each other and learning names. We also all completed our swim test! We spent our first night at the New ODT and had s'mores! Shortly after that we had our first circle time and I excitedly said "Welcome to Circle Time!"

Do you remember when all of your staff danced on stage??? My dance to the hot dog song was super silly but I think we made all of you laugh!

Our first camp fire, while rainy and in the barn, was so special! All of our new friends were introduced by their big sisters and we got to know everyone a little bit better. The night continued with dining-tent cheers and then we learned and sang House on Pooh Corner.

The rain did not stop our energy and spirit for the 4th of July when we celebrated it on the 5th! We woke up bright and early when the Scribes came cheering and singing into our bunk to wake us up. It was an extra special day because it was also Doxia's 10th birthday! Everyone quickly put their 4th gear on and lots of face paint and tattoos. The day was packed with fun activities from carnival games to slip and slides. We had lots of sweets including candy, ice cream and donuts on a line. We ended the day with a cookie cake, PJ jump and pizza for Dox's birthday celebration. What a special day!

I hope you didn't forget about the color run! Remember we all ran around camp and the Saxons and Scribes threw colors on us? Then we ran down to the waterfront to wash it all off, but we still had colors all over us!

Bang, bang, bang! We killed our So You Think You Can Dance dance. Remember all of the hard work and time we put into perfecting it? We all wore black bottoms and red tops. My favorite part of the dance was when we got in a line and all leaned backwards and then forwards – it looked so cool!!

Beach Day was a beautiful and sunny day full of exciting activities! We spent our day swimming at the waterfront, winning fun prizes at the Boardwalk, drinking slushies and playing on inflatables.

Wow! Our group is so talented – from singing to dancing we can definitely do it all! I was so impressed with all of the performances and so proud of everyone who got on stage!

Remember the last night before our 4-week friends left? We had sunday sundaes and then we blindfolded you and walked you down to Senior Waterfront. We got to play on the splash mats and jump off of the iceberg. Then at circle time we gave out paper plate awards [which I hope you all still have!]

Remember how Green & White broke? We were all at dinner and all the sudden we heard music at the waterfront and then there were judges and a dad band on a pontoon boat! Then we ran to the barn and saw limos full of more judges! Then they announced the color war captains and we had bean pick the next morning! Rachel and Nellie led our teams with high intensity and energy. The next 5 days were filled with lots of activities including gaga, rink, newcomb, basketball, kickball, soccer, etc. It was so much fun watching you compete against each other. My favorite part of every activity was at the end when we did our Tumbie group hug. I am so proud of all of you for giving every activity all of your effort and leaving it all on the field.

On August 4th the whole camp came together for Founders Night. For roll call Keegan stood on the bench and made a loud noise with her mouth. All of our new friends got their 1 year water bottle and Rachel, Sloane, Nellie and Phoebe got their 3 year flags.

Our last few days quickly came to an end, but we made the most of our time in The Realm. We stargazed, ate pizza in the rink, did Snapple caps, listened to Scribe speeches and reminisced on the best summer ever. I know we all have memories that will last forever.

TUMBLERS

Doxia Barber – I loved learning about you and your sweet demeanor and carefree attitude. I hope you keep smiling and dancing like nobody's watching. I always admired your happy-go-lucky personality and know that will take you far here. Camp needs people like you – I can't wait to see you next summer! Love you Dox!

Arletta Curran – How lucky am I to have you two summers in a row! Every summer I learn something new about you. I have loved watching you grow into a mature girl and I know that you are going to continue to come back. I hope that next summer you can stay all 7! Camp loves you and I know you love camp. Love you Arletta!

Rachel Dix – You had no problem coming up with nicknames for everyone in the bunk. You are such an integral part of the Tumbies and I am so happy that you came back this summer. It is so clear that you love camp. Even though putting down your books was hard – it was always worth it because you belong at camp and you kill it at every activity. We'll be back in The Realm before you know it. Love you Rachel!

Tessa Hoglund – It was such a pleasure watching you guide the new campers to have a place in our group. You always made everyone feel included and you were always having a good time. I loved dancing and singing to Olivia Rodrigo with you in the D-tent. Your constant energy and excitement for every activity always brightened my day. Love you Tessa!

Ella Kemp – Ella girl! You are such a ray of sunshine. I am so happy you gave camp a chance this summer. I think camp is a place where you can really be yourself and you most definitely had no problem expressing yourself! Your bubbly personality and willingness to make friends was the perfect way to come into the summer. Keep coming back girlfriend. Love you Ella!

Ryan Lengyel – Our sloth mascot! I loved watching you come out of your shell this summer and become one of the funniest girls in the group! You are kind and independent and I can't wait to see you grow up at camp. Continue to be your silly self because I know you will continue to bring out the best in the group. Love you Ryan!

Nellie Oliver – You are a star! Whether we were in the bunk, on the fields or in the lake you were always smiling about something. It was great to see you shine at your favorite activities and put forth all of your effort. It is so evident that you care about each and every person in the group. I love chatting with you and I can't wait to watch you continue to grow here. Love you Nellie!

Phoebe Plouffe – My Phoebs! I know how special camp is to you and I am so happy we got to spend another summer together. I loved having our long talks on the back porch and I know you miss me telling you to get out of bed! You radiate maturity and bring a strong sense of community to the group. Camp will always be here for you. Love you Phoebs!

Ella Ponsky – Your smile always brightened my day when I saw you. I admire you for always being so silly and for always being up for any activity. I definitely miss your curiosity and giggles. Camp is so special and I can't wait for you to learn more about the magic in the trees. I can't wait to squeeze you on Opening Day 2022! Love you Ella!

Bryn Raivich – Even though this was your first summer, I am so proud of the impact you made on our group. I am so happy that you decided to extend so that you could experience Green & White. You are adventurous and outgoing which are great qualities to have at camp. I know the friendships you made this summer will last for a lifetime. I miss brushing your hair. Love you Bryn!

Savannah Schlieman – You are such a sweet and genuine girl who has such a big heart for camp. I'm so lucky to have gotten to know you and your funny personality. I loved watching you grow and make new friends this summer. You are such a big part of this group and camp loves you. Never stop talking in 3rd person – it makes you, you!! Love you Savy!

Tali Shear – You are amazing! I've never seen someone receive more letters! You bring so much energy and excitement into everything that you do. You easily integrated into our group and were a friend to everyone. You are such an essential member of the Tumbies and I can't wait to watch you be a leader in camp one day. Camp is your place – please keep coming back. Love you Tali!

Keegan Shepard – I always knew where you were because of your bright orange Gators hat! Your curiosity and willingness to learn is unmatched. I love answering all of your daily questions – silly or serious. You were always able to lift up the mood of the bunk and you are a great asset to the Tumblers. Don't forget your gaga gloves for next summer! Love you Keegs!

Sloane Susman – From the moment I picked you up at the front gate, and saw your big smile I knew we were going to have a great summer together. Your positivity and laughter made every room light up. You are kind, considerate and a great friend to all. I know you are going to make a huge impact here and I know you will keep coming back. Love you Sloane!

Tillie Whalen – Your high energy and free spirit bonded the Tumblers into one cohesive group. You always know how to put a smile on everyone's face. I'm so proud of you for giving camp a chance this summer. Isn't it the best place ever!? Camp will always be your safe place – keep coming back. And I know Bella misses you! Love you Tillie!

TUMBLERS

Tumbie Staff –

I love all of you so much. We worked so well together and I could not have asked for a better staff. Thank you for always having my back and bringing energy into every activity period. I'm so lucky we all grew so close and I know we will always be there for each other.

I love you guys <3

To the Tumblers <3

Thank you all for the best summer ever! I am so lucky to have 15 new silly best friends! I loved every moment getting to know each and every one of you and I can't wait to watch you grow up at camp. The Realm is such a special place – remember to not waste a minute because before you know it you will be the Scribes of 2028! Jump in the lake every chance you get, sing at the top of your lungs in the D-tent and don't forget about psh psh ding dong! I can't wait to squeeze all of you on Opening Day 2022. I love all of you from the stars on the quad and back.

Jesters

Hey JESTIES...oooooooohhhhhh

Put down your fidgets and string, put your crocs in sport mode, grab your rain jackets, stop being cray, say YEAH BOI, and don't be late to benches because we're about to relive the best summer ever!

Remember when Charlotte and Blake came to camp a day early and we struggled to do any activity with such a small amount of campers? Well that all seemed to change the next day when 27 of you goofballs showed up the next day to complete the amazing, fantastic, beautiful, and insane Jester group of 2021. In a group of 18 new girls and 11 returning campers, you all came together to create one big, happy, loving family that changed our lives forever.

On our first night together, we got to know each other [with a little bit of candy] and kicked off the greatest summer with the best group ever! A couple nights later we got to do a classic camp evening activity – pajama jumping! We all put on our cutest PJs and headed down to the lake to swim while the sun was setting. While we swam, we had the best dance party to Olivia Rodrigo's album and made some amazing memories jamming like crazy in a circle all together.

The next night, we had an awesome surprise of smores at the ODT with a lip sync, and you guys showed us your amazing dance moves to even more Olivia Rodrigo.

Remember seeing all of your staff do their crazy dances on stage at the staff talent show? We can't believe that seeing us be so silly was your first impression of your new staff. Hopefully we showed you all that camp is all about having fun and just being yourself!

Remember when we had the best dance in So You Think You Can Dance?? All the other groups had nothing on our hype, never been done before Black Eyed Peas mash up. Your enthusiasm, smiles, and happiness on stage made us all so proud and we have never seen any of you shine more than you did on the stage that night. Seeing everyone do our dance in the dining tent for weeks after our performance was the best, and you guys left a lasting impression on the stage and all of camp.

The summer continued with our intense gaga game against the squires – you guys had been waiting for that one. While we didn't win it all we did get that one game, and definitely had the most spirit!

It wouldn't be a recap of summer 2021 without mentioning the constant rain! All of your positive attitudes helped us all make the most of every day, even through the bad weather. We watched some amazing movies, had fun creating dances and songs, and played so many activities through the bad weather – proving that truly nothing can stop this group from having a good time!

Remember camp beach day? We had a beautiful, sunny day packed with activities. The mighty Jesters fought hard in the morning Gold Rush, gaining second place and making tons of money to spend later in the day. Later we made stops at the inflatables, beach, water balloons, and boardwalk and had so much fun at our at-home beach day. Seeing you all swimming and making the most of the hot weather [and eating way too much candy] was such a treat.

Remember the Fourth of July? Even though the true July 4th was rained out [classic summer 2021], that didn't stop us from having the best fifth celebration ever. The morning began with a spirited wake up by the Scribes with their music and cheering to start the day with a bang [even though they didn't say the password]. We then continued on with the camp-wide parade featuring our amazing banner, and got ready for an afternoon of fun. From the ice cream truck, cotton candy, and popcorn station to the marriage booth and fortune telling, the Saxons and Scribes gave us so many fun activities to dive into throughout the day. We ended off with a massive dinner of fair food and fried dough, and trying to wash off our face paint and hair chalk.

Remember the color run? It was a great morning surprise that we got to do with the whole camp. We ran from the barn, to the soccer fields, all the way to the waterfront! All of you got the colorful powder all over your clothing and looked super crazy by the end. Thankfully, we got to jump right in the lake for a refreshing swim after our run and to wash off all of the powder.

Remember the last day before the four weekers left? We were all so sad it was our last day with so many amazing girls in the group. To end their time at camp with a bang, we challenged the squires to a crazy intense game of gaga! Although we did not win, we had way more fun!

Remember the iceberg? We were so proud of all of you for getting on to the iceberg and jumping or sliding off. To this day, we will still be more scared than all of you guys to climb it.

Remember girls' camp fires? Our first campfire we got picked up by the Scribes and walked through girls camp down to the waterfront…I mean theater. Of course it was raining. We introduced our new campers and big sisters, learned fun camp songs and cheers, and received our secret summer sisters! From then, we made bracelets and notes while giving clues about each other to our SSS's. It was so much and bonded girls camp to become an even closer family.

Jesters

To kick off the second half of the summer...

Remember when Green & White broke? We ran to the waterfront to see the lit Bon Jovi cover band along with the 6 captains from summer 2020. From there, we sprinted up to the barn to find judges hidden in cop cars and limousines. The captains were announced, teams were picked with Hannah and Blake as captains and Ellis and River as their cos, and the war began with intensity and high spirits. The following five days were jam packed with activities and the Jesters killed every single one of them. From extremely close and intense games of soccer, basketball, gaga, and many more, you guys showed your true athleticism and left it all out on the fields and courts for every sport we had. On night four, so many of you shined on stage in the skit, dance, and glee in talent show for all of camp. We're so glad so many of you decided to stay for color war, and were able to experience an amazing five days!

Right after the color war was over, we got to come together as a whole camp once again for founders night. All of our new campers received their first year water bottles and Kai and Kyra got their three year flags! It was a great way to end the long five days of competition and reunite as an entire camp for our last few days together.

We ended the last couple of days with raiding the kitchen, snapple caps and smores, listening to scribe speeches, and reminiscing on the amazing memories we made this summer.

Remember when Natalie wasn't crazily dancing? Remember when Mack wasn't trying to save a bug? Remember when Zoe didn't take 20 minutes to put her shoes on? Remember when River wasn't getting out in 9 square? Remember when Hannah wasn't the cutest smush ever? Remember when Grace wasn't positive? Remember when Eva wasn't on the wrong benches? Remember when Sophie wasn't dancing? Remember when Jorja wasn't excited for every evening activity? Remember when Ellie wasn't asking what we believe in? Remember when Ellis wasn't fashionable? Remember when Kyra wasn't screaming Password throughout all of girls camp? Remember when Sarah didn't want to go to an activity on time? Remember when Betsy wasn't Betsying? Remember when Casey wasn't cracking jokes? Remember when Evie wasn't singing? Remember when Maddie wasn't lost? Remember when Emma wasn't smiling? Remember when Sidney wasn't playing with her fidgets? Remember when Chloe wasn't late to the benches? Remember when Blake wasn't winning at a sport? Remember when Audrey wasn't curious? Remember when Charlotte wasn't wearing "camp" apparel? Remember when Athena wasn't up all night giggling? Remember when Eva T. wasn't reading? Remember when Avery wasn't ready for benches? Remember when Kai wasn't happy? Remember when Ava wasn't trendy? Remember when Fairfax wasn't whistling?

WE DON'T!!

From leg wrestling, to pontoon rides and munchkins, to our butter count off, we had the best summer ever!

Natalie Baratta – What an amazing, bubbly person you are. It is crazy that this was your first summer and you already shined so bright in this group. Your hilarious sense of humor brought laughter to everyone in the group and we will never forget your ridiculous cackle. In every performance or activity, you stood out with crazy enthusiasm and excitement

Mackenzie Berger – Big Mack Berger! Your bubbly personality and adorable giggle brought so much joy and laughter to the group. Since day one, you have always been positive and helpful with a smile on your face. Camp is your home away from home so never stop coming back. You have grown up here and we cannot wait to see you continue to shine and grow into the beautiful person you already are.

Zoe Bernstein – What a big personality in such a little body! Even though you were always last to benches…you made up for it with all your excitement and kind hearted spirit. you meshed so well with your bunk mates and created such beautiful friendships with everyone. cannot wait to see you shine again next summer.

River Boren – Riv, our little smush! There is never a time where you do not have a smile on your face. Your maturity and kind heart contribute to your amazing leadership in the group. You have the ability to get along with everybody in the group and brighten any room you walk into. You hold such an important place in this group and in The Realm which always needs to come back always. Camp is the place you have grown up and we cannot wait to see you lead girls camp one day.

Hannah Corr – Hannah Banana!!!! You arrived as a leader and left as a leader and your mark on this summer will never be forgotten. You are so genuinely kind and caring to those around you and are a force in this group. It is so evident that camp runs in your blood and that The Realm is the perfect place for you to become yourself and grow into the amazing person you are. Do not ever forget how important this place is to you because camp needs you.

Grace Goldberg – Even though it's your first summer, it's clear that you fit right into our group and camp as a whole. Your constant excitement for every activity and willingness to put your all into every sport shows your passion for your friends and that you really know how to make the most of every minute at camp. We can't wait to see how you continue to impact The Realm in the years to come!

Eva Gomez – You are such a sweet, amazing, selfless person. Your energy and enthusiasm are contagious. You came to camp this summer not knowing what to expect but absolutely fit in right away and shined. You gave it your all in every activity and we are so proud of how much you grew as a person this summer. We hope you come back to The Realm for more amazing summers to come.

Sophie Hantar-Moucha – We doubt that this camp has ever seen a better dining hall dancer – the energy you brought to each meal and activity period was entirely unmatched. You're rarely without a smile on your face and are constantly giggling, and you never fail to brighten up everyone's day. You have a bright future at this camp and we can't wait to see you shine for years to come!!

Jorja Holdridge – Never have we met a more positive and outgoing camper. Your wholehearted enthusiasm for camp and all it has to offer is extremely evident in everything you do here, and we loved seeing your genuine reactions to every activity, surprise, and EA. Not even a sprained ankle could dampen your high spirits – the world needs more people like you.

Ellie Holz – You're genuinely so funny. We're constantly laughing with you and your silly jokes always bring light to the group. Your spunky, fun personality makes you an amazing friend to everyone and they all know they can count on you. Seeing you fit right into camp this summer was such a treat and we can't wait to see the ways you impact The Realm for years to come.

Ellis Holzman – We're so excited to have you back in The Realm after a year off! You're constantly dancing and full of energy and we love that about you. Your love for camp shines through in everything you do, and we can't wait to see the bright future you have at The Realm. Keep coming back and keep smiling!

Kyra Jelin – Password!!! No one has the talent for making people laugh quite like you do, and your creativity and energy continually astounded us every day of the summer. You are built for camp and are already a big name, and we can't wait to see the rest of your camp career unfold for years to come. Your silly and sweet energy is needed not only within your group but The Realm as a whole, keep coming back forever Kyr Kyr.

Jesters

Sarah Kramer – Everything you do is with passion and excitement. We are so proud of all of the things you have accomplished this summer. The minute you got to camp you jumped right in and tried your hardest in everything. You are never afraid to try new things and we loved having you this year as a camper. Keep coming back to form the indescribable bonds with the girls in your group. The group needs people like you.

Betsy Land – On the first day of camp you told us you wanted to stay seven weeks which is exactly what you did. Your enthusiasm and love for camp shined the minute you got here and you embody what it means to be in love with Camp Robin Hood. With all your spunk and sass, you still continue to be the cutest smush ever. You give your all in every activity and absolutely killed the "Betsy" for So You Think You Can Dance. Keep coming back cause camp needs your crazies.

Casey Lappin – We don't even know where to begin. It is absolutely astounding to see how much you grew throughout the course of the summer. We don't even recognize the girl who would come up to my bed saying she was homesick. All we can remember is the bubbly, crazy, hilarious, comedian you are. We are so happy we were able to watch you thrive this summer and come out of your shell.

Evie LaRose – You are so kind to everyone in the group and your inclusivity and warm heart brought joy to so many counselors and campers this summer. You are by far the best hugger in the group and we are going to miss those extremely tight, hard to breath squeezes. Your love for camp is so evident. Your sweet personality never fails to make us smile and we cannot wait to see you continue to shine here in The Realm.

Maddie Lipton – Maddie, Maddie, Maddie. What to even write about you. We have watched you grow enormously as a person this summer and it has been such a joy to see the spark in you come out. Although you are the biggest group schemer, you never fail to show compassion and love to every counselor and camper in the group. The friendships you have made this summer are so special and important. Keep coming back because camp needs people like you and you need camp.

Emma Nickerson – What a little ball of sunshine you are. You are so kind, sweet, and including to every member of the group. We were so sad that you could not stay longer but we were so happy to see you connect with the girls and find your place in the group. Your love for camp and everyone in the group is so evident and we cannot wait to watch you continue to grow up in this special place.

Sidney Perrino – Sid, camp is in your DNA and we can see it every day! You clearly love this place and all of the amazing friends you have here, and are always bouncing around with tons of energy. We have loved seeing you try new things and form tons of new relationships this summer, jumping right back into the swing of things where you left off. Keep coming back, we know you will!

Chloe Pirok – Chlo, Chlo. It has been such a joy to watch you grow and come out of your shell this summer. By the end of the summer, your smile was the biggest it has ever been and you danced the hardest. We believe that you really understand what makes camp so special. Never stop trying in any activity, never stop dancing, and do not be afraid to be crazy and be yourself. We cannot wait to see what camp holds for you in the future.

Blake Rabin – Our little athletic super star. The minute you got to camp, it was so clear that your role in the group was to be a leader. We loved watching you absolutely dominate in every sport and activity and we wish we could be as skilled as you. You bring so much love and energy to this group and the friendships you have made this summer we know will last a lifetime. Continue to always be yourself and remember, camp was made for people like you so never leave.

Audrey Scherquist – You always bring so much spunk to every day, and have such a positive impact on the whole group. Though you're reserved, your love for camp clearly shines through. Seeing you smiling at your favorite activities brought us such joy. Keep coming back, you're made to be at camp.

Charlotte Spear – Char! Your return to The Realm was a seamless one, and we loved having you back this summer. Seeing you branch out to other girls in the group this summer showed what a true leader you are in this group. It was a treat to see how kind and inclusive you are to everyone. You're truly so sweet to everyone in girls camp – keep coming back!

Athena Speyer – We loved your constant smile and unstoppable energy throughout the summer! It was great to see you come out of your shell and become one of the silliest and loudest girls in the group. You radiate positive energy and continuously lift up those around you. Keep coming back, the group needs your high spirits.

Eva Thakarar – You're one of the sweetest girls on camp and are always ready with a smile and a hug for your friends. We loved always hearing you giggling and seeing you run around with your friends. This is clearly your happy place and you thrive here, so keep coming back and enjoying every moment of this magical place, your enthusiasm and passion for camp do not go unnoticed.

Avery Thau – What a joy it has been to watch you come out of your shell and embrace the magic in the trees at camp. you have grown so much since the beginning of the summer. The friendships you made we know will last for a lifetime. We will never forget those big blisters on your shoulders. You were made for camp and camp was made for you so keep coming back!

Kai Thompson – You're always so positive and ready to have fun at every activity. Your laughter is contagious and we're going to miss hearing you make jokes and giggle every day. You have an ability to make everyone around you happy and carefree. Keep telling stories and being silly!

Ava Waldron – It's crazy that this was only your first summer, and we're so glad you decided to stay longer. You fit so well into camp – seeing you put your all into every sport and activity made us so happy, and we can't wait to see you shine for years to come!

Fairfax Walker – I'm sure we can all still hear your "whistle" now that we're all back home and out of the bunk. You're a true leader and have such a strong impact not only on our group but on camp as a whole. Your crazy shenanigans always brought a smile to everyone's face and we can't wait to see you continue to grow and shine in The Realm.

To our amazing staff – We love you all so much and could not have asked for a better squad to run this group with. We work so well together and have gotten so close over the course of the summer. We have loved watching you grow this summer and shine as amazing counselors. Couldn't have done this summer without you guys.
Jest staff best staff.

To the Jesters of 2021 -

What a summer it has been!

We could not be more proud of everything you have accomplished this summer and cannot believe that it is already over. You truly are the best group of girls on this camp and we know that you are going to grow up into beautiful, inspiring leaders of girls camp. Keep screaming, eating so much dessert, laughing your hearts out, and loving each other. Before you know it, we will all be back for another crazy, amazing, summer in The Realm. From the stars on the quad and back, we love you.

BOWS! Benches, benches it's the benches song! We have a lot to cover, so put down your fidgets, stop trading jibbitz, and get ready to relive the best summer EVER!

Remember when Sammy, Ava, Lyla, Nat, Lucy L, Annie, Josie R, Sloaney, and Renata got to camp on day 0? We had a hard time pouring ourselves bug juice [Sloaney…] and we continuously knocked over our cups, but the first meal was definitely a great kick start to the rest of our amazing summer.

Remember our Day 0 EA with the Quills and Arrows? We think some of you still have marshmallows in your hair…We might need to invest in some new hair brushes for some of you…Who could forget the frog that we spent half the night trying to save? Lets hope our plank of wood helped it escape from the hole…

Opening day was full of rainbow looms, hair braiding, and butterfly clips – we all looked SO swag rolling up to dinner together. Seeing the group grow one-by-one as each of you pulled up to the tents was so exciting! We were shocked as we saw the group continuously growing, it was never ending! We knew we were in for a great summer as we saw each of you eagerly and excitedly embrace The Realm as soon as you stepped out of the car.

Remember when we had smores and played get-to-know-you games the first night? WE DON'T! Our first EA was definitely one to remember. You all excitedly roamed around girls camp trying to find the biggest rocks you could carry, completely unaware of what we were going to do with them. We finally made it to the Crafts Shack where Lily and Camille were readily waiting, but only after aimlessly line-walking through girls camp, swerving around the poles of the dining tent, and weaving in-and-out of trees to get there. Each of you painted a picture or a message that you wanted to last forever around camp – we hope you remember this EA and go back every opening day to find your rocks!

The first week of camp brought SO many memories and great bonding experiences. Who could forget our first encounter with frat-boy Jake? The Marriage Game definitely brought out some interesting sides of some of you…#PAM! Remember our Backwards

Scavenger Hunt EA on the Far Far? You all came so prepared, maybe too prepared… Josie Rosenfeld was ready when we needed a Mike Wazowski impression, you all managed to bring us ants [even though we were joking], and none of you hesitated to give it your all…Some of you REALLY took some extreme measures to win…

Our first boating period was one that created LOTS of memories. Remember when Josie Rosenfeld was able to stay seated inside the boat? WE DON'T! Remember when Natalie R was so confident waterskiing her first time? She was definitely a natural and totally crushed it. Remember when Josie Ponksy was a tubing legend and managed to not fall off, despite the largest waves we have ever seen? #SmallButMighty!

Remember when Chuck challenged us at breakfast to find the totem pole? You all found it on the New Quad [of course on your own] and made it known to Chuck that you had [deservingly] won. That challenge was a great start to our first of many rainy days we had this summer. All of Girls Camp gathered in the Barn to watch Mamma Mia – of course with any movie activity you all grabbed your crazy creeks and any fidget you could get your hands on, and sprinted to the Barn to guarantee you had the best spots.

Remember when we told you all to grab towels and meet us at the Sand Court [the Bows' favorite place on camp], where we instructed you all to throw your towels over the net obstructing your view of the other team. Blind Newcomb was definitely a hit, and you all got to use your towels as raincoats on the way back to the bunk!

As we could have predicted, the Fourth of July was a rainy day, meaning we had to create Fifth of July as the new national holiday. We were one of the only groups dressed and ready to go at breakfast, and we certainly won the costume contest with all of your crazy accessories #bowshavespirit! Each of you drew and colored your own butterfly to create one of your best Fourth of July banners yet. After eating all of the cotton candy and popcorn, we made our way to the Waterfront for the real beach party. We still had a blast and enjoyed our Fifth of July, despite only being able to ~hear~ the fireworks and suffering stomach aches from the amount of fried dough we had at dinner.

The following day, Lila R had one of her most memorable Senior Waterfront experiences #iceberg! Remember when it wasn't raining? WE DON'T! Lunchtime brought us quite the storm, but as Bows do, we didn't let it stop us. We all gathered in the lodge to watch the one and only, Annie. Remember when Bows could finish a movie all in one sitting? WE DON'T!

Remember when Anjali was a psychic and read us all perfectly? We think she might be hiding some super powers… #NamasteBesties! The following Wednesday started our series of "On Wednesdays We Wear Pink". We were a bit late to the theme day trend, but quickly caught up with the rest of camp. Remember our leg wrestling EA? Boe swept the competition, with Val trailing close behind. What's an EA without Candy Canteen? You all sprinted to the office, only to receive ~interesting~ books instead of candy from your counselors.

BOWS

Remember July 8th? WE DO! Nat's birthday might had been one of the most stacked schedules we had the whole summer #ThanksNat! We woke up bright and early at 7:45 and headed straight down to the waterfront for one of the best activities camp has to offer…PAJAMA JUMP! It might have been a little cold, but we didn't mind #Don'tWasteAMinute! Later in the day we spent some time with the Archers. After playing too many bat mitzvah games to count, we made our way to lunch where a massive cookie cake was waiting. #ThanksAgainNat!

Remember the coolest club to ever exist? The Cool Rock Club was established during a ~Bay 2~ period as you all dove around the lake searching for the most original rocks you could find. Remember this – Bay 2 is not as bad as you all make it out to be! So You Think You Can Dance crept up on us out of nowhere…Despite starting our dance on day 1 of camp, we were still adding to it up until the last second. It was the Hard Knock Life for Josie R when we practiced our dance in the dining hall for the final time #NoChickenDanceForBows!

What is the probability that the Bows are last for Sunday Sundaes? 100%! #BowsLoveMath! Remember when you all crushed it in the Junior Camp Talent Show? Who knew Bows were that talented! Remember when we drank way too many Realm-A-Ritas? Our stomachs might not have liked us this Beach Day…We made our way around camp rotating from the inflatables, to the waterfront, and ending at the boardwalk. Remember when the Bows lost the Gold Rush? WE DON'T! With some teamwork, dedication, and desire to win, you all eagerly ran around camp and found any gold rock or piece of equipment you could find. We couldn't have done it without Lucy L's leprechaun magic. Who knew four leaf clovers were worth so many points? #BowsCanRush!

Remember our tubing period with DJ Wood? Lila R got a big surprise and couldn't seem to stay in her seat…#NoMoreDonuts! Later that day we played our first game of Camper Hunt. Your counselors might have had different tactics, but we all know who came out victorious…#LetTheStaffPlay!

Our last day with the four weekers brought us too many memories to count. After an intense basketball period with Landsports and Calum, we had a last minute challenge against the Archers for some ~friendly~ competition. Although we didn't come out on top, we still had fun! We couldn't have done it without our basketball star, frat-boy Jake. We began the afternoon with a game of assassin that really spurred your addiction to the game. Our EA brought us to the ODT where we wrote each other Snaps and dined on some gourmet New Hampshire pizza.

Another day brings us another Bow-Archer challenge…After a fierce game of kickball, we all headed back to our bunks where we prepared for bedtime with an epic dance party. Remind us to never let you all be in charge of choosing the music…Remember when we all flew to Tokyo to compete in the Olympics? WE DON'T! We had our own Bow-lympics where we competed in all types of sports…#SeniorWaterfront! The closing ceremony was quite an adventure – we line-walked around girls camp and might've overstayed our welcome with a few groups…#SorryArrowsAndBards! July 23 was a day for the books…Boe's birthday brought us a nice and relaxing swim on Woody's dock, a Sour dance party on the pontoons, late-night pizza, and of course a movie we never finished…Thank goodness Boe extended so she could spend this day with us!

Remember when we had our first Zumba session? Waldir crowned us the winners of his arm dance, and of course we held our title until the end of camp. All of us were on edge because of the Scraxon fake break, leading us to believe Green & White was breaking the next day…Little did we know, we still had a LONG time before the real break!

What was summer 2021 without another rainy day? We had a blast watching our favorite show, Dance Moms, and #ThoughtBlue just in time for your favorite EA…Fashion Show Pajama Jump!

The entire next week we were so completely certain that Green & White was breaking. Remember when we made you wear sneakers to go paddle boarding? Let's forget about that one…We continued our pre-Green & White summer with a day full of exciting games. We played quidditch, bandaid tag, infection in bay 2, and ended the day with paper plate awards…

Remember when Green & White broke while we were at the ODT? WE DON'T! Your counselors led you back to the bunk where we anxiously searched for any clue of a break. The TPJs tricked us at the waterfront with one of the best fake breaks ever.

After only a [long] few days of waiting, Green & White finally broke during dinner. From stretch limos, police cars, and Bon Jovi cover bands, this Green & White break was one to remember. #WhenWillWoodyStopFakingTheBreak?You all did SUCH an amazing job during color war! You showed incredible sportsmanship, enthusiasm, and talent in every aspect of the war. We are so proud of you!

The summer only got better as Green & White came to an end. We immediately switched gears and hopped right back into regular camp. GL swap introduced you all to Adelman, who definitely appreciated your kindness and glitter magic. We concluded the day with our time capsule at the new ODT. We can't wait to open it at the 100th reunion!

Remember the hole in the tent that was dripping water on you all? WE DON'T! Thanks to the scribes, your staff inherited a very useful squirt gun that we used to prank you all…#ThanksScribes! To add to our water filled day, we just had to give you all backwards scavenger hunt slip-n-slide to conclude the day.

Remember the last night when we watched movies and actually finished them? WE DO!!! We had wayyy too much sugar – from lunch Monday sundaes, to brownies and ice cream at dinner, you definitely had enough in your bodies to keep you going all night. You all snuggled on one side of bunk 7, only after a ~fun~ day filled with packing and cleaning… As the morning arrived and it was time to go, you all slowly rolled out of The Realm, crocs and fidgets held close.

We had so many amazing memories this summer, and hope you continue to build off of these special moments as your summers continue together!

Caroline Callahan – You were such a joy to have this summer! You're so easy going and go with the flow, we always know we can rely on you to help give the group a great time. You can always put a smile on anyone's face and you are such a great friend to lean on. Thank you for helping make this summer go smoothly and we cannot wait to see you do great things in your years to come at camp!

Val Cohen – Thank goodness you came to camp this summer. You are literally the definition of camp, and we know The Realm will be yours forever. You are so hilarious and confident, no one would ever believe this was your first summer. We are thrilled you decided to extend, and that you truly felt the magic in the trees! We are so excited to watch you grow with camp.

BOWS

Livy Dennig – Your sweet nature and bubbly personality has a huge impact on the group. You are such a great listener, an amazing friend, and carry a strong positive energy through everything you do. Keep coming back to camp, because this place needs more people like you! Thank you for being such a star this summer!

Zoe Dessen – Your outgoing personality and ability to talk to anyone about anything was evident ever since the second you stepped foot on camp. You fit right into the group, as if you have been here forever. You always manage to provide a contagious giggle and consistently keep the energy alive. You are just a "sasibacka" and we cannot wait to see you next summer!

Renata Ferrua – You are the kindest, sweetest girl this camp has ever seen. Coming into a big group of girls you don't know can be a challenge, but you did it with ease and always had a smile on your face. Everybody loves you so much, and you are such a perfect fit for camp! Keep coming back to The Realm, camp needs you!

Lucy Friedman – Your outgoing, compassionate, and spontaneous personality is the glue that holds the group together. You are such a joy to be around, and we know so many people, including your brother, look up to you for kindness, advice, and a good time. Thank you for always being true to yourself, we can't wait to see the things you are going to accomplish in your camp career!

Sloane Ginocchio – You are such a joy to have as a camper. You are always so inclusive, fun, and genuinely kind to everyone! You carry an amazing positive energy that helps motivate the group at all times. Although you tend to leave your water bottle behind, we all truly appreciate you so much and admire your love for camp. The group would not be the same without you!

Marissa Goldfarb – You accomplished so much this summer and we are all so proud of you! Your ability to make anyone smile at any time is so amazing. Your love for camp is evident in everything you do. Please always be proud of yourself and remember how awesome you were this summer. Keep coming back to camp, there is so much waiting ahead for you! We miss you!

Kathryn Greenbaum – We are so proud of you for taking The Realm by storm and truly embracing everyone and everything. You've come so far and we cannot wait for the future you have at camp! We loved watching you come out of your shell and transform into your amazing self. We cannot express how happy we are that camp gave you an environment to feel comfortable in! Keep doing you, never change! Camp needs more outgoing, spontaneous, and woke people like you!

Jenna Gustin – We are so glad you joined the Robin Hood family this summer! It was so awesome to watch you thrive and embrace every second. You are always making the group laugh, and you have made a huge impact on our big Bow family. Your energy, love, and amazing dance moves are contagious! Never change, and keep coming back forever!

Natalie Lefberg – Your continuous laughter and smiles definitely made the group 100% happier. It is clear that everyone loves you, and you love everyone! Continue your love for camp, your friends, and of course watermelons, because you create an amazing dynamic for everyone to be around! We have loved spending this summer with you and we are so glad to have gotten to know you!

Annie Lippard – You are so caring and compassionate towards everyone around you, specifically your sister. Your love for those around you shows how sweet and thoughtful you are. Your love for camp can be seen in the way you participate and carry yourself through every day at camp! The group thrives off of your energy and dedication to camp. Please keep coming back, the group would not be the same without you!

Lucy Lippard – You are such a sweet, smart, and earth-loving leprechaun! You are always putting your friends' feelings first and making sure everyone around you is happy. You are definitely one with the Earth, whether it's finding your 74th four-leaf-clover or pulling roots out of the ground, you can always find a way to entertain yourself and bring some spunk to the group! We love you and appreciate you so much!

Ava Lowe – Thank goodness you decided to stay full! Your constant smiles and participation in activities keeps the whole group motivated and captivated. You are a natural leader and an amazing friend to everyone you meet. You are hilarious and so extremely kind, and your rapping skills are also very impressive…Keep coming back, this group needs you!

BOWS

Dylan Oakley – You are such a mad scientist! Your craziness keeps the group energy so high. You have a level of maturity that is greatly appreciated and recognized by all. You are a great leader of the group and people really look up to you! We cannot wait to see you grow up at camp and we are eager to see the big things you do for camp!

Boe Pettit – This summer you were able to truly call The Realm your home. You are so mature for your age, it is like talking to another counselor. You are an amazing and caring friend to others, but also have a silly crazy side to you that we love to see. You were such a great camper and a genuine joy to have this summer!

Cybele Pirok – Cybele! Your constant drive to do your best is so impressive and will carry you far in life. Keep being yourself.

Josie Ponsky – Your constant enthusiasm, sass, and fun energy is so amazing. It was really awesome watching you come out of your shell throughout the summer and really make The Realm yours. We are so happy that you extended, especially without your siblings, which shows how strong you are. You always speak your mind which is something we admire about you. Keep coming back!

Siena Posner – Your bubbly personality fit right into the group from the first day! You are so sweet and fun, and always up for anything! We are so sad you couldn't stay full, but we know you will shine at camp for years to come. Camp needs more silly and down to earth people like you. We miss you!

Sasha Radvinsky – You math star! You are so funny and can always make anyone laugh. You have such a contagious enthusiasm that radiates everyday. The group loves hearing your silly stories at night before bed, we know we can count on you to bring up the group's spirit with anything you say!

Agnes Rales – We love your commitment to camp and those around you. We loved seeing you break out of your shell this summer and embrace everything camp has given you. You really put yourself out there and branched out which was so awesome to see! We cannot wait to see you come back for years!

Allie Rosenberg – You have such a big impact on this group! The group will follow your lead because they look up to you and admire your confidence. You are super silly, a great dancer, and always provide a shoulder to cry on. Thank you for constantly entertaining us all and making this summer your best yet, we love you!

Lila Rosenberg – You are so bubbly and kind. You are super positive and committed to everything we do, which tremendously brings up the spirit of the whole group! You're such an integral part of the group and such a great friend to everyone! Keep doing you and please keep returning to The Realm!

Josie Rosenfeld – You are so hilarious and you never fail to make the group laugh. Your positivity brought the whole group together this summer. We can always rely on you to get everyone involved in any and every activity! We are so lucky to have had you this summer and we loved watching you grow so much! Can't wait to see you do amazing things here for years to come.

Natalie Ruggles – Nat! You are just the sweetest! Your love for the horses and stables really showed how much of a caring person you are! You show so much love and compassion for the things you enjoy and that is such an amazing trait to have. You fit right in with the silly bows and we cannot wait to see you grow in the years to come! Keep coming back!

Sloane Singerman – You constantly put others' feelings and emotions before your own in order to make sure everyone around you is having a good time. You always have everyone's best interests at heart and are always willing to help out. You are such a genuine and great friend to everyone in the group. We were so lucky to be your staff and we cannot wait to see the things you'll do!

Lyla Solomon – You are so passionate and a really great friend. You know what a friend needs to hear in times of need and everyone in the group knows they can rely on you for anything. Your fun spirit and knowledge about camp makes you a leader of the bows. You are truly like no other, and we cannot wait to see you lead The Realm one day!

Sammy Steinlauf – You are such a talented singer, amazing friend, and a person that the group will always respect. Your opinion goes a long way because of how you care so deeply about the things you do. You always have your friends' backs, and also always know how to make us laugh. We cannot wait to see the things you will accomplish at camp in years to come!

Lexi Zweibel – You are crazy and amazing in the best ways possible! You have a huge place in this group and everyone looks up to you! You show a perfect balance of crazy and goofy while also being a leader and a good listener. Keep getting those gaga knuckles and never stop coming back to be with the magic in the trees!

To our staff – Thank you all so much for being so amazing this summer. We would not have been able to do it without you by our side. Watching the kids admire you so much was extremely heartwarming. Thank you for all that you did for these kids this summer. It will truly be one they will remember forever! #ThankYouLink!

WOW!

What an amazing summer we had! We are so proud of all of you for what you accomplished this summer. It was so awesome getting to know all of you, and we can't wait to see you keep coming back and growing with The Realm in the years to come. Keep in touch with your staff, check up on eachother, and never stop loving camp!

WE LOVE CAMP!

BOWS

Quilldren! STOP SCROLLING THROUGH TIK TOK, DROP THOSE FIDGETS, AND STOP TAKING SNAPCHAT SELFIES AS WE TAKE A LOOK BACK AT THE BEST SUMMER OF OUR LIVES!

Remember when Marni wasn't dominating fields? Liv wasn't asking questions? Esme wasn't begging for sweets? Lila Solomon didn't have perfect hair? Sadie wasn't telling stories? Brooke wasn't dancing? When Eliana wasn't making us laugh? When Sophie wasn't being a positive queen? When Evvy wasn't smiling? When Lily was doing her math ? When Lila R wasn't being a one-hand-wonder? When Jessie wasn't going all out in activities? When Caroline C wasn't being sweet? When Emery wasn't being goofy? When Alia wasn't serving looks? When Fiona wasn't doing her skincare routine? When Carly wasn't gassy? When Adelaide wasn't dancing her heart out in the dining hall? When Alexandra didn't have a knot in her hair? When Caroline D wasn't being spunky and silly? When Daphne didn't have the best glow up of all time? WE DON'T!!!!!

This summer we welcomed Daphne, our one new camper who instantly became part of the Quill family. Remember all trickling into camp after getting covid tests shoved up our noses and immediately making you all impersonate us during backwards scavenger hunt that night? After getting our negative tests back we were finally allowed in the cabin all together and we had our first circle time of the summer. The next day we hit some of our favorite activities, but chalked all of them to play drip drip drop and cool down during the heatwave.

Remember when you watched your amazing staff get up on stage to perform our dances for the staff talent show? Can't forget about some of our crazy adventures in the water. Like that time when Brooke fell off the iceberg…ouch. Or that time when Eliana, Esme, and Marni got banned from canoeing together.

Remember our first girls camp fire in the barn? Daphne was introduced by her big sister on stage and you all screamed her name at the top of your lungs. We learned – or relearned – dining hall cheers which you all belted the next day, totally outshining boys camp. Remember that same night when Woody told Liv she could fake losing a tooth to get Sundae Sundays first? One of the best evening activities was paper bag skits when Carly spit blue cheese all over Alexandra!

Remember the Scribes coming in to wake us up for the 4th…wait the 5th?? After the 4th of July was completely rained out, we delayed for a sunnier celebration the next day. We started our day off making our banner, which we wouldn't classify as the best banner but it was definitely the most authentic. After parading around camp we went to the water balloon station and used all the water balloons intended for the entire camp! We had a great afternoon cooling off at the waterfront, but got the timing wrong with the ice cream truck. After stuffing ourselves with carnival food, we watched our fireworks from the bunk. We definitely made the most out of our other rainy days though! You all loved playing muddy SPUD and giving Carly a paddywagon. And can't forget about when Esme got water spilled on her aviator nation [cue the voice].

Certainly can't forget about the Color Run! After patiently waiting for our turn we ran all throughout camp getting color powder thrown at us. Finally we ran down to the waterfront to wash off all the color but still managed to find color in our hair and up our noses hours later! A few nights later, we went to the ODT and ate literal frozen guac with chips.

How about So You Think You Can Dance? After practicing for many days you guys killed it on stage. And then you did it a second time! And a third after some technical difficulties! You truly channelled your inner supermodels and worked that runway. We couldn't be more proud of everyone.

How about beach day? Remember spending the morning looking for rocks and other random equipment around camp in the gold rush? We may not have won but we definitely got some weird stuff around camp. Remember The Realm-a-Ritas, we can't think of a more perfect way to cool down after a long day at the waterfront. Stuffing our faces with chips, candy, and cookies at the boardwalk has to be the highlight of the day. Then we danced off our sugar high at the camp social with DJ wood, with arguably the best theme, Hawaiian.

Remember when we got to watch the junior campers show off their skills in the junior camp talent show? We also got to watch our very own Adelaide sing her heart out and Alia perform an amazing dance. We enjoyed you all singing your hearts out and dancing everydaY, but we will certainly never forget when you guys ALWAYS asked to play sneaky link…

We said emotional goodbyes to Emery, Caroline D, Jessie, and Caroline C in the pouring rain after four weeks. It was so hard to say goodbye to so many of you after we had all formed such a strong and cohesive unit over the past month. At the end of the summer we had some great evening activities! Pontooning was such a blast even after almost getting stuck in the middle of the lake. Can never beat those camp unsets. Another great EA was when we got to channel our inner Harry Potter and play quidditch! 20 points gryffindor!

Remember how anxious we were for Green & White to break? It felt like a century of us nervously listening for sirens and keeping our eyes peeled for judges. After hearing faint music being played at the waterfront you all sprinted like olympians down to mosh at the shore and watch judges come in on pontoons. We got hype for our counselor captains, and then elected our own captains and co's, Marni, Lila R, Lila S, and Eliana.

You guys gave your all and killed it on the fields and in the lake. We loved watching you all participate in the swim meet, track meet, and giant relay. On night 4, we got to watch some of our own show off their talent and hard work in the talent show. We capped Green & White athletics off with an intense tug of war and left it all on the field. We could not have been more proud of you all. Finally, we sang our hearts out on night 5 in song night and were able to come together as a group after a long 5 day war. We were so sad to see all of the judges go but excited to get back into normal camp!

Right after Green & White, we celebrated Andy Freidman's Birthday in the barn! Those of you receiving your 1st year water bottles, 3 year flags, and 5 year shirts were so excited. We got to finish off our final real evening activities with a rave with the yeomen, where you all danced your hearts outs. The next night we ate some delicious s'mores and a belted Olivia Rodrigo with a beautiful sunset in the background.

Remember the absurd amount of Sunday sundaes we got on the last day…and it was a monday?! I think the real uterus chicken was incredibly missed at the last banquet dinner, but we had enough desserts to make us happy. After Marni, Lily, and Eliana won awards, we all spent our last night together on the porch listening to music and enjoying one another's company.

And sadly, our amazing summer had to come to a close. After tears, hugs, and screams we all boarded our cars, vans, and buses and said our final goodbyes until next summer. You all are the most awesome group of girls, please dont forget about the feeling of pure, carefree joy you have in this special place. Stay in touch with one another, take care of your camp friends and check in with them over the year. We know you all will make the best arrows The Realm has ever seen, and we absolutely cannot wait to see you dominate.

Evvy Boren – There's nothing a counselor loves more than a camper who appreciates camp. Your love for camp and everyone here runs deep, and it shows. You truly epitomize that magic in the trees. Your kindness, thoughtfulness, and positive attitude do not go unnoticed. This group is so much stronger with you in it. Never change!

Lily Chibnik – Chiby! Your maturity, leveled headedness, and overall BEASTness in sports all make you stand out. By the end of the summer we saw your confidence and bubbly personality truly emerge. We appreciated how well you carried yourself. Your respectful and cool nature made us thankful to be your counselors.

Caroline Collier – We love your contagious laugh and spirit. The energy you bring to camp and this group is amazing. You did everything with a smile and we loved watching you grow into yourself this summer! We hope next year you're able to stay longer.

Sophie Deane – You're bussin'! We genuinely have never met a more positive, upbeat person [let alone a 12 year old] in our lives. Everyone should see the world through your lens. This group is lucky to have you as their friend, you hype up everyone around you and make everyone you talk to feel loved. Thanks for keeping us young with all your new slang, slay queen!!

Brooke Dery – Our little mush! You're small but mighty. Your intensity in sports is admirable but so is the love you have for your friends. Whether it's on stage or on the fields, you never give up, and your age does not seem to ever hold you back.

We can tell you fit very well into this group and are genuinely the best version of yourself at camp. Can't wait to see you kill it in years to come.

Caroline Desoe – It was a pleasure getting to know your vibrant personality this summer. It was amazing to watch your confidence and friendships grow throughout your time here. We can always count on you for a good laugh, and to be there for your friends when they need it. Keep coming back!

Jessie Heller – This summer you really blossomed into a more outgoing, funny, and resilient person. Your love for camp is undeniable and it shows! We loved watching your athleticism shine through when you gave your all in activities. Camp needs you so keep being you.

Sadie Kreindler – You never fail to entertain me with your wild stories. You truly are always there for any of your friends when they need you, that's a pretty rare trait for a girl your age. You lead with compassion and make every moment lighter with your funny jokes and remarks. Keep coming back, we can't wait to see you as a Scribe.

Daphne Leiber – Watching you grow as a person this summer was truly such an honor. You transitioned from a timid new camper to a girl who fully embraced camp and everything that came with it. It's intimidating to enter such a close knit group at your age, but you took on the challenge with ease and seamlessly added yourself to the dynamic. You radiate so much joy and your enthusiasm is infectious. Now put down that book and keep coming back to camp!

Esme Leichtling – You're a firecracker! The energy you bring to this group is unmatched. We'll miss this spirit you brought to this summer and how much you'd ask us what EA was [We'll still never tell you] and how you always looked out for your brother. Never change girl, The Realm loves you!

Alexandra London-Grant – The spunkiest girl to ever grace The Realm. You have such a presence in this group, and you always bring the energy up. You've got hours worth of hilarious and crazy stories under your belt and not to mention you are incredibly empathetic. Please keep coming back!

Eliana Mehta – We are so grateful we had the privilege of being your counselor. You never failed to make us laugh from your one liners to your impressions and your random quirks like listening to pizzeria music before bed. Please stay in touch and keep coming back because this group will always need your energy.

Fiona Mereu – It's crazy that you have only been here for two years. It feels like you've been here for so long considering how well you fit into the group. It baffled us how unstoppable you were in Green & White sports. What a legend.

Alia Meyerovich – It was amazing to see you blossom this summer. Your bubbly personality and enthusiasm to bond with a new group are all traits that everybody should strive to embody. We recognized how quickly you bonded with other campers and you certainly completed the group. We loved having you and hope you come back for years to come.

Lila Ratner – The love you have for camp is clear. You don't take any moment for granted and your spirit is so bright. Having a cast for half a summer certainly did not stop you. Although you hit some people with it along the way, the fact that you started to become skilled with your left hand showed your resilience. You're going to do great things at this camp one day so keep coming back!

Liv Robson – Billi's twin! Your hilarity was essential to the group this summer. Thank you for always being there for a good laugh or one of those funky horse neighs you make! You're a literal ray of sunshine, you never stopped smiling and that's always appreciated by counselors!

Lila Solomon – You are one of the most easygoing and positive people I know. It is clear that you and camp are a perfect match. One of the things we admire most about you is how you never fail to make your friends smile. You are truly so empathetic, and it does not go unnoticed. Never change girl!

Marni Spear – Marn barnnnnn! You understand camp and that is such a great thing to see as a counselor. The energy and positivity you bring to the table lifts your friends up and makes our job so much easier. Not to mention how skilled you are at every activity. Like what? You are the glue of the group and we are so proud of how much you have grown and matured.

Adelaide Swartz – You are such an integral part of the group but keep everyone grounded at the same time. We loved watching you flourish on the stage with your dance moves and incredible singing during the JC and Green & White Talent Show.

Emery Thompson – It was such a pleasure being your counselor. You lead with kindness in every situation which is something we really admire. Your careful nature really showed in how you carried yourself as a sibling and as a friend. Keep coming back and being your goofy self! Camp needs more people like you.

Carly Zolot – Doodlina! Wow, we love your craziness and your outgoing personality. You add so much to the group and never fail to be the light people look to for comfort. You clearly follow in your brother and sisters footsteps and share their same love for camp. We hope you continue to cherish your time here and never waste a second.

TO THE BEST STAFF EVER!

We seriously couldn't have done it without you guys. You were all so helpful and supportive. Thanks for being by our sides this whole summer. Love you guys!!

To our Quills!

We are the luckiest people in the world to have spent the last seven weeks with you all. We love each and everyone one of you and will be there for you whenever you need. You are a crazy and fun group of girls, we hope you all never change. Your love for camp is so evident and we hope to see you all leading girls camp in a few years. From constant piggy back rides, to endless fidgeting with fidget toys, and countless laughs, we can confidently say that this has been the best summer of our lives. It was such a blessing to be your group leaders and we love you all more than you know!

Lets Get It ARROWS! Get off your phones, stop watching tik tok, put down your crystal light packets, and lets relive the best summer of our lives!

Remember when Macari wasn't wearing Lululemon, Tali wasn't making a new "bestie," Sofia wasn't talking about Survivor, Sabrina wasn't nice to everyone, Bella wasn't dancing around, Chloe wasn't asking what dessert was, Annie wasn't making bracelets, Alex wasn't being a zen genius, Jael wasn't braiding hair, Alexa wasn't killing it at every sport, Kaitlyn wasn't swinging for the trees, Ellie wasn't with a Crystal Light packet, Valentina wasn't eating dairy, Ali wasn't telling stories, Sage was at the Arrow table, Clarisse wasn't hanging with myrtle , Clem wasn't uncontrollably laughing, Maya wasn't being crazy, Katherine wasn't clean, Emory wasn't Tik Tok dancing, Reagan wasn't waking everyone up, and Clara wasn't healing everyone…WE DON'T!

Birthdays! So many Arrows and staff celebrated birthdays this summer! Ellie's birthday came first, and we celebrated with a game of Hunger Games, cookie cake, and M&M pizza. Then, for Jemma's seventeen birthday, we did Human Sunday's on the slip and slide, where we filmed the virtual visiting day; she's now our dancing queen. Clarisse and Sage's birthdays were also both a lot of fun. For Clarisse's 13th, we enjoyed a sunset pontoon ride, and on Sage's birthday, we did a tower jump fashion show – both with pizza, of course. During the fashion show, we learned you could all have a career in modeling. Don't forget our Mitzvah with the Lancers to finish the celebration. For counselor Sage's birthday, we educated ourselves though watching Framing Britney Spears [What do we want…Free Brit! When do we want it…now!] while wearing our super cute birthday tiaras. We ended counselor Sage's birthday, with an exciting TPJ bombardment challenge that we may or may not have lost…For Emory's birthday, we celebrated with a cozy movie night in the lodge with pizza! Thanks to Emory's movie recommendation, we were definitely all in our feels by the end of the night. Last but not least, Izzy celebrated her 20th birthday on packing day. We were able to celebrate with one last morning PJ jump before packing up.

The night before opening day we were greeted by Clarisse, Kaitlyn, Katherine, Jael, and Tali excited for the summer ahead! We had smores with the bows and the Quills, dancing around, discussing our goals for the summer. The next morning we all woke up thrilled for the rest of the 22 Arrows to show up! As everyone arrived we had a fun day filled with crafts, gaga, and spud. Once everyone had arrived we played a get to know you game in the gaga pit stomping on balloons stuffed with fun facts. Remember how everytime we tried to tie a balloon it would pop! That night we all sat in a circle eating starburst while stargazing gushing over our enthusiasm for the rest of the summer! Your staff was so beyond thrilled for your arrival and it was the best feeling to have bunk 5 filled with smiles and laughter.

It was so fun as a staff to show you guys our talent! From the leadership to the FYA and specialty dances, it's safe to say that our talent does not quite compare to that of the Arrows, it was not "On the Floor."

The First Camp Fire rolled around, and all of our new campers [Sage, Clementina, Kaitlyn, Macari, Emory, and Chloe] were introduced to Girls' camp by their big sisters.

Remember the 4th of July? We started the morning off with the Scribes running through the bunk, blasting music. During the 4th of July, wait actually the 5th of July, we were able to celebrate America through the Scraxon's crazy carnival. Who knew that ring pops were great wedding bands? We showed off our artistic abilities with our poster during the parade and showed off our spirit with our funky outfits. We played on the inflatables, had a beach party, enjoyed carnival games, and ate way too much fried dough. We finished the day off by challenging the lancers to a game of gaga. We may have not won, but we definitely had fun!

Remember the Color Run! You all killed it giving your all. After running through all the colorful powder we finished the event off with a swim in the waterfront! We all looked like crazy green monsters! To finish the morning off we headed over to the ODT to play card games and hang out. It is one of our favorite places on camp and spending time there as a group is something we cherish as a staff.

So You think You Can Dance was an exciting night, where we got to show off our amazing dancing skills. Everyone really got into "On the Floor," Tali as Pitbull and Valentina as JLo really committed to their parts, and you all expertly lifted Maya up in the air. You guys killed it! It was so fun seeing everyone else's dance too, although I'm not sure if they compare to our performance.

Beach day arrived where we started the morning off with a gold rush! You all gave it your all looking for all the "gold." After a fun-filled morning, we spent the afternoon on inflatables, having a water balloon toss, and spending lots of time at the waterfront. And we can't forget about the Realm-a-Ritas.

Three and a half weeks passed by, and sadly we had to say goodbye to Kaitlyn, Clem, Ali, Bella, Valentina, and Alexa. We finished off the first session with a group sleepover on the porch, pizza, and Snapple caps. Definitely one of our favorite nights of the summer!

The Anticipation towards Green & White was crazy! Remember how we were scared to go in the water because we thought it was going to break? Chloe you were right, it did break on the 30th! The Bon Jovi cover band and limos filled with judges really got the war off to an exciting start.

Led by Katherine and Clara on Green and Ellie and Alex on the white team, all of you truly shinned throughout the war. We were genuinely impressed by your sportsmanship and ability to support each other regardless of the competition going on around you.

After Green & White, we went back to our regularly scheduled activities. How lucky were we to get pontoons for a third time on our last day? We also enjoyed our last two EAs, paper plate scavenger hunt and LARPing + s'mores. We gained some wisdom through listening to the Scribe speeches and enjoyed one last banquet on Awards night. Fortunately, we were treated with Monday Sunday's and brownie Sunday's in addition to M&M PVD cookies on our last day. Before heading to bed, we appreciated one another's company in the rink. Listening to sad music and shedding a few tears, we knew Arrow summer had come to an end. We wouldn't have wanted it any other way.

We cannot wait to see you storm The Realm next summer as Bards 2022 and eventually Scribes 2024.

Macari Allyn – It's amazing how easily you became a part of this group. It's clear you've found a home here, and have made life long friends. Please keep coming back, camp needs people like you.

Tali Avivi – You are a ball of energy! Your bubbly personality and positive outlook is crucial to the group. You are someone that people can confide in, a true friend to everyone. Camp is your place, and it's evident.

Sofia Bea – You are truly one of the sweetest people! You are so kind-hearted and look out for everyone in the group, which is so admirable. Please keep coming back because you are a camp person through and through

Bella Biondo – Your energy is contagious, your fun loving spirit always puts a smile on everyone's face and keeps everyone entertained. There's no one as crazy and funny as you, and we missed that enthusiasm! Camp is your place, so please keep coming back!

Sabrina Bruder – You are truly one of the sweetest girls we've ever met. It's clear that you stick up for your friends and always have a good time doing it. Can't wait to see you continue to grow and be an amazing Scribe one day.

Chloe Buckle – We love how creative and fun you are. You were constantly stepping out of your comfort zone and blowing us away with your sketches. Keep coming back so you can enjoy infinite camp brownies!

Annie Cowan – You are such a kind and considerate person. It was clear you made the most of every moment here and weren't afraid to try something new. Please keep coming back! This group needs your calm and sweet personality.

Alex D'Alessio – Our aura queen! You are mature beyond your years and are such a positive person in the group. You are such a supportive group member, and it's clear that you get camp. We know you are going to accomplish incredible things at and beyond camp.

Jael Ferrua – You are truly one of the coolest people. Your kind demeanor and positive attitude are especially appreciated, and you are somehow able to make everyone feel welcome no matter the activity. Keep being you!

Alexa Heller – You are a beast. We appreciate your can-do attitude and how you go hard at everything you do. You are a kind and compassionate friend which is beyond admirable.

ARROWS

Kaitlyn Hescock – Your fun-loving spirit brings so much to the group! We love how thoughtful and kind you are to each and everyone. You always kept an open mind and had a positive outlook, which as a staff we appreciated so much.

Ellie Hoglund – Camp is your happy place, and it's clear that camp plays such a huge part of who you are! Your passion and spirit shows through everything you do. You are such a great friend to everyone and such an integral part of this group.

Valentina Jaramillo – You keep everyone smiling and having a good time. Your laughter is truly infectious and you're genuinely so sweet. Please keep coming back because the group and camp needs more people like you.

Ali Lerner – We constantly find ourselves peeing [lol] as we laugh at your hilarious stories and infectious humor. Please come back next summer; this group thrives off of your positive energy.

Sage Lipton – You always bring so much energy and spirit to everything you do. It's clear how much of a presence you have in the group and we can't wait to see you become an incredible Scribe one day.

Clarisse Moucha – There is no one like you! You are your own person; crazy, silly, and kind. We can always rely on you to put a smile on everyone's face and bring the energy up. Keep sticking true to yourself.

Clementina Pauly – Clem! Thank you for always being so kind and considerate. You constantly keep us laughing and always have a hilarious story to tell. It is so clear how quickly you meshed with the group, and how much you truly love camp.

Maya Rosenberg – Maya, you are one of a kind! Your outgoing and silly personality is important to the group. I admire how you constantly remain positive and look out for your friends. Camp is your place.

Katherine Schmidt – You are truly an angel! We thank you for always being someone that we can rely on as well as your friends. You are mature beyond your years, and have such a bubbly way about yourself. Please keep coming back because camp needs more people like you.

Emory Sears – Eemory! You are such a free spirit and fun loving person. Seeing your dance moves never fails to brighten our day. You really found your place at camp, and this group needs your energy and quirks. #H2Ogo

Reagan Van Horn – We are constantly so impressed by your maturity and ability to care for others. You are a loyal friend, and we always admire your ability to go hard in any activity we play. Keep doing you!

Clara Yager – Seeing you laugh always puts a smile on our faces. Whether it be your dance moves or your constant positivity, you never fail to brighten up the group. It was amazing watching you thrive this summer, and I know you will be an incredible Scribe one day.

To Our Staff – We couldn't have done this summer without any of you. You all have an amazing ability to care for kids all while being incredible people. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. We love you!

ARROWS 2021/ SCRIBES 2024

Thank you guys so much for making this summer so special! All of you have something so incredible that you bring to the group, and I can't wait to see you all making a lasting impact on this place.

BARDS III

Put down your embroidery, stop trading hotty-hots, and get your disposable cameras out to capture this re-cap of the best summer ever.

Remember When:

- Grape wasn't wearing her plaid PJ pants?
- Gill wasn't throwing her head to the side and tossing up a peace sign?
- Erin wasn't sinking every basketball she shot?
- Noa didn't have the biggest smile on her face?
- Meadow wasn't being a beast in everything she did?
- Amanda wasn't sketching some amazing design like it was nothing?
- Cami wasn't vlogging on her Go Pro?
- Ruby wasn't curled up in her covers when it was time for morning benches?
- Ava Charney wasn't requesting Just My Luck or Confident?
- Mandy wasn't making the most random yet hilarious comments?
- Lola wasn't making everyone's day brighter with her huge smile?
- Ivy wasn't being an absolute tennis queen?
- Bee wasn't coming up with the best comebacks
- Sam wasn't nose deep in a book?
- Seven wasn't putting together the cutest outfits?
- Ceci wasn't passing around her volleyball?
- Juba wasn't wearing hardtail shorts?
- Hannah wasn't trading hotty-hots?
- Madeline wasn't being a fast-pitch queen?
- Aliyah wasn't cracking us all up?
- Asha's area was clean?
- Abby wasn't eating something making her tongue blue?
- Eliza wasn't whipping out crazy dance moves?
- Addie wasn't playing one of her fire playlists?
- Lyla wasn't dominating volleyball?
- Ava Serafino wasn't being a VSCO girl?
- Nora wasn't doing embroidery?
- Linsul wasn't looking trendy?
- Natalia wasn't lighting up a room?
- Audrey Warren wasn't being a female empowerment queen?

Who remembers getting a nice stick up the nose from Arash? It might not have been the most pleasant feeling, but it was all worth it to form our COVID free bubble once again! Once you all arrived, our very first activity was waterfront and you all dominated your four laps [admittedly, much more difficult than we remembered]. For our first EA we went to the new ODT and played a great game of fishbowl and made s'mores. That game really gave us a glimpse into your sense of humor, and from that moment on we knew it was going to be a great summer. We started camp off strong with Staff Talent Night where you got to see that your staff can do much more than play a mediocre game of Gaga.

Remember how you were just getting to know us and you had to watch us dance to Mickey Mouse on stage with Herma in a hot dog suit? We also saw Kyla, Perin, and Casey's amazing dance skills in the Waterfront and FYA numbers. Girls Camp got to finally come together for the first time since last summer with our first Camp Fire of the summer. Not only did we get to meet all of the new girls in camp, but we also learned all the words to our Bard anthem Christopher Robin. If it wasn't for that first camp fire I can't imagine what song you guys would've sang as you ran away from us to protest. Remember when we had our spectacular Fourth of July celebration with the Scraxons? We had our traditional not-so-pleasant wake up provided by the Scribes before slipping into all of our over the top 4th gear. From the slip-n-slides to candy-ring marriages to scavenging for the last ice cream sandwiches, we had so much fun that day. Let's also not forget when Madeline pitched at the Home Run Derby and struck out Landy; we were all so proud of her. Remember the infamous color run? We had our perfectly white shirts from beach day and got them nice and colorful during the run. However, I think right before the run when we serenaded the whole camp with Christopher Robin in DJ Wood's mic was the best part.

Who remembers So You Think You Can Dance? Who knew Final Countdown, Grammarly, and Superbass would be the best collab ever. It was incredible to see how creative and talented your group is as you created the best dance of the summer. Shoutout to our dance speciality Rylan for her amazing moves #radiorebel. You guys worked so hard to create the dance and then practice it to perfection; it all paid off when every single counselor told us how amazing it was. After nailing it the first time, the parents got to see it on the livestream. I'm sure they were just as proud as we were. Although we didn't quite make it to Ogunquit this year, we still got to enjoy a classic Robin Hood Beach Day. The Scraxons put on an amazing boardwalk where we started our day with googly eye rings, candy, and Realm-a-Ritas. It's pretty safe to say we all got brain freeze from inhaling our Island Girl slushies. We spent the rest of the day throwing water balloons, jousting on inflatables, and enjoying the beauty of Ossipee's Bay 2.

BARDS

With the first session coming to a close, we had to say goodbye to some of our beautiful groupmates, but we didn't stay down because the excitement of Green & White kept our energy high in the second half.

Remember the night that Green & White actually broke? It may have taken an entire week of anxiously running at every loud sound, but it was worth the wait. Gill and Ivy were ready with their GoPros to capture the whole experience, of course. We all got to sprint from dinner to the waterfront to see the best Bon Jovi cover band that Ossipee has ever seen.

We then welcomed the judges back at the barn where we had our final moments of being one big Bard fam. The next five days the great Electric Green Bards and the Bards of the mighty White Phoenix went head to head. Everyone fought so hard for the next five days, both teams should be so proud of themselves. From 9 square to swim meet, you guys kept the intensity high while retaining good sportsmanship. By the end of Song night, we were all so happy to come back together as one group and finish the summer together.

We took Lazy Day very seriously as we had the morning free to hang out with each other and then enjoyed New Moon in the afternoon. We're all team Edward, right? That night all of camp came together for Founders Night. We all cheered each other on as our groupmates received their 3-year flags and 5 year shirts. It was such a great way for us all to come back together and celebrate our time at The Realm.

For the final days of camp, we continued to play hard in all our activities, create hilarious nicknames for each other, and sing Christopher Robin too many times. You guys ended the summer how we started it – with so much energy and a contagious love for each other as well as camp. The whole Bard staff was so incredibly grateful to spend the summer with each and every one of you. Every day we spent with the Bards made us fall in love with camp over and over again. You guys are the future of The Realm and not only are we so proud of how you guys killed it this summer, but we are 'so excited to see you guys lead Girls Camp in the coming years. Camp is in good hands with the 31 of you, and all we have left to say is we love you to the stars on the quad and back.

Amanda Ballas – You are truly one of the sweetest people I have ever met. Your personality is so genuine and you are so wise beyond your years. You are so talented and I admire how hard you always work. It is clear how much you love camp, and I know this group loves you even more. P.s. I can't wait for the day I find your art hanging in museums next to Picasso's.

Julia Baumoel – Jubaaa! You are one amazing, crazy gal and we can't get enough of it. You manage to be the goofiest person while simultaneously acting as the companion that everyone can turn to. You may be a year younger than the group, but your maturity level says otherwise. You are an amazing asset to this group. Never stop putting smiles on everyone's faces! Camp is your place.

Eliza Bloom – Oh how happy I am that you decided to return this summer. This group is not the same without you and your presence in the group is nothing but positive. I can tell how much you love camp and I know you'll be back for years to come. You have a big future here and I can't wait to watch it firsthand. Love you!

Lola Boudreau – Just like Anjali said, you are the sweetest girl we have ever met. Your smile and infectious laugh are always brightening everyone's day. Not only are you the sweetest, but you also bring so much amazing energy to everything you do. Every one moment spent with you is a happy one. The Realm needs more people like you.

Meadow Brunelli – You are a fierce, confident queen. Your energy of strength and self assurance fills every room you walk into and inspires others to have the same. You give your all in every activity and constantly impress all speciality staff who get to witness it. It was amazing to watch you kill it in Green & White. You're a great friend to the girls in your group and the Bards would not be the same without you. We all love you so much and can't wait to see all you do here at camp!

Abby Carneal – Where to begin with you and your craziness. Your presence in the group has grown so strong and I've loved watching every minute of it. You are a camp person through and through and I can't wait to see you thrive for summers to come. Please keep coming back.

BARDS

Ava Charney – Your craziness, kindness, and genuine spirit all make you easily adored by everyone you meet. You have a personality and an aura that fills every room you enter which makes you into a natural leader wherever you go. We all admire you for your inclusive nature and the way you are always there for those who need someone to lean on. The Bards would not be the same without you and your dance parties in the mirror. Remember to always be true to yourself and prioritize yourself when needed!

Seven Danziger – You are truly hilarious and I can't count the number of times that you've made us all laugh until our stomachs hurt. You always know how to lighten the mood and lift everyone up. You're a great friend to everyone in the group by making everyone feel heard and appreciated. We're gonna miss you and you're amazing fashion sense. We can't wait to see all the amazing things you do at camp and in the real world.

Rebecca Ger – You came into this summer uncertain of how things would go, but with your huge heart and your courage, you dove in head first. It was so amazing to watch all the progress you made over the summer as you reentered the group and made the most of your time here. We all admired the way that you were unapologetically yourself at all times, and we hope you never lose that. Remember that you're on your own journey and everything will come together when it's meant to. We love you!

Noa Goldman – Everybody needs a Noa Goldman in their life. You are an amazing friend, incredible sport, and all around a great camper. You know how to put a smile on anyone's face, or how to be a shoulder to cry on when someone needs it. We all look up to you and I know you're going to do great things as you move up through camp and life.

Audrey Gore – Grape, our favorite DJ. Even though it took you a minute to learn our names, we can't help but to just love you. You move in your own way and make sure to always be yourself regardless of what's going on. It was so cool to see how you branched out this summer and made so many close friends in the group. Our only advice to you is to throw yourself into everything you do here; camp already loves you and all you have left to do is fully love it back. So play that volleyball game, dance at that meal, and sing at the top of your lungs until you can't imagine yourself ever leaving this place. We love you!

Lauren Insul – Linsul! I am so glad I finally had the opportunity to have you as a camper this summer. You are so amazing in every way, from your hilarious comments to your kind heart, you bring so much to the group. It is so evident in everything you do that camp loves you and you love it back. I'm so happy you came this summer and I hope you're back for years to come. Love you!

Madeline Jennings – You wonderful human! Being your counselor has been such a privilege. Watching you grow this summer has been one of the best things. Your kindness is so admirable and you truly make an effort with each and every member of the group. You are a leader and it doesn't go unnoticed. Keep coming back, this group needs you and so does The Realm.

Asha Kumar – Ashaaa my girl. Your energy and laughter has the power to light up any room you walk into. You have such an important role in this group and I know every single girl can count on you when they need a friend. You embody The Realm and your love for camp shows. Love you so much.

Erin Lowe – Wake up EE!! Our sporty queen, your down-to-earth nature is exactly what this group needs. You help to ground everyone with your genuine spirit. This group loves you and needs you more than you'll ever know. Keep coming back, The Realm has so much to offer you.

Bee McAlister-Rogers – Bronwyn, where to begin with you. Your genuine personality is perfectly balanced by your hilarious and sassy personality. Not only are you an integral part of the Bards, but your close relationships with the girls outside your group was amazing to see this summer. It's clear that everyone on camp sees how special you truly are.

Cami Merino Martinez – It was so amazing to watch you come out of your shell at the beginning of camp to become the sweet and hilarious Cami that we all know and love. You are one of the easiest people to talk to that I've ever met – you are so naturally kind and have so many interesting stories that we all love to hear about. Getting to know you and learning about your passions alongside knowing Cass was such an honor. I can't wait until the day I'm wearing a Cami Couture original. I hope The Realm gets to see you for many years to come, the rest of the world can wait! Love you sista!

Natalia Navarro – You amazed us this summer by how effortlessly you fit into the Bards. This was all because you are so sweet, funny, and genuine. Even if we didn't realize it before, this group had always been missing the final piece to the big Bard puzzle, and it was you. Your camp career is only getting started and we couldn't be more excited for what's to come.

Ivy Olynick – It was so amazing for us to get to know you this summer. You're a massive part of the group and it's no surprise why. Not only does everyone admire how kind and genuine you are, but you're constantly brightening every room you walk into. You always know how to have a good time and make anyone laugh. Keep coming back, I don't know where this group would be without you!

Sam Porres – Our resident librarian – you need to give me some book recommendations asap. You are the perfect blend of maturity and youthful energy. You know when to stay level headed and mellow, but you always come in at the perfect time to supply the Bards with some crazy, fun energy that they need to hype them up. Camp and everyone in it loves you so much already, keep coming back and keep building that relationship with The Realm that you already have. We love you!

Mandy Rosenfeld – Manderz! It was so incredible getting to know you this summer. You play such an integral role in this group and you are simply adored by everyone you meet. I've always admired how talented you are, yet how humble you remain. I know you love camp, and camp loves you back. Soak in all the time you have left here – love you!

Gillian Rosenstock – Gill Pickle! You bring so much energy and spirit to everything you do, and it's infectious. There isn't a person in this camp that you can't make laugh, which is one of the many reasons that everyone in the Bards absolutely adores you. We can't wait to see you move through camp to become a Shire and then a Scribe!!! We know you'll always be killing it. Make sure to embrace every little moment of camp because the more you do, the more you'll come to appreciate all that camp is.

Hannah Rothenberg – This camp is so lucky to have you. Your love for The Realm is so apparent and I know you're going to continue the camp's lasting legacy. From your witty humor to your compassion for others, you astound me every day. You are an amazing camper but a great friend to all – I'm gonna miss your nighttime stories. P.S. you rock a banana suit better than anyone.

BARDS

Addie Russo – You amaze me every day. You are such a cool unique person. You have every reason to be full of yourself, yet you remain so humble. From your talents on the fields, to your wisdom beyond your years, and your impeccable music taste – you truly are an incredible camper. I know how much you love camp and I don't want you to forget that.

Ava Serafino – Pernnniiii, I don't even know where to start. You are a beautiful person inside and out. Your constant laughter is contagious and you truly know how to light up a room. Every girl on this bunk can use you as a shoulder to cry on, or to get a good laugh – and that says a lot about you. Camp needs you, so keep coming back. I love you!

Ceci Skala – I'm so glad I got to spend my summer with the third [and coolest] Skala sister. Thank you for being such a kind, genuine friend to everyone around you. I admire your constant positivity and laughter. I can't tell you how great it has been to be your counselor and watch you thrive. Wouldn't wanna share an area with anyone else!

Lyla Tower – LT! You are a superstar. There's no other way to put it. Anything we ask, you do – and you never give anyone a hard time. I don't think anyone could say something bad about you if they tried. You're such a natural leader and I know this group looks up to you. I admire how talented you are and how modest you remain. I don't have to say "keep coming back" because I know you will. Love you!

Aliyah Turcotte – You are the funniest person we've ever met. You brought so much happiness and laughter into the group every single day; there really is no dull moment with you. Aside from your amazing humor, you have a genuine kindness and strength in you that shines through in everything you do. Keep coming back, The Realm has so much more to offer to you.

Audrey Warren – Your greatest strengths are your maturity and grace. You move with intention and when you walk into a room, everyone notices. The Bards and our staff all look up to you for your wisdom which goes beyond your years. Although you may not be the loudest of the group, your calming presence is always felt by those around you. We can't wait to see all the amazing things you do as you move through camp and life.

Nora Wildman – Oh Nora you crazy girl. From your in-bunk arts & crafts studio to your sassy comments, you always know how to put a smile on my face. I've always admired the sense of independence you retain while still meshing so well with the group. You truly are one of a kind, and anyone who doesn't have a Nora Wildman in their life is missing out.

Ruby Wildman – You're simply so fun to be around. You're always making us laugh, telling us a crazy story, or just giving off some good vibes. It was amazing to see how close you are with the girls in this group. You're versatile in everything you do, and the way that you can get along with everyone is the perfect example. Remember to embrace camp as much as possible; this place loves you so much, make sure to soak it all in!

To our staff – How did we get so lucky? We could not have done this summer without you guys. Your constant positive energy and laughter was so essential to making this summer what it was. There was no better selection of people to run this group. You were put in a challenging position and you all stepped up to the plate and exceeded our expectations. We know you guys will be some of our best friends in The Realm forever. We love you guys beyond!

To the BARDS!!!

Every one of you was another reason for us to fall in love with camp all over again. You gave us an amazing summer filled with moments that we could never forget. We hope you know that your group not only impacted us so deeply, but you also left your mark on The Realm. During the year we'll reminisce on all the amazing days we had, and we'll all be back together before we know it.

Shires, Shires! Do I have your attention?

Put down the beads, turn your fairy lights off, get off the hammocks, throw on your rain boots, remember your count off numbers, and get ready to relive the most incredible summer ever.

Our summer together began on opening day as you each rolled into camp with excitement in your eyes yet shock on your faces when you found out I was your Group Leader. What a pleasant surprise for the both of us. We welcomed our new friends Allie, Chloe and Daniela into the group and they fit perfectly into our new Shire crew. Sasha joined us the very next day, thus completing our family and marking the very beginning of what would soon be considered the best summer of our lives. Your energy, love for camp, and each other was evident from that first night that consisted of s'mores and a dance party at the ODT, followed by talking about our hopes and dreams for the summer. Remember Barbara's iconic speech? She really gave us the advice we needed to take The Realm by storm. And we definitely did.

In no time, our masks were off and camp was in full swing and we were out on the fields cherishing every moment. You brought so much spirit to everything you did and your passion for The Realm shined in every activity. Remember when Alex historically hit trees? We are indebted to the video man for getting everyone's reaction on camera. It was then when I knew that you guys were the most remarkable group of girls on camp – you all came together in excitement to support your friend and her amazing accomplishment. It was not long after when you did the same for Linley as her name joined Alex's on the board.

Our excitement carried into one of our first EAs with the waterslides. We may have been a little too excited that night, as it ended with Maddie, Sam Sol, and Ivy stuck in the fallen corkscrew. One at a time next time, people!

Remember when your staff danced on stage? My hot dog dance was definitely a great first impression for you all.

The rain was no match for our first girls camp fire. Despite being in the barn, you guys still showed girls camp what amazing Shires you were by introducing your little sisters, making them feel right at home as you sang along to "House at Pooh Corner" and cheered to "Can You Freak It."

Who needs the 4th of July when you can have the 5th of Ju-Shi!?! Just like girls camp fire, the rain did not stop our spirits as we got hype on the 5th instead, celebrating with a parade, casino games in the barn, slip n slide, carnival food, and a lit beach party.

Remember the color run? We ran around camp, from the barn to the waterfront getting color thrown on us at every turn. We ended up in the lake to wash it off, even though we still had color all over us.

There is no doubt that we caught everyone's "attention" with our performance at So You Think You Can Dance. The countless practices paid off as Woody said it himself, it was the best dance he has ever seen performed at camp. You guys killed it, and I'll brag about it forever. Speaking of dancing, remember how hard we went at the social, sponsored by Robin Hood's own DJ Wood? You all looked beautiful in your forest green outfits. May the tradition live on!

We brought Ogunquit to the shores of Lake Ossipee for the second consecutive year. We spent our day swimming, winning prizes at the boardwalk, playing with water balloons, and sipping on Realm-a-Ritas.

Remember all of our challenges this summer? Deciding to challenge the Yeomen in gaga was one of our more spontaneous decisions of the summer. The game was best of 3 in our hearts. Let's just say…at least we were the fun team. We also had a blast playing volleyball against the Foresters. Props to the C team for being victorious, you guys crushed it.

We had some more pretty fun EAs throughout the summer, like LARPing, pajama jumping, synchronized swimming with the tumbies, Shire fight songs, and our emotional scavenger hunt!

As we approached the 4 week mark, it became time to say goodbye to Sasha and Natalie. We ended the first session with snapple caps where you guys all wrote such thoughtful notes to each other. It quite literally brought me to tears. We then treated ourselves to M&M pizza while reminiscing on what an amazing first half of the summer it had been.

While the first chapter of the summer came to an end, another one began – the hype for Green & White. Remember how everyday that week we were convinced that it was breaking? I don't think I have ever experienced that much Green & White anticipation in all of my 11 years at Robin Hood. While we patiently waited for the war, we continued to live our lives at camp to the fullest.

Who could forget Make Your GL laugh? Millie's legendary loon impression made every GL spit out their water in no time, easily crowning you the title of the funniest group on camp. Remember when we watched one of many movies of the summer, The Great Gatsby? It definitely took you guys a minute to understand what was going on, but by the end of the movie you guys loved it. The next day, when Green & White STILL had not broken, we got lucky enough to go out of camp to White Lake Speedway for some mini golf and go-karting fun with the foresters. After we got back, we painted the rink as a token of our love to camp.

Then, finally, that one fateful dinner arrived, and we knew it was time. One minute we were in the dining tent and the next we were sprinting to the waterfront only to find Walmart Bon Jovi and the first year judges declaring the commencement of Robin Hood's 94th consecutive color war. Up to the barn we went where we greeted more judges in limousines and were told who the six counselor captains were. You guys chose your captains, we picked the bean the next morning, and the war between the Mighty White Phoenix and the Great Electric Green began.

For the duration of the five day war, you all displayed the utmost level of sportsmanship, intensity, and spirit like I knew you would. It was so fun watching you compete against each other whether it was on the fields or on the stage for talent show. You left everything out on the fields, and when song night ended, our family was finally reunited.

Our final days together quickly snuck up on us. From not-so-sundae human sundaes to stargazing, we continued to make the most of the fleeting moments we had left in The Realm. And not a minute was wasted. So while now we are at home, accompanied only by these books and our memories rather than each other, we have a lot to be grateful for. I would do just about anything to do it all over again. Thank you for the best summer ever.

Jana Alzkazemi – My musical genius and inspiration! Despite taking a summer off, your love for camp was evident from the moment I met you. Because of that love, your re-entry into the group and camp was easy. From braiding hair to playing the piano, is there anything you can't do? You're hilarious and thoughtful and know just how to make anyone feel special. I can't wait to see where your camp career takes you.

Rya Avivi – Rydog! What a ball of energy you are. You are bubbly, sweet, happy-go-lucky, and your spirit is contagious. You're curious and are always thinking outside the box. You are unapologetically yourself and it is clear that you inspire others to be the same way. I know you were nervous to be back at camp at first, but it quickly became clear that you made the right choice. Never lose sight of that spirited and genuine side of you – there aren't many people like you in the world and at camp.

Ellie Bedard – Coming back for a second summer, you quickly found your place right back in this group. You entered camp this summer with a more shy personality, and I was so happy to see you leave The Realm as a confident, silly, and caring girl who formed bonds with everyone in the group. Getting to know you this summer was awesome and I loved watching you learn more about camp and learn to appreciate it every day.

Alex Benson – You straight up live and breathe camp. From the minute I saw you on opening day you instantly brought a unique energy that I knew was a crucial part of this group. You always do the right thing and go above and beyond what is expected of you. You are such a genuine friend to all and what is best for everyone in your life and that shows in everything you do. I'm so excited to watch you continue to make an impact on camp.

Daniela Bogen – Despite your late entry into this group, you went with the flow and effortlessly found your way. You hold yourself with utmost character and I can't thank you enough for being such a positive member of the Shires. This group appreciates your presence so much and is better as a whole because of it. I was so proud to see you thrive over your time at camp and was so happy to get to know you. Can't wait to see you back next summer.

Maddie Dennig – An absolute ray of sunshine. From your constant [and amazing] hugs to obsessing over Taylor Swift with me, you emanate light and joy wherever you go. Your bubbly and fun-loving personality make you such a positive part of this group. I hope you never forget how special you are and how much happiness you bring to everyone with that unforgettable smile. You're going to accomplish so much at camp!

Linley Grosman – It's the little things about camp that make it so special and you have an appreciation for every single one of them. You're cool, calm, and collected and know camp like the back of your hand. While I know this summer was a change for you, you embraced it and sought out to find the positives in everything and I admire that. You have a certain respect towards The Realm that not many people have. I hope you continue to value the little things about this place, camp needs more people like you!

Avery Johnston – You're such a cheerful person and you can always bring up the group's spirit. You are outstanding and continuously impress me every single day with your camaraderie and friendly disposition. I am so proud of your ability to try everything you could and your cheerfulness day after day kept everyone smiling. Everyone looks up to your optimistic attitude about life and I am so lucky to have spent the summer with someone as happy and big-hearted as you.

Chloe Leiber – A new addition with spunk and wit – the perfect mixture for this crazy group of girls. You came into camp with the perfect mindset and gave this place everything you had to offer from the get-go. You have such an incredible amount of confidence and spirit that I know will take you so far in this place. I loved watching you get to know camp and see your love for it emerge. I can't wait to hang out in LA!

Dani Lynch – When I think of you, I think of your kindness. You have a heart of gold and a soul that shines – everyone looks to you for your warmth and care. You are such a loving individual and I am so happy to have met you. You have a genuine love for those around you and have a unique gift of finding the good in everything and everyone you meet. Don't forget how special you are and how much of an impact you have on others. Never change, the group would not be the same without you.

Sophie Mooney – It is evident what a place you have in this group. You are an upbeat leader and your energy is infectious. You're loyal and passionate about everything you do, especially Gaga against the yeomen! Your maturity and wisdom yet fun-loving attitude is what makes you so special. Always remember that people respect you and care about what you have to say, so don't take that for granted. With that in mind, I know you are going to make an amazing Scribe.

Millie Nathanson – Oh, Mil Nay. To know you is to love you. You are wise beyond your years and it is obvious to anyone how much you love and understand this place. I see so much of myself in you from the way that you interact with your friends to just your enthusiasm for camp. You are a leader, a friend, and the glue which holds this group together. You have a special ability to cheer someone up in any given situation; you know when to approach something with just the right amount of humor or just the right amount of thoughtfulness. Plus, you are the best loon that this camp has ever seen. Camp needs you forever, so never let it go.

Allie Perlman – Even though you entered this crazy group of girls later than most, you were instantly at home amongst them. I loved watching you blossom and grow comfortable with camp and this group. You are incredibly respectful, silly, and just a true joy to be around. Your ability to laugh at every situation is admirable, never lose that smile that is always on your face. Thank you for being you.

Sasha Ponsky – You came to camp completely unsure of what to expect but you left with a complete sense of what The Realm is like. You tested your limits and broke out of your comfort zone all with a smile on your face. I'm so happy you joined this group this summer. Please keep coming back – I know you will only grow to love this place more. P.S. I'll never forget your signature paper fingers!

Iris Razo – You are so sweet and caring to everyone you meet. You are talkative, curious, and enthusiastic, all characteristics that make you a great friend. You speak freely and thoughtfully and always make the right decisions. You constantly put yourself out there and your confidence and outgoing nature is truly admirable. It is evident how much you care about everyone in the group and I can tell how much you love this place.

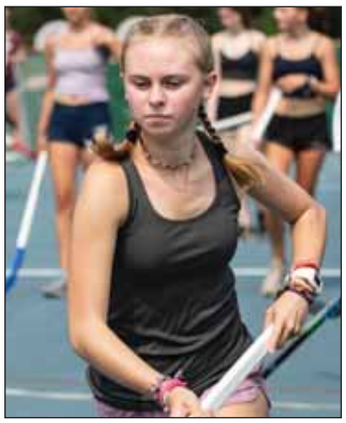

Leilani Schwartz – Your music choices, while sometimes questionable, truly epitomize your personality: loud and unapologetically you. I strongly admire your ability to always say what is on your mind and speak your truth. You also always bring a sense of comic relief wherever you go – you make the group laugh like no other and our summer days would be dull without you. You radiate confidence and that is a trait that will not only take you very far in this place, but also in life. Your energy gives you such an important role in this group. Never forget that.

Ivy Sobel – Hey girl. Iverz, saying I am so happy you came back to camp this summer would be an understatement. Your return to The Realm after a few years off was a seamless one. You immediately became a friend to everyone and your constant positive attitude is so appreciated by everyone around you. You never failed to amaze me this summer from your epic comeback to your skilled athleticism. You are such an amazing camper through and through. Camp, and the world, need more people like you.

Betsy Solomon – BetSol! You are genuinely the sweetest girl I have ever had the privilege of knowing. You light up every room you walk into and never fail to put a smile on anyone's face. Whether it be your array of accents or beautiful singing, I was constantly amazed by you this summer. You carry yourself with such grace and poise from which we all could learn. Your uplifting and warmhearted nature makes you an asset to this group.

Sam Solomon – Where do I begin? You are just everything and more. Whether it's dancing your heart out on stage, harmonizing with Betsy, or being a great friend, you're a woman of many talents! You truly amazed me every single day. You have such high energy and a hype spirit that makes you stand out among the crowd. Camp is definitely your place to shine, so keep coming back and keep being you.

Natalie Spear – I am so happy you came back to camp this summer. If I could choose one word to describe you it would be compassionate. You are genuine, kind, and selfless and embody those qualities in all that you do. It is so evident how much you care about everyone around you. You are amazingly self-aware at only 15. It was such a privilege to get to know you this summer and watch your love for camp grow more than you thought it possibly could. Keep doing you. You are extraordinary.

Samantha Stratman – From the moment I saw you in the driver's seat when you drove into camp on opening day, I knew that you were a force to be reckoned with. I truly mean it when I say it – you are one of a kind. You have such a spunky attitude and your spirit carries. You always know how to have fun and make the best out of any situation. It is clear how much camp means to you and how much you mean to camp. Thanks for the countless hugs and raspberries.

Olivia Wahlstedt – My fierce and confident queen. Everything you do comes from your heart. You strutted into camp this summer ready to take it on no matter what got in the way. Despite your angry look when I think you are mad at me, you always know how to make me laugh or put a smile on my face. You're positive, strong, and self-assured, and it is clear that you have a love and understanding for The Realm like no other. You are an integral part of this group both as a leader and a friend to all.

Mary Webb – Your quiet personality is reversed when you are fully engaged in camp and this group; you are loud and witty and have the most-lowkey, hilarious sense of humor. When you're not immersed in your many books, you spend your time being there for each of your friends. It was so amazing to see the bonds you have created at camp that I know are going to last you a lifetime. Everyone enjoys your presence and you are going to thrive even more in The Realm as time goes on!

Eve Weiner – My fellow Swiftie! You are hands down one of the funniest people I have ever met. Your humor is unmatched and you totally get camp. I could tell that after taking a year off your presence was very much missed in this group. I'm so glad I got to know you and watch you become such a leader here. You have the ability to unite the group in turmoil which is a rare gift. Keep coming back, I wouldn't want to discuss the James/Betty/August love triangle with anyone else.

To my staff, Grace and Barbara – I would not have made it without you guys. I could not have gotten luckier to be surrounded by people who always had my back and were willing to do anything for the best interest of the group. You did more than I could have dreamed and helped me in ways I did not know I needed. You have impacted these kids so much and I can't even begin to explain how important you are to them. From the bottom of my heart, thank you.

To My Shires –

While neither of us were expecting each other, it would not be a proper Shire summer without a Shire surprise. I would not have had it any other way. I cannot say I have ever met more fun, unique, and kind individuals. You are an incredible group of girls with so many diverse personalities, but come together as one cohesive happy family that has changed my life forever. It is your passion and utter love for camp that makes you guys so special and unlike any other group that this place has ever seen. I cannot wait to watch you kill it as Scribes. Take every chance you get to sing at the top of your lungs in the d-tent, dance like there is no tomorrow on stage, make new traditions, and continue to pass on the old ones. The Realm is now yours to lead and I know that it has never been left in better hands.

Scribes...Scribie Scribies, my sister Scribies.

Our unforgettable summer together started on the pre-opening day, when we arrived "all staggered" and then circled as a group on the soccer field. We knew immediately that this was going to be the best summer ever.

We came out strong as Scribes with as many cheers as we could do in our masks, and you all passed the swim test with flying colors that afternoon! [shoutout to Ella and Lia – green bracelets are superior]. Our first EA was backscav, and Tabor carried her team with her story about the incident in Puerto Rico. The next day, you showed your aiding strengths when you welcomed all the incoming children with smiles and excitement, while sporting our super cute purple tees.

The first "real" day of camp, we celebrated Cha-Cha's birthday, and we came in strong wearing all pink [even our masks]. We played our first, of many, very intense games of volleyball, and quickly made the Scribe song a priority, spending a lot of time at the ODT that day working on it [worth it].

In the meantime, Elizabeth was working on what would be the most beautiful and legendary clipboard of all time [thanks queen, its hanging in my room]. At dinner, we "finallllllly got our cookie cake", and watched the sunset together as a group before bed. The next few days, we discovered afternoons at the chalet, in which we relaxed on the shores of Ossipee while snacking and listening to landsport's interesting queue. We also had pajama jump, in which we discovered the wonders of Dispo's tower jumping picture abilities. Being the dance-skilled group you are, your final dance as campers became the focus of the next few days, and after we chalked Anaconda, we started working on what would be the best Scribe dance Robin Hood has ever seen. Your groups talent never ceases to amaze the crowd.

For the first cookout, the Scraxons cooking potential was put to test, and you nailed it, serving dinner to the entire camp, and having fun in the process. The following morning, we decided to celebrate Canada Day and wear all red and white. We walked around camp, playing bocce, and listening to Canada-themed music [Cate's favorite kind]. Following Canada Day, you hosted the first social of the summer! Rocking Hawaiian shirts and leis, you DJ'ed the most lit social of all time. In the upcoming days, we endured Reggie's tennis racquet incident, our first Sunday sundae grind, and our introduction to team handball, where many of you ended up on the ground.

Due to the summer of rain, you hosted your first campfire in the barn. Although this is not what we expected, as you always do, you made the most of the situation and all of girls' camp had an amazing night. You taught pooh corner, "oh no, oh ya" [thank you Ava], and more cheers, and you made everyone [especially me] so proud in the process. The next morning was the Fourth of July! To start the day, we woke up early, dressed in red, white and blue, put on glitter, face paint, and fun accessories, and went on to wake up the entirety of girls' camp. You led the best Fourth I have ever seen, from whipped cream booths [thank you Hilary and Macy], to rootbeer pong to jousting, and your spirit shined in everything you did! After the carnival, we had a rewarding general swim at the waterfront and watched the fireworks from the docks that night.

The next few days, most of you became lifeguard certified, and although intense at times, it was definitely funny and worth it. We also went pontooning with Michelle, and she gave me my first lesson on driving. Remember getting madeover by the Jesters?! The presentations were immaculate, and you gave everyone a good laugh. Then came BRITTANY SNOW DAY!!! You guys absolutely killed it, leading girls' camp in the funniest outfits you could possibly think of. This was when we played our first game of SPUD on the scrield, and Allanerz lost, but got a cute picture in the meantime. We closed Brittany Snow with pizza and appetizers at the ODT, and then a good old game of capture the flag. The following day was group pictures, and you guys rocked your pigtail braids while the GLs rocked none other than THE GREEN HAT.

After lots of choreography and intense practice, we were finally ready for the big night, "So You Think You Can Dance". You're Scribe song amazed everybody, and I could hear it PERFECTLY from the very back row. It was the best one I have heard, and I am so proud of all of you for writing it together. As far as the dance went, to no ones surprise, it was perfectly in sync and engaging. Soon after, you guys ran Beach Day, serving "Island Girls" and "Realm-a-Ritas", filling water balloons, and passing out toys and candy at "the boardwalk". That night we had the annual social, and in all pink once again, you danced the night away and had a blast while doing so. Then came color run, when Ava's aim ended up in an eyewash for Tabor.

The next morning, we embarked on the journey of rattlesnake, which came with eventful van rides and a classic trip to Dunkin. Your athletic abilities shined as you ascended to the beautiful view, where we took far too many pictures, as we always did. That night we had an intense challenge to volleyball with the Saxons, where we won at heart, but lost on the score board. Our next days were filled with assassin, basketball on the lower courts, more Sunday sundaes, and our trip to Wingz. You all had a great night playing pool and throwing darts, with grilled cheese and more left out for you to snack on. Also remember the low key hail storm that trapped us all in the barn/lodge for a while?!

Our next big event included challenging the TPJ's to a game of bombardment, in which we wore all black to show our intensity and won with pride. The next day, we had a period of diving practice, and after nine years of instructional, Ella finally mastered the dive. Following an intense sports day, with tree-hitting practice and tennis, we went to bed as normal listening to "Goodnight Scribes", and those of us who stayed up late discovered "GOSHEN" – one of our three anthems [the other two being "Two Worlds Collide", and "Heartbreak Anthem"]. Then came the cutest day of the summer, Julie Day, when you all wore primary colors and looked amazing doing it. The evening activity on Julie Day was our emotional bonding at the ODT, which we concluded with a little swim and what we thought was a judge sighting.

On July 25th, we had to celebrate Christmas in July by wearing all red and green and listening to Christmas music on repeat. Our following days, eagerly anticipating the Green & White break, included yoga with Anjali, zumba with Waldir, stargazing in the rink, and jumping off the tower repeatedly [shoutout Hilary and Mia]. And never forget the pranks [shoutout to Ginsberg for starting the trend, and Tabor and Ella for their second prank participation], and then THE ULTIMATE PRANK with Hilary and Ella, when you woke up all of camp with the sweet sound of your voices. Then, we celebrated Sammy's Scribe 16th in our adorable sweatshirts, while we listened to her favorite music all day [thank you Troy and Gabriela], and concluded the day with pizza in the waterfront shack.

The following day [STILL WAITING FOR THE BREAK] we dressed as high schoolers, with Syd, Gins, and Ella, taking every opportunity to pose with "camp celebs", and Tabor and Lily transforming into horsegirls for the whole day. Later that day, we had "pontooning with Jauldin", when we went to the main lake and took sick pictures. We finished off that day with rainy Hunger Games [when I won for team Kham+Julie] and slip-n-sliding in our brand new Scraxon sweatsuits on the homerun diamond. Let's not forget about the Scraxon fake break, which went even better than I could have imagined. Every single kid sprinted out of that tent and you fooled everybody with your "wheres the brass" cheer.

Then came real Green & White, which has been a rough time for your group in the past. Knowing you for the last four years, I had dealt with a lot of tears and iffy sportsmanship in past wars. However, this year you guys impressed every judge and counselor who watched you play. Every one of you tried your absolute hardest in every activity, and after every sport you sang "Scribie Scribes" and expressed your love for one and other and your growth as a group.

You were all amazing sports throughout the entire war, and you should be extremely proud of yourselves. You also managed to sing your Scribe song THREE times during the war, twice for the judges and once when Reggie left. Although this was a sad day for the whole group, we shared her last meal on the quad together as if we were not in the midst of an intense Green & White.

On lazy day, we sang Goshen to THE Goshen, stargazed at the tennis courts, and ran around on the farf. The next day, we gave our all to Scraxon zumba with Waldir, and you shared your afternoon with your temporary GLs. That night, we celebrated all of your 16th birthdays at the ODT in Coachella outfits. As the summer came to a close, we spent every moment we could together, making the "megabed" an absolute necessity. You shared your feelings about camp in your impressive speeches, and expressed the importance of camp to the rest of girls' camp. You gave your all to every activity, dance party, and moment we had together as Scribes.

Hilary Adelman – You are such a powerful force and it shows in everything you do. From the girl I met when you were 13, you have continued to show leadership skills and an amazing ability to show love to everyone around you. You are funny, uplifting, and you understand how special camp is. Thank you for being you. I love you.

Mia Bloom – You really are going to rule the world one day. I loved you as an Arrow, but the girl I spent this summer with impressed me every single day. You have grown into a hilarious, kind, passionate, and strong person. I am so proud of who you have become. Thank you for being the GL when I was gone. I love you.

Morgan Butler – Love camp and your group more than anything else, and it shows in your actions daily. It is clear that camp is your place, and The Realm loves you deeply. You have become a strong, passionate person and I am so happy to have spent this summer by your side. You embody everything that camp cherishes. I love you.

Lily Collier – You are such an amazing friend and camper, and your maturity shines everyday. You have grown up so much in the last few years, and we are all so lucky to have you around. Camp needs you, and your love for The Realm will only become more and more evident as you spend more time there. I love you.

Tabor Dempsey – First of all, if not for you, I would not have the hat, and for that I am forever indebted to you. You were made for camp. You fit in instantly, and I have had the pleasure of watching and hearing about your entire journey here, and how that journey has impacted you and your group…Your kindness, humor, and genuinity shows in everything you do. I love you.

Lily Drye – You are the funniest person I know. From your accents, to body movements, to late night poetry on the microphone, you never fail to make everyone around you laugh. You have such an impact on the group and everyone around you, and camp is lucky to have someone like you around. Thank you for constantly putting a smile on everyone's faces. I love you.

SCRIBES

Charlie Elkoff – The short time we got with you was amazing, and I am so glad you gave camp a try. You did an incredible job coming into such a close knit group, and we all missed you for the rest of the summer. You are a sweet, loving, and kind person, and I hope you keep in touch with the friends you made here. I love you.

Olivia Ginsberg – You bring a positive energy to camp each day [starting after breakfast benches], and your love for your friends is constantly evident. You are at camp for all the right reasons, and the way you effortlessly lead those around you is admirable. I was so proud of the way you handled returning this summer, and we were all so grateful to have you back. I love you.

Macy Goldfarb – You have always been a sweet and approachable person, but watching your growth not only as a person, but in the group, since I had you arrow summer was incredible. I am so happy that you were able to show your true awesome and hilarious self to your friends, and the impact you have on the group today is huge. I am so happy to have watched your love for camp grow, and I hope to see it for many years to come. I love you.

Olivia Goldman – You are one of the most genuine people I have ever met. You have always been one of those campers who can talk to counselors for hours, and you'll soon know how much we appreciate that. You never fail to express and appreciate what camp gives you, and I hope you know how much you add to this place. Even when you're being Janie, I am so proud of who you've become, and I know your gonna kill it on staff. I love you.

Ella Jaffe – Since the day I met you in 2018, you have continually been kind, hilarious, and an effortless leader. Your personality draws people to you, and you have an ability to make anything and everything funny and enjoyable. Your energy radiates throughout everyone around you. The love you have for your group is so clear, and we are all so lucky to have you. I love you.

Lia Johnson – Having you around makes everyone's time at camp more enjoyable. Your kindness and low-key hilarity and sass never fail to impress me. You were an absolute star this summer #liaforservice forever. I have never seen camp more passionate about an award winner. I am so proud of who you have become, and I hope to see you kill it for many years to come. I love you.

Elizabeth Kreindler – I have never witnessed such a personality 180, and I am so grateful to have seen it. Your energy this summer added something to the group that it had never had, and we are so lucky to have met the real you. Your kindness and empathy is evident everyday, and I am so proud of who you have become. I love you.

Reggie LoMedico – Your positive happy energy makes everyone around you smile. You are sweet, funny, and energetic. It is evident that you love and care deeply for your friends, and that they feel the same about you. You came back into the group with ease, and we are so lucky we had you back. I hope you know how much camp loves you, and I hope to see you again as a counselor. I love you.

Sammy Rivchun – From day three on, I never saw you without a huge smile on your face. You are one of the sweetest people I have ever met, and I am so glad that you found your place at camp this summer. Watching you fall in love with your group and camp was a pleasure, and I hope you know how much camp loves you. Thanks for the awesome sweatshirt. I love you.

Sydney Rodin – You're an awesome person to have around. Your funny, positive, uplifting, and you really have a grasp on who you are. You are extremely mature, and when I talk to you it feels like I am talking to someone my age. You are loved by so many people here, and I know your love for camp will continue bringing you back. I am so glad we bonded this summer, and I want to thank you for being the DJ of 2021. Thanks for all the selfies. I love you.

Cate Shanahan – You have the biggest heart on camp. You have such a loving energy, and it shows in everything you do. You are so loved by your friends, and your effect on the group is incredible. Camp is always going to be there for you, as will your group, because you treat everyone with such empathy and kindness. We are all so lucky to have you. I love you.

Ava Swidler – Watching you mature over the last four years has been amazing. You have grown up so much, and I am so proud of who you are becoming. You are a constant fun and hilarious person to have around, while also having empathy and sweetness when those around you need it. You impressed me immensely this summer, and we are all so grateful to have you in this group. I love you.

Alana Zitomer – You are funny, sassy, and sweet, but most of all you are a great friend to everyone around you. You have come a long way in your group since you were 13, and I am so glad everyone sees how amazing you are. You make everyone around you smile, and your sassy walk never ceases to amaze your group. Keep coming back, I love you.

KHAM – From night one on our porch to the last night on the megabed, spending this summer together was the best thing ever. I am so grateful to have gotten to share the bond with these kids, and appreciate the love we have for them together. From fya to fourya, we have always referred to them as "our kids", and now they will be forever. We got to be Scribes twice, and I wouldn't have wanted it any other way. I love you so much.

Thank you for everything.

Scribes The 18 of you single handedly made this the best summer of my life. I am so honored to have spent this summer with you, and I am so proud of each and every one of you. You are genuinely the most legendary group of girls I have ever seen rule The Realm, and I can't wait to watch you continue to do so for years to come. Come back, be the amazing counselors you were meant to be, and never forget how much you love each other and this place. You are bonded in a way that will stay with you for the rest of your lives, so hangout, laugh, make more memories, and know that your journey together has just begun. I love you all so much. Thank you.

Gives Back Day

This year for Robin Hood Gives Back Day we invited Congressman Josh Gottheimer, who was a camper in the 80's and 90's, to talk to our community about what it's like to be a member of Congress.

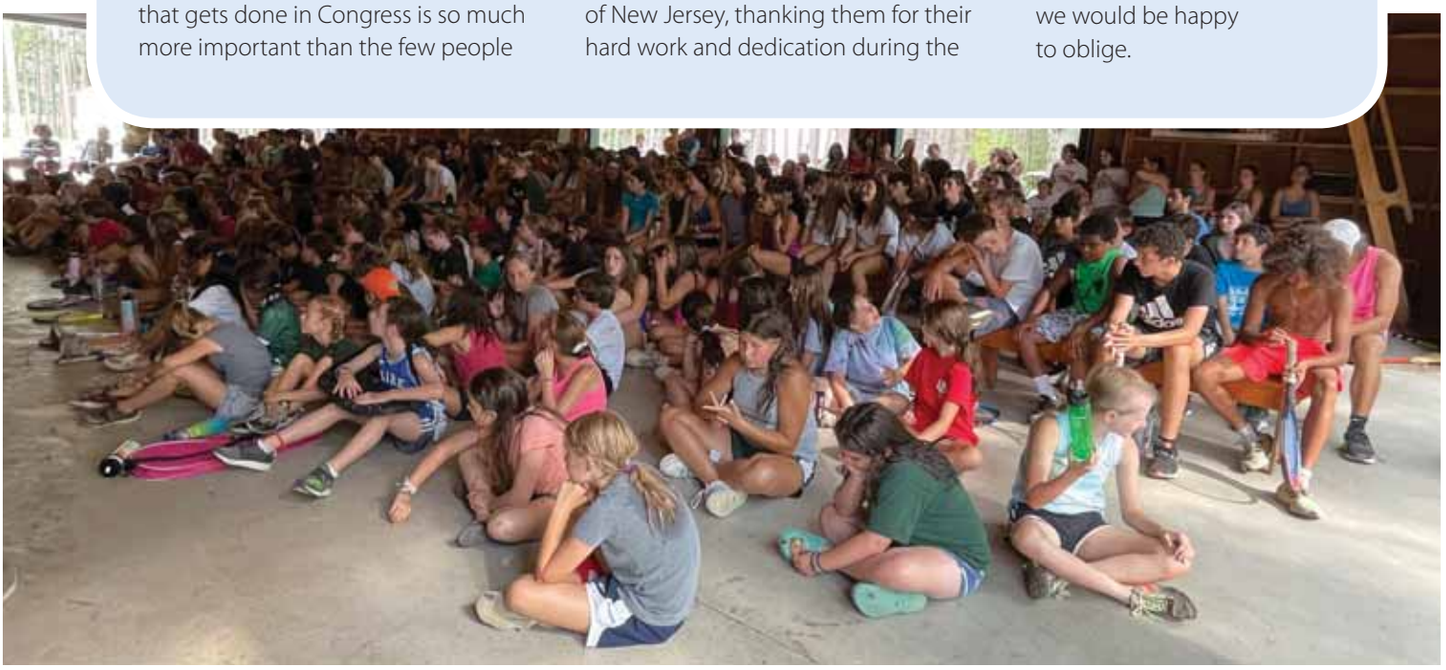

Josh stressed the importance of working with other members of Congress, no matter what party they represent, in order to get things done for the people of New Jersey and for the country overall. Josh, who was a camper in Woody's group in the mid 1980's, was always a positive leader at camp, had a ton of energy, and loved being at Robin Hood.

In response to a camper question, Congressman Gottheimer mentioned that working for the government and in Congress was not what the news always reports. He said it was kind of like going to an ice-hockey game. The crowd gets excited for a fight, but that's not really what the game is about. The behind the scenes work that gets done in Congress is so much more important than the few people in Congress that make the news with silly words or actions.

Campers asked Josh what they can do to help his constituents in New Jersey. He said they could let the essential workers know how grateful they are for all of the work they have done and sacrifices they have made during the pandemic. Josh makes it a point to express his gratitude and to thank them in person when he can. He asked us to write letters and notes of thanks to send their way. He thought the outpouring of appreciation would make their day brighter and validate their actions.

All our campers left the meeting and wrote to essential workers in hospitals of New Jersey, thanking them for their hard work and dedication during the pandemic. We discussed how being at Robin Hood is a privilege and if sending positive thoughts will help put smiles on peoples faces, we would be happy to oblige.

Camp Robin Hood 1927 2021

So What – P!nk

Give it up for the dad band
Took enough time to break
Phoenix was dealt the wrong hand
Already taste our steak
Dana, Julie, and Brendon
Our team cannot be beat
Better side of seventeen
Won't accept defeat

LET ME HEAR YOU GREEN TEAM
We're gonna win the fight
EVERYBODY LOUDER
ELECTROCUTE THE WHITE!

Hey, green team
We have the power
Voltage higher
We're gonna shock you
And guess what?!
WE'RE HAVING MORE FUN
And now that white's done
We wanna hear you, tonight
On night five
Greens alive
Got the Stacked 3
On our side
We are electrified
This is our time
Fun team won the fight
(Uh, power on)

Knew Mauldin was jealous
When she chanted green
Is Ricky out of high school?
He is just a teen (shame)
Who is that? It's Sadie
Taking us by surprise
Judges in the bubble
Woody's porch tonight

LET ME HEAR YOU GREEN TEAM
Charged with all your might
EVERYBODY LOUDER
ELECTROCUTE THE WHITE!!!!

Hey, green team
We have the power
Voltage higher
We're gonna shock you
And guess what
We're having more fun
And now that white's done
We wanna hear you, tonight
On night five
Green's alive
We got Andy
On our side
Watching us thrive
Always electrified
Watch us ignite
(rub hand cheer)

Rain every day
Drones in the air
Skunks everywhere
But we don't care
Judges are back
White's name is whack
Phoenix will fall
GREEN TAKES IT ALLLLLLLL

HEY GREEN TEAM
WE HAVE THE POWER
VOLTAGE HIGHER
WERE GONNA SHOCK YOU
AND GUESS WHAT?!
WERE HAVING MORE FUN
AND NOW ITS ALL DONE
E-LEC-TRIC TO THE CORE GOT THE ORB
READ THE SCORE
GREEN TEAM TAKES THE WAR!

Dear Theodosia

Dear Andy Friedman, what to say to you
You've shaped our lives
Ever since the day
That you paddled up to shore and claimed
This as our home
We're dedicating every day to you
From the time, we first drove through the sign
So unsure, what this place would have in store
Never felt this way before

We have come of age on your creation
And when the world caves in, this is our safe haven
Traditions through the generations
We'll pass them on for you
And when our time is through
We know they're here to stay
Someday, we'll say
It's our child's place to stay
Don't let it fade

[Girls Camp]: Ooooo Jon and Joan
It's thanks to you we're here
It's clear Under the staaars
Shining bright just as they did for you
Beneath the pines on which we grew

Ooh, hearts were kindled on this very bay
Set aflame, Locked away
From the limits that we must obey
No love will ever be the same

[SC] When we're no longer around
[JC Echo] We'll keep this place safe and sound
[All] We swear to keep it alive for you
[JC] We'll do whatever it takes
[SC Echo] Just one more jump in the lake
[All] Forever we owe it all to you

We have come of age on your creation
And when the world caves in, this is our safe haven
Traditions through the generations
We'll pass them on for you
And when our time is through
We know they're here to stay
Time slips away
But Freedom never goes away
We're here to stay!

White Phoenix Alma

Hold On (Alma)
Laughing and crying
We're always trying
To keep making memories here in our home
Singing and dancing, ever advancing
The stories that we will pass down when we're grown

94 summers later
Andy sees the fruits of his labor
We're witnessing his dream unfolding
There's magic in the seeds were sowing

Hold on, take it all in
We can't fight this feelin'
So let's join our hands and sing tonight
Don't let go, just hold on tight
Hold on, take it all in

We're stuck in our houses (hasses)
The day slowly passes
We wait to return to the haven we share
Enduring the losses, keeping the promise
We've made to each other, year after year

But Robin Hood's gates were open
When every other door was closing
Even through the fires we rose
That burning spirit in our souls

Hold on, I'm not leaving
I still hold this feeling
So let's join our hands and sing tonight
Don't let go, just hold on tight
Hold on, I'm not leaving

One more sunset
Or a game beneath the pines
Cus' I don't wanna leave yet
SC: But maybe it is time
JC: But it's not time
Yeah, they're gonna keep it alive

Judges, that feelin's true
Come back, we still need you!

Sugar, We're Going Down

White Phoenix Fight Song

When will Woody stop faking the break
Please, bring out the Bon Jovi cover band
The war began
Wave hi to the cameraman

Judges are back
Watching the Rising Phoenix
Is it the luck of the bean pick
Or is it the Magic of Rick?

Power's out
White get loud
We're scorching green
Cause their fighting for the wrong team

White rise up
We soar over The Realm
Phoenix was Andy's vision
Spread our wings and we're winning
Burning the green since the very beginning

White rise up
We soar over The Realm
Phoenix was Andy's vision
We will bury the green in our ashes
Win tonight, 'lectricity crashes

Is this Pablo or is this Ricky
He's no longer a Lost Boy,
Sade's kills them with kindness
Showing that JC spirit can't be beat
Mauldin's on fire
Leading our team even higher
We got the big three, taking us to victory

Dared and did
Babes plus slick

Skunks on the scene
Now it's time to shame the green team
~~SHAME~~ do

White rise up
We soar over The Realm
Khaki king go do your homework
Dana's with the wrong Brockmann
Julie out these a kitchen fake uterus chicken

White rise up
We soar over The Realm
Phoenix was Andy's vision
Spread our wings and we're winning
Burning the green since the very beginning

[Bow/Archer Down, Bard/Friar Down, All]
Green's going down, down
[All] Down, down
Burning the green since the very beginning
White rise up
We soar over The Realm
Phoenix was Andy's vision
Spread our wings and we're singing
Won the war from the very beginning

Rainy day movies
But wait there's a skunk in the lodge!

GREEN & WHITE 2021

As always, anticipation for this summer's Green & White was at its peak as we transitioned into the latter stages of the summer. With over 300 campers still in The Realm following the first session, this promised to be Robin Hood's biggest color war ever. Nevertheless, days continued to pass with nothing happening. Were we even going to have Green & White this year? To everyone's delight – and relief – the answer to that was, of course, a resounding YES!

WHILE WOODY SPOKE TO ALL OF CAMP AT THE END OF DINNER FRIDAY NIGHT, the sounds of a rock band playing "Livin' on a Prayer" emerged from the beach. Everyone rushed down to the waterfront, overjoyed to see the first year judges dancing along to the music. Then came a police car with Chuck in the passenger seat, leading a caravan of limos. Once campers caught sight of this, they sprinted back up towards the quad. The caravan made its way to the theater, and out came the visiting judges! They made their way to the stage, where Woody announced the beginning of Green & White 2021. Then, the back curtain was opened, revealing the six captains who would lead camp for the next five days: Sadie Jacobson, Anna Mauldin, Ricky Melasecca, Julie Brockmann, Dana Levine, and Brendon Keady.

After an early morning wake up, everyone gathered on the quad for one of our most sacred traditions, the bean pick. The entire camp was split into two teams that would come to be known as the Electric Green and the White Phoenix. The final bean split up the staff captains, as Julie, Dana, and Brendon took charge of the green after Sadie, Anna and Ricky picked the white bean. The two teams wasted no time getting fired up for an eventful first day, which featured a full slate of three activity periods. The energy was off the charts from the first whistle. Green worked their way out to a decent lead throughout the day, but the white team's staff was able to make up some ground in the evening, sweeping the three volleyball matches. A dead tie across the junior and senior camp spelling bees meant that after Day One, the green team was in the lead by 126.

The Phoenix carried their success from the previous evening into Day Two's swim meet, as they battled hard and drew the overall running score close to even. However, as the next few days would continue to prove, this was a war full of twists and turns and major momentum shifts. A huge afternoon period for the Electric Green helped them surge back into the lead. The staff soccer games cancelled each other out, and in an epic cracker eat, neither team could gain much of an edge. By the end of Day Two, green maintained their lead, with a margin of 107.

Amidst weather concerns, the traditional Day Three track meet was pushed back to the following morning, meaning that another full slate of activities were on hand. Electric Green outperformed White Phoenix overall throughout the daytime activity periods in the first two days, and Day Three proved no different. The Phoenix staff once again was able to do some damage control in the evening with a sweep in basketball, but the war was trending in Green's direction at this point in time. With two days remaining, Green's lead had grown to 187.

The penultimate day of color war got off to an early start with staff softball. Just like soccer, the two games were split, meaning no edge was gained in the points column. The track meet ensued after breakfast. Green's success in the relays helped power them to a 52 point advantage, meaning they were now in the lead by almost 250 points. But, there was still plenty of time and points available for anything to happen. A light afternoon with just one activity was followed by flag presentations, in which two brilliant flags were unveiled. That evening, everyone gathered in the barn for Talent Night. So many campers had worked and rehearsed for days leading up to this moment, and their performances did not disappoint. Ultimately, it was the white team who gained some much needed ground by way of their flag and Talent Night showing. Heading into the final day, however, green still possessed a lead of 194 points.

In the blink of an eye, the final day of Green & White 2021 was upon us. With their backs nearly against the wall, White finally prevailed across a morning activity period. From there on in, it was game on. The Giant Relay and Tug of War were hotly contested, and it was all going to come down to Song Night. Kudos to both teams' songwriters for some great songs and to the campers for their great singing. Ultimately, however, the White Phoenix pulled off an iconic sweep of Song Night. The reading of the final score revealed that their epic comeback was complete!

Final Score: Green 3,352 | White 3,458

A margin of 106 for the White!

Green 3,352/ White 3,458
